Concordia University Capital Campaign

"I have always been impressed by Concordia University and the services it provides the community. Anyone who passes by the Loyola or Sir George campuses at virtually any hour of the day or evening can't help but notice all the activity going on. No matter what the weather or the time of the year, you see people dashing to and fro; cars descending from everywhere to pick students up or drop them off... it's a sight familiar to any Montrealer who's lived in this town for even a short length of time.

"On more than one occasion I can remember thinking about how great it is for Montreal — or any community for that matter — to have facilities like that available to virtually anyone who wants to use them."

W. Earle McLaughlin

Concordia

Concordia University this year celebrates its tenth anniversary. The University was formally created in August 1974 through the merger of Sir George Williams University and Loyola College. The name reflects Concordia's place in the community, being drawn from the motto of the City of Montreal, "Concordia Salus". The University has two campuses—in downtown Montreal and in the west end.

Concordia has become known during the past decade for its innovative approach to higher education and learning, bringing into being many new and different programmes. It has also preserved the traditions of two century-old institutions, Loyola having been established by the Jesuits in 1848, and Sir George Williams having developed out of YMCA night courses that began in 1873. Among these traditions is a special concern for the needs of part-time students, many of whom, undergraduate and graduate, work during the day and study in the evening.

The University offers undergraduate programmes in four Faculties: Arts and Science, Commerce and Administration, Engineering and Computer Science, and Fine Arts. At the bachelor's level, the University offers the degrees of Bachelor of Administration, Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Computer Science, Bachelor of Education, Bachelor of Engineering, Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Science. Undergraduate level certificates are also awarded in a growing number of areas.

At the master's level, the University awards the degrees of Master of Arts, Master of Science, Master of Computer Science, Master of Engineering, Master of Fine Arts, Master in the Teaching of Mathematics, and Master of Business Administration.

Programmes leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy are offered in Administration, Art Education, Chemistry, Economics, Educational Technology, Engineering, History, Humanities, Physics, Psychology, and Religion.

The University also offers graduate diploma programmes in Accountancy, Advanced Music Performance Studies, Art Education, Art Therapy, Communication Studies, Community Politics and the Law, Early Childhood Education, English, History, Institutional Administration, Instructional Technology, Library Studies, Sports Administration, The Teaching of Mathematics, Theological, Religious, and Ethical Studies, and Writing/Translation.

Enrolment in the 1983-84 academic year was:

- Full-time undergraduate 10,775
- Part-time undergraduate 9,295
- Full-time graduate 1,510
- Part-time graduate 1,241
- Other (credit non-degree) 2,482

In addition to the programmes described in this calendar and in the Graduate Studies Calendar, the University offers a wide range of summer courses and programmes on both campuses. A separate publication listing summer offerings is published annually.

Libraries

The Concordia Library System comprises four libraries, containing a collection of over one million items. The Science and Engineering Library on the Sir George Williams Campus, and the Drummond Science Library on the Loyola Campus, house the University's collection of materials on the sciences and technology. The remainder of the collection, including materials in the humanities, social sciences, fine arts, and commerce, is housed in Sir George Williams' Norris Library and Loyola's Vanier Library. All students may use facilities on either campus.

The Library collection, which is growing at an average rate of 65,000 items per year, includes books, periodicals, government publications, technical reports, microforms, nonprint (audio-visual) material, and special collections. Materials which are not found at Concordia may be borrowed through the Interlibrary Loan system, or used in another library in Montreal (upon presentation of a letter from a Concordia librarian). Through Interlibrary Loans, Concordia students also have access to the multi-million volume collection in the Center for Research Libraries. Upon request the Center will send materials from its collection to Concordia. Reference librarians will assist students in locating materials they need, whether that material is at Concordia or elsewhere.

Students wishing more complete information on their libraries, are invited to pick up a copy of The Library Owner's Manual which is available free of charge in all libraries.

Laboratories and Computing Services

The University has 100 laboratories on both campuses with modern equipment for teaching and research in Biology, Chemistry, Communication Studies, Computer Science, Engineering, Geography, Languages, Physics, Psychology and Statistics.

The Computer Centre provides computing services to the University community. Students enrolled in any discipline are entitled to the use of the Centre's facilities, which include over 100 timesharing terminals. The Centre maintains an extensive software and application library and provides programming assistance and advice.

Art Collection and Galleries

The Concordia University collection of art is housed on both campuses. Portions of the collection are displayed in public areas of the Loyola Campus and in the galleries and display areas of the Sir George Williams Campus. The collection comprises an extensive survey of modern Canadian paintings, drawings, graphic art, sculpture and minor art.

There are three main art galleries: The Weissman Gallery, Gallery One and Gallery Two, located on the mezzanine floor of the Henry F. Hall Building. There are also open-display areas on the same floor. There is a continuous programme of outside exhibitions and shows by students and faculty throughout the academic year. On occasion the galleries are also used for concerts, guest lectures and other cultural events.

A fourth gallery displaying the work of Fine Arts students is located at the Dorchester Blvd. entrance to the Visual Arts Building.

Theatre, Music and Arts Studios

The Faculty of Fine Arts operates the Douglass Burns Clarke Theatre located in the Hall Building. It is a modern facility seating 380 people, and is used primarily for dramatic productions and musical performances. The 650-seat F.C. Smith Auditorium, located on the Loyola Campus, is used for a wide variety of activities, including cinema, theatre, and music performances. On the same campus, the Chameleon Theatre, a flexible teaching facility, serves theatre students.

Most of the specialized studios and workshops for undergraduate and graduate students are located in the Visual Arts Building.

Music students use ensemble rooms in the Refectory Building on the Loyola Campus, where a number of practice studios of various sizes are maintained. Performances are held in the Chapel, in the large ensemble rooms and, occasionally, in the D.B. Clarke Theatre.

Audio-Visual Facilities

Facilities available through the Audio-Visual Department include television studios and editing suites, closed-circuit cable networks, sound stages, language and learning laboratories, cinemas, film libraries, self-teaching study centres, conference and public-address systems, and production facilities for materials in audio, videotape, film, photographic and graphic art formats.

Portable items of equipment may be borrowed from the Department's equipment depots.

The AVISTA centres on each campus offer training and production resources for faculty, students and staff in the operation of equipment and the preparation of softwares.

Film Presentations

The University shows films in cinema halls on both campuses. At Sir George Williams, the Conservatory of Cinematographic Art, established in 1968, houses an important collection of films of historical and cultural value. Each year, it organizes a series of film festivals, which often involve appearances by important figures from the film world.

Sports Facilities

The University offers extensive programmes for participation in intramural and intercollegiate sports. Facilities include several full-length playing fields and a fully-equipped physical education centre on the Loyola Campus. The centre contains a gymnasium and an ice arena, as well as training and rehabilitation areas, an activities room, a combatives room for individual contact sports, and a weight-training room.

13.1 Admission to Concordia University

In keeping with the general principles accepted by the Quebec universities, the policy of Concordia University is that admission is open to any qualified applicant, in the programme of his or her choice, within the limits of its resources.

In the case of programmes where demand is heavy, available resources may make it necessary to limit the number of persons admitted. This means that there will, regrettably, be cases where qualified applicants must be refused. In such cases the University will accept those applicants who have the best qualifications and potential. This University has a long tradition of service to adult and part-time clientèles and this service remains a vital part of its mission.

The University undertakes to give fair consideration to all applications and to inform the applicant of its decisions and the basis for them within a reasonable period of time.

Full information on admission requirements and procedures will be found in this calendar, and in various other publications such as the Admissions Guide.

The University maintains admissions offices on both of its campuses. The offices will provide application forms, as well as information about requirements and procedures. There is, however, only one centre for the processing of applications. All applications and supporting documents should be mailed to:

Concordia University
Admissions Application Centre
P.O. Box 2900
Montreal, Quebec
H3G 2R6

Qualified applicants not admitted to their preferred programme because of enrolment limits will be considered for their second choice immediately.

Applicants wishing to change Faculty or campus should call or write the admissions office; they are not required to complete a second form.

13.2 Definitions

1. The University Year

The University year is made up of a Regular Session and a Summer Session. The Regular Session is made up of a Fall Term (September-December) and a Winter Term (January-April). The Summer Session is made up of a Ten-week term (May-July) and a Six-week term (July-mid-August).

2. Undergraduates

Students registered in a bachelor's degree or in a certificate programme, whether on a full-time or part-time basis. Full-time students are those registered for 24 credits or more in the Regular Session (or 12 credits or more in either the Fall or Winter term); part-time students are those registered for fewer than 24 credits in the Regular Session (or fewer than 12 credits in either the Fall or Winter term).

3. Certificate Students

Students registered in ■ certificate programme, whether on a full-time or part-time basis.

4. Mature Students

Undergraduates who have not met the regular academic admission requirements, but have been admitted on the basis of age, experience and potential (see §14). Mature students may study on a full-time or part-time basis.

5. Extended Credit Programme Students

Students registered in an extended programme, normally requiring a minimum of 120 credits, designed for students entering from secondary institutions outside Quebec. (See relevant Faculty section.)

6. Visiting Students

Undergraduate students from other universities who have written approval from their home university to take courses at Concordia University, or students currently registered in certain certificate programmes sponsored by external associations (e.g. programmes in the Faculty of Commerce and Administration). (See §13.10)

7. Independent Students

Students not seeking ■ degree or certificate, but who have been admitted to individual courses on a part-time basis (see §13.11).

8. Residence Requirement

The minimum number of credits which must be taken at Concordia University to obtain a degree or certificate awarded by the University (see §16.1.5).

13.3 Faculties and Degrees

FACULTY OF ARTS AND SCIENCE - §31
- Bachelor of Arts (BA)
- Bachelor of Education (BEd)
- Bachelor of Science (BSc)

FACULTY OF COMMERCE AND ADMINISTRATION - §61
- Bachelor of Administration (BAdmin)
- Bachelor of Commerce (BComm)

FACULTY OF ENGINEERING - §71
- Bachelor of Computer Science (BCompSc)
- Bachelor of Engineering (BEng)

FACULTY OF FINE ARTS - §81
- Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA)

Bachelor's degrees, other than the Bachelor of Engineering, normally require successful completion of 90 credits, or 108 credits in the case of mature students (see §14), or 120 credits in the case of students admitted to the Extended Credit Programme (See §13.2 for definition and appropriate Faculty section for details on requirements.) (See §16.1.2 for the definition of credit.) For students registered full time, 30 credits constitute the normal workload in the Regular (Fall/Winter) Session. The degree of Bachelor of Engineering, however, requires from 105 to 119.75 credits of students having a Diploma of Collegial Studies (DEC) (or the equivalent), with the appropriate prerequisites ("profil"); the number of credits varies according to the option chosen and the previous preparation of the student.

13.4 Admission Requirements

13.4.1 APPLICANTS FROM QUEBEC INSTITUTIONS

Successful completion of a two-year pre-university programme in a CEGEP, with the award of a Diploma of Collegial Studies (DEC) (or the equivalent), including the specific courses required by the various programmes ("profil"). These "profils" are listed in the Department of Education booklet "Accueil 84 - Structures d'accueil aux études universitaires de premier cycle pour septembre 84." For the convenience of applicants, requirements are listed in the various Faculty sections of this calendar. Applicants who have completed a professional programme in a CEGEP are also admissible to the University.

Students admitted to a particular programme at the University and who subsequently wish to change to another programme may have to complete specific prerequisites in addition to their regular programme requirements.

13.4.2 APPLICANTS FROM OTHER CANADIAN PROVINCES

Ontario Grade 13 graduates with a minimum overall average of 65% on 6 credits in appropriate subjects may be considered for admission to a 90-credit programme, but applicants for admission to the Bachelor of Engineering degree, or the Bachelor of Computer Science degree (Digital Systems, General Science or Mathematics options) will in general require four years of full-time study to obtain their degree. Applicants from other Canadian provinces who have completed Grade 12 in a programme oriented to university studies, or the Junior Division at Memorial University, Newfoundland, will be considered for admission to the Extended Credit Programme, normally requiring 30 additional credits; an overall average of at least 65% is required.

Content of additional credits will be found in the appropriate Faculty section of this calendar.

While no set pattern of high school courses is required, the courses presented should be appropriate for the degree programme to which application has been made.

13.4.3 TRANSFERS FROM OTHER UNIVERSITIES

Transfer applications are considered individually, on their merits. Applicants transferring from other accredited universities will be considered for an appropriate level of placement within the undergraduate programme at this University. For example, one year of undergraduate study following Grade 12 will normally qualify an applicant for entrance to the first year of a 90-credit degree programme. One year of study completed in an Ontario university following Grade 13 will, in general, qualify an applicant for admission to the second year of a 90-credit programme. (For Engineering see §13.3). There are some special conditions attached to the granting of transfer credits.

The number of credits awarded depends on the character, quality and quantity of the work completed. An applicant who has attended another university and wishes to transfer to an undergraduate programme at Concordia should understand the following conditions:

1. A student will not be given credit for courses taken in another university during the same academic term in which he has registered for courses at Concordia University, unless special permission has been obtained in advance from this University. The Admissions Office should be contacted for information on the correct procedure.

2. A student currently registered at this University wishing to take a course at another university during a different academic term—for example, the Summer—must get prior approval. The Admissions Office should be contacted for information on the correct procedure.

3. A student may not apply transfer credits towards the residence requirements at the University (as set out in the following paragraph) unless special permission has been obtained from the appropriate Faculty Council.

4. Out of the total number of credits required for a bachelor's degree, a minimum of 45 credits must be taken at Concordia University for all bachelor's degrees except that of the Bachelor of Engineering, where the minimum is 60 credits. Unless otherwise authorized by the Faculty to which the student has been admitted, these will be the last 45 credits (or the last 60 in the case of the Bachelor of Engineering).

5. The proportion of degree credits which must be taken at Concordia University in honours, specializations, majors, minors or other elements of concentration will be determined by individual Faculties but should be not less than 50%.

6. The Admissions Office, in consultation with the four Faculties, is responsible for the processing of pro-tanto credits.

13.4.4 TRANSFERS FROM OTHER POST-SECONDARY INSTITUTIONS

Credits obtained in junior colleges, community colleges, or Colleges of Applied Arts and Technology outside Quebec will, in general, be given the same recognition towards undergraduate programmes as they would receive in their respective province.

13.4.5 EXEMPTIONS AND PRO-TANTO CREDITS

The award of "pro-tanto credits" means that a course previously taken in another institution, or, in some cases, in another type of Concordia programme, is being counted towards a Concordia degree programme, or programme of concentration within that degree programme. Pro-tanto credits are normally specific (e.g. pro-tanto credit for Concordia course 'x' is given for course 'y' taken at another university) but they may be general, where the work done elsewhere is a valid part of an individual student's programme but does not correspond exactly to Concordia divisions of course content.

"Exemption" covers any case where it is recognized that a student has in one way or another covered the work of a course required in a Concordia programme, with an appropriate level of performance. In such cases students will replace the course from which they have been exempted with another course. Faculty or departmental regulations will indicate the nature of the replacement course—for example, another course in the same field, a restricted elective (e.g., "six credits in history or political science") or an open elective.

13.4.6 APPLICANTS FROM OUTSIDE CANADA

Academic qualifications presented by Canadian students applying from institutions outside Canada should be comparable to those expected of students applying from within Canada.

International applicants from institutions outside Canada are referred to §13.12.

13.5 Application For Admission

It is recommended that application for admission be made as early as possible on forms provided by the Admissions Office. Academic certificates and other supporting documents not available at the time of application must be submitted as soon as they become available. (Applicants enrolled in a CEGEP should refer to §13.6.1.) Arrangements should be made with the institution concerned to send directly any university transcripts, or where applicable, CEGEP transcripts. Where it is required, applicants will provide a copy of their High School Leaving Certificate with a certified list of the final marks in each subject. (A clear photocopy is acceptable.) Applicants who submit a certificate in a language other than English or French should attach a notarized translation into either English or French. If the certificate does not detail the subjects taken and the grades achieved, a certified statement of these from an authorized official of the institution should also be appended.

Applicants are advised to apply early in order to allow sufficient time for evaluation and review of their applications by the Admissions Office.

13.5.1 APPLICATION FEE

There is a non-refundable application fee of $15 (Canadian) for those who are not Canadian citizens or Permanent Residents (including Landed Immigrants). This fee will be applied towards the tuition fees upon registration.

13.5.2 APPLICATION DEADLINE DATES

Full-Time

March 1 and November 1 are the application deadline dates normally set for the Fall and Winter terms respectively. Late applications are considered wherever appropriate. Further information can be obtained from the Admissions Office.

Part-Time

Applications should be submitted well before the start of term to allow sufficient time for evaluation and notification. Candidates for the Fall and Winter terms should apply before July 1 and November 1. Final dates for the receipt of applications can be obtained from the Admissions Office.

N.B.: Part-time applicants to the Faculty of Fine Arts should apply before March 1. Full-time or part-time applicants for entry to the Summer session should contact the Admissions Office for information on deadlines.

13.5.3 ENTRY DATES

September is the normal point of entry to full-time and part-time studies. Entry in January or in the Summer Session is also possible. In some cases, entry in January may require the completion of courses in the subsequent Summer Session.

The normal entry date for International students is September.

13.5.4 JANUARY ADMISSION

New students are admitted in January where places are available. Admission in January has been introduced primarily to accommodate December graduates of Quebec CEGEPs, but is not restricted to this group.

The normal course load in the Winter Term (January to April) is 15 credits. Up to a maximum of 12 credits may be taken in the Summer Session. In some cases (e.g. Engineering), January entrants are required to take summer courses.

International students, other than those applying from CEGEP, are admitted in January in exceptional cases only.

13.5.5 ADMISSION DEPOSIT

Applicants who have been granted admission to full-time studies and to certain high-demand part-time programmes are required to submit a cheque or money order for $50 (Canadian) to confirm their intention to enter the University. This admission deposit is non-refundable, but will be applied towards tuition fees at the University.

Applicants who receive an early conditional acceptance, but who are subsequently refused admission because they have not completed the minimum academic requirements for entrance, will have their admission deposit refunded.

13.6 Required Documents

13.6.1 CEGEP APPLICANTS

All applicants should submit, at the time of application, or as soon thereafter as possible, a student copy of their CEGEP transcript. This transcript should show their record to date including grades, for all courses following during the previous terms. In addition, there should be an accompanying list of in progress courses. Applicants are responsible for ensuring that the student copy is both accurate and complete.

1. Applicants for Fall and Summer Terms

a) Mid-Year Transcripts

In the case of applicants currently enrolled in a CEGEP who are applying for the Fall or Summer Term, the University will obtain their most recent CEGEP record of study (the results of the previous terms, together with a list of courses being followed during the final term) from the Computer Centre of the Ministry of Education. The CEGEP records will be acquired on one of several scheduled dates between March and early April. Applicants should therefore complete the application forms as early as possible in order to avoid delay in the transfer of the CEGEP record. The "code permanent", which is the educational code number for Québec students, must be correctly entered on the application form as this identification number is used to obtain the CEGEP transcript. A copy of the computerized CEGEP record will be issued by the University to the applicant for verification.

b) Final Transcripts

Final transcripts are required by the Admissions Office as soon as they are available.

Former CEGEP students who are not attending CEGEP because they have graduated or have discontinued their CEGEP studies must arrange for their former CEGEP to send the transcript of their grades directly to the University.

2. Applicants for the Winter Term (January Admission)

Applicants for the Winter Term (January Admission) must arrange for their CEGEP to send the transcript of their grades directly to the University. The applicant is personally responsible for ensuring that the transcript is requested from and submitted by the CEGEP.

13.6.2 OTHER APPLICANTS

Two official copies of each transcript, in English or French, must be forwarded directly to the Admissions Application Centre by the institution which the applicant previously attended or at which the applicant is currently registered. In the latter case, the results of previous terms together with a list of courses in which the applicant is currently registered, must be submitted immediately. An official transcript which includes the results of the final semester must be forwarded as soon as possible.

Although an applicant's records from several institutions may be summarized on one transcript, an application will not be considered until two official transcripts from each institution attended have been received. These are required even though no credit may have been earned.

13.6.3 OTHER DOCUMENTS

Canadian Citizens/Permanent Residents (Landed Immigrants) are required to provide documentary proof of their status in Canada. This must be done by submitting a photostatic copy to the Admissions Office of one of the following documents:

Canadian Birth Certificate
Canadian Baptismal Certificate
Citizenship or Permanent Resident (Landed Immigrant) papers
Canadian Passport
Affidavit

The following documents are not considered acceptable:

Driver's Licence
Medicare card
Social Insurance Number card

13.6.4 ALL APPLICANTS

Applicants are required to declare and submit all pertinent academic records when applying for admission. Applicants who have failed to disclose an academic record at the time of application may have their acceptance or registration cancelled. Academic records undeclared at the point of application and subsequently submitted will not be used to upgrade a student's placement level.

13.7 Language Proficiency

All students entering bachelor's degree programmes in or after September 1983 (September 1984 in the Faculty of Fine Arts) must give proof of acceptable writing skills as a condition of graduation. The only exceptions are those already tested prior to admission (see below). The graduation requirement may be met either by passing the University Writing Test or by obtaining a specific grade in a designated language course (see §16.2.11).

The language of instruction at Concordia is English, with a few specific exceptions, but assignments and examinations, again with a few exceptions, may be submitted in French. The graduation requirement may therefore be satisfied in either English or French.

Applicants whose first language is neither English nor French and who fall into the following categories must also pass the University Writing Test or obtain a specific grade in a designated language course:

1. Applicants holding a Québec Diplôme d'études collégiales, or the equivalent, from an English- or French-language system.

2. Applicants who have obtained an 'O'-level pass in English language in the General Certificate of Education, or the equivalent.

3. Applicants for Mature Entry or for admission to the Extended Credit Programme who have taken the last two years of full-time schooling in an English- or French-language system. The Admissions Office reserves the right to resolve any doubtful cases arising from the nature of such schooling.

Other applicants whose first language is neither English nor French must demonstrate their proficiency in English for admission purposes and must be tested in English writing skills prior to the point of entry by taking one of the following:

1. Concordia English Language Diagnostic Test
   (available only to persons applying from within the Montreal area)

a) Persons applying from within the Montreal area who are required to write an English language test will automatically be scheduled to sit for the Concordia English Language Diagnostic Test upon making application to the University.

b) An application will not be considered complete until these test results have been received.

c) A testing fee of $15.00 is required of all who write the Concordia English Language Diagnostic Test. Further information concerning the payment of this fee will be provided when applicants are scheduled to write the test.

2. Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or The University of Michigan English Language Test
   (For applicants from outside the Montreal area)

These tests are administered in most countries of the world. It is the responsibility of the applicant to write directly to the appropriate address listed below for the necessary application forms and information.

Test of English as a Foreign Language

REPORTING OF TOEFL OR UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN TEST RESULTS

a) To ensure that your TOEFL results are forwarded directly to Concordia University, you must indicate the 'Institution Code' at the time of writing the test: 0956.

b) The results must be reported directly to the Admissions Office by the TOEFL or University of Michigan Test Centre. Candidate copies of results or results that are more than two years old will not be acceptable as proof of language proficiency.

c) An application will not be considered before the test results have been received. Applicants should therefore contact the TOEFL or University of Michigan Test Centres as soon as possible in order that the date of receipt of test results does not delay or prevent consideration of their application.

Applicants attaining the prescribed level in one of the above tests will be considered to have met the graduation requirement. Those otherwise admissible but who have attained a lower but marginally acceptable level will be required to take specific courses in English as a Second Language (ESL). In the latter case, the required ESL courses will be indicated in the letter of acceptance, and successful completion of them will satisfy the graduation requirement.

13.8 Selection Process and Notification

Admission to undergraduate studies is based on a careful review of all credentials presented on behalf of a candidate. An application for admission is not given final consideration until all the required items have been submitted. However, the University does have an early conditional admission plan (see below). The University reserves the right to refuse admission to or registration in a particular programme even when the stated requirements for entrance have been satisfied.

13.8.1 EARLY CONDITIONAL ADMISSION

Applicants seeking admission to undergraduate programmes may be granted conditional acceptance on the basis of former records of study. Such records should include mid-year results for the current year. Final admission is contingent upon successful completion of the final term or semester of study and satisfaction of the prescribed academic admission requirements. Candidates granted early conditional admission are in general notified before May 15.

13.8.2 LIMITED ENROLMENT

In some programmes the number of qualified applicants may exceed the number of places available. Possession of the stated requirements does not in itself guarantee admission to a particular programme.

13.9 Mature Entry

Information on Mature Entry will be found in §14.

13.10 Admission as a Visiting Student

Persons in the categories listed below may apply for Visiting Student status by contacting the Admissions Office on which ever campus is more convenient. In no case can students so admitted be guaranteed a place in a given course.

1. Students currently registered in certain certificate programmes sponsored by external associations (e.g. programmes in the Faculty of Commerce and Administration). Documentation: proof of membership in the association and citizenship documents. (See §13.6.3)

2. Undergraduate students from other universities who have written approval from their home university to take courses at Concordia University. Documentation: a letter from the Registrar of the home university and citizenship documents. (See §13.6.3)

13.11 Admission as an Independent Student

Persons wishing to take individual courses without committing themselves to a degree or certificate programme may register, if qualified, as Independent students, provided that they are Canadian Citizens, Permanent Residents (Landed Immigrants) or holders of a diplomatic visa. They should apply for Independent student status by contacting the Admissions Office. They should bring with them evidence of having met university entrance requirements and citizenship documents. (See §13.6.3.) This evidence will be evaluated by the Admissions Office. There are two categories of Independent student:

1. those meeting regular admission requirements.

2. those meeting Mature Entry age requirements (see §14), and who can satisfy the registering officer that they have, through other experiences, acquired the necessary background for the course(s) for which they wish to register.

Independent students wishing to subsequently to enter a degree or certificate programme must apply to the Admissions Office. Credits acquired by Independent students may subsequently be applied towards a degree or certificate if appropriate. In the case of the Faculty of Arts and Science, an Independent student may apply a maximum of 30 credits towards a degree.

Independent students may not register on a full-time basis. Please refer to §16 for those regulations which apply to Independent students.

13.12 Information of Special Interest to International Students

13.12.1 APPLICATION FEE

International applicants must include a $15 (Canadian) application fee. This amount will be applied towards their tuition fees upon registration for courses at the University.

13.12.2 STUDENT AUTHORIZATION

The Canadian Immigration regulations require that an International student obtain a Student Authorization (previously: Student Visa) before arriving at the Canadian port of entry. Such an authorization will not be issued at the port of entry or to foreign visitors who are already in the country. The authorization will be specific with regard to both institution and programme.

In addition, all students in possession of a letter of admission issued by any Québec educational institution are required to present to the Canadian Immigration authorities an additional document issued by the Québec Department of Immigration (Ministère de l'immigration du Québec) and entitled "Certificat d'acceptation". A Québec-bound student will not be issued a Student Authorization unless he or she is in possession of the Certificate or other document indicating approval from the Québec Department of Immigration. The student copy of the Certificate should be retained by the student.

Application forms and instructions for obtaining the "Certificat d'acceptation" are issued with the letter of admission.

13.12.3 UNITED KINGDOM AND COMMONWEALTH

In order to be considered for admission into a 90-credit undergraduate programme, applicants must present five General Certificate of Education papers including at least two at the Advanced Level. The following indicates by degree, which Advanced Level papers are required.

BAdmin, BComm, BSc

— Mathematics and one other acceptable Advanced Level paper

BA, BEd, BFA

— Any two acceptable Advanced Level papers

BEng

— Mathematics and Physics

BCompSc

Digital Systems

— Mathematics and Physics

General Business

— Mathematics and any other acceptable Advanced Level paper

General Science
— Mathematics and Physics

Mathematics
— Mathematics and Physics

Ordinary and Higher National Certificates and Diplomas, with passes at an appropriate level, will be accepted in lieu of Advanced Level papers.

Applicants from Hong Kong who have received the Hong Kong Certificate of Education (English) with good grades in five subjects, and have completed one year of Form VI or hold the Hong Kong Certificate of Education (Chinese) with good grades in five subjects, and have passed the Chinese University of Hong Kong Matriculation Examination, may apply for admission to the Extended Credit Programme.

Applicants to an extended undergraduate programme in Engineering or Science are normally expected to have Mathematics and at least one Science subject; those applying to Commerce and Administration are advised to have Mathematics as part of their entrance qualifications.

Students with better than average results in five acceptable Ordinary Level papers (or the West African School Certificate, where applicable) plus one full year of formal schooling beyond Ordinary Level may be considered for admission to the Extended Credit Programme.

Content of additional credits will be found in the appropriate Faculty section of this calendar.

13.12.4 UNITED STATES

High School graduates with high standards from accredited schools who have followed an academic programme designed for university entrance may apply for admission to an extended undergraduate programme of approximately 120 credits. Content of additional credits will be found in the appropriate Faculty section of this calendar.

Applicants are required to have a better than average school record and a high ranking in their graduating class. While no set pattern of courses in high school is required, all applicants are expected to have taken four units of English. Those applying for admission to Science and Engineering must include three or four units in Mathematics and two in the Sciences. At least three units of Mathematics are recommended for admission to Commerce and Administration. The Admissions Office may approve slight deviations from the above pattern.

Students who have successfully passed Advanced Placement examinations in appropriate subjects with a grade of '3' or better may be granted some advanced standing.

13.12.5 TRANSFERS FROM POST-SECONDARY INSTITUTIONS

Transfers from post-secondary institutions are referred to §13.4.3.

13.12.6 OTHER COUNTRIES

Candidates applying from other countries who have achieved university admission level will be considered for admission provided that better than average grades have been attained. In most cases, a specific minimum overall standard on certificates is required. More specific information with respect to admission requirements and placement levels may be obtained by writing to the Admissions Office.

13.12.7 LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY

The language of instruction at Concordia University is English. For information regarding this requirement refer to §13.7

13.12.8 TUITION FEES FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

International students registering at Concordia University for the first time in September 1982 or later will be required to pay $145.00 (Canadian) per credit. The fees payable to the University for the regular session of two terms running from September to April are approximately $4,800 for a full-time student. This amount includes the tuition fees for 30 credits, student service fees, health insurance, and student association fees. The total amount will vary up or down proportionately, depending on the number of credits being taken. Further information regarding fees will be found in §15 of this calendar.

The following students are among those exempted from paying differential fees (at the time of going to press):

1. Diplomats, consular personnel, duly accredited representatives or civil servants of a foreign country, the United Nations or of one of its organizations, of an intergovernmental organization to which Canada belongs or any member of the staff of the above-listed persons who are working in Canada in an official capacity.

2. The spouse and unmarried children of the above-listed persons.

3. A student who is duly registered at a university and who has come to Quebec as either an exchange student or within the framework of a programme of cooperation agreed to by Quebec and which exempts the participants from paying differential fees.

4. A student who is duly registered at a university and who comes from a country which has signed an agreement with Quebec to this effect. Many Francophone countries currently have this special arrangement with Quebec.

5. A student who is duly registered at a university and whose status as a convention refugee has been recognized, though he may not yet have received the permission to settle here.

6. A student who is duly registered at a university in a programme of studies which is specifically exempted by the Ministry of Education.

At Concordia University, this refers to French language and French and Quebec literature programmes of study.

13.12.9 CRITERIA FOR ADMISSION

Admission to Concordia University is selective and will be considered when all relevant academic certificates have been received, as well as the Summary of Educational Experience by Years form.

All certificates must show the actual grade obtained in each examination.

13.12.10 REGISTRATION

Registration for the September and January terms normally takes place in late August and mid-December respectively. International students must enrol on the dates indicated in their letter of acceptance. Late registration is not normally permitted. Complete information regarding registration is sent with the letter of acceptance.

13.12.11 STUDENT HEALTH AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE

International students are not eligible to receive any medical benefits from the Quebec Medicare Programme. To offset possible medical expenditures, it is necessary to have some form of sickness and accident insurance, and for this reason, a compulsory plan for all entering International students has been adopted by the University.

13.12.12 FINANCES

Government financial assistance is not available to students attending college or university while on a Student Authorization (Visa). Such students are not allowed to be employed on a full-time or part-time basis, and they must present evidence of sufficient funds for tuition and maintenance before being admitted into Canada. The University does not have funds to finance International students.

- 14.3.4 Engineering
- 14.3.5 Computer Science
- 14.3.6 Fine Arts

14.4 CHOICE OF ELECTIVES

14 Mature Entry

14.1 General Information

Concordia has for many years made it possible for men and women of 21 years of age or over, who have interrupted their studies, to undertake work towards university degrees and certificates, although they lack the normally required pre-university schooling.

Mature entrants are expected to demonstrate the potential to follow undergraduate courses, and are required to complete successfully a minimum of 18 additional credits over and above those required of students who enter with the regular qualifications. Mature entrants are, however, considered and treated in every way as undergraduates.

To advise and assist both prospective and enrolled students in dealing with academic requirements and other problems, the Faculty of Arts and Science maintains a Centre for Mature Students with offices and facilities on both campuses (see §31.510). Other Faculties have their own mechanisms for advising mature students.

14.2 Admission as a Mature Student

The admission of applicants for mature entry is subject to the following conditions:

1. The applicant must have reached the age of 21 by August 1, December 1 or April 1 of a given year, to enter the University in the following September, January or May respectively;

2. Although not meeting the normal academic requirements for admission (Québec Diplôme d'études collégiales or the equivalent), the applicant must satisfy the University that he or she has the potential to undertake undergraduate courses;

3. The applicant must have been out of school-that is not engaged in full-time study -for at least 24 months since attaining the age of 18. Applicants who have been out of school for only 12 months are also admissible provided that they have had no unfavourable academic record in the previous 24 months.

4. The applicant must be a Canadian Citizen or Permanent Resident (Landed Immigrant).

Applicants must submit a birth certificate or other acceptable proof of age, together with school records and any material which may indicate ability to pursue university studies. (§13 provides general information on how to apply for admission.)

14.3 Programme Requirements

Mature entrants must successfully complete at least 18 credits of additional work. In some cases these credits are made up of very specific courses - for example, basic courses in chemistry and physics for those contemplating studies in the pure and applied sciences or basic studio activities for those planning to take programmes in the Visual Arts; in others they are more general. These additional credits are designed with a view to making it possible for mature entrants to make the best use of the studies which they subsequently undertake.

Of these additional credits not more than six may be counted towards the student's eventual programme of concentration (honours, major, etc.).

Requirements are set by each individual Faculty, in terms of the programme to be undertaken.

14.3.1 ARTS

For entry to degree and certificate programmes in Arts (including Education (Teaching of English as a Second Language) and the General Certificate in Arts and Science):

18 credits chosen with the approval of the Centre for Mature Students prior to registration.

Certain departments in the Faculty have specific requirements, which will take up some or all of these credits. Students intending to follow programmes of concentration within these departments must include as many as possible of these specific requirements as part of their 18 additional credits:

Geography (Honours and Specialization in Physical Geography (B.A.))

6 credits in Mathematics

Mathematics (B.A.)

Mathematics C203[3], C204[3], C205[3]

(Note: Students not having Math C202[3] or the equivalent must include it in their 18 credits.)

Psychology (B.A.)
Psychology C200[6]
Biology C200[6] or C201[3]
3 approved credits in Mathematics (preparation for statistics)

14.3.2 SCIENCE

For entry to degree programmes in Science:

The minimum of 108 credits required for the B.Sc. degree (i.e. 90 plus the additional 18 credits), must include:

6 credits in Chemistry: C205[3], C206[3]
9 credits in Mathematics: C202[3], C203[3] and C205[3]*
8 credits in Physics: C204[3], C205[3], C224[1], and C225[1]
3-4 credits from: Physics C206[3] and C226[1]; or Biology C201[3]; or Geology C210[3]

*Students not having Math C201[3], or the equivalent, must take it in place of one of their elective courses.

Students intending to enter programmes of concentration in the departments of Biological Sciences, Exercise Science or Psychology should take Biology C201[3].

Students must consult with the Director of the Centre for Mature Students before registering, particularly with regard to the sequencing of the 26 or 27 credits in the B.Sc., and to the choice of the 18 additional credits required in the case of a certificate.

14.3.3 COMMERCE AND ADMINISTRATION

For entry to degree programmes in Commerce and Administration:

9 credits in Mathematics: C208[3], C209[3], C211[3]
9 elective credits, appropriate for the student's intended programme.

Requirements for certificate programmes are listed with the programme descriptions in the Faculty section of the Calendar (§61).

14.3.4 ENGINEERING

Mature entrants to the Bachelor of Engineering degree are required to complete a minimum of 138.5 to 144 credits, depending on the programme chosen, including:

Mathematics C202[3], C203[3], C204[3] and C205[3]

Requirements for mature entrants to the Certificate in Quality Control:

Mathematics: C202[3], C203[3], C204[3] and C205[3], and work experience.

N.B.: Students lacking basic mathematics may be required to take either or both of C200[3] and C201[3] in addition to the above.

14.3.5 COMPUTER SCIENCE

Mature entrants to the Bachelor of Computer Science must complete a minimum of 108 credits, including the following:

a) Digital Systems, General Science and Mathematics Options:

Chemistry C205[3]
Physics C204[3], C205[3], C224[1] and C225[1]
Mathematics C202[3], C203[3], C204[3], C205[3]
Computer Science C211[3]

b) General Business Option:

Mathematics C202[3], C203[3], C204[3], C205[3]
Computer Science C211[3]

In all options, some students may require one or more of Mathematics C200[3], C201[3] and/or courses in English as a Second Language, as determined by language proficiency testing.

Depending on the option chosen, up to 9 of the credits listed above may be applied towards the elective component of the regular degree programme.

14.3.6 FINE ARTS

For mature entry to degree and certificate programmes in Fine Arts:

18 elective credits appropriate for entry into the student's ultimate area of concentration and chosen with the approval of the faculty adviser.

14.4 Choice of Electives

Electives will be chosen in consultation with faculty advisers - through the Centre for Mature Students in the case of Arts and Science. They will normally be at the introductory level, depending on the background of the individual student and the programme of concentration to be undertaken.

In the Faculty of Fine Arts courses will be selected from a list available from the Student Programmes Office in that Faculty.

In the event that Preregistration is not finalized, or if registration is completed and then cancelled this amount will be kept as a minimum charge.*

In addition to the fees set out above, students are required to pay certain Student Service Fees, Student Association Fees and other charges. The current rate of these fees and charges can be obtained from the Student Accounts Offices.

Interest is payable on the outstanding balances of students' accounts at the rate of 1% per month (12.7% per annum). This rate may change from time to time in conformity with prevailing interest rates.

15.2 PAYMENT OF TUITION AND FEES

Payment of tuition and other fees may be made in accordance with the following options:

Summer Registration

1. Payment in full at registration.
2. Payment in two instalments:
   a) At registration - one half of tuition fees and all other fees.
   b) Three weeks after registration - balance plus interest from the contract date.

Fall Registration

1. Payment in full at registration.
2. a) At registration—one half of tuition fees and all other fees.
   b) By January 15—balance plus interest calculated from contract date.

Winter Registration

1. Payment in full at registration.
2. a) At registration—one half of tuition fees and all other fees.
   b) By January 15—balance plus interest calculated from contract date.

Registration may be cancelled if a cheque is returned for any reason. In any event, a charge of $5.00 will be made for each returned cheque.

Failure to make payment, or to arrange satisfactory settlement of amounts owing to the University when they become due is sufficient cause to bar the student from classes or examinations, and to withhold diploma, scholastic certificate or transcript of record until the debt is adjusted with the University.

Registration is not considered complete until satisfactory arrangements have been made for the payment of fees.

All contracts are subject to revision for the adjustment of errors or omissions.

15.3 COURSE CANCELLATIONS, WITHDRAWALS AND ADJUSTMENTS

Withdrawal from classes does not entitle a student to refunds of fees or cancellation of contract. Students who withdraw from courses or from the University must comply with the requirements set out in the Timetable of Classes published before each academic session in order to qualify for a rebate of tuition according to the following scale. Complete withdrawal from the University must be done in person or in writing.

NOTE: The rebates specified in this calendar do NOT apply to the Off-campus Education programme. A $10 charge is made for each course cancelled prior to the commencement of classes. A 75% refund will be granted for withdrawals within the course-change period (14 calendar days from the date of commencement of classes for the specific course). After this date, no refunds or adjustments are allowed for any reason.

Rebate of Tuition

Summer Session

1. Students who withdraw from the University before the end of the Summer course change period; full rebate of tuition less 6%.
2. All others, for courses of:

	1st Term Courses	Two Term Courses	2nd Term Courses
Prior to the end of the applicable course-change period	Full rebate less 6%	Full rebate less 6%	Full rebate less 6%
For two weeks after the end of the first term course-change period	NIL	50%

Fall/Winter Session

NOTE: For dates of Fall and Winter course-change periods please see §11 (Academic Calendar).

1. Students who withdraw from the University before the end of the Fall (September) course-change period: full rebate of tuition less 6%.

2. All others, for courses of:

	1st Term	Two Terms	2nd Term
Prior to the end of the Fall course-change period	Full rebate	Full rebate	Full rebate
End of Fall course-change period to September 30	3/4	7/8	Full rebate
October 1 to October 31	1/2	3/4	Full rebate
November 1 to November 30		5/8	Full rebate
December 1 to end of January course-change period		1/2	Full rebate
End of January course-change period to January 31		3/8	3/4
February 1 to February 28		1/4	1/2

The above rebates apply to the net reduction of courses within each course category. Different course categories are not combined for purposes of tuition rebate calculations.

Student Services fees and Student Association fees are subject to the same schedule of rebates as those for tuition. Other fees are not refundable.

16.1 General Information

The student is responsible for knowing the regulations and complying with them. Specific written permission must be obtained for exceptions to the regulations. Routine approval of a records form (for example the registration contract or course-change form) does not constitute approval of an exception.

All undergraduate, certificate, visiting, and independent students are subject to the Academic Regulations contained in this Section.

16.1.1 ACADEMIC YEAR

The Academic Year is defined as courses taken during the Summer Session and Regular Session.

Summer Session

The Summer Session consists of a ten-week session operated in the evening and a six-week session operated in the day. The Summer Session is part of the following Regular Session for record purposes.

Regular Session

The day and evening Regular Session of the University is divided into Fall and Winter terms of fifteen weeks each, including an examination period. Dates marking the opening and closing of these terms are to be found in the Academic Calendar §11.

16.1.2 DEFINITION OF CREDIT

In accordance with the recommendations of the Quebec Council of Universities, effective 1974-75, the credit base takes into account the total activity of the student, in terms of lectures, conferences, laboratories, studio or practice periods, examinations, and personal work. One credit represents, for the average student, a minimum of 45 hours spread across the various activities listed above.

16.1.3 STATUS

The status of students is determined by the number of credits for which they are registered at the end of the course-change period.

Session	Full-Time	Part-Time
Registration for Fall-Winter Session	24 Credits or More	Less than 24 Credits
Registration for Fall Term Only	12 Credits or More	Less than 12 Credits
Registration for Winter Term Only	12 Credits or More	Less than 12 Credits
Registration for 10-Week Summer Session	12 Credits	Less than 12 Credits
Registration for 6-Week Summer Session	Full-Time Only

Visiting Students

Please see §13.10.

Independent Students

Students not proceeding to a degree, diploma or certificate. Independent students may not register for more than 18 credits in the Regular Session.

NOTE:
Financial Aid Students

Please see §18.3 for special rules on status that have been established by the Government of Quebec for students receiving Quebec loans and/or bursaries.

16.1.4 COURSE LOAD

Notwithstanding the number of credits used to determine the status of a student for statistical purposes, as listed in §16.1.3, the maximum course load for full-time students, part-time students, visiting students, and independent students are as follows:

Regular Session—Full-Time Status

The course load varies according to the faculty in which the student is enrolled.

FACULTY OF ARTS AND SCIENCE, COMMERCE AND ADMINISTRATION, AND FINE ARTS:

A student may register for a maximum of 30 credits in any Regular Session.

FACULTY OF ENGINEERING AND COMPUTER SCIENCE:

See under Engineering Faculty §71 for Engineering programmes. For Computer Science programmes, the maximum is normally 30 credits in any Regular Session.

Regular Session Part-Time Students

Part-time students in all faculties, and Independent students, may register for a maximum of 18 credits, equally divided between the Fall and Winter Terms.

Summer Session

Students may not take more than a total of 12 credits of work during the Summer Session because of the concentrated nature of the schedule. The Summer Session includes all courses scheduled from the month of May to the month of August inclusive.

16.1.5 RESIDENCE REQUIREMENTS

1. Out of the total number of credits required for a bachelor's degree, a minimum of 45 credits must be taken at Concordia University for all bachelor's degrees except that of the Bachelor of Engineering, where the minimum is 60 credits. Unless otherwise authorized by the Faculty to which the student has been admitted, these will be the last 45 credits (or the last 60 in the case of the Bachelor of Engineering).

The proportion of degree credits which must be taken at Concordia University in honours, specializations, majors, minors or other elements of concentration will be determined by individual faculties but should be not less than 50%.

2. Students who already possess a bachelor's degree may undertake a second bachelor's degree, under the conditions laid down below. Students are, however, advised that before registering for a second bachelor's degree they should consider whether their purpose might not be better served by taking a diploma or master's programme. To obtain a second bachelor's degree at Concordia University students must:

a) Register in an established programme with a higher degree of concentration than a Minor.

b) Complete sixty credits in courses other than those credited towards the first degree, at least thirty-six of which must be taken in the new field of specialization.

3. Any student seeking to transfer to Concordia University after having failed at another university, or after having compiled an unsatisfactory record at another university, must fulfill the residence requirements stipulated for him upon admission. In general, a minimum of sixty credits will be required for any degree.

16.1.6 REGISTRATION FOR COURSES

A central computerized registration is held in August for both the Fall and Winter terms, and in May for all Summer terms. At that time, students select their courses for the upcoming session, receive a contract and course cards, make tuition payment, and receive an I.D. card.

All information necessary for registration will be found in the applicable class schedule.

A preregistration system is also available to full-time students for the Regular Session.

Refer to §13.1 regarding eligibility.

For further information, please contact the Registrar's Services Department on either campus.

16.1.7 WITHDRAWAL

Students who are withdrawing from a course or courses, or entirely from the University, must notify the Registrar's Office, either on the specific form designated for the purpose and available from the Registrar's Services Department, or by letter.

The responsibility for taking all steps necessary for withdrawal is entirely that of the student. Ceasing to attend classes, or informing an instructor of intent to withdraw does not constitute withdrawal.

For each session there is a final date beyond which a student may not withdraw from a course. In addition, the fee penalty varies by the date on which a course is dropped. Students are referred to the Academic Calendar and to the statement of fees regarding refunds.

16.1.8 CROSS-REGISTRATION

Concordia University, McGill University, Université de Montréal and Université du Québec à Montréal have agreed to permit transfer of academic credit and course fees between Montreal universities up to a maximum of 6 credits in any one year. (Similar arrangements may be made with other Quebec universities.) In exceptional cases, a student may be authorized to take up to 12 credits at another university. Part-time students may be authorized to register for credits on the condition that the number of credits for which they register does not exceed 30% of the number of credits taken at the home university in any academic year. The agreement is intended to include only those courses not given at the home university which fit a student's programme requirements. Authorization for an undergraduate student to cross-register must be given by the student's academic adviser, the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs, and the Registrar. The arrangement allows for payment to be made by Concordia to the "host" university if the student has paid tuition fees in full to Concordia University.

This agreement in no way interferes with the host university's right to accept or refuse, as it sees fit, registration of a student from another university in any of the courses or programmes that it offers. The student is expected to follow the registration procedures of the host university, and when attending the host university, is subject to its regulations.

Credits earned within this policy are counted towards the University residence requirements.

16.1.9 GRADUATION

Degree and certificate candidates who expect to complete requirements in a particular year must contact the Registrar's Office to make application for that degree or certificate. Graduation Application Forms provided by the Registrar's Services Department must be submitted before July 15th, 1984 for Fall graduation and January 15th, 1985 for Spring graduation.

16.1.10 HIGH ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

A degree With Distinction or With Great Distinction will be awarded to students who obtain a grade point average (GPA) of 3.40 for 'With Distinction', or 4.00 for 'With Great Distinction'.

The grade point average for students in the Faculty of Arts & Science, the Faculty of Commerce & Administration, and the Faculty of Fine Arts will be calculated over the last ninety credits. For students in the Faculty of Engineering and Computer Science the grade point average will be calculated over the entire programme. Additional credits in extended programmes are not included in any calculation. In the case of transfer students, all courses taken at Concordia will be included. However, a transfer student must have taken a minimum of sixty credits at Concordia in order to be eligible for distinguished mention.

16.1.11 TRANSCRIPTS

A student may obtain an unofficial copy of his record from the Registrar's Services Department during normal operating hours. Official Transcripts, however, are not issued to students but are sent directly to another institution or potential employer at the student's written request, provided there is no outstanding account owing to the University.

16.1.12 STUDENT REQUEST COMMITTEE OF FACULTY COUNCILS

Each Faculty has a Student Request Committee made up as follows:

- 3 faculty members appointed by the Faculty Council (which may also appoint alternates).
- 1 representative from the Registrar's Office or the Admissions Office.
- 1 student appointed by the Faculty Council.
- the Associate/Assistant Dean who acts as convener.

Student Request Committees are authorized to handle applications from full-time or part-time students (except independent students) on matters relating to academic regulations. Requests on procedural matters will be redirected to the appropriate administrative office.

Each Student Request Committee will establish guidelines for the treatment of applications and delegate to the Associate/Assistant Dean the responsibility for handling applications within these guidelines.

Students and members of the Faculty may request that the Student Request Committee review any decision made by the Associate/Assistant Dean in his capacity as delegate of the Committee. During such reviews, the Associate/Assistant Dean will not sit as a member of the Committee. Decisions of the Committee are final.

Independent students must submit all requests relating to University Regulations to the Registrar.

16.2 Programmes and Regulations

16.2.1 CURRICULUM OBLIGATIONS

The University recognizes the principle that students should be allowed to complete their degree programme, or concentration (Honours, Specialization, Major, etc.) within their degree programme, under the conditions in force at the time when they were first admitted to the programme. This provision also applies to the regulations for proof of competence in written expression, which entered into force in September 1983. (See §16.2.11)

Where a student acquires credit toward a degree, diploma or certificate in a discontinuous manner and over a protracted period of time subsequent to his admission, the University reserves the right, at any time, to require such a student to take further credits in order to obtain that degree, diploma or certificate.

The University also recognizes its responsibility, in the event of the cancellation of a programme, to offer courses in the cancelled programme for a reasonable period of time. Where a student in good standing has not been registered for over three years, the University, while not questioning such a student's right to remain in the University, reserves the right, where circumstances warrant, to refuse such a student permission to continue in the programme in which he or she was registered at the point where studies were interrupted.

16.2.2 CURRICULUM REGULATIONS

1. The regulations relating to the degree requirements are located in the Faculty sections:

Faculty of Arts and Science: §31
Faculty of Commerce and Administration: §61

Faculty of Engineering: §71
Faculty of Fine Arts: §81

16.2.3 CONCENTRATION REQUIREMENT

Since the CEGEP programme is designed to give all students the opportunity to explore different fields and thus acquire a broad general basis for future study, the undergraduate programme requires some degree of concentration, according to the interests and capability of the student. There are several forms of concentration, ranging through Honours, which require success in a programme of high concentration accompanied by a prescribed level of performance; the Specialization and the Major requiring varying degrees of concentration without a prescribed performance requirement; and the Double Minor, involving a lesser degree of concentration in two disciplines or fields, and without a prescribed performance requirement.

In order to graduate a student must have completed one of the following types of programme concentrations: Honours, Specialization, or Major. Any one of these may be combined with a Minor. In the Faculty of Fine Arts the degree of BFA may be awarded for a Double Minor.

Prior to registration, students will be required to select one of the types of programme of concentration outlined above. In the case of Honours, students will register upon entry in an Honours programme, but their acceptance as Honours students will depend on their performance during their first year. Students failing to meet requirements for Honours standing will proceed in either a Specialization or a Major programme.

16.2.4 HONOURS PROGRAMMES

These regulations represent a minimum academic standard for Honours programmes. All programmes and additional Faculty regulations, including those with higher standards, are listed in the Faculty sections under "Honours Programmes".

The University has approved programmes leading to an Honours degree in certain selected fields. The Honours programme consists of 60 or more credits in a discipline or field, with superior performance being required to enter and remain in the programme. In order to qualify for an Honours degree a student must comply with the regulations set forth below:

1. An Honours student must meet the general degree requirements as well as the specific requirements for an Honours degree.
2. An Honours student must maintain a GPA of 3.0 in all Honours courses; the minimum acceptable grade in any single Honours course is 'C'.
3. An Honours student must have a minimum GPA of 2.7 for Honours courses taken in each academic year. For part-time students this will be calculated in 18 credit blocks.
4. In the non-Honours courses of the degree programme, an Honours student must have a GPA of no less than 2.0.
5. Students who are required to withdraw from the Honours programme will proceed in the Major or Specialization programme. Reinstatement in the Honours programme is possible only by appeal to The Faculty Honours Committee.

These regulations apply to those students entering Honours Programmes on or after June 1, 1977. Students who started in an Honours programme prior to that date may continue under the old regulations published in the 1978/79 Undergraduate Calendar.

16.2.5 SPECIALIZATION PROGRAMMES

The Specialization, in keeping with the structures recommended by the Quebec Council of Universities, is an approved sequence of courses including 60 or more credits without a prescribed performance requirement.

16.2.6 MAJOR PROGRAMMES

The Major, again in keeping with the structures recommended by the Quebec Council of Universities, is an approved sequence of courses including 36 or more credits, except in the Faculty of Commerce and Administration where the Major consists of at least 24 credits in the chosen discipline in addition to the required 51-credit core. The Major, like the Specialization, may include certain approved courses in other closely related fields.

16.2.7 MINOR PROGRAMMES

A programme, again in keeping with the structures recommended by the Quebec Council of Universities, is an approved sequence of 24 or more credits, except in the Faculty of Commerce and Administration where the Minor consists of at least 12 credits in the chosen discipline in addition to the required 51-credit core.

16.2.8 DOUBLE MINOR PROGRAMMES

In the Faculty of Fine Arts Double Minor programmes are made up of two approved sequences of 24 or more credits in two specific disciplines or fields.

16.2.9 COMBINATIONS

An Honours, Specialization, or a Major programme may be combined with a Minor programme.

16.2.10 CERTIFICATE PROGRAMMES

An Undergraduate Certificate programme is a coherent programme of 30 credits made up of regular undergraduate courses that are, in turn, normally applicable to the appropriate bachelor's degree.

16.2.11 WRITING SKILLS REQUIREMENT

With the aim of improving students' writing skills, a graduation requirement applies to all students entering bachelor's degree programmes in or after September 1983 (September 1984 in Fine Arts).

1. All students entering bachelor's degree programmes must take and pass the University Writing Test (see paragraph 2) or obtain a specific grade in a designated language course (see paragraph 3). This requirement is a condition of graduation. The only exceptions are those already tested prior to admission (see paragraph 4). Certificate and Independent students are not required to be tested unless they decide at a future date to enter a degree programme.

2. The language of instruction at Concordia is English, with a few specific exceptions, but assignments and examinations, again with a few exceptions, may be submitted in French. In accordance with this policy, the University Writing Test may be taken in English or French. It takes the form of a short composition on one of a variety of topics. It may be taken at several points in the year, but students are encouraged to take it as soon as possible after entry. Students failing the test may take it again as often as is necessary. No fee is charged, and failures will not be entered on the student record.

3. The graduation requirement may also be met by passing one of a number of specified courses with a set level of performance. At present, it is required to obtain a grade of C- or better in English (ENGL) C212 or French (FRAN) C400. For those enrolled in the Bachelor of Engineering, or in a Journalism programme, a grade of C- or better in Engineering (ENGR) C281 or Journalism (JOUR) C201, respectively, also satisfies the requirement.

4. Students tested for admission purposes and who attained a prescribed level in the Concordia English Language Diagnostic Test (CELDT) or the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or the University of Michigan English Language Test (see §13.7), are considered to have met the graduation requirement. Those otherwise admissible but who attained a lower than marginally acceptable level in one of these tests will be required to take specific courses in English as ■ Second Language (ESL). In the latter case, the required ESL courses are indicated in the letter of acceptance. Successful completion of them will satisfy the graduation requirement. The University reserves the right to retest students admitted on the basis of scores obtained in external tests.

16.3 Evaluation, Grading, Examinations and Advancement

16.3.1 EVALUATION

A university degree certifies that its holder has attained a measurable level of achievement, as established by ■ recognized system of evaluation. It is consequently required that the performance of each student in each course be evaluated by the instructor (or instructors) responsible for the course.

The final grade that assesses the performance of each student in each course will take into account the total measurable performance of the student in that course. Specifically, the grade will be given on the basis of one or more of the following:

1. Assigned work, term papers, projects, etc.
2. Class participation which, in the case of certain disciplines, may justify an attendance requirement.
3. Progress tests.
4. Laboratory tests and/or laboratory work.
5. Mid-term and/or final examinations.
6. A level of written expression may be given consideration in determining the final grade.

The weighting of the various evaluative elements is the responsibility of the instructor. At the beginning of the course the instructor will inform the class in writing of the evaluation scheme to be used.

While the language of instruction in Concordia University is normally English, students have the right to write their assignments and examinations in French. It must be understood, however, that in a case where the instructor cannot read French, the assignments or examinations will have to be read by another person, with possible resulting disadvantages and delays for the student. Students are advised to enquire of the instructor at the beginning of their course whether he or she will personally read assignments and/or examinations written in French. Notwithstanding the above, language and literature departments may require assignments and examinations to be written in the language being studied.

16.3.2 GRADING SYSTEM

In each course, the instructor submits a grade for every student registered. The grades are submitted in an alphabetical form. Using the grade point equivalents listed below, grade point averages (GPA) are calculated and used for the evaluation of academic achievement, honours standing, and prizes only.

Grade	Grade Points
A+	4.3
A	4.0	Outstanding
A-	3.7
B+	3.3
B	3.0	Very Good
B-	2.7
C+	2.3
C	2.0	Satisfactory
C-	1.7
D+	1.3
D	1.0	Marginal Pass
D-	0.7
F	0.00	Failure
R	0.00	Repeat - Failure

F—Failing Grade

The grade submitted will be 'F'.

For courses in which supplemental examinations are not precluded, a student to whom an 'F' grade has been assigned and who is in good academic standing, may, subject to the regulations of the Faculty, write a supplemental examination.

For courses in which supplemental examinations are precluded, this grade will be recorded as FNS to draw attention to the absence of supplemental privilege for the course in question.

R—Repeat Failing Grade

The grade submitted will be 'R'.

Students graded 'R' in a course may not write supplemental examinations, and must repeat the course to receive credit, providing such repetitions are permitted within the failure regulations and/or the regulations concerning the repetition of courses.

16.3.3 GRADING—PROCEDURES AND SPECIAL CASES

INC, DNW, and MED

If the work for a course has not been completed, the following notations will be made after the grade given for that course:

INC (Incomplete) denotes that, though the final examination, if any, was written, work essential for evaluation of a student's performance, such as a term paper or a laboratory, was not completed.

DNW (Did Not Write) denotes that, though the instructor marked the term work, the final examination was not written.

In some circumstances, both INC and DNW may be used simultaneously.

MED (Medical) denotes that an examination or assignment was missed for medical reasons. This notation is entered on the record by the Examinations Office. An acceptable medical certificate (certified by a physician on his letterhead) must be submitted within ten days of the missed examination to the Examination Office not to the instructor or Department.

Replacement of 'F', DNW, INC and MED Entries

The method of recording changes from 'F', DNW, INC and MED entries will be as follows:

1. In cases where a supplemental examination or a late completion has been allowed on medical or compassionate grounds, the new grade will replace the original entry.
2. In all other instances, the original entry will be retained on the transcript. A second entry of the course code will be made along with the final grade.
3. Students failing a supplemental examination will receive the grade 'R'.
4. Students eligible to write a supplemental examination on medical grounds, but who do not wish to avail themselves of this right, will have their records altered by the Registrar's Office from the original entry of 'F-DNW' or 'F-INC' submitted by the instructor to 'MED-DNW' or 'MED-INC'.

DNE, DISC, and NR

DNE (Did Not Enter) applies to courses that are properly dropped before the end of the course-change period. The course will remain on the student's academic record for one year with the notation DNE. It will not appear on official transcripts of the record.

DISC (Discontinued) applies to courses that are properly dropped after the end of the course-change period. The course will remain permanently on the student's academic record with the notation DISC. It will appear on official transcripts of the record.

NR (Not Reported) - In the event that a student appears to have withdrawn, unofficially, from a course, and no material is available for evaluation, the instructor will clearly not be able to submit a grade. The Registrar will indicate this situation with the notation NR (Not Reported). This notation carries a grade point value of zero.

16.3.4 ACADEMIC RE-EVALUATION

I. General

1. All students have the right to apply for the re-evaluation of any grade they receive. Such an application may be based on dissatisfaction with either the grade received or the method of grading. Grades may be lowered, maintained or raised as a result of the re-evaluation.
2. Students have the right to see their examination papers and any marked material that has contributed to the grading of a course. Students are responsible for the preservation and production in the case of a re-evaluation of any marked material that has been returned to them by an instructor. Students have the right to have their examination papers or any other marked material re-evaluated separately. Departments (Divisions in Fine Arts) are responsible for the preservation and production of written materials in their possession for a period of six months following the official release of grades.

II. Normal Procedure

1. Students who seek re-evaluation of their work will, in the first instance, endeavour to meet with the instructor and explain their position to him. If they remain dissatisfied, or are unable to meet with the instructor, they may, on receipt of the final grade for the course, apply formally for re-evaluation.
2. A formal application for re-evaluation will be made to the Registrar. Each application must be on the appropriate form, and be in writing and signed. It must set out the reasons for the dissatisfaction, and also contain a statement that the student has met with the instructor, or has tried to meet with the instructor and failed. A fee of $15 per application will be charged. This amount will be reimbursed if the application results in the grade being raised.
3. An application must be submitted by:
   Fall-term courses : February 1
   Winter-term courses: June 15
   Summer-session courses: October 1

   The registrar may extend these deadlines in particular cases, but only if the person applying for re-evaluation could not reasonably have done so within the above deadlines.
4. The Registrar will forward the application immediately to the chairman of the appropriate department, with a copy to the instructor and the Dean.
5. According to the nature of the application, the department chairman will appoint a person or persons to carry out a re-evaluation or investigation, and will communicate the name(s) to the student, the instructor, the appropriate Dean and the Registrar. Normally a member of the Faculty in whose course the student is currently enrolled is not eligible to conduct a re-evaluation or investigation. Where the department chairman was the instructor performing the evaluation the appropriate dean will make the appointments.

6. The re-evaluation or investigation will normally be completed within 21 days of the receipt of the application by the chairman.

7. The chairman will inform the student, the instructor, the Dean and the Registrar of the decision of the person(s) charged with the re-evaluation or investigation. This decision is final.

III. Priority Procedure

1. The priority appeal procedure is provided to accelerate the process for specific courses designated by the Faculties. A list of these courses is posted in the Registrar's Service Department prior to the beginning of the course-change period each term.

2. Students registered in courses that have been designated by the faculties may file a priority appeal with the Registrar as soon as the grade is known, but in no case later than 3 days before the end of the course-change period for the next term.

3. Students who opt for this priority procedure will still, in the first instance, endeavour to meet with the instructor. If the issue is resolved between the student and the instructor after an appeal is launched, the appeal must be cancelled by the student. If the appeal is not cancelled the fee of $15 will not be reimbursed.

4. The Dean will appoint a person who, in collaboration with the Registrar, will ensure accelerated processing of priority appeals in so far as possible, in accordance with the procedures set out in II, 5.

5. The re-evaluation or investigation of priority applications must be completed prior to the last day of the course-change period for the next term.

6. The Dean's appointee will inform the student, the instructor, the Dean and the Registrar of the decision of the person(s) charged with the re-evaluation or investigation. This decision is final.

IV. Appeals

1. Both the student and the instructor have a right of appeal on procedural grounds only against a re-evaluation decision.

2. An appeal will be made to the Dean and will normally be lodged within 14 days of the announcement of the decision by the chairman. Each appeal must be on the appropriate form, and be in writing and signed. It must set out the reasons for the appeal.

3. It is the responsibility of the Dean to inform the student or the instructor, as may be required, the chairman and the Registrar that an appeal has been received.

4. The Dean will refer the appeal to the Faculty Appeal Committee, a standing committee of Faculty Council.

5. Faculty Appeal Committee procedures will be determined by the appropriate Faculty Council.

6. The Faculty Appeal Committee will be composed of an equal number of faculty and students, who will choose a chairman from outside their initial membership.

7. The Faculty Appeal Committee will deal with the appeal as it deems necessary in order to decide whether the re-evaluation procedure was correctly followed.

8. The decision will normally be rendered within twenty-one days of the lodging of an appeal. If the Faculty Appeal Committee finds that the re-evaluation procedure was not correctly followed it will instruct the department chairman to arrange for a fresh re-evaluation.

9. There is no further appeal once the Faculty Appeal Committee has rendered its decision.

10. It is the responsibility of the Committee to inform the student, the instructor, the chairman, the Dean, and the Registrar of the decision.

16.3.5 FAILURE REGULATIONS*

These failure regulations are to be considered as defining the minimum standard acceptable to the University. Subject to the approval of Senate, higher standards may be established by any Faculty. For purposes of these regulations, "failure" includes the grades F, FNS, R, and NR.

I. 90 Credit Programme

1. Any student who fails courses equivalent to more than twelve credits before obtaining thirty credits on record, or who fails courses equivalent to more than twenty-four credits before obtaining sixty credits on record is a failed student.

Such a student will have entered on record: "Failed. Must obtain permission to re-register from the Faculty Dean."

2. Any student who fails courses equivalent to more than thirty credits is a failed student. Such a failed student may not apply for readmission.

Such a student will have entered on record: "Failed. May not re-register."

II. Mature Entry and Extended Credit Programme

1. Any student who fails courses equivalent to more than twelve credits before obtaining thirty credits on record, or who fails courses equivalent to more than twenty-four credits before obtaining sixty credits on record, or who fails courses equivalent to more than thirty-six credits before obtaining ninety credits on record is a failed student.

Such a student will have entered on record: "Failed. Must obtain permission to re-register from the Faculty Dean."

2. Any student in the Mature Entry programme who fails courses equivalent to more than thirty-six credits is a failed student. Such a failed student may not apply for re-admission.

Such a student will have entered on record: "Failed. May not re-register."

3. Any student in the Extended Credit programme who fails courses equivalent to more than forty-two credits is a failed student. Such a failed student may not apply for re-admission.

Such a student will have entered on record: "Failed. May not re-register."

III. Independent Students

1. An Independent student is subject to the same regulations as a student in the 90-Credit Programme.

2. An Independent student who is classified as failed must obtain permission to re-register from the Registrar.

IV. Regulations for Failed Students

1. Failed students are neither eligible to write supplemental examinations nor entitled to late completion of courses.

2. Failed students who are given permission to re-register are placed on Academic Probation.

3. Students placed on Academic Probation must pass the next thirty credits on the first attempt and satisfy any other conditions specified for their re-admission. Students failing to meet these requirements may not apply for re-admission.

These Failure Regulations are liable to modification in the case of students transferring either between faculties or from another university.

Students in the Bachelor of Engineering and Bachelor of Computer Science Programmes will be subject to the failure regulation published in §71.10.5 of the Faculty of Engineering and Computer Science Regulations.*

16.3.6 SUPPLEMENTAL EXAMINATIONS —REGULATIONS

University Regulations

1. Each Faculty determines the availability of supplemental examinations for the courses offered by that Faculty. Such availability is governed by the rules of the Faculty in which the course is offered, not those of the Faculty in which a student is registered.

2. A student is not permitted to write two supplemental examinations for the same course, whether or not the course is being repeated. However, a supplemental may be written for a course being repeated if the student has not written one previously for that course.

3. A failed student, or a student on academic probation, or a student with conditional standing (Faculty of Engineering), is not permitted to write supplemental examinations.

4. Should a student fail a course for which there is no supplemental examination, the absence of a supplemental examination will be recorded together with the failing grade. (§16.3.2).

5. Supplemental examinations for courses taken in the Regular session will be written in the following July. Supplemental examinations for courses taken in the Summer Session will be written in the following October.

6. Medical reasons (certified by a physician on his letterhead) can constitute a valid excuse for exemption from most of the regulations governing supplemental examinations. Such medical reasons must be submitted to the Examinations Office within ten days of a missed examination. The entry on the record for the original examination in such cases is MED/DNW.

7.(a) A student who has missed a regular examination for medical reasons may write the supplemental examination as a final examination. A student who passes will receive a normal grade. A student who fails may apply to the Examinations Office to write a second supplemental examination.

b) A student who has missed a supplemental examination for medical reasons is graded MED/DNW., and may apply to the Examinations Office to write another supplemental on another date.

However, after two supplementals are missed because of medical reasons, the student will be required to re-register for the course. The grade assigned, either F, F/DNW or MED/DNW, will remain as the final grade for the original course.

8. A student who is taken ill during an examination and so is unable to finish it should obtain a written statement to this effect from the nurse on duty at the Health Centre, and deliver that statement within ten days to the Examinations Office.

9. Applications to write a supplemental examination for a course in the Summer Session must be submitted by September 21, and for a course in the Regular Session by June 15. Graduating students have until February 1 to submit an application to write a supplemental examination for a course in the Fall Term. The appropriate fee must accompany all applications.

10. Students who wish to write a supplemental examination at an external centre will first discuss their situation with the Director of Examinations. The policy relating to external examination is presently under review.

16.3.7 REGULATIONS CONCERNING COURSES NOTATED AS INCOMPLETE

1. A failed student, or a student with conditional standing (Faculty of Engineering and Computer Science), is ineligible to complete a course with an incomplete notation.

2. A student is ineligible to complete a course with an incomplete notation in a course graded 'R'.

3. An application for an incomplete must be submitted by:

Fall-term courses: February 1
Winter-term courses: June 15
Summer-session courses: October 1

4. The limiting dates for the submission of late work are:

a) For Fall-term courses not later than April 1.

b) For all other courses in the Regular Session not later than August 1.

c) For all courses in the Summer Session not later than November 1.

5. For 6-credit courses taken during the Regular Session or 3-credit courses taken during the Winter Term, students are advised that work completed for courses with an incomplete notation and reported to the Registrar's Office before the submission of the list of failed students to the Deans will not count as a failure when assessing academic standing. The date for the receipt of these grade changes by the Registrar's Office is May 20, 1985.

NOTE: The University is not responsible for providing facilities to enable students to clear courses with an incomplete notation by this date.

16.3.8 REPETITION OF COURSES

1. In general a student may repeat a failed course only once. However, should a course required for a programme be failed a second time, a student must appeal to the appropriate student request committee for permission to take the course a third time, or for permission to replace the required course with another. Unless such permission is granted, the student will not be allowed to continue in the University toward that programme and/or degree.

2. A student who has received credits for a completed course may not write the supplemental examination.

3. A student who has received credit for a completed course may repeat a course for personal reasons, for instance, an external requirement. The student's record will reflect the new grade, however, there will be no credit value associated with the grade. The original entry will be used for averaging purposes, except as provided by the special regulations for the Faculty of Engineering.

4. A student who fails a course that is specifically required for a degree must take the course during the session for which he next registers. If a required course is taken for the first time during the Summer Session and is failed, a student may postpone his registration for repetition of the course until the session following the regular scheduled supplementary examination period for Summer Session courses.

16.3.9 REGULATIONS REGARDING CHEATING (UNDERGRADUATE)

I. General

1. Where the word 'examination' is used it shall be taken to cover any examination, test or similar evaluative exercise carried out under invigilation. The invigilator may be the course instructor or another person.

2. Every examination paper shall expressly list the materials that a student is permitted to have and use during the examination, such as textbooks with notations, textbooks without notations, calculators, etc.

3. Every examination paper shall expressly indicate any special conditions relating to the examination, such as permission for students to work together.

4. A student in the examination area will not speak to or otherwise communicate with another person other than an invigilator unless such communication has been expressly authorized by those conducting the examination.

5. It is the duty of an invigilator to report to the Registrar in writing any apparent instance of cheating as defined in Section II, 1 below.

6. Wherever there is doubt or ambiguity regarding any provision in these regulations, or the procedure to be followed, that interpretation or procedure shall be adopted which appears most equitable, consistent with the general purposes and philosophy of these regulations.

7. Wherever reference is made in these regulations to an official of the University and that official is unable to exercise his or her functions, the person replacing the official shall carry out those functions.

II. Procedures

1. Cheating means any dishonest or deceptive practice relating to an examination. It may include:

a) making use of any book, paper, script, writing, drawing or other material not expressly authorized by those conducting the examination;

b) possessing any book, paper, script, writing, drawing or other material not expressly authorized by those conducting the examination;

c) communicating during an examination with any person other than those invigilating the examination;

d) having another person write the examination;

e) attempting to do any of the above.

2. A student who is suspected of cheating during an examination shall be so informed by the invigilator and be required to leave the examination area immediately. The invigilator shall take charge of the student's examination book as well as of any other evidence relating to the suspected cheating.

3. The invigilator shall then offer the student the option of:

a) withdrawing from the examination, with the understanding that, if a charge of cheating is not laid or upheld, the student will be enabled to take another examination for the same course; or

b) continuing the examination under controlled conditions in another location.

c) The student shall be required to write out and sign a statement of the option taken. If the student chooses to continue the examination, the invigilator will provide a fresh examination book for the purpose and will allow additional time for the examination to compensate for any time lost during this process.

4. Any evidence shall be delivered to the Registrar as soon as reasonably possible.

5. If, after the completion of an examination, a person grading that examination finds grounds to suspect a student of having cheated, that person shall deliver to the Registrar a written statement setting out the grounds for the suspicion, together with the student's examination book and any other relevant material.

6. If the Registrar deems it appropriate to lay a charge of cheating, the Registrar shall prepare a precise, written charge, dated and signed, and send it within seven days to the Dean of the Faculty for the programme in which the student is registered, as well as to the instructor of the particular course. If the student is not registered in a programme, the charge shall be sent to the Dean of the Faculty or Division providing the course.

7. There will be established in each Faculty or Division a panel from which will be drawn the committee that will hear any charge of cheating which is denied by the student charged. This panel will consist of six members of the full-time faculty named by the Faculty Council, and six undergraduate students registered in the Faculty named by the appropriate student association or associations.

8. On receipt of a charge from the Registrar, the Dean of the Faculty or Division shall immediately send a copy of the charge to the student and inquire in writing whether the student admits or denies the charge. The letter from the Dean shall be sent to the student by registered mail at the last address given to the University.

9. The student shall admit or deny the charge in writing within twenty-one days of the mailing of the Dean's letter. The Dean may extend this delay only if the student could not reasonably have acted within the twenty-one days.

10. When the student admits the charge, the Dean shall apply one of the sanctions set out in Section III below.

11. When the student does not admit or does not respond to the charge, the Dean shall arrange for a hearing committee.

12. The hearing committee shall consist of two faculty members and two students named by the Dean from the panel established under II, 7 above, and in addition a fifth member, named by the Dean, who shall serve as chairman.

13. The student and the Registrar, or a delegate of the Registrar, have the right to be present at the hearing of the charge, and to address the committee, but they shall not be present at the deliberations of the committee.

14. The committee shall make a written and reasoned report to the Dean giving its decision on whether or not the student acted as charged. It may recommend a sanction.

15. If the committee does not uphold the charge, the Dean shall so inform the student, the Registrar and the instructor of the course.

16. If the committee upholds the charge, the Dean shall apply one of the sanctions set out in Section III below. The Dean shall send a statement of his or her decision together with a copy of the report of the committee to the student, the Registrar and the instructor of the course.

17. The student and the Registrar shall have a right of appeal to the Senate Appeals Committee on Cheating and Plagiarism against either the decision and/or the sanction. Notice of such appeal specifying the grounds must be made in writing to the Secretary of Senate; in the case of the student within twenty-one days of the decision, and in the case of the Registrar within seven days of the decision. These delays may be extended in exceptional circumstances by the Senate Appeals Committee on Cheating and Plagiarism.

18. The decision of the Senate Appeals Committee on Cheating and Plagiarism will be final.

19. In the event that a charge against a student is not laid or is not upheld, and the student has either not continued with the examination or wishes to take a second examination, the Dean and the Registrar shall arrange for such an examination in consultation with the student.

III. Sanctions

1. Where a student admits or is found to have cheated, the sanction shall be one of the following:

a) the imposition of a failing grade for the course related to the examination in which the cheating occurred; ineligibility to write a supplemental examination for the course; and the obligation to take and pass the equivalent of one six-credit course (i.e. one full-course or two half courses) in addition to the total number of credits required for the programme. The course to be taken may be specified;

b) the sanction as provided in sub-section (a) above, and with the obligation to take and pass the equivalent of a further one, two or three six-credit courses in addition to the total number of credits required for the programme. The courses to be taken may be specified;

c) the sanction provided in sub-section (a) or (b) and suspension from the University for the remainder of the year;

d) the sanction provided in sub-section (c) and suspension for an additional period of not more than one year;

e) the imposition of a failing grade for the course related to the examination in which the cheating occurred and expulsion from the University;

2. A student who has another person write his/her examination will normally receive the maximum penalty.

3. Sitting an examination for another person is an offence chargeable under the Code of Conduct (Non-Academic).

4. A year shall begin on September 1 and end on August 31 if the charge relates to an act occurring in the Regular Session, and from May 1 to April 30 if the charge relates to an act occurring in the Summer Session.

5. Should the student not be registered in a programme, the sanction shall be either the relevant part of (a) or that provided in (c), (d) or (e).

6. If a suspended student fails the year in which he or she was suspended and wishes to be readmitted, that student must apply for readmission.

7. Should a student either admit or be found to have cheated for the second time the student shall be expelled from the University.

8. A sanction of suspension or expulsion is subject to confirmation by the Rector.

16.3.10 REGULATIONS REGARDING PLAGIARISM (UNDERGRADUATE)

I. General

1. Plagiarism, for the purposes of these regulations, means the presentation by a student of the work of another person as his or her own. It includes copying, translating and paraphrasing without acknowledgement of the source.

2. Wherever there is doubt or ambiguity regarding any provision in these regulations, or the procedure to be followed, that interpretation or procedure shall be adopted which appears most equitable, consistent with the general purposes and philosophy of these regulations.

3. Wherever reference is made in these regulations to an official of the University and that official is unable to exercise his or her functions, the person replacing the official shall carry out those functions.

II. Procedures

1. If an instructor has reason to believe that a student has committed plagiarism, the instructor shall immediately inform the student and discuss the circumstances.

2. After such discussion, the instructor shall:

a) decide that no further action is necessary; or

b) require that the work be resubmitted with appropriate changes; or

c) give the student a failing grade in the work submitted; or

d) give the student a failing grade in the course for which the work was done; or

e) refer the matter to the chairman of the department.

3. If the instructor's decision is that set out in 2(a) or (b), the matter shall be considered closed. If the decision is that set out in 2(c) or (d), the student may appeal it to the chairman of the department.

4. Should a student appeal a decision as set out in 2(c) or (d), the chairman of the department shall:

a) uphold the award of a failing grade; or

b) cancel the failing grade and require that the work be graded as originally submitted;

c) cancel the failing grade, and require that the work be resubmitted to the instructor with appropriate changes.

The chairman's decision shall be final.

5. If the matter is referred to the chairman of the department, as set out in 2(e), and an appropriate departmental committee exists or the departmental practice is to set up an ad hoc committee, the chairman shall be referred to that committee.

6. If an appropriate committee exists, the committee shall review all the circumstances with the instructor and the student, and shall:

a) decide that no action is necessary; or

b) require that the work be resubmitted with appropriate changes; or

c) decide that a formal charge shall be made against the student.

If the committee's decision is that set out in 6(a) or (b), the matter shall be considered closed.

7. If the matter is referred to the chairman of the department as set out in 2(e) and no appropriate departmental committee exists, the chairman shall review all the circumstances with the instructor and the student, and shall:

a) decide that no action is necessary; or

b) require that the work be resubmitted with appropriate changes; or

c) decide that a formal charge shall be made against the student.

If the chairman's decision is that set out in 7(a) or (b), the matter shall be considered closed.

8. In the event that the instructor is the chairman of the department, the Dean shall appoint another member of the department to act in his or her stead.

9. If either the appropriate committee or the chairman of the department decides that a formal charge shall be made against the student, the chairman shall send that charge to the Dean of the Faculty for the programme in which the student is registered. If the student is not registered in a programme the charge shall be sent to the Dean of the Faculty or Division providing the course.

10. The formal charge to the Dean shall be made in writing, and be dated and signed by the chairman of the department.

11. The Dean shall send immediately a copy of the charge to the student, inform the student of the procedures and sanctions relating to a formal charge, and inquire in writing whether he or she admits the charge. The letter from the Dean shall be sent to the student by registered mail at the last address given to the University.

12. The student shall admit or deny the charge in writing within twenty-one days of the mailing of the Dean's letter. The Dean may extend this delay only if the student could not reasonably have acted within the twenty-one days.

13. When the student admits the charge, the Dean shall apply one of the sanctions set out in Section III below.

14. There will be established in each Faculty or Division a panel from which will be drawn the committee which will hear any formal charge of plagiarism. This panel shall consist of six members of the full-time faculty named by the Faculty Council, and six undergraduate students registered in the Faculty named by the appropriate student association or associations.

15. When the student does not admit the charge, the Dean shall arrange for a hearing committee.

16. The hearing committee shall consist of two faculty members and two students named by the Dean from the panel established under II, 14 above, and in addition a fifth member, named by the Dean, who shall serve as chairman.

17. The student and the instructor have the right to be present at the hearing of the charge, and to address the committee, but they shall not be present at the deliberations of the committee.

18. The Committee shall make a written and reasoned report to the Dean giving its decision on whether or not the student acted as charged. It may recommend a sanction.

19. If the committee does not uphold the charge, the Dean shall so inform the student, the chairman of the department and the instructor of the course.

20. If the committee upholds the charge, the Dean shall apply one of the sanctions set out in Section III below. The Dean shall send a statement of his or her decision together with a copy of the report of the committee to the student, the instructor of the course, the chairman of the department, and the Registrar.

21. The student and the instructor shall have a right to appeal to the Senate Appeals Committee on Cheating and Plagiarism against either the decision or the sanction. Notice of such appeal must be made in writing to the Secretary of Senate within twenty-one days of the decision. These delays may be extended in exceptional circumstances by the Senate Appeals Committee on Cheating and Plagiarism.

22. The decision of the Senate Appeals Committee on Cheating and Plagiarism shall be final.

III. Sanctions Relating to a Formal Charge

1. Where a hearing committee established under II, 16 above finds a student has committed plagiarism, the Dean shall impose one of the following sanctions:

a) the imposition of a failing grade for the course in which the plagiarism occurred; ineligibility to write a supplemental examination for the course; and the obligation to take and pass the equivalent of one six-credit course (i.e. one full-course or two half courses) in addition to the total number of credits required for the programme. The course to be taken may be specified;

b) the sanction as provided in subsection (a) above, with the obligation to take and pass the equivalent of a further one, two or three six-credit courses in addition to the total number of credits required for the programme. The courses to be taken may be specified;

c) the sanction provided in subsection (a) or (b) and suspension from the university for the remainder of the year;

d) the sanction provided in subsection (c) and suspension for an additional period of not more than one year;

e) the imposition of a failing grade for the course in which the plagiarism occurred and expulsion from the University.

A year shall begin on September 1 and end on August 31 if the charge relates to an act occurring in the Regular Session, and from May 1 to April 31 if the charge relates to an act occurring in the Summer Session.

2. Should the student not be registered in a programme, the sanction shall either be the relevant part of (a) or that provided in (c), (d) or (e).

3. If a suspended student fails the year in which he or she was suspended and wishes to be readmitted, that student must apply for readmission.

4. Should a student either admit or be found to have committed plagiarism for the second time in accordance with II, 2(c); II, 2(d); II, 13 or II, 20, and subject to the results of any appeal as provided for in these regulations, the student shall be expelled from the University.

5. A sanction of suspension or expulsion is subject to confirmation by the Rector.

16.3.11 REGULATIONS REGARDING MULTIPLE SUBMISSION OF PROJECTS (UNDERGRADUATE)

I. General

1. It is the normal expectation that a project or term paper or analogous student submission for purposes of evaluation in a course shall not be submitted for evaluation in a second course. Thus, multiple submission is considered deceit unless, and only unless, the student has received prior written permission from the instructor in each of the courses in question.

2. Multiple submission, for the purposes of these regulations, means the submision by a student of the same project without significant change more than once without securing the permission of the professor(s) prior to submission of the project. Projects may include term papers, essays, reports and class assignments. Multiple submission includes submission more than once in the same and different sessions, to the same or different professors and in the same or different courses. A student intending to make changes in a previously submitted project is advised to consult with the professor concerned prior to submission. No student may submit a similar project to one previously submitted for credit in two different courses without prior written permission from instructors in each course.

3. Wherever there is doubt or ambiguity regarding any provision in these regulations, or the procedure to be followed, that interpretation or procedure shall be adopted which appears most equitable, consistent with the general purposes and philosophy of these regulations.

4. Wherever reference is made in these regulations to an official of the University and that official is unable to exercise his or her functions, the person replacing the official shall carry out those functions.

II. Procedures and Sanctions

1. If an instructor has reason to believe that a student has submitted, without permission, a similar project to one previously submitted in a course for which a grade had been received, the instructor shall inform the student and discuss the circumstances.

2. After such discussion, the instructor shall:

a) decide that no further action is necessary; or

b) require that the work be submitted with appropriate changes; or

c) give the student a failing grade in the project or course; or

d) refer the matter to the chairman of the department.

3. If the instructor's decision is that set out in 2(a) or (b), the matter shall be considered closed. If the decision is that set out in 2(c), the student may appeal to the chairman of the department.

4. Should a student appeal a decision as set out in 2(c), the chairman of the department, after consultation with the instructor and the student, shall:

a) uphold the award of a failing grade; or

b) cancel the failing grade and require that the work be graded as originally submitted; or

c) cancel the failing grade and require that the work be re-submitted to the instructor with appropriate changes.

5. If the matter is referred to the chairman as set out in 2(d), the chairman of the department, after discussion with the instructor and the student, shall:

a) decide that no further action is necessary; or

b) require that the work be submitted with appropriate changes; or

c) give the student a failing grade in the project or course.

6. If instructors have reason to believe that a student has submitted, without permission, the same project without significant change to two courses conducted simultaneously, the instructors shall inform the chairman or chairmen of the department(s) concerned.

7. The chairman(men) of the department(s), after discussion with the student and the instructors, shall:

a) decide that no further action is necessary; or

b) require that the work for one course be submitted with appropriate changes; or

c) give the student a failing grade in the project submitted to one course or a failing grade in one course.

8. Should a student appeal a decision as set out in 5(c) or 7(c) the chairman of the department shall refer the matter to an appropriate faculty committee which after consultation with the student, instructor and the chairman, shall:

a) uphold the awarding of a failing grade; or

b) cancel the failing grade and require that the work be graded as originally submitted; or

c) cancel the failing grade and require that the work be re-submitted to the instructor with appropriate changes.

The committee's decision shall be final.

9. Should a professor appeal a decision as set out in 4, 5, or 7 the chairman of the department shall refer the matter to an appropriate faculty committee which shall:

a) decide that no further action is necessary; or

b) require that the work be re-submitted with appropriate changes; or

c) give the student a failing grade in the project or course.

10. The composition of an appeal committee as described in 8 and 9 shall be two faculty members and two students named by the Dean and, in addition, a fifth member named by the Dean who shall serve as chairman.

11. Should a student be found to have committed multiple submission without permission a second time in accordance with 2(c) or 5(c), and subject to the results of any appeal as provided for in these regulations, the student shall be suspended or expelled from the University.

12. A sanction of suspension or expulsion is subject to confirmation by the Rector.

The Department of Physical Education and Athletics offers a complete and diversified programme to meet the varied interests of today's students. The aim is to provide an opportunity for all students to participate and not just those who play varsity sports.

A comprehensive intramural programme operates on both campuses. It provides an extensive selection of fitness, team and sport activities for men and women under the supervision of professionally trained instructors.

The Intercollegiate Varsity programme is primarily for male and female students with playing experience. Graduate-level, as well as undergraduate, students pursuing studies on a full-time basis and meeting the requirements of the Quebec University Athletic Association and of the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union are eligible to participate.

The south campus is the focal point of all Physical Education and Sports on the Loyola Campus. This area includes full-length playing fields and a modern physical education centre complete with an ice arena, gymnasium, weight training and exercise rooms. The Sir George Williams Intramural programme is centered in Birks Hall and in the Victoria School gymnasium.

Detailed information on physical education and athletic activities is available at the Physical Education Centre and on the Sir George Williams Campus Athletics office located at 1822 de Maisonneuve W. For further information, telephone 482-0320, Ext. 730, Loyola Campus, or 879-5840, Sir George Williams Campus.

Concordia Guidance Services provides the following: (1) individual and group counselling, (2) an information service, with special emphasis upon graduate and career planning, (3) Canada Employment Centre.

18.2.1 COUNSELLING

Counselling is offered in the following areas:

Academic Counselling

This includes course planning, planning a major or honours programme, university familiarization and decisions pertaining to post-graduate training.

Vocational Counselling

The individual is helped to make a realistic career choice based on his interests, abilities and other needs, reconciled with the available opportunities.

Personal Counselling

Many students have problems which are not directly related to the university environment, but nevertheless affect their sense of well-being, e.g. family problems, social problems, depression, feelings of isolation. Discussion with a counsellor is usually helpful in clarifying the issues and finding a way of coping with these problems.

18.2.2 GUIDANCE INFORMATION CENTRE

The Guidance Information Centre makes available to students and staff of the University information on educational and career planning. The major areas of the collection are devoted to directories of education programmes, university calendars, and books on career choice, job hunting and résumé-writing.

18.2.3 CANADA EMPLOYMENT CENTRE

This service, staffed and operated in cooperation with the Canada Employment Centre, functions to assist students in exploring opportunities for part-time, summer and full-time employment. Notices from employers are posted, and students are invited to discuss these with a Placement Officer who will assist in arranging interviews with employers' representatives, as appropriate.

The office is located at:
2070 Mackay Street
Tel. 283-5177

18.3 Scholarship and Financial Aid Information

Information on financial aid and scholarships is available on both campuses of Concordia University.

The Financial Aid Officers will help students find sources of financial aid available to them; explain the current regulations and norms of eligibility; and assist students in solving individual budgetary problems.

18.3.1 CONCORDIA WIDE SCHOLARSHIPS

A scholarship is awarded in recognition of outstanding academic achievement. This is the only criteria.

If a student holding a scholarship decides to change faculty, he will retain the scholarship only on condition that he receive the approval of the Scholarship Committee.

No student may hold more than one scholarship from the University at any one time.

Concordia University Entrance Scholarships

A number of tuition scholarships are available to students entering University 1. They are awarded by the Scholarship Committee on the basis of academic achievement during the first three semesters of CEGEP or equivalent. Applications are available from the Financial Aid offices and must be returned prior to March 1. These scholarships have a value of $1,000, and are renewable for two years until graduation.

January Entrance Scholarships

A number of scholarships are available to students entering in the January to April semester. Value: $500 a semester. Renewable for 5 subsequent semesters or until completion of a first degree if this should be achieved earlier.

Senior Scholarships (60 years of age and over)

A number of scholarships are awarded to students who are 60 years of age or over and who are enrolled in a 90-credit undergraduate degree programme or a graduate programme. Value is $500 each. Awards are for one year and are renewable for a maximum of four years.

M.E. (Students admitted to 108 credit programme)

These students may apply for an Entrance Scholarship when they enter the 90-credit programme. Applications to be made to their Chairman and will be considered by the Scholarship Committee on his recommendation. High academic achievement is the only criteria for such an award.

Awards to Concordia Students in Course

The Arthur Andersen & Company Scholarship

Awarded to a student entering the final year in the Bachelor of Commerce programme and major in Accountancy. To be awarded on academic merit and demonstrated leadership qualities in the classroom and in student activities or recommendation of Faculty of Commerce. Value: full-tuition.

The Stacie-Lee Bessner Memorial Scholarship

One award to a student entering second or third year in the Faculty of Commerce, on their recommendation.

Canadian Women's Press Club Montreal Branch Scholarship

A stipend of about $500 offered annually to a Journalism student entering second or third year. Selection will be made by a committee drawn from the faculty and the profession.

Carmine Di Michele Scholarship

This scholarship is for students majoring in Italian and is to be awarded on the recommendation of the Chairman of the Department.

Financial Aid

Government Loan Plans

In all the Canadian provinces, a basic qualification for financial aid is that the applicant be a Canadian Citizen, or a Landed Immigrant, with one year's residence and domicile in the province to which he or she is applying. This would be the province where his or her parents make their home.

The Province of Quebec

The Province of Quebec has an extensive programme of student loans and bursaries available to students. For applications, contact the Director, Financial Aid.

The Quebec government strictly limits the distribution of loans and bursaries to "eligible" students. It is imperative that you remain "eligible" to receive your loan/bursary. If you have applied for financial aid from Quebec, do not withdraw from courses before checking with the Financial Aid Office to see if your eligibility will be affected.

Physically Handicapped Students

Students in any faculty, who are Canadian Citizens and have been resident and domiciled in Quebec for two years, may apply for an outright grant if they have suffered from poliomyelitis, tuberculosis, certain forms of cardiac trouble, or some other physical disability. Apply to the Director, Financial Aid.

Federal-Provincial Second Language Bursaries

For students following their post-secondary studies in their second language. Apply to the Director, Financial Aid.

Ontario

Apply to the Director, Financial Aid.

New Brunswick

Apply to the Department of Youth and Welfare, Fredericton, New Brunswick.

For the provinces of Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba, Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, and Saskatchewan write to the Provincial Department of Education.

Children of War Dead (Education Assistance) Act

Under this Act fees up to $800 and monthly allowances are provided for children of Canadian war veterans whose death was attributed to military service in World War I, World War II, or the Korean War. Apply to the Superintendent of Welfare Services at the nearest DVA District Office.

United States Students

Students coming to a university outside the United States may apply for a Higher Education Loan Plan loan through their home town bank. These forms must be sent to Concordia University to be filled in. They should be sent to the campus where the student will register.

Maine and Oregon

Apply through the United Student Aid Fund, form 1070, available at one's bank.

Students from other States

Apply to the Higher Education Assistance Corporation. Applications are available at one's bank.

Because of the tight money situation, it is essential that one apply as early as possible to the bank where one's parents have an account.

NOTE: APPLICATIONS FOR GOVERNMENT AID SHOULD BE MADE AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. DO NOT WAIT FOR REGISTRATION.

Bursaries

Because of the greatly increased demand for financial aid, all students must apply first to their own province or state and accept maximum loan and bursary aid from these sources. Thus, Concordia University funds cannot normally be used to compensate for a student's failure to apply for and accept the maximum government assistance available. If a student needs more than the maximum government assistance, a bursary may be granted.

The basic principle in awarding financial aid is that the primary obligation to pay for an education rests with the students and their parents. This means that a student is expected to have savings from his or her summer employment, and that parents must contribute according to their ability.

The Financial Aid Offices exist solely to assist students and to help them find financial aid should they need it.

Birks Family Foundation

The Birks Family Foundation has established a plan of annual contributions to the Student Aid Fund of recognized Canadian universities for the creation of the Birks Family Foundation Bursaries. The bursaries are awarded by the Foundation on the recommendation of the University Scholarship Committee and are not restricted to faculty or year and may be renewed. The number and amount of such awards may vary annually, depending upon the funds available for the purpose from the Foundation.

B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation

A limited number of bursaries are available. Amount of each bursary granted from this fund may vary according to the need of the deserving student in any year or any faculty. Apply to Hillel House.

Canadian Italian Business & Professional Men's Association

Bursaries are awarded by the Association to students of Italian origin or descent. Apply to the President, Trust Fund Committee. Application forms may be obtained from the Association at 892 Cremazie Blvd. W., Montreal, Quebec, H3N 1A4.

Jean Roberta Fowler Memorial Bursary

This bursary is available to a student in the field of Library Studies with average scholarship and in financial need. Applications may be made through the Awards Office.

The C.J. Hewitt Bursaries

From the estate of the late C.J. Hewitt a number of bursaries are available to Concordia students. Preference will be given to members of the families of employees of Hewitt Equipment Ltd., Montreal.

The awards are made during September and January by the Scholarship Committee on the recommendation of Hewitt Equipment Limited.

National Council of Jewish Women of Canada, Montreal Section, Bursaries

A limited number of bursaries are awarded by the Council upon the recommendation of the Financial Aid Director. Academic standing and financial need are considered in making the award. Although there is no legal obligation, the Council hopes that the holder will, if possible, return the money at some future time so that other students may be helped.

3M Canada Inc.

3M Canada Inc. makes an annual grant for bursaries to students registered in a full-time course at the University, have satisfactory standing, and demonstrate financial need. Application may be made through the Awards Office.

Financial Aid for Overseas Students

The scholarships, bursaries and loans offered by companies, associations, societies, foundations, departments of education and other government agencies are generally not available to students from overseas. Therefore, students on a Student Visa requiring financial aid should contact their own department of education.

The Canadian International Development Agency offers training assistance to most developing countries with which Canada has a cooperation agreement; however, the student must be nominated by his/her own government.

Students should make sure of adequate finances before coming to Canada.

A minimum of $10,700 Canadian would be required for one academic year. If a student does not plan to return home during the summer, four months of living expenses, as well as summer tuition, should also be provided for.

Concordia University Graduate Fellowships

For information on Graduate Fellowships please contact the Graduate Awards Officer, Sir George Williams Campus, Room S-302, 879-7317.

Province of Quebec Graduate Fellowships

For information on these fellowships please contact the Financial Aid Office on either campus.

Guidance Information Centre

The Centre collects information and application forms, if available, on loans, bursaries, scholarships, fellowships, grants-in-aid, etc. This includes aid offered by private foundations, associations and companies, from both Canadian and foreign sources.

18.4.1 STUDENT LIFE AND STUDENT SERVICES

Many para-academic and out-of-class programmes are organized on each campus under the auspices of the Dean of Students. These programmes are designed to enrich students' cultural and social life and broaden their university experience.

Also available are special services such as legal aid, health centres, and housing bureaus.

The Concordia Council on Student Life, a body responsible for student service policies and budgets, studies the range of student life on both campuses. It is composed of 8 students, 2 faculty members, 6 members of the student services staff. The Vice-Rector, Academic and Student Services chairs the Council. Its meetings are open to all members of the University community.

18.4.2 PROGRAMME DEVELOPMENT

The Lacolle Centre for Educational Innovation is a one hundred and fifty year old farmhouse, occupying 20 acres of lawn and woodlot about forty miles south of Montreal. It accommodates twenty-four people comfortably with four bedrooms, three meeting rooms, and a fully-equipped kitchen. It was established by the Loyola Campus of Concordia University in 1971, with the purpose of extending the university experience by replacing some of the usual restrictions of a classroom setting with an informal community. This environment is designed to promote the development and understanding of relationships among people, as well as to provide an opportunity to explore new and creative approaches to learning. The primary goal of the Centre is to insure that its users will, by working collaboratively at Lacolle, discover ways to enhance their educational pursuits on the university campus.

It is available for use to anyone within the Concordia community wishing to enrich classroom education, develop effective work groups or conduct organizational meetings. Potential programmes at the Centre are limited only by the imagination and resourcefulness of its users. Professional assistance is available to assist in turning ideas into reality. We can help you in any aspect of an intended programme.

Tel: 482-0320, Ext. 344/494.

18.4.3 SOCIAL AND CULTURAL ACTIVITIES

Orientation

Orientation is designed to familiarize new students with the various services and facilities available to them, and to help new students resolve any problems that may be encountered during their introduction to university life.

Social and Cultural Activities

Among other social and cultural activities available are Lunchtime Listening, a Light Entertainment Series, and a Workshop that offers instruction in photography and silkscreen printing.

There is a students' cafeteria and pub on each campus. The Loyola Campus Centre also provides lounge facilities and a games room.

18.4.4 HEALTH SERVICES

The Health Centres provide an individualized and comprehensive approach to Health Care including counselling and teaching related to physical and mental health. They operate on a clinic basis with a varying schedule of doctor coverage. Nurses who are experienced in dealing with health concerns of university students are available without appointment. Appointments with the various physicians can be made in consultation with a nurse. (N.B. on the Sir George Williams Campus appointments are required except in an emergency situation.) For those areas which are not within the realm of the Health Services, referral to existing community resources and specialists is arranged. Services of the Health Centres are available to all students, staff and faculty both full- and part-time.

International Students' Health and Accident Insurance

Students on Student Visas are not eligible for the provincial medical programme. The high cost of hospital care in Quebec has prompted Concordia to arrange for an insurance policy which covers hospital expenses incurred as the result of accidental injury or an illness. The premium for this policy is approximately $300. This policy is compulsory for all International students attending Concordia as full-time students. The plan provides either single or married coverage. For details about the coverage, contact the Dean of Students Office.

International Students' Finances

PLEASE NOTE THAT ACADEMIC EXPENSES, INCLUDING TUITION AND OTHER COMPULSORY FEES FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS, ARE APPROXIMATELY $2250 PER SESSION, OR $4500 FOR THE REGULAR SESSION (SEPTEMBER TO MAY). IMMIGRATION REGULATIONS NORMALLY DO NOT PERMIT STUDENT-VISA HOLDERS TO ACCEPT ANY FORM OF EMPLOYMENT EITHER FULL- OR PART-TIME DURING THEIR STUDIES IN CANADA. The minimum expenses a student may expect are the following (to be paid in Canadian Funds):

Books and Supplies	$ 400
Lodging	$2500
Food	$1500
Insurance and related expenses	$ 350
Clothing	$ 500
Miscellaneous	$ 800
Plus tuition and related fees	$4500
Cost for one academic year (8 months) approximately	$10550

These costs have been calculated on the value of Canadian currency and cover only the eight-month Regular Session.

International students are required to present evidence to immigration authorities that they have adequate funds for their studies in Canada.

NEITHER CONCORDIA NOR THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENT PROVIDES FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS.

A STUDENT MUST BE A CANADIAN CITIZEN OR A LANDED IMMIGRANT, OR HOLD A VALID WORK PERMIT IN ORDER TO WORK IN CANADA.

18.4.7 RESIDENCES AND HOUSING

RESIDENCES—Loyola Campus Only

Two buildings provide on-campus accommodation for 250 students. Hingston has a modern dormitory style while Langley has traditional apartment-styled rooms. Both halls are co-ed with the exception of an all-women section in Langley. Rooms are furnished with linen and bedding provided. Communal kitchens and public telephones are on each floor. Lounges have colour T.V.'s while games rooms have pool and ping pong tables. Laundry facilities and personal mailboxes are located in each building. Many activities and outings are especially organized for resident students.

By law, students are required to sign leases. These leases will follow the academic year (September to May). Students wishing to contract for only one semester can apply for special arrangements.

Residence Fees

Room rates are the same at both Hingston and Langley Halls. The 1983-84 Room Rates are as follows: (These rates do NOT include meal service.)

Single Room	$1,400
Double Room	$1,240
Triple Room	$1,120

While effort will be made to meet special requests for specific rooms or particular locations, assignments will depend upon availability of space. Since the number of rooms is very limited, applications should reach the Director before June 1st. Since acceptance to the University does not guarantee admission to residence, a separate application for on-campus housing must be sent to:

18.5 Rights and Responsibilities—Ombudsmen's Office

CODE OF CONDUCT (NON-ACADEMIC) —CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY

PART I

General

1. The Concordia University Code sets out regulations and procedures for handling formal complaints made by one member of the University against another member either personally or on behalf of the University. The ombuds operation is part of the code, and the whole is subject to a supervisory board.

2. The code applies to all the premises of the University, whether owned or rented, and also to activities conducted elsewhere by the University or by a body responsible to the University.

3. The code applies to all students, faculty and staff of the University, whether full-time or part-time. Both independent and Continuing Education students are included. However, persons working on University premises under contractual agreement between the University and their direct employer, such as the employees of catering and maintenance services, do not come within the code.

4. The code does not supersede the terms of tenure and associated regulations, the University grievance procedure, or any collective agreement signed by the University. The code does not replace or supersede any of the academic regulations or procedures of the University or of the University library. However, the mandate of the ombuds office includes the right of inquiry into the application of any of the regulations or procedures apart from those covered by a collective agreement with a certified bargaining unit.

5. Disciplinary authority in the University is vested in the Board of Governors. It remains the duty, as well as the right, of faculty members and administrators to exercise such authority in areas or matters within their own jurisdiction. Faculty members are expected to take whatever immediate action is needed to ensure the continuing order of their courses and administrators to take whatever immediate action is needed to ensure the proper functioning of the services or areas for which they are responsible.

6. The Rector, as chief administrative officer of the University, and only the Rector or his duly appointed delegate, has the right to suspend temporarily a student or member of the faculty or staff consequent upon action taken in line with paragraph 5. In the event of such a temporary suspension, appropriate procedures for final disposition of the situation will be set in motion as soon as possible.

7. Although faculty members or administrators may take immediate action of the kind referred to in paragraph 5 above, a person against whom such action is directed and who believes the action unjustified may have recourse to the complaint procedures.

8. All those who study, teach or work at the University are subject to the laws of the land, and have recourse to those laws. The same holds true for the University as a corporate entity. Should an act appear to infringe an individual's legal rights, that individual can decide whether to take legal action irrespective of whether recourse has been had to the provisions of this code. Similarly, the University, acting through its authorized representatives, has the right at any time to take whatever legal action is deemed appropriate.

9. Should there arise doubt or ambiguity regarding any provision in these regulations, or the procedure to be followed, that interpretation or procedure shall be adopted that appears most equitable, consistent with the philosophy and general purposes of the code.

Governing Principles

10. The University is an institution of higher education dedicated to the pursuit of truth and to the advancement and dissemination of knowledge. All those who study, teach or work at the University must be concerned with maintaining the freedoms essential for those purposes, notably the freedoms to teach; to engage in research and to create; to learn; to study; to speak freely; to associate and to assemble; to write and to publish. The rights deriving from these freedoms cannot be maintained unless related responsibilities are accepted.

11. The University has the rights of a duly incorporated institution of higher education, and it has responsibilities to those who are part of it, as well as to the community at large. Each member also has rights and responsibilities—in relation to other persons, the institution and the community. Mutual consideration is vital if the freedoms are to be preserved.

12. Members of the University shall have regard in particular for the rights of other members to: freedom from discrimination on such grounds as sex or sexual orientation, religious or political beliefs, racial or ethnic origin; freedom from violence, intimidation, and sexual harassment; the safeguard of dignity, reputation and honour; access to University premises; respect for property, whether personal or owned by the University for the benefit of the community; confidentiality of personal information.

12.1 The rules of natural justice will apply to all hearings under this code.

Administration of the Code

13. Any person who wishes to make a formal complaint must deliver the signed complaint in writing to the code administrator.

14. The individual complained against must be named, and the cause of the complaint must be stated with precision, detailing date, time and place.

15. The complaint must be delivered within a reasonable time of the alleged act, incident or other cause, and in no case more than two months after it. However, when the complaint involves an allegation of deception or dishonesty, this delay will begin to run from the date of discovery of the alleged deception or dishonesty.

16. There will be a code administrator, appointed by the Rector acting on the recommendation of an advisory committee composed equally of students, faculty and staff. The appointment will be for two years, and be renewable.

17. The code administrator will ensure that all complaint procedures are properly carried out.

18. The code administrator will issue yearly a public report indicating the nature and extent of the complaints received and handled, while protecting the anonymity and confidence of any individuals.

19. The code administrator will direct complaints against a member of the faculty or the staff to the appropriate authority under the General Complaint Procedures (Part III).

20. Complaints against a student will normally be handled under the Hearing Board System (Part II). However, the code administrator has the authority to decide that the nature of a complaint against a student is grave enough to warrant directing it to the appropriate authority under the General Complaint Procedures (Part III). This latter procedure will normally be the case with a complaint involving sexual harassment.

21. The code administrator also has the authority to investigate a complaint against a student and to attempt to settle that complaint before referring it to the Hearing Board System. In performing this function, the code administrator has the authority to impose a sanction within the range and regulations set for the Hearing Board System. (See Part II, paragraph 29 below).

22. The code administrator will inform both parties in writing of the findings of any investigation conducted under paragraph 21 above, including any sanction that is imposed.

23. If either party then refuses to accept either the findings or the sanction, the code administrator will forward the complaint to the Hearing Board System.

PART II

Hearing Board System

24. The two-stage system on each campus consists of campus boards and appeal boards.

25. Members of the boards will be drawn from a pool of forty students of whom at least seven are to be resident students. There will be twenty students chosen from each campus. Members may sit on either campus but the majority on any board will be drawn from the campus on which the incident took place. Should the incident giving rise to the complaint take place in a residence, the majority will be drawn from resident students.

26. The pool will be named annually, after due public call for candidates, by a nominating committee composed of four representatives of the Concordia University Students Association and one representative of the Graduate Students Association. The Code Administrator will act as non-voting chairman.

27. A campus board, composed of three members, will hear any complaint forwarded to it by the code administrator, and find either for or against the student complained against. A campus board has the authority to impose sanctions as set out in paragraph 29 below. An appeal may be taken against the decision of a campus board, whether on the finding or the sanction.

28. An appeal board, composed of five other members, will hear any appeal against the decision of a campus board. It will either confirm, reverse or modify the finding of the campus board, and confirm, reverse or modify the sanction. It has the authority to require a re-hearing by another campus board. There is no further appeal from a decision of the appeal board.

29. Hearing boards may impose sanctions within the following limits: a fine not exceeding $100; a deposit with related conditions, returnable at a specified date, not exceeding $200; payment not exceeding $500 as compensation for injury or damage to or loss of property; exclusion from an area or function of the University for a stated period of time. If this exceeds twelve months, the sanction will be reviewed by a campus board at the end of each twelve-month period. (This sanction does not encompass the authority to suspend from any academic activity.) The deposit mentioned in this article may be forfeited should any conditions imposed by the Board be found to have been violated.

30. The code administrator is responsible for the operation of the hearing boards, including convening each board as it is required and arranging for the appropriate recording of procedures, and ensuring that all complaints, notices, decisions and appeals are properly processed.

31. Each hearing board will sit as soon as possible, and generally, within fourteen days of the referral of a complaint or appeal to it by the administrator except in the case of a hearing involving an incident that took place in a residence when the parties will receive at least two days notice. The parties will receive at least seven days notice in writing of the sitting and copies of the complaint or appeal.

32. Each hearing board will deliver its decision in writing to both parties as soon as possible and, generally, within seven days of the conclusion of a hearing except in the case of a hearing involving an incident that took place in a residence when, generally, the decision will be delivered within three days of the hearing.

33. An appeal against a decision of a campus board must be lodged in writing, setting forth the grounds for the appeal, with the code administrator within fourteen days except in the case of an incident that took place in a residence, when the appeal must be lodged within five days.

34. The decision of a hearing board, if it is not unanimous, will be by majority vote.

35. Hearings will be closed and confidential unless a board, with the written consent of both parties, decides to admit members of the University community.

36. At a hearing by a campus board or an appeal board both parties have the right to be accompanied by an adviser, who may speak on their behalf.

37. At a hearing by a campus board both parties have the right to present witnesses.

38. In all other matters the hearing boards will determine their own procedures.

PART III

General Complaint Procedures

39. Where a complaint is to be handled under the General Complaint Procedures, the Code Administrator will forward it to the appropriate authority and send a copy of the complaint to the person complained against.

40. A complaint against a member of faculty or a person employed in a Faculty will be forwarded to the appropriate Faculty Dean or Divisional Dean.

41. A complaint against a student will be forwarded to the appropriate Faculty Dean or Divisional Dean.

42. A complaint against the Rector will be forwarded to the Chairman of the Board of Governors.

43. In the event of a complaint against any other employee of the University, the appropriate authority is the senior administrator in the following list to whom the person complained against reports most directly:

a) Rector
b) Vice-Rector, Academic (Commerce and Administration, Engineering, Fine Arts)
c) Vice-Rector, Academic (Arts and Science)
d) Vice-Rector, Administration and Finance
e) Assistant Vice-Rector and Treasurer
f) Assistant Vice-Rector, Physical Resources
g) Assistant Vice-Rector, Relations and Audit
h) Assistant Vice-Rector and Director of Libraries
i) Assistant Vice-Rector and University Registrar
j) Assistant Vice-Rector, Admissions and Liaison
k) Director of Guidance
l) Director of Athletics
m) Dean of Students
n) In the event of a complaint of sexual harrassment, the appropriate authority is a Vice-Rector named by the Rector.

43.1 In the event that the senior administrator fails to inquire into the complaint, the Code Administrator may refer it to his or her superior.

44. Where a complaint against a student is dealt with under these general complaint procedures, the code administrator will inform the appropriate Dean of Students. If the complaint is against a graduate student, the code administrator will also inform the Dean of Graduate Studies.

45. If one of the persons named as an appropriate authority has lodged a complaint against a person within his or her sphere of authority, that complaint will be forwarded to the complainant's own superior.

46. The appropriate authority will acknowledge receipt of the complaint as expeditiously as possible and send copies of such acknowledgement to the person complained against and the code administrator, as well as to the Dean of Students and to the Dean of Graduate Studies when applicable.

47. The complaint shall be inquired into in whatever manner the appropriate authority considers suitable having regard to the principles of natural justice. The appropriate authority may conduct the inquiry personally or may assign it to another individual or to a committee. If the appropriate authority or the individual or the committee decides that the allegations are founded in whole or in part, the appropriate authority shall take whatever action is deemed suitable in so far as he or she is empowered to do so, or recommend such action to those who have the power to implement it. If the inquiry has been assigned to an individual or to a committee, the appropriate authority may also assign to that individual or committee the function of taking or recommending appropriate action. Since a student can be suspended or expelled from the University only by action of the Rector, any such recommendation must be forwarded to the Rector. (Should it be recommended that a faculty member be dismissed, the dismissal provisions of the Regulations relating to Termination of Employment and Suspension of Faculty Members and not the provisions of paragraphs 50 to 55 below shall apply.)

48. Both the complainant and the person complained against must be given the opportunity to make any relevant representation, in person or in writing as they see fit.

49. The decisions referred to in paragraph 47 must be written, signed and dated, and must be reasoned. The appropriate authority shall deliver such decisions to the complainant, the person complained against, the administrator to whom the appropriate authority reports and the code administrator as well as to the Dean of Students and the Dean of Graduate Studies when applicable. The Chairman of the Board of Governors shall deliver any decisions to the Board as a whole.

50. Both the complainant and the person complained against have a right of appeal to the Board of Governors. A written and signed notice of appeal must be delivered to the Secretary of the Board of Governors within fourteen days of the rendering of the decision appealed against. This delay may be extended in exceptional cases by the Board upon an application in writing, but it shall not be extended unless the appellant could not reasonably have acted within the fourteen days. The appeal may be taken against either the decision on the merit or against the action taken or recommended, or against both. The notice must state in clear and precise terms the ground on which the appeal is based.

51. The Secretary of the Board of Governors shall send without delay copies of the notice of appeal to the appropriate authority responsible for the decision which is being appealed, to the opposite party and the code administrator as well as to the Dean of Students and the Dean of Graduate Studies when applicable. The appeal shall be placed on the agenda of the next meeting of the Board.

52. Should the appeal be lodged by the complainant, or should it be lodged by the person complained against in a case where action other than a sanction of suspension, expulsion or dismissal has been imposed or recommended, the Board of Governors shall decide whether to deal with it directly or to set up a review board, composed of persons from either within or without the University or from both, as the Board of Governors judges fit. The decision of the Board of Governors in the former case or of the review board in the latter case shall be final.

53. Should the person complained against wish to lodge an appeal in a case where a sanction of suspension, expulsion or dismissal has been imposed or recommended, he or she may elect that the appeal be dealt with according to the procedure set out in the above paragraph or may require the Board of Governors to appoint a committee of three persons from outside the University, one of whom must be a lawyer not otherwise in the employ of the University, to hear the appeal. The decision shall be final.

54. Where the choice referred to in paragraph 53 is not made, the Board of Governors shall decide whether to deal with the appeal according to the procedure set out in paragraph 52 or that set out in paragraph 53.

55. The Secretary of the Board of Governors shall communicate the decision in writing to the persons referred to in paragraph 49.

56. Wherever an official of the University is unable to exercise his or her functions, they will be carried out by that official's replacement.

57. Apart from the requirements to inform set out above, any proceedings or decisions shall be treated as confidential unless all the parties involved expressly agree that they be made public.

57.1 All delays mentioned in this Code may be extended in exceptional circumstances at the discretion of the Code Administrator.

PART IV

Ombudsmen

58. The ombuds office will consist of one full-time and two part-time ombudsmen. The office will operate on both campuses. The ombudsmen will be appointed by the Rector, acting on the recommendation of an advisory committee composed equally of students, faculty and staff. Appointment will be for two years, renewable on the recommendation of the advisory committee.

59. The part-time ombudsmen must be persons already in the employ of the University, and one of them must be a tenured member of faculty. Part-time ombudsmen will be partially released from their other duties, or be appropriately compensated.

60. Anyone who studies, teaches or works at the University has the right to apply to the ombuds office. The members of the office will decide who will handle any particular application.

61. The ombudsmen are free to inquire into any matter brought to their attention, and to make whatever recommendations they judge appropriate, and to whomever within the University they feel should receive them. If all the ombudsmen agree, they are also free to inquire into a matter that has not been the subject of a specific application. The ombudsmen should pay particular attention to the definition of their functions set out in Part I (General), paragraph 4.

62. A part-time ombudsman will avoid personal involvement in any case where there may be a conflict of interest and will refer such a case to another ombudsman.

63. On the conclusion of an inquiry, the ombuds office will on request provide an individual who applied for its services with a written report on its disposition of the matter.

64. The ombudsmen have the right to refuse to take up any case where they judge their intervention would be inappropriate, or to withdraw from a case if their continued intervention appears inappropriate, as when there has been recourse to legal proceedings. They will provide the applicant with a written statement of the reasons.

65. Recommendations of the ombudsmen may bear either on the actions or decisions of an individual or group or on the policies and practices which gave rise to such actions or decisions.

66. Any application to an ombuds office and any consequent inquiries or recommendations shall be treated as confidential unless all the parties involved expressly agree that the information be made public. Notwithstanding the above, the ombudsmen are entitled after an enquiry to publicize their recommendations if they all agree that the response to these was unsatisfactory.

67. The ombudsmen shall have immediate access to all University records, reports or other documents other than those which cannot be released for reasons of confidentiality. An ombudsman can appeal the decision of an officer of the University with regard to confidentiality to the Board of Governors. The ombudsmen will maintain the confidentiality of any confidential materials to which they have access.

68. The ombudsmen will issue yearly a public report indicating the nature and extent of their operations, while protecting the anonymity and confidence of any individuals.

PART V

Supervisory Board

69. The supervisory board will be concerned with all aspects of the University Code.

70. There will be seven members appointed by the Board of Governors; two representatives each of the students, faculty, and staff, with the Executive Assistant to the Rector serving as chairman. The student members will be nominated jointly by the student associations, the faculty members by CUFA, and the staff members by the Rector's Cabinet in consultation with CUNASA.

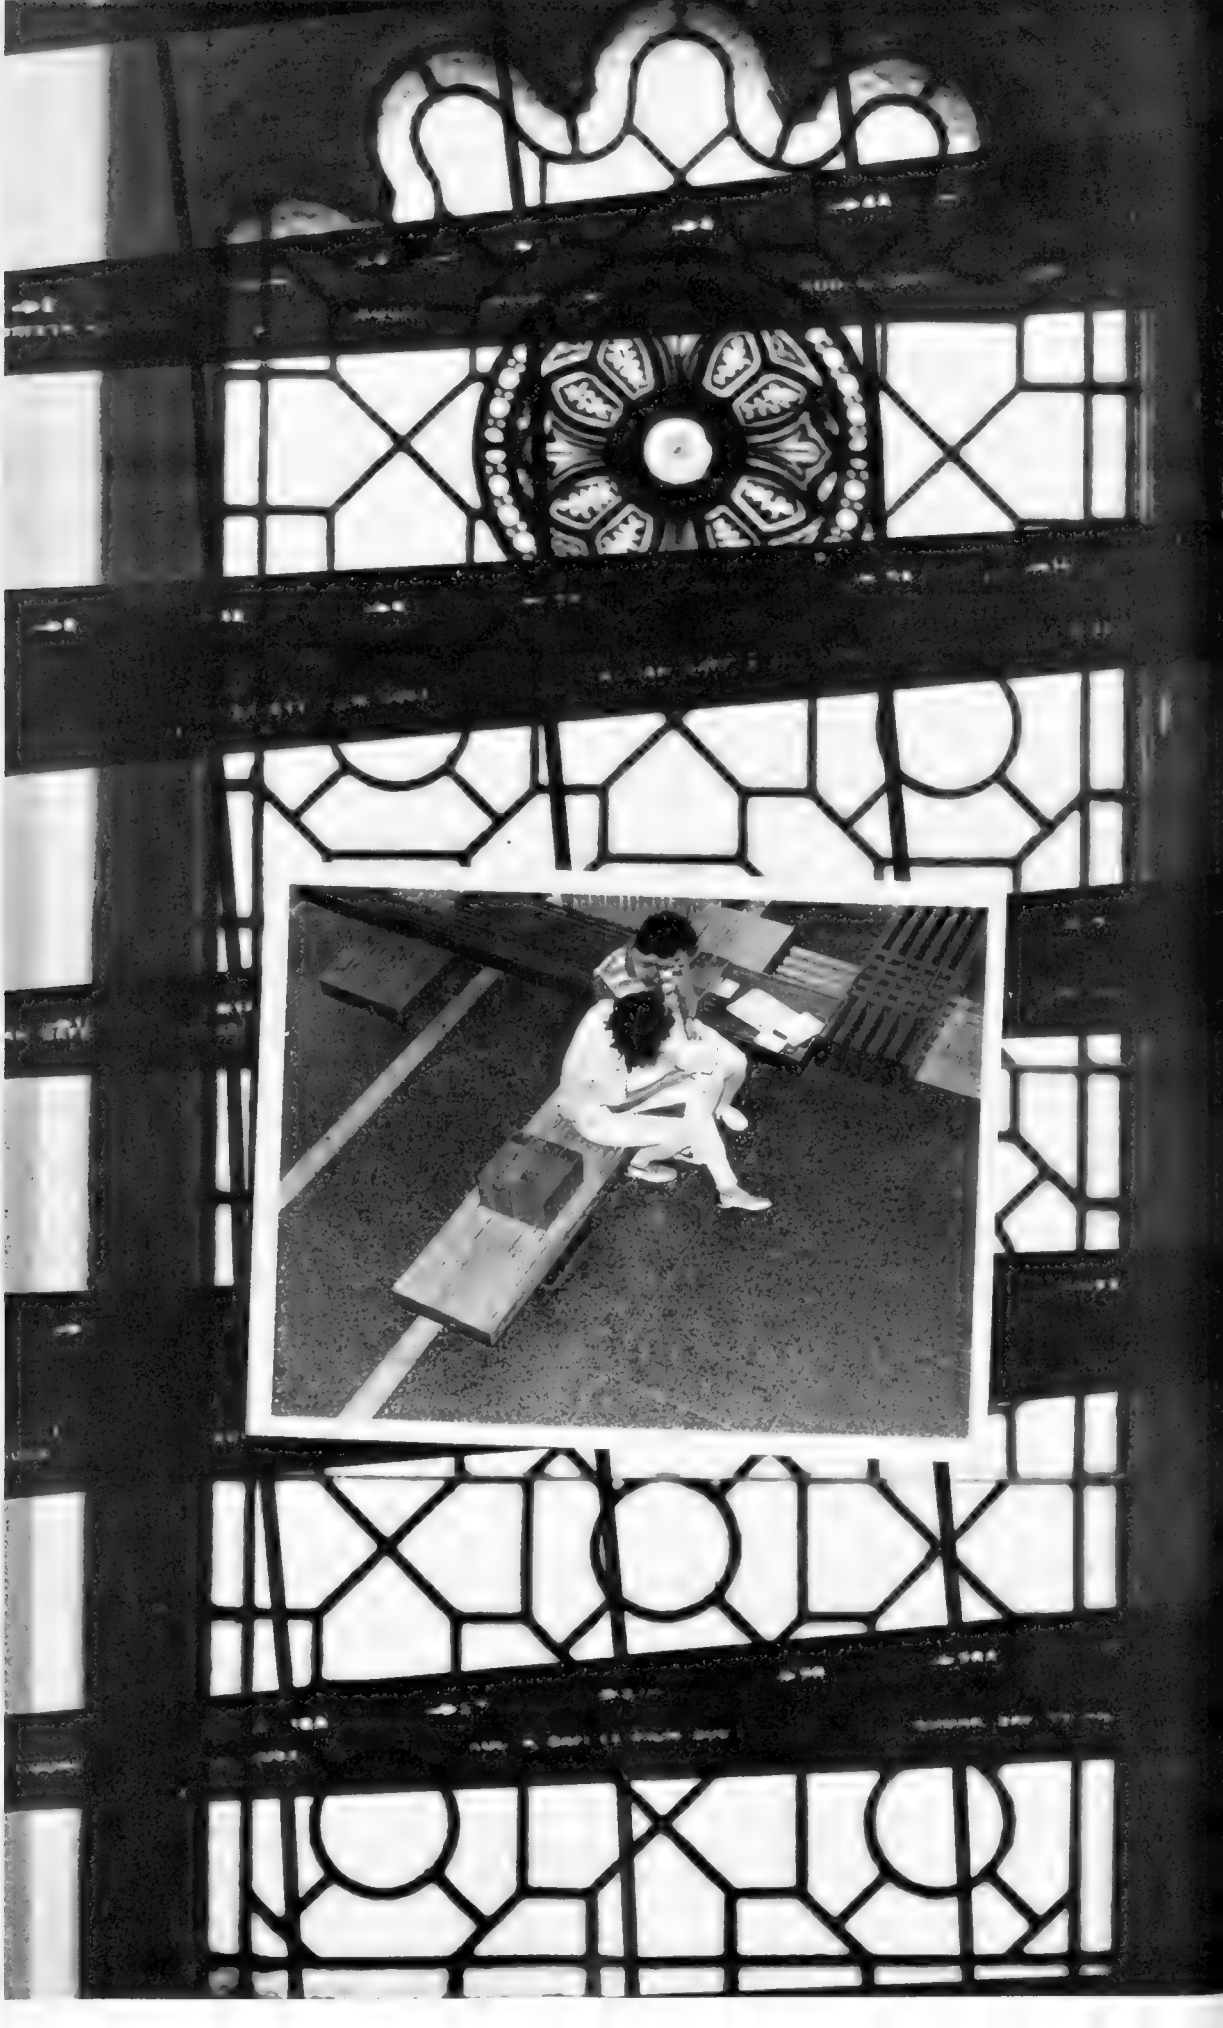
71. Appointments will be for one year, and will be renewable.

72. The board will review the reports of both the code administrator and the ombudsmen, and make any recommendations it judges appropriate to the Rector, including recommendations for amendment to the code.

73. The supervisory board will be especially concerned with the equity of the sanctions applied to different individuals or categories of individuals.

74. A member of the University community may apply to the board to review the operation of any aspect of the code. In such instances, the function of the board will be to ensure that the procedures have been properly followed, including the way in which paragraph 20 of the section on Administration of the Code has been applied by the code administrator.

75. Three members of the board may require at any time that the board meet to review any aspect of the implementation of the code.



19 Student Associations

19.1 UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

Concordia University Students Association

The Concordia University Students Association (CUSA) represents the undergraduate students, both full-time and part-time. Besides itself organizing a considerable number of events and activities, CUSA ensures student representation on the University decision-making bodies, both those that legislate on academic matters and those concerned with the cultural and social life of the community. There are student members of the Board of Governors, Senate and the various Faculty Councils, and of course of the Concordia Council on Student Life, which is directly concerned with the provision of student services.

Powers and responsibilities are divided between three bodies: the Executive, the Legislative Council, and the Judicial Board. The Executive is headed by two elected co-Presidents. The Legislative Council consists of the elected representatives of the four Faculties. The Judicial Board is an appointed body charged with assuring the constitutionality of any new legislation.

There are over 75 member clubs and associations. They may be associated with a department or discipline like the Psychology Students Association or pursue a special interest like the Debating Society. Each has its own programme of activities, which receives funding from CUSA. In addition there is a number of clubs and associations for students of particular ethnic backgrounds.

Other activities that come under the CUSA umbrella are the student paper, The Link, the television station and two radio stations, and the Concordia Winter Carnival.

There is a CUSA office on each campus. The Sir George Williams office is in Room H-639 of the Hall Building (879-4500). The Loyola office is in Room 305 of the Centennial Building, 6931 Sherbrooke St. W. (482-9280).

19.2 GRADUATE STUDENTS

Graduate students become members of the Graduate Students Association (GSA). It is concerned with graduate student representation on the decision-making bodies and initiates a wide range of activities for graduate students and the University community as a whole, including social occasions, lectures and concerts. The association publishes a regular newsletter. Its offices are at 2160 Bishop Street.

19.3 ALUMNI

19.3.1 Concordia University Alumni Association

The Concordia University Alumni Association was created in 1983. In the words of its new constitution it is designed to "encourage the fellowship of graduates from Loyola, Sir George Williams, and Concordia University through social, educational and cultural activities", and to "preserve and promote the interests of Concordia University through Alumni involvement in its future and governance".

All graduates of the University are automatically members of the Association, as are graduates of Loyola College and Sir George Williams University. Full- and part-time students who have attended the University, and who have successfully completed a full academic year or its equivalent, can also become members.

The affairs of the Association are conducted by a 30-member Board of Directors of whom ten are graduates of Concordia and ten each of Sir George Williams and Loyola.

The Concordia University Alumni Association sponsors a variety of activities for its members in the Montreal area. Active graduates, those who contribute annually to the University, are eligible for membership in the Faculty Club, and receive favourable rates for group benefits in life insurance, athletic clubs, etc. Also, active members are eligible for continued library privileges at no additional cost.

Chapters are now being formed in most large urban centres in Canada as well as in some other countries. Members in these areas will be invited to special activities at least twice a year.

More details about the Concordia University Alumni Association can be obtained from either of the two offices listed below.

19.3.2 Association of Alumni Sir George Williams, and Loyola Alumni Association Inc.

Graduates of Loyola College and Sir George Williams University are also members of their respective Alumni Associations. Both offer a full range of programmes, and their activities continue as branches of the Concordia Alumni Association. Pre-1975 graduates who identify closely with their alma mater thus are able to maintain their established ties.

As part of its commitment to the life-long pursuit of education, Concordia University, through its Centre for Continuing Education, sets out to meet the learning needs and interests of the vast number of adult learners who seek educational activities outside the regular degree or certificate programmes of the University. Courses offered by the Centre are designated as "non-credit", but only in the sense that they may not be counted towards any of the degree or certificate programmes offered by the Faculties of the University.

Most of the Centre's courses are part of practical programmes leading to certificates of achievement awarded by the Centre to those who successfully complete the required work. A wide variety of such programmes and courses is offered, and these are reviewed and supplemented on a regular basis to ensure that they satisfy the changing needs of the community.

20.1 CERTIFICATE PROGRAMMES IN BUSINESS AND ADMINISTRATION

Hospitality Management Programme

This practical programme is available to individuals who wish to receive training in the special skills required to manage hotels, restaurants, and institutional and commissary food-service establishments. Each course is made up of 12 weekly two-hour classroom sessions given in the evenings. Ten courses must be successfully completed to obtain the Certificate of Hospitality Management.

Management Practices Programme

This series of courses in management and administrative subjects is offered to individuals who wish to expand their knowledge in selected business fields. Each course is made up of 10 weekly two-hour classroom sessions which are given in the evenings. Ten of the courses must be successfully completed to obtain the Certificate in Management Practices.

Tourism Programme

The Tourism Programme is designed to train individuals for work in travel agencies, airlines, travel departments and other enterprises connected with the tourism industry. The courses are available to individuals considering tourism as a career and to travel agency employees who are interested in upgrading their skills. Six courses must be successfully completed to obtain the Certificate in Tourism.

Security Administration Programme

This programme is open to individuals who wish to receive training for management positions in security operations at industrial sites, financial institutions, retail shopping and recreational complexes, hotels, medical, educational and other public institutions. Courses are offered in the evenings. Each course is made up of 10 weekly two-hour classroom sessions. Seven courses must be successfully completed to obtain the Certificate in Security Administration.

Journalism and Advertising Programme

The Centre for Continuing Education offers this special programme in techniques of public communication. All courses are taught by practitioners who work in the media or related fields. Participants can benefit from the personal counselling and editing of active and highly regarded professionals in the public communication field. Individuals are free to develop their own personal programme by enrolling in one course or a series of courses. To qualify for the Certificate in Journalism and Advertising, students must successfully complete eight courses in the Programme.

Investment Management and Finance Programme

This practical programme offers individuals the opportunity to learn about investments and finance. It will help participants to assess value, to develop strategies and to make the right decisions in a variety of investment situations.

The programme is based on a flexible module system. Fifteen self-contained modules of four classroom hours each provide a comprehensive knowledge of investment and finance.

A participant may register for all modules, or for one or more modules. Upon the successful completion of ten modules in the core section, the participant will be eligible for the Certificate in Portfolio and Investment Management.

Data Processing for Business and Industry

This Continuing Education Programme leading to the Certificate in Data Processing for Business and Industry, is intended for individuals interested in the theoretical and practical aspects of the use of computers, and in their commercial applications. To qualify for the Certificate, students must successfully complete all six compulsory courses.

Electronic Data Processing Security—Level I

This programme has been developed to provide security for an Electronic Data Processing environment from both internal and external sources. A Certificate in Electronic Data Processing Security will be granted to individuals who successfully complete the required eight courses.

Electronic Data Processing Security—Level II

This programme will be introduced in the Fall Semester 1985.

Interest courses are also available.

20.2 CONTINUING EDUCATION LANGUAGE INSTITUTE

The Continuing Education Language Institute is a division of the Centre for Continuing Education established to meet the need for year-round intensive language programmes in English and French. These non-credit courses are designed to meet the needs of adult students seeking language training for professional, social and academic purposes. Both day and evening courses are offered.

Students may choose one of several programmes ranging in intensity from four to twenty-four hours a week. Class size is limited to ensure maximum student/instructor contact.

Members of the staff of the Institute have specialist training and experience in second language teaching.

The English Language Programme

There are three distinct English language programmes offered on a regular year-round-basis - the Intensive (all day—6 levels), the Semi-Intensive (mornings—3 levels), and the evening (5 levels).

The French Language Programme

Courses at all levels are offered in the French language and are designed with specific vocabulary and language skills that provide for real life situations. The aim is to have students develop a maximum confidence in the use of the French langage in personal and professional situations.

For students who meet the necessary requirements, the following specific courses are offered:

- a course in written French
- a general business course for those who already possess a working knowledge of French.

Special Programmes

Special language courses in English and French can be created to suit the needs of individual groups. Sponsoring agencies should write directly to the Institute for further information.

20.3 APPLIED ARTS

Fashion Designing and Pattern Making

This programme is offered to train students in a professional manner for the garment industry. A certificate will be granted upon successful completion of ten courses.

Each course, except Pattern Grading, is made up of 12 three-hour classroom sessions given once a week in the evening.

Apparel Management

This programme is offered to prepare students for production management in the apparel industry. A certificate in Apparel Management will be granted upon the successful completion of eight courses.

Each course, except Textile Overview, is made up of 13 two-hour classroom sessions given once a week in the evening.

Practical Photography

This programme consists of six-week and twelve-week courses at various levels, ranging from the basics of camera operation or darkroom procedures to courses providing an opportunity for those with more experience to refine and expand their photographic skills and vision. The courses combine lectures with hands-on participation.

Visual Arts

The Visual Arts Programme offers interested students the opportunity to work with professional artists of the Montreal community in drawing and in painting.

Museum Education in the Twentieth Century Galleries

These courses in museum research will use art objects located in the 20th Century Galleries at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts for instructional purposes. The couses are tailored to those students who wish to become animators at the Museum as well as those interested in museum research.

Music

Courses are offered in the field of music theory and music appreciation as well as private instruction (non-credit) on all instruments and voice.

Interest courses are also available.

20.4 EDUCATIONAL TRAVEL WORKSHOPS

The Centre for Continuing Education, in cooperation with the academic departments of the University, organizes a number of travel programmes. Some of the courses, which are generally scheduled between April and August, are regular Concordia offerings under the academic direction of a faculty member, and carry academic credit. The physical and personnel resources of academic, business and social institutions in other countries enhance the academic and cultural components of the courses.

20.5 SEMINARS AND WORKSHOPS

With the cooperation of an academic department or faculty these seminars and workshops are sponsored by the Centre for Continuing Education and are aimed at meeting the needs of the community in topics that are not normally a part of regular degree programmes.

21.1 Off-Campus Credit Courses

21.1.1 INTRODUCTION

Concordia University offers credit courses off campus during the Regular (Fall/Winter) and Summer sessions. The courses are designed to be of interest to persons who find it inconvenient, for whatever reason, to attend classes on either campus. The University is prepared to offer courses wherever there is a sufficient demand, provided that qualified instructors are available. Off-campus courses have the same credit value as on-campus courses.

Last year, courses were given in Pointe Claire, Laval, Cowansville, St. Hubert, and at various cultural centres (e.g. Saidye Bronfman Centre) throughout the Island of Montreal. Courses were offered from the Faculties of Arts and Science, Commerce and Administration and Fine Arts.

Persons interested in obtaining further information about programmes, or in having coures offered at a particular location, should contact the office of the:

Off-Campus Education
7141 Sherbrooke St. W.,
Montreal, Quebec
H4B 1R6
482-0320, Local 327

The office is located at:
7302 Sherbrooke Street West

21.1.2 REGISTRATION FOR OFF-CAMPUS CREDIT COURSES

It should be noted that registration in a course does not constitute admission to the University. While registration as an Independent student is possible, those registering for courses are encouraged to apply for admission to the University. To obtain information about registration for off-campus courses, call 482-0320 (Local 327), and request the office for Off-Campus Education.

21.2 Programmes of Interest to Teachers

Included in this section is a list of programmes which may be of particular interest to teachers. Concordia does not have a Faculty of Education. Courses and programmes for teachers are offered in various faculties. Potential students are advised to consult the relevant departments of the University.

21.2.1 CERTIFICATE PROGRAMMES

1. Certificate in Art Education for Teachers (Elementary school level) (30 credits). See §81.60
2. Certificate in Creative Drama and Theatre Arts, Elementary Option, Secondary Option (30 credits). See §81.150
3. Certificate in Education (for practising teachers) (30 credits). See §31.090*
4. Certificate in Family Life Education (30 credits). See §31.010
5. Certificate in the History of Quebec (30 credits). See §31.160
6. Certificate in Judaic Studies (30 credits). See §31.270
7. Certificate in Library Studies (60 credits). See §31.190
8. Certificate in Mathematics for Teachers (Elementary School Level and Junior Secondary School Level) (30 credits). See §31.200
9. Certificate in the Teaching of English as a Second Language, Sequences I and II (30 credits). See §31.320

Notes:

1. Certificate programmes are made up of undergraduate courses.
2. Most certificate programmes have very specific admission requirements. Students who wish to obtain a certificate are advised not to take the courses as Independent students unless they are sure that they are admissible to the programme.

21.2.2 BACHELOR'S DEGREE PROGRAMMES

1. Bachelor of Arts (Specialization in Early Childhood Education) (90 credits). See §31.090*

10. Diploma in Theological, Religious and Ethical Studies (33 credits).

21.2.4 MASTER'S DEGREE PROGRAMMES (SEE GRADUATE CALENDAR)

1. Master of Arts in Applied Linguistics (45 credits).
2. Master of Arts in Art Education (45 credits).
3. Master of Science in Biology (Teaching Option) (45 credits).

4. Master of Science in Chemistry (Teaching Option) (45 credits).
5. Master of Arts in Educational Studies (45 credits).
6. Master of Arts in Educational Technology (90 credits).
7. Master of Arts in English (45 credits).
8. Master of Fine Arts (90 credits).
9. Master of Fine Arts, Art History (60 credits).
10. Master of Science in Physics (Option B) (45 credits).
11. Master in the Teaching of Mathematics (M.T.M.) (45 credits).

21.2.5 DOCTORAL PROGRAMME

Doctor of Philosophy, Art Education (90 credits).

This is an initial programme of Teacher Training.*

Graduates of this programme who fulfill the requirements of the Ministry of Education (M.E.Q.) will be entitled to a Specialist's Teaching Licence from the M.E.Q.*

21.3 "Beyond Degree (or Certificate) Requirements" Notation on Record

When a student so desires, courses previously completed and which were not counted towards his or her degree (or certificate) may be identified on the record as "Beyond Degree (or Certificate) Requirements".

STRUCTURE

The Faculty of Arts and Science, comprised of the former Loyola Faculty of Arts and Science, the former Sir George Williams Faculty of Arts and the former Sir George Williams Faculty of Science, was brought into being on 1 July 1977.

For administrative purposes, the Faculty is structured in four Divisions comprising departments, programmes, and centres, colleges, institutes and schools. Three of the divisions are each headed by a Dean while a fourth (Division IV) is headed by the Provost.

The departments and other units of which the Faculty is made up are placed within the divisions as follows:

Division I:
Classics
Communication Studies English
Etudes Françaises
History
Journalism
Library Studies
Modern Languages and Linguistics
Philosophy
Teaching of English as a Second Language
Theological Studies

Division II:
Applied Social Science
Economics Education
Geography
Political Science Psychology
Religion
Sociology and Anthropology

Division III:
Biology
Chemistry
Exercise Science
Geology
Health Education
Mathematics
Physics
Recreation and Leisure Studies

Division IV:

Colleges
Centre for Mature Students
Institute for Co-Operative Education
Liberal Arts College
Lonergan University College
School of Community and Public Affairs
Science College
Simone de Beauvoir Institute

Programmes
Canadian Studies
Interdisciplinary Studies
Russian Studies
Science and Human Affairs
Urban Studies
Women's Studies

PRINCIPLES OF EDUCATION

The Faculty of Arts and Science is studying the programmes of instruction that it offers, and where appropriate is modifying them, with the objective of ensuring that all embody certain principles of education. These principles, seven in number, were deliberately enunciated by the Faculty in the academic year 1980-81 as follows:

1. The Faculty endorses the concept of specialization in university education and does so in the conviction that specialized and intensive knowledge in a particular discipline or field is necessary to the development of an educated person. While the programmes that this Faculty offers are many and various, and the capacities that they form are as different one from another as the students who pursue them, they should all help prepare graduates for living as informed individuals, fulfilling their role in society, not merely in the period when society remains more or less as it was when they were engaged in formal study but also in unpredictable future time. The skills and confidence derived from the experience of being led by the spirit of inquiry and of knowing what knowledge is, are part of the contribution of university education to the maintenance of an essential sense of self.

2. That part of any degree programme which is devoted to specialized study must be structured in such a way that it gives a coherent view of the particular discipline or field. It should be concerned not only to teach appropriate skills and items of knowledge but also to show students, explicitly and implicitly, the nature of the subject, its methods of study and the sort of questions to which it addresses itself at its more advanced levels. The programme should be structured to achieve these goals economically and efficiently.

3. The component of specialized study should not constitute the whole of any programme of concentration. A programme should not consist of study in one discipline only but require a minimum of study in some other discipline or disciplines. The desired effect of this requirement is to create a context for specialized study in which the strengths and also the limitations of the area of special study become more apparent.

4. The flexibility and mobility that many graduates require in the society they will enter derive in part from the skills and knowledge that they acquire in the university that go beyond the boundaries of their concentration programmes. Adaptability may be for many graduates a condition of success in their careers. The development of interests outside a single concentration can also enrich and sustain their personal lives. Hence, the total bachelor-degree programme should build upon and significantly extend the broad academic experience provided by the schools and colleges that students attend before entering university. In the context of our modern society this necessitates exposure to both the scientific method and humanistic approaches.

5. University education is concerned not only with the transmission of culture, but also with its extension, criticism and evaluation. All of these processes rely on mastery of communication. Ability to express oneself in writing (and in speech) should be fostered in all courses and degree programmes. Further, graduates will increasingly need to be familiar with, and to use, modern methods of communication. Programmes should develop an awareness of the impact of advances in communications and computer technology on the learning, work, and leisure environments.

6. Education must foster intellectual independence in a free and open spirit so that students may develop their critical faculties to their fullest. Degree programmes should never be so structured as to preclude the student's free choice of concentration and of options within their concentration or outside of it.

To assist students in making reasoned choices, the university should provide an advising structure which respects and accommodates decisions made by students about their programmes.

7. A degree programme need not realize all the desiderata implied in the foregoing; it must not, however, restrict itself to only one. A programme should have as objective the realization of a set of "local maxima", each corresponding to one of the principles, rather than the attainment of one "absolute maximum" corresponding to only one of the principles. For this reason, and because each programme has special constraints, compromise is inevitable. What matters is that some of the qualities of sound, contemporary education as articulated here be inherent in each programme, and that it be upon their inclusion that the absence of others be justified.

31.002 Programmes and Admission Requirements

General admission requirements are listed in §13.

1. Specific requirements for admission to the various programmes leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Education, and Bachelor of Science, and to certificates, are set out in the first column of the following listings. They refer to the table of CEGEP pre-Arts and pre-Science profiles defined below. Students lacking one or more of these prerequisites may be admitted, but must include the designated prerequisites among the courses followed prior to entry into the second year of their undergraduate programme. In certain cases, the prerequisites must be taken in addition to the undergraduate programme.

Profile	Requirements
0.00	Diploma of Collegial Studies
.34	To be a Registered Nurse, with authorization to practise and at least one year's experience
.72	DEC or equivalent and appropriate teaching licence.

1.4	Mathematics 103, 203 Physics 101, 201, 301; or 102, 202, 302 Chemistry 101, 201 Biology 301 or 921
10.1	Mathematics 337; or 103, 307 Biology 301, 401; or 921 Psychology 102
10.2	Mathematics 103, 307
10.3	Mathematics 337
10.4	Mathematics 101-77, 103, 105, 203
10.5	To have reached in the language that will be studied a level equivalent to that of 2 CEGEP courses. If these courses have not been available in the CEGEP attended, the University may make up for them.
10.9	Mathematics 103, 203 Physics 101, 201, 301-78

	Chemistry 101, 201 Biology 301
10.10	Mathematics 103, 203, 105 Physics 101, 201, 301-78 Chemistry 101, 201 Biology 301
10.12	Mathematics 103, 105, 203
A:	Interview
C:	Knowledge of English
D:	Knowledge of French
K:	Submission of a portfolio of representative work
N:	Placement test
Q:	Competency in written and oral English, to be determined by a proficiency test, the results of which may lead to the rejection of the candidate or the requirement of additional university courses.
X:	No specific requirements, but students should be prepared for entry into the disciplines of main interest. (This code does not appear in 'Accueil '83' and is one invented by the University.)

Programme titles refer to honours, specializations, majors, and minor components where these exist. Full information about the programmes offered under each title (including combinations with programmes in other disciplines) is to be found in the section of the calendar specified in the third column below. Certificate programmes, indexed in the same way, are listed in the last section, after those devoted to the programmes that lead to degrees in Arts, Science, and Education.

NOTE: The Calendar Sections listed in the third column contain details, where applicable, of professional qualifications required for admission.

2. Mature entrants are advised to consult §14 of this calendar, and in particular 14.3.1.

3. Students admitted to BA and BEd Extended Credit Programmes are required to complete 120 credits for the degree (i.e., 30 additional credits) and must include the following 30 credits in the 120:

6 credits in English (language or Literature)

24 elective credits, of which a maximum of 12 may be outside the Faculty of Arts and Science. Certain departments in the Faculty have specific requirements. Students intending to follow programmes of concentration within these departments must include the specified components as part of their programme.

BA Geography (Physical): 6 credits in Mathematics

BA Mathematics: 9 credits in Mathematics - C203[3], C204[3], C205[3]*

Students not having MATH C202[3], or the equivalent must take it in place of one of their elective courses.*

BA Psychology: 3 credits in Mathematics
3 credits in Biology
6 credits in Psychology

Students admitted to BSc Extended Credit Programmes are required to complete 120 credits for the BSc degree (i.e., 30 additional credits) and must include the following 30 credits in the 120:

6 credits in Chemistry C205[3], C206[3]
6 credits in Mathematics C203[3], C205[3]*
12 credits in Physics C204[3], C205[3], C206[3], C224[1], C225[1], C226[1]
3 credits in Biology C201[3]
3 credits in Mathematics C204[3] for students intending to enter programmes of concentration in Mathematics or Physics; or electives for all other students

Students not having MATH C201[3], or the equivalent, must take it in place of one of their elective courses.*

Students not having MATH C202[3], or the equivalent, must take it in place of one of their elective courses.*

NOTE: Students in the BA, BEd or BSc Extended Credit Programme may not count towards their programmes of concentration courses taken as part of the first 30 credits.

31.003 Degree Requirements

Up to and including the academic year 1973-74, degree programmes were expressed in terms of courses, with one credit being applied to a "full course" (normally, one extending over two terms) and one half-credit being applied to a "half-course" (which was normally completed in one term).

In 1974-75, in accordance with the recommendations of the Council of Universities of Quebec, the credit base was modified to take into account the total activity of the student. A student preparing for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Education, or Bachelor of Science takes a minimum of 90 credits. Each credit represents, for the average student, a minimum of 45 hours spread across lectures, conferences, tutorials, laboratories, studio or practice periods, tests, examinations, and personal work.

Since the CEGEP programmes are designed to give all students the opportunity to explore different fields and thus acquire a broad general basis for further study, the undergraduate programmes in the Faculty of Arts and Science require of students some degree of concentration in specific areas. Detailed statements about these programmes are made under the appropriate disciplinary headings in the sections of the calendar that follow this general account of degree requirements. They represent four main forms of concentration: the Minor, the Major, the Specialization, and Honours; and a fifth form, the Certificate. The University's formal definitions of these kinds of programmes are set out in section 16.2; for the convenience of students in Arts and Science, those definitions as they are construed in the Faculty are briefly repeated below.

The Minor is a programme consisting of a minimum of 24 credits in a single discipline and professing to give a basic introduction to the methodology and key concepts of that discipline. A Minor cannot in and by itself provide the concentration required of a candidate for a degree and is therefore always taken in combination with another programme.

The Major consists of a minimum of 36 credits taken in an approved sequence of courses. Normally within a major programme not more than 36 credits are required from a single discipline or department. In certain programmes, however, additional credits are required in cognate disciplines and departments. The major provides a solid grounding in the academic knowledge comprehended within the field of concentration. To enter and remain in it, a student normally does not have to meet a special performance requirement; see, however, programmes in Library Studies §31.190, Recreation and Leisure Studies §31.260 and Western Society and Culture §31.520.

The Specialization consists of a minimum of 60 credits, normally not more than 54 credits of which are mandated from a single discipline or department. Like an honours programme, it provides a compehensive education in the field of concentration, but to enter and remain in it, a student normally does not have to meet a special performance requirement (see, however, programmes in Early Childhood Education §31.090, French/English Translation §31.110, Interdisciplinary Studies: Individually Structured Programme §31.170, Recreation and Leisure Studies §31.260, and the Co-Operative Institute §31.515). Students interested in subsequent "classification" by the Provincial government may be advised to follow a Specialization or an Honours programme.

The Honours programme consists of a minimum of 60 credits taken in an approved sequence of courses. Normally within an honours programme not more than 60 credits are mandated from a single discipline or department. Additional credits may be required in cognate disciplines and departments. Superior academic performance is required for admission to and continuation in the honours programme, the precise level of such performance being determined by Senate. See §16.2.4 and Faculty Honours Regulations set out below for matters governing Honours programmes at Concordia. An Honours degree or equivalent, because it testifies to a student's comprehensive education in a particular field, intellectual commitment to that field, and achievement of a high level of academic performance, has traditionally been required of entrants to postgraduate programmes.

Graduation requirements

1. A candidate for graduation must have successfully completed a programme of concentration in the form of an Honours, Specialization or Major programme.

2. A candidate for graduation must have successfully completed at least 24 credits outside the single discipline or department from which the degree concentration has been chosen. Within every block of 30 credits taken towards the degree, a student will normally choose no more than 24 credits from any one discipline or department.

3. A candidate for graduation must have successfully completed at least 18 credits from courses in Arts and Science in every block of 30 credits taken towards the degree.

4. A candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts must have qualified for admission to, and successfully completed, a programme leading to that degree. Specific admission requirements, expressed as CEGEP pre-Arts profiles, are given in §31.002. Students wishing to transfer out of one degree programme into another must satisfy the admission requirements of the programme they seek to enter.

5. A candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Science must have qualified for admission to, and successfully completed, a programme leading to that degree. Specific admission requirements, expressed as CEGEP pre-Science profiles, are given in §31.002. Students wishing to transfer out of one degree programme into another must satisfy the admission requirements of the programme they seek to enter.

6. A candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Education must have qualified for admission to, and successfully completed, the programme leading to that degree. The admission and degree requirements are set out in §31.320.

7. In general, the credits obtained for any course may not be used to satisfy the requirements of more than one programme. Students first registered in certain Certificate programmes may however apply credits obtained towards the Certificate to a degree programme.

8. Those students entering the University after September 1, 1978 as Independent students will be permitted to apply no more than 30 credits obtained as an Independent student towards any Arts and Science Faculty degree programme.

Supplemental Examinations
(Arts and Science)

Supplemental examinations shall be offered only where, as a condition for passing the course, it is required that a student pass the final examination regardless of its weighting; or where the final examination contributes 50% or more of the final grade.

A student failing a course which comprises entirely, or in part, a laboratory or similar practicum, may not be eligible to write a supplemental examination.

All courses which a student fails and for which there is no supplemental examination shall be graded FNS or R.

A failed student (see §16.3.5) may not write supplemental examinations.

Honours Programmes

The Faculty of Arts and Science has programmes leading to an Honours degree in certain selected fields. To enter an Honours programme, students apply to the Departmental Honours Committee (Adviser). The Departmental Honours Committee (Adviser) will accept students into Honours, subject to review by the Faculty Honours Committee. The Departmental Honours Committee (Adviser) will not normally accept students until they have obtained 30 credits at this University; students requiring fewer than 30 credits to graduate will not normally be accepted. The department will notify the Faculty Honours Committee of the acceptance. The Faculty Honours Committee will review the departmental acceptance and notify the department, the student, and the Records Office of the acceptance. In those cases where the Faculty Committee reverses a department's acceptance of a student into Honours, the department may appeal the Faculty Committee's ruling to the Arts and Science Faculty Council.

Honours Regulations (Faculty Regulations)
See also §16.2.4

In order to qualify for an Honours degree, a student must comply with the regulations set forth below.

1. An Honours student must meet the general degree requirements, as well as the specific requirements for an Honours degree. A student must complete a minimum of 30 credits in the courses from the Honours component of the programme at this University to receive a degree with Honours. In certain cases, these 30 credits may include some specific courses for which pro-tanto credit may not be awarded.

2. An Honours student must maintain an average of 'B', or 75%, in all courses in the Honours component of the programme; the minimum acceptable grade in any one of these courses is 'C', or 65%.

3. An Honours student must have a minimum average of 'B-', or 71%, over courses in the Honours component of the programme taken in each academic year. For part-time students, this will be calculated in eighteen-credit blocks.

4. In the courses outside the Honours component of the degree programme, an Honours student must have an average of no less than 'C', or 65%; the minimum acceptable grade in these courses is 'D', or 55%.

5. Students who are required to withdraw from the Honours programme may proceed in the corresponding Specialization or Major programme. Reinstatement in the Honours programme is possible only by appeal to the Faculty Honours Committee.

6. A student is allowed to qualify for only one Honours degree in either a single or combined Honours programme. A student may qualify for a Minor or Major programme in addition to an Honours programme. In general, the credits obtained for a particular course may be used to satisfy the requirements of only one programme.

Students may appeal their department's determination of their status or interpretation of requirements in the Honours programme. Such appeals should be addressed to the Chairman of the Faculty Honours Committee.

The Faculty Honours Committee receives and reviews departmental recommendations for acceptance into Honours programmes and graduation with Honours, and adjudicates disputes between students and departments concerning Honours programmes. Since the Faculty Honours Committee cannot hear appeals contesting its own judgements, students and departments who wish to appeal a decision of the Faculty Honours Committee should address this appeal to the Chairman of the Arts and Science Faculty Council.

These new regulations will apply to those students entering Honours programmes as of June 1, 1979. Students already in an Honours programme may continue under the old regulations established prior to June 1, 1979.

General Certificate in Arts and Science

The General Certificate in Arts and Science is intended primarily for part-time students who qualify for admission to first-cycle programmes, but who, at the time of registration, have not yet determined which programme would best serve their interests. In particular, it is designed to meet the needs of mature students who are unwilling or unable to make the long-term commitment involved in a regular or extended degree programme.

The Certificate requires successful completion of 30 credits. At least 24 of these credits must be chosen from courses offered by not more than three departments in the Faculty of Arts and Science.

Credits earned in the Certificate may not be counted towards the additional credits required in extended programmes.

Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to twelve credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

The General Certificate Programme in Arts and Science was first offered in the session commencing September 1978.

31.004 Joint Programmes

Subject to approval of the departments concerned, students may take these or other specially designed programmes by being admitted to the Individually Structured Programme (see programme description and admission procedures in §31.170):

BA Joint Honours in Education and Philosophy
BA Joint Honours in English and History
BA Joint Honours in English and one of the Modern Languages
BA Joint Specialization in English and one of the Modern Languages
BA Joint Honours in English and Philosophy
BA Joint Honours in English and Religion
BA Joint Honours in French and History
BA Joint Honours in French and one of the Modern Languages
BA Joint Honours in History and Philosophy
BA Joint Honours in History and Religion
BA Joint Honours in Philosophy and Religion
BA Joint Honours in Philosophy and Sociology
BA Joint Honours in Religion and Sociology

Students wishing to have further information about these programmes should consult the departments concerned.

NOTE: In the event that a student is awarded an exemption from a required course, it will be necessary for the student to replace that course with another relevant to the programme, chosen in consultation with the Coordinator of the Certificate programme.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C250
Introduction to Applied Social Science
(3 credits)

This course focuses on two questions: What is a social problem? What is a social response? The exploration of these questions is field-based, supported by cases, research of the literature, and reflection on the issues there discovered. Students will be introduced to the concepts and processes of social systems and social intervention. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for APSS C212 may not take this course for credits.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C321
Introduction to Social Gerontology
(3 credits)

The course will deal with the problem of growing old in contemporary society, and with the biological, psychological, and sociological dimensions of the human aging processes. The course is also designed to identify the needs of the elderly in our community and to examine approaches to dealing with these needs.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C355
Interpersonal Dynamics (3 credits)

To be an effective helper requires self-knowledge and development of insight into interpersonal relationships. This course focuses on developing awareness of oneself, sensitivity to others, and skills in relating to others. Much of the time will be spent in a small learning group, where opportunities will be provided to build relationships that encourages exploration of self and others, and mutual learning and growth. Other methods of learning will include journal keeping, term papers, and class discussions. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for APSS C212[6] may not take this course for credits.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C356
Group Dynamics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: APSS C355 taken in the previous semester. Building on the learnings of the first term in Interpersonal Dynamics, this course provides the opportunity to reflect on the experience from the point of view of the group. In addition to study of theories of group development, there will be attention to developing group skills such as leadership, problem solving and decision making.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for APSS C351 may not take this course for credits.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C360
Special Seminar in Applied Social Science
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. The subject for the seminar will vary from year to year reflecting recent developments in social change, new approaches in the behavioural sciences, or the special interests of the instructor.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C361
Special Seminar in Applied Social Science
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Students who have received credit for APSS C360 may register for APSS C361 provided that the subject matter is different.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C413
Adolescent Behaviour in Urban Areas
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: APSS C250; APSS C355; APSS C356. A survey of adolescent values, family and group relations, social mobility, friendship patterns, educational and vocational adjustment, with a focus on understanding social behaviour in urban communities. Attention will also be given to programmes attempting to enhance adolescent development and reduce social problems.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C415
Personal Values and Social Problems
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the BA Major in APPS. This course is designed as an integrative seminar for final-year students. It is intended to help students draw together their learning from a variety of disciplines and relate it to practical conditions of the social world. The course includes identification of personal strengths, interests, goals, and values related to social and community service.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C418
Gerontology for the Practitioner I
(3 credits)

This course provides an overview of the status and problems of the elderly in our society. Through interviews, visits, readings, and lecture-discussions, the course is de- to foster an understanding of some of the problems confronting the elderly. Attention is given to the resources available for the elderly as well as to approaches to the problems of the elderly that maximize their sense of responsibility.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C419
Gerontology for the Practitioner II
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: APSS C418. This course will focus in depth on one or two pivotal issues for the elderly in our society. In this course students will interview the elderly, visit community resources for the elderly, and develop approaches to the solutions for the problems identified.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C420
Organizational Change and Development
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: APSS C250; APSS C355; APSS C356 or permission of the Department. This course focuses on the leader who solves problems and makes decisions in conjunction with other people in community-serving organizations. The basic objective of this course is to increase knowledge and understanding of human behaviour in the not-for-profit organizations. The course will focus on: i) theory and research, ii) understanding of the processes of leadership and decision making, iii) behavioural skills in working with people, iv) understanding of oneself in relation to administrative responsibility. This course will rely heavily on active participation of class members.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for APSS C421 may not take this course for credits.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C431
Leadership in Group Development
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: APSS C250; APSS C355; APSS C356. This course is designed to provide students with an opportunity to increase their effectiveness in leading small groups; to identify their leadership styles and to adapt individual styles to a variety of situations. The course will focus on: factors helping and hindering group process; communication patterns; problem solving; handling conflicts and dealing with personal needs of members. Special attention will be given to tools for systematic observation, group diagnosis and group self-analysis techniques. Students will be required to study the development of an outside group through the year. Lectures, laboratories and fieldwork.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C440
Community Development (6 credits)

Prerequisite: APSS C250; APSS C355; APSS C356 or permission of the Department. This course will have students working as volunteers in a community agency engaged in outreach work or community development. Class sessions will be designed for theoretical input on problems identified in students' field placement experience. Class sessions will include theory presentations, games and simulations, and problem solving. The emphasis will be on discovering what a social system is by observation and participation and finding out how to manage interventions in an appropriate fashion. Lectures and fieldwork.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for APSS C441 may not take this course for credits.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C442
Advanced Integrative Seminar in Community Organization and Animation (6 credits)

Prerequisite: This course is for Certificate students only. The purpose of this course is to coordinate the other courses required by the programme and to interate the theory derived from the contributing disciplines within an applied social science perspective.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C450
Principles and Practices of Counselling (6 credits)

Prerequisite: APSS C250; APSS C355; APSS C356. This course is designed to introduce students to the basic concepts of helping. Through theoretical and experiential approaches instruction will focus on basic concepts of relating to another person in a helping relationship and skill development in interviewing. Students will be briefly introduced to various counselling theories and approaches to clarify their own theoretical position in a helping relationship. This course is not designed to equip students to become professional counsellors, but to introduce them to the field and prepare them for future study and training. The course will include skill training, observation and demonstration exercises, role play, practice and discussion sessions, theory input and the use of films and video.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C453
Sexuality and Human Relations (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing and permission of the Department. Using a variety of small group processes, the seminar will explore physical and psychosocial factors in the emergence of the sexual self. Objectives of the seminar include helping students to increase awareness of sexual values and attitudes. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: Students will receive no more than 6 credits from APSS C453 and HEAL C472.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C454
Special Seminar in Family Communication (3 credits)

Prerequisite: This course is for Certificate students only. A course in marriage and family living, including decision making, interpersonal relationships, communication, male-female lifestyle and problem solving within a family. Handling of crisis, loneliness, death, and dying will also be considered. The course studies marriage and family relationships in a way that can pertain directly to the student's own living experiences. Lectures and laboratories.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C455
Advanced Integrative Seminar in Family Life Education (3 credits)

Prerequisite: This course is for Certificate students only. The purpose of this course is to coordinate the other courses required by the programme and to integrate the theory derived from the contributing disciplines within an applied social science perspective. Lectures, laboratories and fieldwork.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C456
Interviewing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: APSS C250; APSS C355; APSS C356 or permission of the Department. The course will review different forms of interviewing, communication influences on the interviewer and interviewee, structure and design features of interviews, construction of questions, building rapport, controlling information flow, and limitations of the approach. Illustrations of interviewing will be taken from the contexts of business, counselling, mass media, and research, among others. Approximately equal emphasis will be devoted to theoretical discussions and practice.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C461
Social Welfare and the Social Welfare Services (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing or permission of the Department. A general course concerned with social welfare problems in modern society: some analysis of these problems in relation to economic and cultural patterns. A description of the functional settings in which social welfare services are practised. A consideration of the methods used in social welfare, and some consideration of the links between social welfare services and religion, law, medicine, nursing, teaching, and other professions.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C463
Adulthood: Patterns and Transitions (6 credits)

Prerequisite: APSS C250; APSS C355; APSS C356 or permission of the Department. The course addresses itself to the phenomenon of adult development from early adulthood through maturity. The focus is on both the content of the life changes observed, and on the process of change from one life stage or period to another. Participants will explore the patterns of change in their own lives and relate these patterns to contemporary theories of adult development. The relationship of life changes to cultural and historical features of the times, and to working in social systems as helping professionals will also be examined. Thus, autobiographical accounts of class participants, and existing research evidence describing normative life changes, reactions to these, and the nature of the change process will be integrated in the evaluation of relevant theory.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C471
Special Projects Seminar (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Specialization or Major in Applied Social Science and permission of the Department. A seminar course of field projects, surveys, and research studies undertaken by each student.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C472
Special Projects Seminar (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Specialization or Major in Applied Social Science and permission of the Department. Students who have received credit for APSS C471 may register for APSS C472 provided the subject matter is different.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C473
Special Seminar in Applied Social Science (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C200; SOCI C200, and permission of the Department. The subject for the seminar will vary from year to year, reflecting recent developments in social change, new approaches in the behavioural sciences or the special interests of the students or instructor.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C474
Special Seminar in Applied Social Science (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C200; SOCI C200, and permission of the Department. Students who have credit for APSS C473 may register for APSS C474 provided that the subject matter is different.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C481
Special Seminar in Applied Social Science (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C200; SOCI C200, and permission of the Department. The subject for the seminar will vary from year to year, reflecting recent developments in social change, new approaches in the behavioural sciences or the special interests of the instructor. Lectures, laboratories and fieldwork.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C482
Special Seminar in Applied Social Science (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Students who have received credit for APSS C481 may register for APSS C482 provided that the subject matter is different.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C485
Special Seminar in Applied Social Science (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. The subject for the seminar will vary from year to year, reflecting recent developments in social change, new approaches in the behavioural sciences or the special interests of the students or the instructor. Lectures and fieldwork.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C486
Special Seminar in Applied Social Science (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Students who have credit for APSS C485 may register for APSS C486 provided that the subject matter is different.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C487
Independent Study in Applied Social Science (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course is intended for students who wish to continue a project initiated in another course in the Department. The instructor of that course must agree to supervise this independent study.

APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE C490
Approaches to Applied Social Research (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing in the BA Specialization in Applied Social Science. This course is a project seminar which explores research approaches commonly used by social practitioners such as action research, survey-feedback studies, and programme evaluation. Each of the alternative modes of research relate directly to social and organizational change. Approaches of particular interest in this course are those which maximize involvement by people in directing their own change. The course includes a research project which utilizes an approach to applied social research of most interest to the student. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for APSS C400 may not take this course for credits.

PROGRAMMES

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.

The superscript indicates credit value.

Courses offered by the Biology Department are classified as follows:

A. ZOOLOGY COURSES
BIOL C230, C232, C233, C234, C235, C237, C330, C331, C332, C333, C335, C336, C337, C338, C339, C431, C432, C433, C434, C438, C439.

B. BOTANY COURSES
BIOL C240, C246, C341, C342, C343, C345, C347, C348, C441, C442, C448, C449.

C. ECOLOGY COURSES
BIOL C250, C351, C352, C353, C355, C356, C450, C454, C458, C459.

D. CELL AND MOLECULAR BIOLOGY COURSES
BIOL C220, C260, C270, C360, C361, C362, C363, C364, C365, C370, C460, C461, C462, C463, C464, C465, C467, C468, C469, C470.

E. BIOLOGY ELECTIVE COURSES
BIOL C222, C223, C242, C320, C321, C323, C328, C329, C380, C420, C421, C490, and any of the Zoology, Botany, Ecology, or Cell and Molecular Biology courses. Approved courses outside the Department may be taken for Biology elective credits.

For those wishing to concentrate in a particular area, recommended sequences of courses are described in course guides available in the Biology Department.

72 BSc Honours in Biology

An approved sequence of courses from the following selection constitutes an Honours in Biology. Students must consult with the Departmental Honours Adviser before registering for the Honours programme.

24 CHEM C221^{3*} and C222^{3*}, C372^{3}, C373^{3}; BIOL C222^{3}, C260^{3}, C490^{6}
6 BIOL C333^{6} or C348^{6} or C364^{3} and C464^{3}
36 Selected from A. Zoology courses, B. Botany courses, C. Ecology courses and D. Cell and Molecular Biology courses.
6 BIOL electives

NOTE: A minimum of 3 credits must be completed from each of the four subject areas within the first 60 credits.

A minimum of 21 credits in 300- and 400-level Biology courses must be completed, excluding BIOL C490.

60 BSc Specialization in Biology

An approved sequence of courses from the following selection constitutes a Specialization in Biology.

18 CHEM C221^{3*} and C222^{3*}, C372^{3}, C373^{3} (or BIOL C361^{3} and C362^{3}), BIOL C222^{3}, C260^{3}
6 BIOL C333^{6} or C348^{6} or C364^{3} and C464^{3}
30 Selected from A. Zoology courses, B. Botany courses, C. Ecology courses, D. Cell and Molecular Biology courses.
6 BIOL electives

NOTE: A minimum of 3 credits must be completed from each of the four subject areas within the first 60 credits.

A minimum of 15 credits in 300- and 400-level Biology courses must be completed, excluding BIOL C490.

36 BSc Major in Biology

An approved sequence of courses from the following selection constitutes a Major in Biology.

9 CHEM C221[3]* and C222[3]*, BIOL C260[3]

6 Selected from CHEM C372[3], C373[3], BIOL C222[3], C333[6], C348[6], C361[3], C362[3], C364[3], and C464[3]

15 Selected from A. Zoology courses, B. Botany courses, C. Ecology courses, D. Cell and Molecular Biology courses.

6 BIOL electives

NOTE: A minimum of 3 credits must be completed from each of the four subject areas within the first 60 credits.

A minimum of 6 credits in 300- or 400-level Biology courses must be completed.

NOTE: Students who intend to pursue graduate work or a career in Biology should register for the Specialization programme; please consult the Department for more information.

24 Minor in Biology

12 Selected from A. Zoology courses, B. Botany courses, C. Ecology courses, D. Cell and Molecular Biology courses.

12 BIOL electives.

NOTE: Minor is open to students registered in a programme other than one leading to the B.Sc. degree.

32 Certificate in Scientific Measurement (Biology Option)

12 BIOL C220[3], C222[3], C223[3], C230[3]

6 CHEM C311[2], C316[1], C390[2], C399[1]

14 PHYS C295[2], C296[2], C396[5], C397[5]

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

BIOLOGY C200

Fundamentals of Human Biology (6 credits)

A series of lectures, demonstrations, and seminars to provide non-biologists with a general survey of the fundamental principles of life, with special emphasis on the structures and functions of human beings. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students registered in a Biology or Biochemistry programme may not take this course for credits.

BIOLOGY C201

Introductory Biology (3 credits)

A survey of basic principles of organismal biology: chemical basis of life, cell organization and control; elements of anatomy, taxonomy, physiology, morphogenesis, heredity, and evolution. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students with CEGEP Biology 301 or equivalent may not take this course for credits. Students entering Biology programmes without CEGEP Biology 301 may not take this course for Biology elective credits.

BIOLOGY C203

Fundamental Nutrition (3 credits)

This course deals with food composition (carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, vitamins, and minerals), its absorption and utilization, energy balance, special diets, and food technology. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students registered in a Biology or Biochemistry programme may not take this course for credits.

BIOLOGY C205

Genetics and Human Welfare (6 credits)

A course on the principles of heredity as understood by modern biology. It deals also with the application of genetic principles to organisms, including humans. The biological basis of social problems is dealt with at some length. Organic evolution and its implications for human life and welfare are considered. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students registered in a Biology or Biochemistry programme may not take this course for credits; may not be taken for credit with BIOL C206.

BIOLOGY C206

Elementary Genetics (3 credits)

A survey of classical and contemporary developments in the study of heredity, with particular attention to human examples. This course is open to the general student body. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students registered in a Biology or Biochemistry programme may not take this course for credits; may not be taken for credit with BIOL C205.

BIOLOGY C207

Micro-Organisms and Man (3 credits)

A course designed for students registered in a programme other than one leading to the B.Sc. degree. It will consider the role of micro-organisms in plant and animal diseases, food spoilage, cellulose degradation, and water pollution, as well as their ecological, industrial, and pharmacological importance. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students registered in a Biology or Biochemistry programme may not take this course for credits.

BIOLOGY C208

Environmental Biology I (3 credits)

This course examines the principles and concepts of ecosystems, the interaction of organisms and their environment. Energy flow and nutrient cycling in ecosystems, population dynamics, and community organization. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students registered in a Biology or Biochemistry programme may not take this course for credits.

BIOLOGY C209
Environmental Biology II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C208. The course considers both natural and man-made ecological problems, including various aspects of pollution, resource and waste control vital for human survival. Lectures, seminars, and tutorials.

NOTE: Students registered in a Biology or Biochemistry programme may not take this course for credits.

BIOLOGY C220
Introductory Cell Biology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 301 or equivalent. Cell biology, elementary biochemistry, developmental biology, physiology, and genetics. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C222
Biostatistics I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 301 or equivalent. Statistical methods for the biological sciences; sampling; experimental design; data description; elementary probability; binomial, Poisson and Normal distributions; statistical inference; hypothesis testing; chi-square; analysis of variance; correlation; regression; covariance analysis; and analogous non-parametric techniques. Lectures and laboratory. NOTE See §200.7

BIOLOGY C223
Biostatistics II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C222 or MATH C241. Sampling methods; analysis of variance and experimental design; regression and correlation techniques; bioassay; non-parametric statistics; analytical methods in field biology, genetics, and microbiology. Lectures and laboratory. NOTE See §200.7

BIOLOGY C230
Animal Biology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 301 or equivalent. A survey of the major animal phyla, with emphasis on evolutionary trends, structure and function, behaviour and integration of organ systems. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students who have received credits for BIOL C234 may not take this course for credits.

BIOLOGY C232
Entomology I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 301 or equivalent. This course introduces the student to the variety and complexity of insect life. Basic classification is followed by a more detailed study of morphology and anatomy, together with some physiological considerations, including growth and metamorphosis. Other topics such as adaptations for aquatic life, social behaviour, etc., will be discussed. Laboratories will begin with a field trip, the object of which will be to observe and collect various insect species. The rest of the laboratory sessions will complement the lectures. Students are advised to begin an insect collection during the summer months preceding the course. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C233
Entomology II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C232. To the initiated student, this course will present an in-depth study of insect behaviour. Topics will include sensory physiology, insects and plants, light and sound production, population dynamics, and insect ecology. An attempt will be made throughout the course to establish a web of interrelationships between the structures and functions of various insect parts. Laboratories will involve the use of live animals, and the students may be required to spend additional time for certain experiments. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C234
Invertebrate Zoology I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C201. The Protozoa, Acoelomate and Pseudocoelomate Invertebrates: A detailed survey of non-coelomate invertebrates which will deal in depth with the Protozoa, Ciliata, Porifera, Cnidaria, Platyhelminthes, Nematoda, Acanthocephala and Rotifera. Emphasis in lectures will be placed on phylogeny, physiology, functional morphology, adaptations to specific environments and reproduction. Close attention will be paid to evolutionary trends within and between phylogenetic groups. Both origin of the metazoa from single-celled ancestors and the role of the lower metazoa in the evolution of higher animals will be examined. Laboratory work stresses morphology of both preserved and living material and, where possible, live specimens are used to demonstrate behaviour. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: This course may not be taken for credit with BIOL C230.

BIOLOGY C235
Invertebrate Zoology II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C230 or BIOL C234. The Coelomate Invertebrates: A detailed examination of the major coelomate invertebrate phyla including the Annelids, Molluscs, Arthropods (excluding Insects), Echinoderms and, if time permits, the minor coelomate phyla. Close attention will be paid to the origin of the coelom and its possible derivation from an evolutionary standpoint. Lectures will stress functional morphology, physiology and reproduction. Emphasis in the laboratory will be on dissection of selected representatives of each group and a detailed examination of the external characteristics of a range of representatives of each group. Where possible living specimens will be used to demonstrate behaviour. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: This course may not be taken for credit with BIOL C338.

BIOLOGY C237
Vertebrate Embryology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 301 or equivalent. The fundamental processes of growth and development in the vertebrates. A comparative study is made of selected vertebrate species with emphasis on the experimental aspects. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students may not receive credit for this course if taken with BIOL C337.

BIOLOGY C240
Plant Biology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 301 or equivalent. A survey of the major plant phyla, with emphasis on evolutionary trends, distribution, life cycles, morphology, development, physiology, economy, and ecology. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C242
Economic Botany (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 301 or equivalent. Origin, development, and use of selected economic plants, including microorganisms. Their historical impact, prospects for future use, and importance to the Canadian economy are stressed, as well as world-wide problems of food and alimentation. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C246
Biology of Fresh Water and Marine Algae (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 301 or equivalent. Taxonomy, physiology, and ecology of algae, with special consideration of their involvement in water pollution, sewage treatment, primary production, and their utilization in industry. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C250
Fundamentals of Ecology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 301 or equivalent. An introduction to the basic principles of ecology dealing with the most important components of ecosystems. The course illustrates how environmental factors determine the distribution and abundance of plants and animals in various aquatic and terrestrial biomes of the world. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C260
Genetics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 301 or equivalent; CEGEP Biology 401 or equivalent recommended. A course to illustrate the fundamental principles of inheritance in plants, animals, and microorganisms. Mendelian genetics, gene linkage, and mutation will be covered. The role of DNA as the hereditary material and the genetic code will be studied in detail, as will the mechanisms of DNA, RNA, and protein synthesis. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: This course may not be taken for credits with BIOL C360.

BIOLOGY C270
Introductory Microbiology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 301 or equivalent. Structure and function, growth and genetics of microorganisms, with particular emphasis on bacteria and viruses as related to industry, health, agriculture, and ecology. Laboratory exercises will illustrate lecture material and introduce methods of handling microorganisms. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C320
History of Biology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Twelve credits from the Department of Biology. The lecture material is oriented toward the beginnings of formal biology in relation to the state of knowledge at the time, and the development of these ideas up to the beginning of the present century. Emphasis is on broad principles rather than on encyclopedic or biographical notes. Much illustrative or detailed information is provided by the class, since each student must present a seminar on a topic chosen from the history of biology. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C321
Evolution (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Any twelve credits from the Department of Biology. A course that examines concepts leading from Darwin's theory to a modern synthesis of evolution. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C323
Biology of Aging (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C230; BIOL C260. Aging as a biological process will be examined at physiological, evolutionary, genetic, cellular, and molecular levels. Current theories of aging will be examined: these include the rate-of-living theory, the error-catastrophe theory, the autoimmune theory, the cross-linkage theory, and the somatic-mutation theory. Studies on aging in protozoans, plants, animals, and cells in culture will be evaluated in relation to these theories. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C328
Special Topics in Biology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Biology Honours, Specialization or Major programme and permission of the Department. Selected topics will be presented according to the interests of the instructor. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C329
Special Topics in Biology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Biology Honours, Specialization or Major programme and permission of the Department. Students who have received credit for BIOL C328 may register for BIOL C329 provided the subject matter is different.

BIOLOGY C330
Chordate Anatomy (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C230. A study of the anatomy and evolutionary development of the major organ systems of the chordates. In the laboratory, the lamprey, the mudpuppy, the turtle, and the cat will be dissected. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: This course may not be taken for credit with BIOL C331.

BIOLOGY C331
Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy (6 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C230; BIOL C235 or BIOL C237. A comprehensive study of the development and structure of the systems of a representative series of vertebrates from a comparative and evolutionary point of view, with some emphasis on the mammals. In the laboratory, representatives of the principal classes of vertebrates will be dissected. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: This course may not be taken for credit with BIOL C330.

BIOLOGY C332
Parasitology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C230 or BIOL C234, previously or concurrently. A survey of the parasitic groups of invertebrates, with special reference to the parasites of man. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: This course may not be taken for credit with BIOL C339.

BIOLOGY C333
Animal Physiology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C230; BIOL C235, or BIOL C237; CHEM C221; CHEM C222. An integrated study of basic physiological phenomena of vertebrates. Topics discussed include muscle function, nervous system, circulation, respiration, temperature regulation, digestion, metabolism, excretion, and endocrinology. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C335
Histology I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C230; BIOL C237, or BIOL C238; BIOL C330 or BIOL C331 recommended. A comparative study of the microscopic characteristics of cells, tissues, and organs of vertebrates. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C336
Histology II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C335. An advanced comparative study of the vertebrate organ systems at the ultrastructural and histological level. Those registered will be expected to participate in a seminar. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C337
Comparative Vertebrate Embryology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C230 or BIOL C235. A detailed study, from the comparative point of view, of the developmental processes and organogenesis in representative vertebrate embryos, leading to an understanding of the structure and function of the human systems. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: This course may not be taken for credit with BIOL C237.

BIOLOGY C338
Invertebrate Zoology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C230 or BIOL C234. This course covers selected topics illustrating physiological phenomena occurring among several invertebrate phyla. Special emphasis is placed on endocrine control of growth, reproduction, and development. The role of environmental factors on these physiological processes is also stressed. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students who have received credits for BIOL C234 or C235 may not take this course for credits.

BIOLOGY C339
General Parasitology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C230 or BIOL C234. A study of the protozoan, helminth, and arthropod parasites of man, domestic animals, and wildlife. Special emphasis will be placed on the transmission of parasites with reference to the behaviour and ecology of both the host and the parasite. Additional topics will include the evolution of the parasitic way of life, subsequent adaptations, and various aspects of the host-parasite relationship. Laboratory techniques for parasite recovery, basic staining and histological techniques, fecal analysis, identification of parasitic worms, infection of experimental animals. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: This course may not be taken for credit with BIOL C332.

BIOLOGY C341
Biology of the Fungi (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C270. A study of the morphology, taxonomy, phylogeny, and ecology of the fungi; their importance in agriculture, industry, medicine, and research will be emphasized. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C342
Eastern North American Flora (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C240, previously or concurrently. A study of higher plant life occurring in Eastern North America, including recognition, collection, identification, classification, and distribution. Field work for practical experience with the regional flora in various habitats. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C343
Biology of Non-Vascular Plants (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C240. A survey of the taxonomy, morphology, life cycles, and evolution of representatives of the lower plants (algae, mosses, lichens, liverworts). Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C345
Horticultural Science (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C240. The scientific concepts of horticulture are emphasized. Topics include plant breeding for adaptation to climate, chemical regulation of plant processes and effects on crop yield, environmental factors in crop production, pollutant impact on horticulture, problems in bulk storage, processing and marketing of perishables. The role of horticultural science in meeting world food requirements, as well as its impact on society, are discussed. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C347
Plant Anatomy (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C240. A study of the internal structure of the plant as related to the processes of growth and metabolism. An experimental approach is presented to the study of the relationship between structure and function of various parts of the plant. The study of pathological, ecological, and economic aspects of anatomy, with emphasis on developmental anatomy. Laboratory work includes the preparation of permanent slides, using plant microtechnique. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C348
Plant Physiology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C240; CHEM C221; CHEM C222. A study of physiological processes of higher plants, including mineral nutrition, water absorption, transport, transpiration, photosynthesis, carbohydrate and nitrogen metabolism, respiration; plant responses to growth regulators, their mechanism of action, and their role in plant growth and metabolism. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C351
Field and Laboratory Ecology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C250 and permission of the Department. An introduction to the methods of qualitative and quantitative studies of aquatic and terrestrial ecosystems. Students will gain experience in techniques of field investigation. Field trips and laboratory work.

BIOLOGY C352
Plant Field Ecology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C240. This course is normally offered for a two-week period during August at the Lacolle Centre. It will involve identification of local plant species, methods of sampling of communities, and examination of the pattern of plant communities in the area. Handling of data on populations and communities will be discussed, as well as statistics on population distributions. A mixture of formal lectures, organized field studies, and informal discussion. Students will be required to hand in a written report after the course has ended.

BIOLOGY C353
Intermediate Ecology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C250. An in-depth analysis of factors affecting distribution and abundance of plants and animals. Environmental physiology, adaptations of plants and animals; population structures and behaviour patterns as responses to the physical environment will be discussed. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C355
Fundamentals of Limnology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C250, previously or concurrently. An introduction to the study of fresh-water ecosystems, with major emphasis on geographical, physical, and chemical characteristics. The major topics include the origin of lake basins, lake morphology and morphometry, waves and currents, the optical and thermal properties of lakes, dissolved chemicals. Some aspects of water pollution are considered. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C356
Microbial Ecology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C270. The course is designed to give an understanding of the environment in which microorganisms live, the structure of microbial communities, and the ways in which microbes interact during the processes involved in decomposition and nutrient cycling. Stress will be placed on the ecology of soil microorganisms, though aquatic communities will also be discussed. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C360
General Genetics (6 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C230; BIOL C240. A study of the principles and processes of plant, animal, and human heredity from the classical foundations, through the modern to the recent molecular developments; developmental and population genetics, and evolution. Laboratory directed experiments with Drosophila and other organisms. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: This course may not be taken for credit with BIOL C260.

BIOLOGY C361
Cellular Metabolism I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C230; BIOL C240; CHEM C221; CHEM C222. This course will deal with the simple metabolism of biomolecules in both plants and animals. A basic study of enzymes and their mode of action; nucleic acids and their role in protein synthesis. Distribution of organelles and their metabolism, cellular oxidations and energetics. Lectures only.

NOTE: This course may not be taken for credit with CHEM C372 and C373.

BIOLOGY C362
Cellular Metabolism II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C361. Designed to follow BIOL C361, the course examines the intracellular localization of enzymes, their activity and control from a comparative cellular basis; coenzymes and their importance in intermediary metabolism. Membrane and cell-wall synthesis; hormones and their mode of action. Nutritional requirements of organisms. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: This course may not be taken for credit with CHEM C372 and C373.

BIOLOGY C363
Genetics of Higher Organisms (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C260. This course will cover various aspects of the genetics of multicellular and eukaryotic organisms, including cytogenetics, developmental, human, behavioural, and population genetics, as well as somatic cell genetics. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C364
Cell Physiology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 401 or BIOL C220; CHEM C221; CHEM C222, previously or concurrently. A survey of the mechanisms involved in functions of single cells and subcellular components, particularly organelles; membrane phenomena, motility, bioenergetics, and cellular responses to environmental stress, including ionizing radiation, cold, and hydrostatic pressure. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C365
Cytology (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CEGEP Biology 401 or equivalent; CHEM C221; CHEM C222. Cell structure and ultrastructure, with reference to organelle function; microscopic and cytochemical techniques of analysis. Emphasis is on experimental, molecular, and ultrastructure analysis, to achieve a correlation between cell structure and function. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C370
Intermediate Microbiology (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C270; CHEM C221; CHEM C222; BIOL C361 or CHEM C371 recommended. Designed to continue from BIOL C270. Nutrition and metabolism of microorganisms, with special emphasis on metabolic processes unique to microorganisms (fermentations, oxidation of inorganic compounds, aerobic respiration, and anaerobic respiration). Basic immunology and immunochemistry; brief discussion of microbes in medicine and industry. Laboratory will include metabolic and serologic methods of identifying microorganisms. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C380
Nutrition (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C221; CHEM C222; BIOL C361 or CHEM C371 recommended. The concept of a balanced diet will be studied in relation to caloric content, and to protein, lipid, carbohydrate, vitamin, and mineral requirements. The consequences of dietary deficiencies will be examined. Special topics such as dieting, organic foods, megavitamins, food additives, and toxins will be discussed. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C420
Radiation Biology and Radiotracer Methodology I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C260 or BIOL C360; BIOL C364. A survey of the elements of radiation physics, with emphasis on the properties of ionizing radiation and its interaction with matter, including dosimetry and methods of radiation counting. The effects of radiation at the macromolecular, cellular, and organismal level will be considered from both the somatic and genetic points of view. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C421
Radiation Biology and Radiotracer Methodology II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C420. A detailed study of selected topics in chemical and solid-state dosimetry, liquid-scintillation counting, neutron-irradiation techniques, cell kinetics, target theory, radiation botany, and mammalian radiobiology. Laboratory will emphasize the use of a wide range of radiosotopes and radiation sources. A visit to a major radiation lab or reactor will be arranged. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C431
Biology of Fishes (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C330 or BIOL C331. This introduction to fish biology will include a study of anatomy, physiology, and classification of the major groups of fishes, as well as their ecology and zoogeography. Emphasis will be placed on freshwater fishes. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C432
Microscopical Techniques (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C335. Histological techniques involved in the preparation of various animal tissues for microscopic study; techniques of microscopy, and some practical experience in photomicrography. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C433
Neurology (6 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C330 or BIOL C331. A study of the anatomy and physiology of the nervous systems of vertebrates, especially of the mammals and man. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C434
Comparative and Environmental Physiology (6 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C333; BIOL C362, or CHEM C371. This course is designed on a function-system basis and deals with a comparative study of physiological processes in animals, their behaviour, and physiological adaptations to the environment. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C438
Advanced Topics in Zoology (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Third-year standing in a Biology Honours, Specialization, or Major programme, and permission of the Department. Lectures and seminars or laboratories on recent developments in taxonomy, ecology, physiology, or experimental techniques.

BIOLOGY C439
Advanced Topics in Zoology (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Third-year standing in a Biology Honours, Specialization, or Major programme, and permission of the Department. Students who have received credit for BIOL C438 may register for BIOL C439 provided the subject matter is different.

BIOLOGY C441
Plant Biochemistry (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C348 or CHEM C371 or BIOL C361; BIOL C362. Biochemical study of the natural constituents and secondary metabolites unique to plants. Their biosynthesis, biotransformations, and functions in plants, as well as their economic and pharmacologic importance will be stressed. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C442
Plant Responses to Environmental Stresses (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C348. Morphological, physiological, and biochemical responses of plants to various environmental stresses, including freezing, drought, light, mineral deficiencies, radiation, and environmental pollutants. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C448
Advanced Topics in Botany (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Third-year standing in a Biology Honours, Specialization, or Major programme, and permission of the Department. Lectures and seminars or laboratories on recent developments in taxonomy, ecology, physiology or experimental techniques.

BIOLOGY C449
Advanced Topics in Botany (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Third-year standing in a Biology Honours, Specialization, or Major programme, and permission of the Department. Students who have received credit for BIOL C448 may register for BIOL C449 provided the subject matter is different.

BIOLOGY C450
Aquatic Ecology and Water Pollution (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C355. An inquiry into factors governing the distribution and abundance of aquatic organisms in lakes and streams. Emphasis on the nature and significance of the responses of aquatic organisms and communities through changes in water quality with pollution. Sources and types of pollutants and methods of evaluating pollution and treating wastes. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C454
Population Ecology (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C353. A theoretical approach to ecological problems. Evolutionary aspects of ecological problems, population dynamics, species diversity, stability of ecosystems, regulation of population size, competition, and predation. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C458
Advanced Topics in Ecology (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Third-year standing in a Biology Honours, Specialization or Major programme and permission of the Department. Lectures and seminars or laboratories on recent developments in plant, microbial, animal, aquatic or population ecology.

BIOLOGY C459
Advanced Topics in Ecology (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Third-year standing in a Biology Honours, Specialization, or Majors programme, and permission of the Department. Students who have received credit for BIOL C458 may register for BIOL C459 provided the subject matter is different.

BIOLOGY C460
Molecular Genetics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C260 or BIOL C360; CHEM C372; CHEM C373 previously or concurrently, or permission of the Department. Basic microbial and molecular genetics, including mechanisms in protein synthesis, bacteriophage recombination. Use of genetics in the study of regulation of gene expression, the code and mechanism in protein synthesis; bacteriophage genetics; episomes. Lectures and conferences.

BIOLOGY C461
Advanced Genetics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C260 or BIOL C360. Directed readings and seminars in classical and contemporary genetics designed to expose the student to research literature and problems. Students will probe in greater depth areas of particular interest in order to develop a critical sense and deepen an understanding of past and current work in this field. Seminars only.

BIOLOGY C462
Immunology (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C364; BIOL C260, or BIOL C360; CHEM C372; CHEM C373 previously or concurrently. A course in modern immunology stressing the following areas of study: the structure and properties of antigens and antibodies; the nature of the immune response; cellular-antibody synthesis; genetic aspects of antibody synthesis; theories relating antibody specificity to genetic potential. Lectures and conferences.

BIOLOGY C463
Developmental Biology (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C364; BIOL C260, or BIOL C360; BIOL C237 or BIOL C337 recommended. A study of the cellular aspects of development of animals and plants in relation to the acquisition of form. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C464
Advanced Cell Physiology (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C364; CHEM C372; CHEM C373 previously or concurrently. Lectures and seminars dealing with selected topics in cell physiology, emphasizing a molecular experimental approach. Lectures only.

BIOLOGY C465
Biological Regulatory Mechanisms (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C260 or BIOL C360; CHEM C372; CHEM C373 previously or concurrently, or permission of the Department. Metabolic pathways, with an emphasis on their control and coordination; intercellular messengers in developmental and adult systems. Lectures and conferences.

BIOLOGY C467
Cytogenetics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BIOL C365; BIOL C260 or BIOL C360, or permission of the Department. A detailed study of plant and animal chromosomes, their structures, and normal and abnormal behaviour; species evolution and preservation; various anomalies, ploidy, heterosis, apomixy; human cytogenetics. Lectures and laboratory.

BIOLOGY C468
Advanced Topics in Cell and Molecular Biology (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Third-year standing in a Biology Honours, Specialization or Major programme and permission of the Department. Lectures and seminars or laboratories on recent developments in prokaryotic- and eukaryotic-cellular physiology, genetics, immunology, cytogenetics, or molecular biology.

BIOLOGY C469
Advanced Topics in Cell and Molecular Biology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing in a Biology Honours, Specialization, or Major programme, and permission of the Department. Students who have received credit for BIOL C468 may register for BIOL C469 provided the subject matter is different.

BIOLOGY C470
Microbial Physiology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: BIOL C270; CHEM C372; CHEM C373 previously or concurrently, or permission of the Department. A study of the biochemical activities underlying the life of microorganisms to survey the diverse patterns used by microorganisms in energy metabolism and biosynthesis. Applications of theoretical knowledge to industrial microbiology, including fermentation and antibiotic production will be examined. Lectures and conferences.

BIOLOGY C490
Independent Study (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing in Honours Biology, or permission of the Department. In this course, the student undertakes a special research project selected in consultation with, and conducted under, the supervision of a faculty member of the Department. The project is intended to develop the student's knowledge of standard scientific procedures, including methods of researching scientific literature, the planning and execution of experimental and analytical procedures, the writing of a formal report, and the presentation of a seminar on the project.

31.040 Canadian Studies

Coordinator
G. DECARIE, Associate Professor

The Canadian Studies Programme seeks to give students a better understanding of the diverse origins and multi-faceted character of Canada. It provides the opportunity to obtain a liberal arts education given direction and depth by a focus on Canada.

PROGRAMMES

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.

The superscript indicates credit value.

Students should consult with the Programme Coordinator prior to registering for Canadian Studies courses.

60 BA Specialization in Canadian Studies

6 CDNS C220[6]
6 ENGL C290[6]; or ENGL C291[3] and C292[3]
6 French Language, at a level to be determined in consultation with the Département d'Etudes Françaises
6 HIST C203[3] and C205[3]
6 CDNS C421[6]
30 Elective credits in related Canadian content courses, chosen in consultation with the Coordinator, from Anthropology, Art History, Communication Studies, Economics, Education, English, Etudes Françaises, Geography, History, Interdisciplinary Studies, Journalism, Political Science, Religion, Sociology, and World Music.

42 BA Major in Canadian Studies

6 CDNS C220[6]
6 ENGL C290[6]; or ENGL C291[3] and C292[3]
6 French Language, at a level to be determined in consultation with the Département d'Etudes Françaises
6 HIST C203[3] and C205[3]
6 CDNS C421[6]
12 Elective credits in related Canadian content courses, chosen in consultation with the Coordinator, from Anthropology, Art History, Communication Studies, Economics, Education, English, Etudes Françaises, Geography, History, Interdisciplinary Studies, Journalism, Political Science, Religion, Sociology, and World Music.

30 Minor in Canadian Studies

6 CDNS C220[6]
6 ENGL C290[6]; or ENGL C291[3] and C292[3]
6 French Language, at a level to be determined in consultation with the Département d'Etudes Françaises
6 HIST C203[3] and C205[3]
6 CDNS C421[6]

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

CANADIAN STUDIES C220
Introduction to Canadian Studies
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: First-year standing Canadian Studies Major, or permission of the Coordinator. An introduction to some of the problems which have been explored by the humanities and social sciences in the study of Canada. The themes will vary from year to year and could cover topics such as the industrialization of Quebec, immigrant and ethnic traditions, and the Americanization of Canada.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C220 may not take this course for credits.

CANADIAN STUDIES C320
Selected Topics in Canadian Studies
(3 credits)

This course focuses its attention on one or more aspects of the Canadian Studies programme. The theme and methodology chosen will depend upon the background and interests of the instructor. Students are advised to consult the Programme Coordinator before registering in order to be sure of the title of the course in any one session. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C320 may not take this course for credits.

CANADIAN STUDIES C321
Selected Topics in Canadian Studies
(3 credits)

Students who have received credit for

CDNS C320 may register for CDNS C321 provided the subject matter is different.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C321 may not take this course for credits.

CANADIAN STUDIES C421

Seminar in Canadian Studies (6 credits)

Prerequisite: CDNS C220 or permission of the Coordinator. This is an advanced seminar in Canadian Studies which emphasizes an interdisciplinary approach to certain concerns or characteristics of Canada and Canadians. It will normally be taken by students near the end of a Canadian Studies Programme.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C421 may not take this course for credits.

CANADIAN STUDIES C422

Seminar in Canadian Studies (6 credits)

Prerequisite: CDNS C220; CDNS C421. Students who have received credit for CDNS C421 may register for CDNS C422 provided the subject matter is different.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C422 may not take this course for credits.

PROGRAMMES

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.

All students are advised to include a course in a computer language in their degree programme.

The superscript indicates credit value.

NOTE: The Order of Chemists of Quebec has fully accredited the curricula of i) Honours in Chemistry, ii) Specialization in Analytical Chemistry, iii) Specialization in Biochemistry, iv) Specialization in Chemistry. Upon satisfactory completion of any of the above-mentioned programmes, a graduate is eligible for membership in the Order. A working knowledge of French is required.

72 BSc Honours in Chemistry

Year I

24 CHEM C211[6], C221[3], C222[3], C231[2], C232[2], C233[2], C241[3], C242[3]

2 credits chosen from Chemistry 300-level courses.
(Other combinations may be arranged in consultation with the Department.)

33 Certificate in Scientific Measurement (Chemistry Option)
19 CHEM C211[6], C310[2], C314[2], C315[1], C319[1], C390[2], C399[1], C490[3], C499[1]
14 PHYS C295[2], C296[2], C396[5], C397[5]

Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to twelve credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

CHEMISTRY CO-OPERATIVE PROGRAMME

Director
R.E. TOWNSHEND, Associate Professor

The Chemistry Co-operative Programme is offered to students who are enrolled in the BSc Honours or Specialization in Chemistry, Specialization in Biochemistry, or Specialization in Analytical Chemistry.

Students in CHEM Co-Op take the regular academic programme. The schedule of academic and work periods for an entering group of CHEM Co-Op students is given in §31.515.

The overseeing of the CHEM Co-Op programme is the responsibility of the Director and the departmental Co-Op Committee, which provides the connecting link between students, employers and the Institute for Co-operative Education.

Students interested in applying for the CHEM Co-Op should refer to §31.515, where a full description of the admission requirements is provided, or write to The Principal, Institute for Co-Operative Education, 7308 Sherbrooke Street West, Montreal, Quebec, H4B 1R6. For information by telephone see "CONTACTS" in §31.515.

A student may be exempted from one or more of the introductory courses, on the basis of work done at CEGEP level. Where exemptions are given, the courses must be replaced with an equivalent number of credits in the sub-discipline involved, in order that the student successfully complete any of the programmes approved by the Order of Chemists of Quebec.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

CHEMISTRY C205
General Chemistry I (3 credits)
Stoichiometry, states of matter, atomic structure, electron structure of atoms, the periodic table, periodic properties, bonding, solids. Lectures, tutorials, and laboratories.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the BSc degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

CHEMISTRY C206
General Chemistry II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C205. Thermochemistry, solutions and their properties, equilibrium, ionic equilibrium, pH, buffers, kinetics, reaction mechanisms, other selected topics related to biochemistry, biology, and engineering. Lectures, tutorials, and laboratories.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the BSc degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

CHEMISTRY C208
Chemistry for Non-Science Students
(3 credits)
This course covers aspects of chemistry which are of general interest to the non-science student. Sections deal with the social impact of chemistry and with the chemistry of the natural and man-made environments. The necessary non-quantitative knowledge of chemistry is developed as the course unfolds.

NOTE: This course is not a prerequisite for any chemistry course. This course may not be taken for credit by Science students.

CHEMISTRY C211
Introductory Quantitative Analysis
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Chemistry 201; CEGEP Physics 301; CEGEP Mathematics 103; CEGEP Mathematics 203; or equivalent courses. Treatment of analytical data; chemical equilibria as applied to volumetric and gravimetric procedures; general theory of titrations and titration curves; neutralization, precipitation, complexation, oxidation-reduction, and non-aqueous titrations; gravimetric analysis; potentiometry and potentiometric titrations; molecular and atomic absorption methods; gas chromatography. Laboratory is taken concurrently and provides experience in the techniques of analysis discussed in the lectures. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: A student who has obtained credits for GEOL C324 may not take this course for credits.

CHEMISTRY C221
Introductory Organic Chemistry I
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Chemistry 201 or equivalent. Basic aspects of orbitals and their role in covalent bonding. Acids and bases. Delocalization of electrons. Alkanes, their structures, isomerism and nomenclature. Introductory stereochemistry. Enantiomers, diastereomers, conformers, Fischer projections, Cahn-Ingold-Prelog sequence rules for specification of chirality. E/Z-isomerism. Conformations of cyclic compounds. Alkyl halides, SN^1, SN^2, E1, E2 reactions, their mechanisms and stereochemistry. Free-radical reactions. organometallic compounds. Chemistry of alcohols, ethers and related compounds. Lectures and laboratory.

CHEMISTRY C222
Introductory Organic Chemistry II
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C221 or one semester CEGEP Organic Chemistry. Introduction to the use of IR and NMR spectroscopy for identification of simple organic compounds. Chemistry of alkenes, alkynes and dienes. Electrophilic additions, Markovnikov's rule, conjugate additions, Diels-Alder reaction, polymerization. Benzenes, Hückel rule and aromaticity. Electrophilic aromatic substitution, its mechanism and orientation. Chemistry of aldehydes and ketones. Reduction, Wittig, and Grignard reactions. aldol condensation. Chemistry of carboxylic acids and their derivatives. Chemistry of amines. Simple reaction mechanisms. Lectures and laboratory.

CHEMISTRY C231
Introductory Physical Chemistry I
(2 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Chemistry 201; CEGEP Physics 301; CEGEP Mathematics 103; CEGEP Mathematics 203; or equivalent courses. First law of thermodynamics, thermochemistry, entropy, the second and third laws of thermodynamics, free energy and chemical equilibrium, electrochemical cells and the Nernst equation, the Gibbs-Helmholtz equation. Applications of thermodynamics to systems of chemical interest. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C232
Introductory Physical Chemistry II
(2 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C231 or an equivalent course. The thermodynamics of open systems, including partial molal quantities; Maxwell's relationships; the chemical potential and its usefulness; ideal solutions; real solutions, both non-electrolytic and electrolytic; determination of activities by electrochemical and other techniques. Applications of thermodynamics to one-, two-, and three-component systems. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C233
Introductory Quantum Chemistry
(2 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C220; CEGEP Chemistry 201; CEGEP Physics 301; or equivalent courses. This course is intended to introduce the student to the fundamental ideas of quantum theory as applied to chemistry. Topics covered include the origins of quantum theory, the postulates of quantum mechanics, applications to simple systems, the hydrogen atom, other atoms, and simple molecules. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C241
Introduction to Inorganic Chemistry
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Chemistry 201; CEGEP Physics 301; CEGEP Mathematics 103; CEGEP Mathematics 203; or equivalent courses. The structure of the atom, covalent bonding, chemical forces, complex ions, crystal field theory. Lectures, problem sessions and laboratory.

CHEMISTRY C242
Chemistry of the Main Group Elements
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Chemistry 201; CEGEP Physics 301; CEGEP Mathematics 103; CEGEP Mathematics 203; or equivalent courses. A survey of the properties and reactions of: Hydrogen, Group IA (Lithium to Cesium) and Group IIA (Beryllium to Radium): Ionic bonding, Boron, Group IIIA (Aluminum to Thallium), Carbon, Group IVB (Silicon to Lead), Nitrogen, Group VB (Phosphorus to Bismuth), Oxygen, Group VIB (Sulphur to Polonium), the Halogens, the Noble gases, Group IIB (Zinc, Cadmium, and Mercury). Lectures and laboratory.

CHEMISTRY C290
Laboratory Automation and Data Handling
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMP C211, or equivalent; CHEM C211, previously or concurrently, and written permission of the Department. Introduction to some modern techniques used to transduce and manipulate raw chemical data. Topics to be discussed will include: statistical treatment of chemical data, using programmes written in Basic, or other high-level language; the use of binary, decimal, and hexadecimal numbers; programming a single-board computer or modern microcomputer using machine and assembly languages; input-output operations; elementary interfacing techniques. Experiments will involve the collection and treatment of data from common laboratory instruments such as electrodes and photodetectors. Lectures, tutorials and laboratory.

CHEMISTRY C302
Industrial Chemistry, Resources and Environment (2 credits)

Prerequisite: Must be registered in a Chemistry programme and be within 42 credits of graduation; or permission of the Department. An introduction to chemical engineering for chemists. Management and conservation of resources; pollution control; occupational and environmental health; technological and environmental impact assessment.

CHEMISTRY C303
Chemical Technology and Human Values (2 credits)

Prerequisite: Must be registered in a Chemistry programme and be within 42 credits of graduation; or permission of the Department. The history of technology; the impact of chemistry on material life; appropriate technologies; chemistry and war; the social responsibility of the scientist.

CHEMISTRY C310
Instrumental Analysis II: Electrochemical and Separation Methods (2 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C211; CHEM C315 concurrently. Topics in theory and application of electrochemical methods involving voltametry, potentiometry and conductance. Introduction to solvent extraction and liquid chromatography. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C311
Introductory Analytical Organic Chemistry (2 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C211; CHEM C222, or CHEM C222 and 6 credits in Biology course(s) with laboratory; CHEM C316 concurrently. Identification of organic compounds by physical, chemical and instrumental methods. Discussion of generalized analytical procedures, and of the basic principles and applications of relevant instrumentation. Use of data bases in interpretation of spectra and identifying compounds. Evaluation and use of computer and other data bases in chemical analysis. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C313
Environmental Chemistry and Pollutant Analysis (2 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C222, and any one of CHEM C211, CHEM C372, GEOL C312, BIOL C364. Scope and purpose of environmental chemistry; nature and composition of natural waters; pollution and trace-level substances in water; water analysis; nature and composition of the atmosphere; atmospheric levels of the oxides of carbon, sulphur, and nitrogen; organic, inorganic and particulate pollutants in the atmosphere; monitoring and analysis of pollutants in the atmosphere. Cycles in the Biosphere. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C314
Instrumental Analysis I: Optical Methods (2 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C211; CHEM C319 concurrently. Theory and application of absorptimetric, turbidimetric, nephelometric, and fluorescence techniques; flame absorption and emission spectroscopy; electrical and plasma arc emission spectroscopy; atomic absorption flame and flameless techniques; X-ray fluorescence, emission and diffraction methods; radiochemical techniques. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C315
Electrochemical Methods of Analysis Laboratory (1 credit)

Prerequisite: CHEM C211; CHEM C310 concurrently. Analysis of simple samples by voltammetry, potentiometry, coulometry and conductance. Laboratory only.

CHEMISTRY C316
Introductory Analytical Organic Laboratory (1 credit)

Prerequisite: CHEM C211; CHEM C222, or CHEM C222 and 6 credits in Biology course(s) with laboratory; CHEM C311 concurrently. Semimicro analytical methods, semimicro preparative methods, spectroscopic methods and computer-assisted data base searches used in identifying organic compounds. Laboratory only.

CHEMISTRY C319
Optical Methods of Analysis Laboratory (1 credit)

Prerequisite: CHEM C211; CHEM C314 concurrently. Analytical experiments providing experience in the methods discussed in CHEM C314. Laboratory only.

CHEMISTRY C321
Organic Stereochemistry (2 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C222, or equivalent; CHEM C232. Conformational analysis of acyclic and cyclic systems. Relationship to physical properties and chemical reactivity: Chirality, enantiomerism, diastereomerism, prochirality, enantiotopism, and diastereotopism. Examples from steroid, carbohydrate, and enzyme mediated reactions. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C322
Organic Reactions (2 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C321; CHEM C331, previously or concurrently. A mechanistic survey of reactions of major synthetic utility. Determination of reaction mechanisms. Importance of reactive intermediates: carbocations, carbanions, radicals, and carbenes. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C323
Bio-Organic Chemistry (2 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C321. Chemistry of carbohydrates. Aspects of heterocyclic chemistry, particularly as they apply to purines, pyrimidines, and important coenzymes: pyridoxal, NADH, thiamine, flavines. Model-enzyme studies. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C326
Natural Products (2 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C222, or equivalent. Structure determination, synthesis, and stereochemistry of various natural products. Examples from terpenes, carotenoids, steroids, alkaloids, and antibiotics. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C328
Organic Chemistry of Polymers (2 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C222 or equivalent; CHEM C232. Introduction to the fundamental aspects of polymers and polymerization. Methods of preparation, reaction mechanisms of polymer synthesis including condensation polymerization; addition polymerization: free radical, anionic, cationic; Ziegler-Natta (heterogeneous) polymerization. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C329
Organic Reactions Laboratory (2 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C322 or CHEM C323, previously or concurrently; CHEM C331. Experiments with reactions of synthetic and mechanistic importance. Reactions involving reactive intermediates. Kinetic and thermodynamic control. Rearrangements. Laboratory only.

CHEMISTRY C331
Intermediate Physical Chemistry I
(2 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C232. Kinetic molecular theory. Topics in chemical-reaction kinetics, including: mechanisms of elementary reactions; theories of chemical reaction rates; free-radical reactions; factors influencing rates of reactions in solution; acid-base catalysis; catalysis by enzymes; the Michaelis-Menten mechanism; inhibition in enzyme-catalyzed reactions. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C332
Intermediate Thermodynamics (2 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C232. Comparison of closed and open systems. Partial molal quantities. Chemical potential. Real gases. Fugacity. Equilibrium constant. Free-energy function. Ideal solutions. Real solutions. Duhem-Margules equation. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C334
Intermediate Physical Chemistry II
(2 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C331. The molecular properties of matter, and an introduction to chemical spectroscopy. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C335
Physical Chemistry of Polymers (2 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C222; CHEM C232. Physical properties of polymers; polymer-solution theory; molecular-weight distributions and fractionation; molecular-weight determinations by colligative properties, light-scattering and ultra-centrifuge techniques; kinetics of condensation and addition polymerizations; copolymerization. Lectures only.
NOTE: Students who have received credit for CHEM C435 may not take this course for credit.

CHEMISTRY C338
Physical Chemistry Laboratory I (2 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C232. Experiments in physical chemistry to illustrate some of the concepts studied previously, and to acquire basic dexterity in the physical chemistry laboratory. Laboratory only.

CHEMISTRY C339
Physical Chemistry Laboratory II (2 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C232. Further experiments in physical chemistry. The student will be expected to investigate more complex systems and to write meaningful laboratory reports. Laboratory only.

CHEMISTRY C342
Chemistry of the Transition Elements
(2 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C241; CHEM C242; CHEM C211. Coordination chemistry; structure, theory of bonding, reactivity of transition metal complexes of various coordination numbers. Descriptive chemistry of transition metals of various oxidation states. Organometallic chemistry. Inorganic chemistry in biological systems. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C348
Inorganic Chemistry Laboratory (1 credit)
Prerequisite: CHEM C342, previously or concurrently. Syntheses of coordination and organometallic compounds requiring various techniques. Determination of various properties of the compounds prepared at the laboratory bench. Laboratory only.

CHEMISTRY C372
Introductory Biochemistry I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C222 and, for Biochemistry students, CHEM C232. Thermodynamics and the role of ATP; structure and function of proteins and nucleic acids including protein structure, enzymology, replication of DNA, transcription and translation of DNA. Lectures and laboratory.
NOTE: Students who have received credit for CHEM C371 may not take this course for credit.

CHEMISTRY C373
Introductory Biochemistry II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C372. Intermediary metabolism, including biosynthesis and degradation of carbohydrates, lipids and amino acids; bioenergetics and photosynthesis. Lectures and laboratory.
NOTE: Students who have received credit for CHEM C371 may not take this course for credit.

CHEMISTRY C380
Structure of the Chemical Industry
(2 credits)
Prerequisite: Second-year chemistry students or permission of the Department. Broad outline of major factors to be considered by the chemical industry when contemplating manufacture of a new product or product group. Among the topics that are discussed are: Chemical patents; economic analysis of a process; scale-up of a laboratory reaction to a pilot-plant-size process; using kinetic rate constants to design a chemical process reactor; heat transfer and removal from a large-scale chemical reactor; chemical transport considerations; hazard and pollution considerations; material accounting and mass balances. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C389
Industrial Chemical Laboratory (1 credit)

Prerequisite: CHEM C222; CHEM C232; CHEM C380 previously or concurrently; or permission of the Department. A course designed to provide the student with an understanding of the philosophies of industrial quality control, and of industrial research and development. Common industrial techniques will be studied, including laboratory safety; measurement of physical properties; synthetic procedures, both organic and inorganic; and various separation techniques. Several instrumental analytical methods will be employed, and a final report on the work of the term will be submitted. Laboratory only.

CHEMISTRY C390
Introductory Instrumentation (2 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C211, or two 6-credit Biology courses with laboratory; CHEM C399 concurrently. Introduction to measurement principles. Instrument design and basic techniques; analysis of amplifiers, impedance matching circuits, integrators, differentiators, comparators, filter circuits and other basic modules used in pH meters, potentiometric titrators, polarographs, gas chromatographs, photometers and spectrophotometers to emphasize facility in the use of similar instruments for measurement of specific systems. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C391
Chemical Spectroscopy and Analysis
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C222; CHEM C232. Infrared, ultraviolet, proton magnetic resonance spectroscopies and mass spectrometry will be applied to the elucidation of the structure of organic molecules. Rates and activation energies by PMR. Lectures, problem periods and laboratory.

CHEMISTRY C399
Introductory Instrumentation Laboratory
(1 credit)

Prerequisite: CHEM C211 or two full laboratory courses in Biology; CHEM C390 concurrently. Basic RLC circuits, filters, semiconductors, transistors, and basic IC circuits used in instrumentation. Derivation of equivalent circuits to analyze properties, performance and estimate error. Introduction to mechanical, optical and electrical transducers and recorders; signal-to-noise optimization, digital electronics, logic circuits and automation. Laboratory only.

CHEMISTRY C419
Research Project and Thesis in Analytical Chemistry (6 credits)

Prerequisite: The student will normally be enrolled in the Specialization in Analytical Chemistry programme. The student will work on a research project involving a theoretical and/or practical aspect of analytical chemistry, and will write a thesis on the results. The research project will be scrutinized by a committee of members of the Department. Experimental work and theory.

CHEMISTRY C421
Physical Organic Chemistry (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C322; CHEM C331. Determination of organic reaction mechanisms using kinetics, activation parameters, acid-base catalysis, Bronsted catalysis law, solvent effects, medium effects, isotope effects, substitutent effects and linear free energy relationships. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C422
Organic Synthesis (4 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C322. Consideration of synthetic strategy and synthesis design. Modern synthetic methods and reagents, exemplified by syntheses of terpenes, alkaloids, pheromones, and novel structures. Lectures and laboratory.

CHEMISTRY C423
Selected Topics in Organic Chemistry
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C321; CHEM C322. In-depth study of a topic of current interest. Topics may be from the areas of Heterocyclic Chemistry, Organic Photochemistry, Advanced Organic Synthesis, Theoretical Organic Chemistry, Physical Organic Chemistry, Organic Spectroscopy. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C424
Selected Topics in Organic Chemistry
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. A student who has received credit for CHEM C423 may register for CHEM C424, provided the subject matter is different. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C431
Statistical Thermodynamics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C331; CHEM C334. Elements of probability theory, microcanonical, canonical, and grand canonical ensembles; Boltzmann distribution; quantum mechanical treatment of an ideal gas; Fermi-Dirac and Bose-Einstein statistics; Einstein and Debye models of a monatomic crystal; conformation of polymer chains. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C432
Selected Topics in Physical Chemistry
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C331; CHEM C334. Subject matter will differ from year to year to take advantage of the special interest of the instructor concerned. The course will provide opportunities to senior students for discussion and advanced study in physical chemistry. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C433
Advanced Quantum Chemistry (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C233; CHEM C334. This course deals with the theories of valence for both organic and inorganic materials. Topics covered include symmetry, construction, and use of character tables, valence-bond theory, molecular-orbital theory, crystal-field theory, ligand-field theory. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C434
Advanced Physical Chemistry for Biochemists (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C334. Thermodynamics applied to biological systems. Surface tension. Capillarity. Surface thermodynamics. Surface films. Adsorption. Electrocapillarity. Electrokinetic effects. Transport properties. Light scattering. Zimm plot. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C437
Selected Topics in Physical Chemistry (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. A student who has received credit for CHEM C432 may register for CHEM C437, provided the subject matter is different. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C439
Advanced Physical Chemistry Laboratory (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C331; CHEM C334; CHEM C339. Advanced experimentation in chemical kinetics and thermodynamics, with complete laboratory reports. Lectures and laboratory.

CHEMISTRY C441
Selected Topics in Inorganic Chemistry (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C342. Selected topics in the field of Inorganic Chemistry chosen from current interest in this field. Particular topics may include: Organometallic Chemistry, Kinetics and Mechanisms of Inorganic Reactions, Electronic Spectroscopy of Transition-Metal Complexes, Inorganic Photochemistry, Introduction to X-ray Crystallography, and other current topics from the literature. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C442
Physical Methods in Inorganic Chemistry (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C241; CHEM C242; CHEM C211; CHEM C391, previously or concurrently. Introduction to symmetry and the character tables. Diffraction methods, X-ray, ESCA, UV-Visible, ORD and CD, EPR, Moessbauer, NQR, NMR, IR, and Raman. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C443
Selected Topics in Inorganic Chemistry (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. A student who has received credit for CHEM C441 may register for CHEM C443, provided the subject matter is different. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C449
Laboratory in Synthesis and Techniques in Inorganic Chemistry (1 credit)
Prerequisite: CHEM C442, previously or concurrently. Some of the techniques discussed in CHEM C442 will be employed in the laboratory to characterize and determine properties of compounds synthesized at the laboratory bench. Laboratory only.

CHEMISTRY C450
Research Project and Thesis (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Third-year standing in Honours Chemistry, or permission of the Department. The student will work on a research project selected in consultation with and conducted under the supervision of a faculty member of the Department; and will write a thesis on the results. The project will also be the subject of a seminar before the Department.
NOTE: Students planning to take this course must consult with the Chemistry Department as early as possible the year before the final year.

CHEMISTRY C470
Proteins and Lipids: Structure Function Relationships (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C372; CHEM C373. Application of spectroscopic methods (U.V., C.D., E.S.R. and fluorescence) to analyses of protein conformation changes in muscle proteins during contraction—ATP-myosin, actin-myosin and troponin-CA^{+2} interactions. Characterization of proteins in biological membranes—isolation, orientation, synthesis and function. Structure and function of phospholipids and cholesterol—physical state, transmembrane distribution, and lipid-protein interactions. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C471
Enzyme Kinetics and Mechanism (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C372; CHEM C373. Steady-state kinetics, including the use of initial velocity studies and product inhibition to establish a kinetic mechanism; non-steady-state kinetics, isotope effects, energy of activation, etc; detailed mechanisms of selected enzymes. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C472
Selected Topics in Biochemistry (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Selected topics in the field of Biochemistry chosen according to the interests of the instructor. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C473
Medicinal Chemistry I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C372; CHEM C373. Physicochemical principles of drug action. Influence of solubility, surface phenomena, stereochemistry and electronic properties on drug action. Nonspecific drugs, anaesthetics, membrane-active disinfectants and antibiotics. Quantitative structure-activity relationships. Receptor theory and models, methods of receptor characterization. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C474
Medicinal Chemistry II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CHEM C473. Drugs acting on endogenous messengers and their targets: Cholinergic, adrenergic, dopaminergic and serotoninergic neuronal systems. Histamine, amino acid neurotransmitters. Steroid and peptide hormones, prostaglandins. Enzymes as drug receptors. Drug design. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C475
Pharmacology I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C372; CHEM C373. Pharmacokinetics, drug metabolism and interaction. Toxicology, carcinogenecity, and teratogenecity. Drug development and testing. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C476
Pharmacology II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C475. Autonomic nervous system pharmacology. Functions of central nervous system, depressants, stimulants. Narcotic analgesics, addiction. Cardiovascular, renal, and endocrine pharmacology. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C477
Selected Topics in Biochemistry (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. A student who has received credit for CHEM C472 may register for CHEM C477, provided the subject matter is different. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C479
Advanced Biochemistry Laboratory
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Any two of CHEM C470, C471, C472; previously or concurrently. This course deals with the theory and practice of modern biochemical laboratory techniques. Laboratory only.

CHEMISTRY C490
Advanced Instrumentation (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C390; CHEM C399; CHEM C499 concurrently. Instrumental amplifiers, transducers, and measurement errors. Analog, time, and digital data domains. Optimization of electronic measurements, frequency response, sampling parameters, signal-to-noise enhancement and budget error analysis. Micro-processors for control, data acquisition, and interfacing to computers. Lectures only.

CHEMISTRY C492
Chemical Spectroscopy (4 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C321; CHEM C311; CHEM C316, or CHEM C391. Theory and application of EPR Spectroscopy, rotational spectroscopy, rotation-vibrational spectroscopy, Raman spectroscopy. Lectures and laboratory.

CHEMISTRY C499
Advanced Instrumentation Laboratory
(1 credit)

Prerequisite: CHEM C390; CHEM C399; CHEM C490 concurrently. Selected experiments to demonstrate the topics discussed in CHEM C490. Laboratory only.

PROGRAMMES

The Department offers courses in Ancient History, in Ancient Greek and Latin, and in classical literature read in the original or in translation. It also offers courses in classical civilization, Pre-History, and Archaeology.

The Department offers programmes in Classical Philology, Classical Studies and Classical Archaeology. The programme of Classical Philology requires linguistic competence in Ancient Greek and Latin, and is directed towards a comprehensive understanding and appreciation of Ancient History and Literature. The programme of Classical Studies does not require a knowledge of the languages, but is concerned with a broadly based study of ancient society. Students may register for Honours, Specialization, Major, or Minor in Classical Studies; or Honours, Major, or Minor in Classical Philology or Minor in Classical Archaeology. Moreover, all courses in these programmes are open as electives to students in other departments.

Students must consult the Department Chairman to select the courses in their programme. For details on suggested programmes, see the Classics Brochure. Students are advised to consult the timetable for the campus where individual courses will be offered.

Students admitted to the Honours programme on or after June 1, 1977, are bound by the Honours requirements outlined in §16.2.4 of this calendar. Students who already had Honours status by June 1, 1977, continue to be governed by the requirements which applied at the date of their admission to the Honours programme.

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.

The superscript indicates credit value.

60 BA Honours in Classical Studies

Year I

24 CLAS C211³, C212³, C240³, C242³, C261³, C262³, C266³, C267³

Years II and III

36 credits in Classical Studies over the two years, which must include the following courses:

15 CLAS C243³, C324³, C325³, C326³, C327³

The remaining 21 credits may be chosen from the following:

21 CLAS C230³, C231³, C241³, C254⁶, C280⁶, C290⁶, C322³, C323³, C344⁶, C350³, C351³, C352³, C353³, C370⁶, C446⁶, C448⁶ or C449⁶, C470³

60 BA Specialization in Classical Studies

Year I

24 CLAS C211³, C212³, C240³, C242³, C261³, C262³, C266³, C267³

Years II and III

36 credits in Classical Studies over the two years, which must include the following courses:

15 CLAS C243³, C324³, C325³, C326³, C327³

The remaining 21 credits may be chosen from the following:

21 CLAS C230³, C231³, C241³, C254⁶, C280⁶, C290⁶, C322³, C323³, C344⁶, C350³, C351³, C352³, C353³, C370⁶, C446⁶, C448⁶ or C449⁶, C470³

42 BA Major in Classical Studies

Year I

18 CLAS C211³, C212³, C240³, C242³, C261³, C262³

Year II

12 CLAS C266³, C267³, C326³, C327³

Year III

12 Chosen from CLAS C243³, C324³, and C325³; C350³ and C351³; C352³ and C353³; C254⁶, C280⁶, C290⁶, C370⁶, C470³

24 Minor in Classical Studies

6 CLAS C211³, C212³

6 Chosen from CLAS C240³, C241³, C242³

12 Chosen from CLAS C261³ and C262³, C266³, C267³, C324³, C325³, C326³, C327³, C350³, C351³

72 BA Honours in Classical Philology

Year I

18 CLAS C240³, C242³, C280⁶, C290⁶

6 Chosen from CLAS C211³ and C212³, C326³, C327³

Years II and III

12 CLAS C380[6] and C390[6]

18 Credits of Latin selected from CLAS C490[6], C491[6], C492[6], C493[6], C494[6], C495[3]

18 Credits of Greek selected from CLAS C480[6], C481[6], C482[6], C483[6], C484[6], C485[6]

42 BA Major in Classical Philology

Year I

18 CLAS C211[3], C212[3], C280[6], C290[6]

Year II

18 CLAS C240[3], C242[3], C380[6], C390[6]

Year III

6 One advanced Latin or Greek course

24 Minor in Classical Philology

24 CLAS credits in either Greek and/or Latin

24 Minor in Classical Archaeology

12 CLAS C266[3], C364[3], C365[3], C366[3]

3 CLAS C267[3] or C367[3]*

9 Chosen, with the approval of the Department, from courses in Classics or Art History, or from field-work courses in Archaeology offered by other institutions

Students with credits for Art History C338[6] or C339[6] will be permitted to replace CLAS C267[3] or C367[3] with an elective approved by the Department.*

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

CLASSICS C211
The Beginnings of European Literature (Greek Literature) (3 credits)
The Greek background of European literature. Selections from Homer, the Greek dramatists, Plato, and Aristotle's Poetics.

CLASSICS C212
The Beginnings of European Literature (Latin Literature) (3 credits)
The Roman background of European literature. Selections from Lucretius, Catullus, Cicero, Virgil, Horace, Ovid, Seneca, and Juvenal.

CLASSICS C230
(also given as History C219)
The Ancient Near East I (3 credits)
A survey of the political, social, economic, and intellectual history of the Ancient Near East, from the Neolithic age to the Indo-European invasions of the early 2nd Millennium, with special emphasis placed upon the problem of the emergence of civilization in Mesopotamia, Egypt, and the Indus valley. Ancient sources utilized wherever possible.

CLASSICS C231
(also given as History C221)
The Ancient Near East II (3 credits)
A survey of the political, social, economic, and intellectual history of the Ancient Near East, from the Indo-European invasion of the early 2nd Millennium to the establishment of the Persian Empire, with special emphasis placed upon the process of diffusion of civilization throughout the Near Eastern World, the creation of Egyptian, Mesopotamian, and Persian imperialism, and the development of Hebrew monotheism. Ancient sources utilized wherever possible.

CLASSICS C240
(also given as History C223)
Greek History I (3 credits)
A political, social, economic, and cultural history of Greece from Minoan-Mycenaean times to the end of Classical Greek civilization in the fourth-century B.C., with special emphasis placed upon fifth-century Athens.

CLASSICS C241
(also given as History C224)
Greek History II (3 credits)
A political, social, economic, and cultural history of the Greek World from Alexander the Great to the Roman conquest of Greece in 146 B.C. Although due attention will be paid to developments within the Hellenistic kingdoms and to the later Greek achievements in art, literature, science, philosophy, and religion, the process of fusion of Hellenism with the Orient—vital for the evolution of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam—will be extensively explored.

CLASSICS C242
(also given as History C225)
Roman History (3 credits)

A political, social, economic, and cultural history of Rome from the City's origins to the establishment of the Roman Empire under the Emperor Augustus.

CLASSICS C243
(also given as History C226)
History of the Roman Empire (3 credits)

A political, social, economic and cultural history of the Roman Empire from Augustus to Justinian the Great. Attention will be paid to the rise of Christianity and the continuity of Roman law and administration in both the eastern and western parts of the Late Roman Empire.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C343 (HIST C320) may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C254
Women in Classical Antiquity (6 credits)

An examination of the social status and political influence of women in ancient Greece and Rome. Particular emphasis will be placed upon the apparent contradiction between the seemingly inferior position occupied by women in fifth-century Athens and the general enlightenment that characterized the epoch. Within this context, the influence of war upon the struggle for feminine emancipation , as seen through the eyes of tragedians, comic writers, philosophers, and historians, will be considered. Due attention will also be paid to the movement for feminine emancipation during the Late Roman Republic and Early Empire.

CLASSICS C257
A Comparative Study of Judaic and Greek Traditions I (3 credits)

The end of the First Diaspora; the books of Ezra and Nehemia; differing political, social and intellectucal currents in Judea under Persian rule; first links with the Greeks; Alexander legend in Josephus and Talmud; Ptolemaic rule in Palestine; the family of the Tobiads; the Jews of the Fayum; the Jews of Egypt in Ptolemaic times; the books of Ben Sira and Daniel; Development of the Oral Law.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C256 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C258
A Comparative Study of Judaic and Greek Traditions II (3 credits)

Hellenistic Civilization in Jewish Palestine in the second century B.C.; political developments preceding the accession of Antiochus IV Epiphanes; the Greek cities of Palestine; the Hellenistic reforms; Jerusalem as a Greek City; Antiochus' persecution of Judaism; the Maccabean Wars; Hasmonean Hellenism; Hellenistic Civilization in the Diaspora; Jewish Community and Greek city; Alexandria; Platonic influence upon Philo Judaeus; Hellenistic Antisemitism; Hellenistic Jewish literature; Apocrypha and Pseudepigrapha; cross influences of Judaism and Hellenism as manifested in philosophical and religious writing, symbols, customs and language of the period.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C256 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C261
Introduction to Greek and Roman Mythology (3 credits)

This course will explore the nature of Classical Mythology and will examine the stories about the gods and the heroes of the Greeks and Romans, as found in their literature and culture.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C260 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C262
Myth and Mythmaking (3 credits)

An examination of the universal features of myth. Recurrent patterns of myth in Mesopotamian, Egyptian, Greek and Roman mythologies.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C260 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C266
An Introduction to Classical Archaeology (3 credits)

Archaeology as an art and as a science: towards a definition of archaeology. The history of classical archaeology. Field archaeology today, its tools and techniques: stratigraphy, excavation, and artifact analysis. The relationship of archaeology to Pre-History, History, Fine Arts, and Anthropology.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C264/HIST C227 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C267
The Archaeology of the Greek Bronze Age (3 credits)

The Bronze Age in Crete and Greece within the context of Near Eastern civilizations. Cnossos, Mycenae, Troy. Presentation classification, dating, and interpretation of selected artifacts.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C265/HIST C229 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C268
Meso-American Archaeology (3 credits)

An archaeological and anthropological study of the pre-Columbian peoples, cultures, and civilizations of ancient Mexico, Belize, Guatemala, and Honduras: the Olmec "mother culture" Izape, Monte Alban, Tlatilco, and Teotihuacan. The glory and the grandeur of the Maya. Form and iconography in meso-American art. From the Toltecs to the Aztecs. An aesthetic appreciation of pre-Columbian art and architecture. Current excavations, theories, and controversies among Americanists. Some work at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts.

CLASSICS C269
South American Archaeology (3 credits)
An archaeological and anthropological study of the pre-Columbian peoples, cultures, and civilizations of ancient Peru, Columbia, Ecuador, Bolivia, and Chile: the "mother culture" of Chavin de Huantar. Valdivian pottery and stone-age (Jomon) Japan. The great empires of Peru before the Incas: Huari-Tiahuanaco, Chan Chan, and Chimu. Paracas, Nazca, and Mochica art. The "tears of the sun", and the coming of the Incas. Characteristics of Inca civilization. A survey of current excavations and research. Some work at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts.

CLASSICS C280
Elementary Classical Greek (6 credits)
A course for those with no previous knowledge of Greek. Major emphasis will be placed on assisting the student in acquiring a reading command of the language. This course is designed not only for those interested in classical literature but also for students in the departments of History, Philosophy and Theology.

CLASSICS C290
Elementary Latin (6 credits)
A course for those with no previous knowledge of Latin. Major emphasis will be placed on assisting the student in acquiring a reading command of the language. Open to all students, but especially to those interested in classical languages, History, Philosophy, and Theology.

CLASSICS C322
The Comic Art (3 credits)
An investigation into the evolution of comedy from our earliest literary sources to the present. The classical influence in later comic literature. Theories of comedy, ancient and modern. Reading material will be drawn mainly from Greek and Roman dramatic literature.
NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C222 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C323
Roman Satire I (3 credits)
A study of the satiric genre, its birth and development in Roman literature and its connection with the early novel as seen in the English translations of the works of Horace, Juvenal, Petronius, Persius, Seneca, and Apuleius, with attention to the social climate and historical events of the period.
NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C223 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C324
Homer and the Epic Hero I (3 credits)
This course will deal mainly with the Iliad of Homer: its form, content, and meaning as an oral epic. Also investigated will be the hero in a warrior society: his privileges, responsibilities, and moral values.
NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C224 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C325
Homer and the Epic Hero II (3 credits)
This course will deal mainly with the Odyssey of Homer and the Aeneid of Virgil. A comparison will also be made with the concept of the hero in ancient and in modern literature.
NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C225 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C326
Greek and Roman Drama I (3 credits)
A study of the origins and growth of Attic Tragedy with a close examination of plays of Aeschylus and Sophocles.
NOTE: Students who have received credits for CLAS C220 or C320 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C327
Greek and Roman Drama II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CLAS C326. A continued study of the development of Greek Tragedy as seen in plays of Euripides. The origins and growth of Greek Comedy as seen in plays of Aristophanes and Menander. The influence of classical Greek drama on the Roman playwrights Plautus, Terence and Seneca and on European drama.
NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C220 and C320 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C344
Propaganda and Political Deception in Greek and Roman History (6 credits)
Prerequisite: An Ancient History course. An examination of the relationship between political ideas and practice, with particular emphasis upon the slogans and false ideologies invented to justify war, peace, and the implementation of political and constitutional programmes by both radical and reactionary elements. Though inevitably the chief sources discussed will be literary, due attention will also be directed towards the value of numismatic, epigraphic, and artistic material as a means of winning over the mind of man.

CLASSICS C345
(also given as History C324)
History of Byzantium, 602-1453 (6 credits)
A survey of the transformation from the Late Roman Empire into the Byzantine commonwealth, and changes in economic and social conditions. Special attention is given to the reorganization of administrative and military structures, the relationship between Byzantium and its Balkan neighbours, the Arab conquest, and the rising importance of Asia Minor.

CLASSICS C350
Greeks and the Afterlife (3 credits)
A study of ideas of immortality as reflected in classical Greek literature. An examination of myths, mystery religions, and schools of philosophical thought. This literary survey will include readings translated from the works of Homer, Hesiod, Sophocles, Euripides, and Plato.
NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C250 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C351
Romans and the Afterlife (3 credits)

A study of the growth of early Roman customs connected with the supernatural. Burial practices and tomb paintings of the Etruscans. Popular Roman concepts of the underworld and the influence of Greek myth. The intellectual influence of Greek philosophy on later Roman religious thought as reflected in the works of Cicero and Lucretius. Religion and the patriotic ideal in the Augustan revival, as reflected in Virgil's Aeneid.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C251 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C352
Love, Hate, and Friendship in the Classical World I (3 credits)

The growth and the failure of human relationships were of intimate concern to men and women in the ancient world, as they are today. This course will investigate, in the literature of classical times, the evolving shape of human encounter in terms of three basic emotions: love, hate, and friendship. The theme "love" will be examined as expressed in the Odyssey of Homer, and especially in the love poetry of Greece and Rome.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C252 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C353
Love, Hate, and Friendship in the Classical World II (3 credits)

The theme "hate and revenge" will be seen in its most tragic form in the Iliad of Homer, and in the plays of the Greek dramatists. The third theme, "friendship", will be examined in its elemental form in the Iliad of Homer, and then in its urbane expression in the works of Plato and Cicero.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for CLAS C253 may not take this course for credits.

CLASSICS C364
Classical Greek Art and Archaeology
(3 credits)

The art and architecture of the Greek world from 900 to 323 B.C. A study of the geometric, archaic, and classical periods with particular attention to painting (especially ceramics), sculpture, and architecture. The concept of "style" in archaeological dating. The works of Exekias and Douris, of Phidias and Praxiteles, and of Iktinos and Kallikrates as representative of the "ideal" in Classical Greek Art. Some work at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts.

CLASSICS C365
Art and Archaeology of the Hellenistic Age
(3 credits)

The art and architecture of the Greek world after the death of Alexander the Great. Hellenistic aestheticism, synthesis of oriental and Greek tradition in the visual arts. Development of motifs of anxiety and eroticism. Impact of Hellenistic art on Rome and Italy.

CLASSICS C366
Etruscan and Roman Republican Art and Archaeology (3 credits)

PROGRAMMES

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.

The superscript indicates credit value.

The Department offers two programmes of study, and two others jointly with Journalism.

a) Bachelor of Arts, Specialization in Communication Studies: consisting of 60 credits in Communication Studies and 30 credits from electives outside the Department.

b) Bachelor of Arts, Major in Communication Studies: consisting of 42 credits in Communication Studies and 48 credits from electives outside the Department.

c) Bachelor of Arts, Specialization in Communication and Journalism: consisting of 60 credits in Communication and Journalism courses and 30 credits from electives outside Communication and Journalism.

d) Bachelor of Arts, Specialization in Broadcast Journalism: consisting of 60 credits in Communication and Journalism courses and 30 credits from electives outside Communication and Journalism. This programme was first offered in 1981-82.

Elective credits are understood as courses taken in other departments or faculties of the University. Credits in Communication Studies or Journalism, or in Cinema (Faculty of Fine Arts) may not be used in lieu of electives.

200-level courses are normally taken in first year, 300-level courses in second year, 400-level courses in third year.

Written work may be required in English for courses in Journalism; please consult the Department.

Department Objectives

The Department of Communication Studies was founded in 1965 (as Communication Arts), the first at a Canadian university.

The Department's programmes are generalist in nature and take a broad approach to the study of media and communication in today's world. Of primary concern is a humanistic understanding, a value-oriented appreciation of the role of mass media in society. Programmes intend to develop the student's critical judgment and creative potential by both theoretical and practical work.

Each of the Department's programmes has three basic components: 1) a humanities and liberal arts emphasis (Group 1 courses); 2) a social-science and research emphasis (Group 2 courses); 3) a creative laboratory-experience emphasis (Group 3 courses).

Graduates of the Department's programmes have found careers in: 1) Radio, Television, Broadcast Journalism; 2) Film, other media industries, media departments of business; 3) Small media firms and free-lance media work; 4) Educational institutions (teaching, A/V services); 5) Advertising, Public Relations, Promotion, Marketing, Sales, Information, etc.; 6) Advanced studies and research; 7) Other professions, and government services.

Facilities

The Department has one television-film studio equipped with 3/4" colour videocassette recording and editing facilities, two 3/4" colour video portapak units, 10 B/W 1/2" portapaks; 7 x 16mm film units, 16mm sync and editing units, and complete super 8mm sync sound/film units; photographic laboratories; a holographic and laser laboratory; multiple sound facilities; a research studio for the measurement of visual and audio-information loads, an electronic and electromechanical programmer for multi-media use; and a Learning Centre with audio-slide film-video terminals for independent study.

Department Admission Requirements

The number of students that can be accommodated every year in our department is physically limited by the room available in labs, the amount of equipment and the number of professors. Approximately 120 students are admitted every year, giving a student population of about 300 in the three years of our undergraduate programme. Applications consistently outnumber the department's capacity. For this reason, the Department of Communication Studies has a distinct admission procedure, in addition to the normal admission process of Concordia University.

The Department is prepared to receive applications as early as January, and to arrange interviews, for the following academic year. Interested candidates should obtain information about admission requirements of Communication Studies by contacting the Admissions Committee, Department of Communication Studies, Loyola Campus, Concordia University, 7141 Sherbrooke Street West, Montreal, Quebec. H4B 1R6. Telephone: (514) 482-0320, ext. 276.

Diploma in Communication Studies

The Department also offers a one-year diploma programme for students who have completed their undergraduate degree in another field. Detailed information on the programme is given in the University's Calendar of Graduate Studies.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C230
Basic Writing for the Media (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. This course is designed to provide knowledge of and practice in the special written forms and formats utilized by the media. Assignments are practically oriented toward possible student productions.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C240
Communication Theory (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. Through lectures, discussions, and selected readings from the works of key theoreticians, this course introduces students to major approaches to the understanding of the process of communication.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C255
Communication Analysis (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. General and detailed analysis of various information complexes; e.g., museums, galleries, exhibitions, countrysides, landscapes, city streets, highways, department stores, churches, etc., from the point of information values used to influence future prospective audiences of films, television programmes, or exhibition and theatre visitors. The basic values of light, space, sound, picture, words, and exhibit structures will be explored through individual student projects in real locations. Students will work on individual projects under the supervision of the directing professor. Tutorial course.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C275
Visual Dynamics I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. In this course, students are led to discover fundamental laws which underlie visual representation. The overall method consists of basic experiments in vision and perception: to explore distances, planes, tones, colour, light, etc. Photography is the medium by which these experiments are recorded for observation and discussion. Lectures and Laboratory: average 6 hours per week.

NOTE: Students are required to bear some of the cost of materials.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C278
Seminar and Practicum in Sound I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. This course is designed to provide the student with a basic working knowledge of audio systems both natural and electronic, to understand the various affective and psychological qualities of sound, and how sound may be structured into imaginative aural forms. Lectures and Laboratory: average 6 hours per week.

NOTE: Students are required to bear some of the cost of materials.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C284
Seminar and Practicum in Film and Video I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. A practical approach to an understanding of the common elements of film and video media, and of the specific differences inherent in their effective use. Course methodology includes lectures, screenings, readings, portapak video and Super 8mm film productions. Lectures and Laboratory: average 6 hours per week.

NOTE: Students are required to bear some of the costs of materials.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C300
Selected Topics in Communication Studies (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. Content will depend on the theme designated by the Department.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C301
Selected Topics in Communication Studies (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. Students who have received credit for COMS C300 may register for COMS C301 provided the subject matter is different.

Prerequisite: COMS C275, and permission of the Department. This course involves both theory and fieldwork in photographing man-made environments; e.g., the city, using natural light. The student will acquire an understanding of the problems of distance and direction by means of lectures, critiques of fieldwork, and individual consultation.

NOTE: Students are required to possess certain recommended equipment and to bear some of the costs of materials.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C375
Visual Dynamics III (6 credits)

Prerequisite: COMS C374, and permission of the Department. A study of the development of visual artifacts and media in the search for an increasingly adequate mimesis of persons, situations, and meanings. The course comprises both the practical and the theoretical aspects of the visual image, historically and currently, and examines the assumptions underlying the quest for the auto-communicative image. Lectures and Laboratory: average, 6 hours per week.

NOTE:Students are required to bear some of the cost of materials.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C378
Seminar and Practicum in Sound II (6 credits)

Prerequisite: COMS C278 and permission of the Department. This course gives the student a knowledge of the basic disciplines necessary for constructing aural message forms from the simplest to the most complex; also, experience in the various technologies required to apply these aural forms to radio, film, television, etc. Students will prepare, produce, and direct, individually and in teams, a number of projects. Lectures and Laboratory: average, 6 hours per week.

NOTE: Students are required to bear some of the cost of materials.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C381
Seminar and Practicum in Film II (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Above-average standing in COMS C284 and permission of the Department. This course involves an examination of the communicative process through the medium of film. Areas covered include scripting, directing, and shooting, with both silent and sync-sound equipment. Productions are designed to test the students' theoretical knowledge and give practical experience in the craft of film-making. Lectures and Laboratory: average, 6 hours per week.

NOTE: Students are required to bear some of the cost of materials.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C387
Seminar and Practicum in Television II (6 credits)

Prerequisite: COMS C284 and permission of the Department. A study of the components related to the creation of the television documentary and short-feature programme in terms of the theoretical possibilities inherent in the medium. Student productions in the two genres, from idea-stage through completed videotape, constitute the laboratory section of the course. Lectures and Laboratory: average, 6 hours per week.

NOTE: Students are required to bear some of the cost of materials.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C417
Film Ideas (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. Seminar using film criticism to focus on aesthetic/cultural dimension of present trend-setting films, and to explore students' sensibility in context of contemporary culture. Methodology includes viewings, discussions, written critiques, critical/aesthetic readings.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C435
Documentary Film and Television Genres I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMS C306; COMS C331, or permission of the Department. Survey of genres in documentary film and television such as: biographical, industrial, travelogue, nature, scientific, training, educational, children's films and TV programmes. Examples from Canada, USA, Europe.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C436
Documentary Film and Television Genres II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMS C435. An in-depth study of one of the film and television genres surveyed in COMS C435. Tutorial course.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C437
Seminar in Media Forecast (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. This course examines trends in film, sound, television, and other media for future applications. The course includes theory of media effects. Representatives from industry and government are invited to discuss future trends in media utilization. The course demands a theoretical and practical model for original or novel use of a medium or media mix.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C440
Advanced Topics in Communication Studies (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. This course focuses on advanced topics of interest in Communication Studies. Content will depend on the theme designated by the Department.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C441
Advanced Topics in Communication Studies (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. Students who have received credit for COMS C440 may register for COMS C441 provided the subject matter is different.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C442
Advanced Topics in Communication Studies (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. This course focuses on advanced topics of interest in Communication Studies. Content will depend on the theme designated by the Department.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C443
Advanced Topics in Communication Studies (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. Students who have received credit for COMS C442 may register for COMS C443 provided the subject matter is different.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C444
Television Aesthetics I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. Television in contemporary culture is examined critically as an art form, not simply as a transmission device. Aspects of television aesthetics in the Canadian experience are highlighted. Extensive individual viewing and analysis in the Department's Learning Centre.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C445
Television Aesthetics II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. A continuation of COMS C444 for students who have done superior work and who wish to research particular genres or a particular television series in depth. Tutorial. Assignments include critical reviews, an oral report and a written paper.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C446
Ethics and Responsibility in Broadcast Journalism (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing in a Communication Studies or Journalism programme. This course considers broadcast journalism in the context of philosophical and ethical principles. It aims to assess realistically the responsibilities of broadcast reporting, news analysis and to examine critically the role of broadcast journalism in society.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C450
Advanced Topics in Broadcast Journalism (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing in a Communication Studies or Journalism programme. Content will depend on the special theme designated each year.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C451
Advanced Topics in Broadcast Journalism (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing in a Communication Studies or Journalism programme. Students who have received credit for COMS C450 may register for COMS C451 provided the subject matter is different.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C465
Organizational and Political Communication (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Open to all University students with third-year standing and permission of the Department. After initial defining and relating of organizational and political communication, basic principles and media forms of each are isolated. Then, consideration of the learning objectives of seminar participants will lead to the further exploration of such topics as: formal/informal patterns of communication, components of communication networks, internal/external communication of organizations, interrelations between media and politics, role of media in creating national unity, organized campaigning, etc. Activities include: readings and discussions; field study and analysis; research and presentation; guest lectures.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C466
Media and Development (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Open to all University students with at least third-year standing, with permission of the Department. The course considers the relationship among media, social and cultural change, and economic development. Theory, research, and projects focus on media's possible effect on and usefulness to underdeveloped areas.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C467
Broadcasting Policy in Canada (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Open to all University students with third-year standing and permission of the Department. This course acquaints the student with the historical development of broadcasting and broadcasting legislation in Canada. It also examines the nature of the two major broadcasting influences on the Canadian national system: Great Britain and the United States. It covers the present state of broadcasting policy in Canada, its goals and problems, and explores alternative solutions.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C470
Advertising and the Consumer Society
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department; priority will be given to students in Communication Studies programmes. Advertising as an economic force is examined from a mass-media focus. Communication strategies are analyzed. A promotional campaign is prepared and presented as a team project.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C471
Public Relations: Principles and Problems
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department; priority will be given to students in Communication Studies programmes. This course considers the principles and responsibilities of Public Relations, and critically examines specific P.R. problems and the choice of media in effecting solutions.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C475
Visual Dynamics IV (6 credits)

Prerequisite: COMS C375, and permission of the Department. Developing the visual imagination: conceiving and organizing ideas for expression through media, such as Print, Film, Television. Each student will be asked to conceive a 'story' (an integrated narrative), and to determine its most appropriate visual presentation (emphasizing the story's significance and maintaining overall unity). Three presentational modes will be considered: a) the controlled sequence; b) the randomly perceived message; c) the pictorial symbol. Lectures and Laboratory: average, 6 hours per week.

NOTE: Students are required to bear some of the cost of materials

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C478
Seminar and Practicum in Sound III
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: COMS C378 and permission of the Department. Conceptual and practical study of the temporal and spatial structure of synthetic sound. Control of the fine and coarse structure of the volume, pitch and timbre of synthesized sound. Lectures and production projects are designed to give the student a broad acquaintance with the current concepts and techniques in electronic sound production. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students are required to bear some of the cost of materials.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C481
Seminar and Practicum in Film III
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: Above-average standing in COMS C381 and permission of the Department. An advanced course in film theory and communication. Film-making processes covered will include scripting, directing, "A and B roll" editing, and shooting with crystal sync-sound equipment. Lectures and Laboratory: average, 6 hours per week.

NOTE: Students are required to bear some of the cost of materials.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C487
Seminar and Practicum in Television III
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: Above-average standing in COMS C387, and approval of the Department. An advanced course in television theory and communication. Possible options, depending on the ability of the students in any one year, include the dramatic documentary and the complete adaptation for television of professional plays. Lectures and Laboratory: average, 6 hours per week.

NOTE: Students are required to bear some of the cost of materials.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C490
Communication Research Laboratory
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Research under tutorial direction in one of the following topics: communication programming, computer communication programming, digital and analog media analysis, biometric or biotelemetric research in film and television, basic and advanced holography, multi-media design.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C496
Honours Project I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. Towards the end of their second year, students enrolled in a Communication Studies programme who have demonstrated scholarly and creative ability may be selected for major research or production in a communications area of special interest. During the third year, individually or in teams, the project is realized in close collaboration with Faculty directors.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for COMS C495 may not take this course for credits.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES C497
Honours Project II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Open only to students in Communication Studies programmes. Students who have received credit for COMS C496 may register for COMS C497.

ECONOMICS CO-OPERATIVE PROGRAMME

Director
M. ARMSTRONG, Professor

The Economics Co-Operative Programme is offered to students who are enrolled in the B.A. Honours or Specialization in Economics.

Students in Economics Co-Op take the regular academic programme. The schedule of academic and work periods for an entering group of Economics Co-Op students is given in §31.515.

The overseeing of the Economics Co-Op Programme is the responsibility of the Director of the Economics Co-Operative programme and the departmental Co-Op Committee, which provides the connecting link between students, employers and the Institute for Co-Operative Education.

Students interested in applying for Economics Co-Op should refer to §31.515 where a full description of the admission requirements is provided or write to The Principal, Institute for Co-Operative Education, 7308 Sherbrooke Street West, Montreal, Quebec, H4B 1R6. For information by telephone see "CONTACTS" in §31.515.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

ECONOMICS C200
Introductory Economics (6 credits)
This course is primarily for students not majoring in Economics. Its content is essentially the same as that of ECON C201 and C203. However, there is greater emphasis on Canadian economic institutions and government policies. It is open to all students except those in Commerce, and does not count as credit towards any Economics programme.

ECONOMICS C201
Introduction to Microeconomics (3 credits)
Introduction to the functioning of the market system; concepts of supply and demand, the role of prices in resource allocation; production decisions by firms. Analysis of differences between competition and monopoly, and the implications for economic efficiency; theories of labour markets and wage determination.

ECONOMICS C203
Introduction to Macroeconomics (3 credits)
An introductory analysis of aggregate economic activity. The focus is on the principles of determination of the level of employment, national income, real output, inflation, and international balance of payments. The course also analyzes the principles which govern trade relations among countries. These topics are integrated by a discussion of government monetary and fiscal policies to stabilize economic activity.

ECONOMICS C221
Statistical Methods I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CEGEP Mathematics 201, or equivalent. Elementary probability, permutations and combinations, binomial and normal distribution. Analysis and organization of statistical data. Tests of hypotheses. Confidence limits. Introduction into linear regression and correlation. NOTE See §200.7

NOTE: Credits will be given for only one 6-credit course or two 3-credit courses from ECON C221 and C222, MATH C207 and C241, QUAN C243 and C244, SOCI C210, PSYC C317 and C318.

ECONOMICS C222
Statistical Methods II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C221, or equivalent. The course is an introduction to the application of statistical techniques to economic data. Topics discussed will include, among others, time series, statistical inference, analysis of variance, correlation and regression. NOTE See §200.7

NOTE: Credits will be given for only one 6-credit course or two 3-credit courses from ECON C221 and C222, MATH C207 and C241, QUAN C243 and C244, SOCI C210, PSYC C317 and C318.

ECONOMICS C250
Introduction to Economic History
(6 credits)
A study of the economic development of western societies. Particular attention will be paid to Europe during the period from the sixteenth century to the present day. The aim of the course is to provide an understanding of the interconnections among social, economic, and political change.

ECONOMICS C301
Intermediate Microeconomic Theory I
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. Theory and measurement of demand, theory of consumer behaviour, production, theory of the firm, and cost analysis.

ECONOMICS C302
Intermediate Microeconomic Theory II
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C301. Market structure (perfect competition, monopoly, oligopoly), industrial concentration, factor markets, income distribution, economic efficiency, general equilibrium, welfare economics.

ECONOMICS C303
Intermediate Macroeconomic Theory I
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. An analysis of the major areas of aggregate economics. Topics will include the definition and measurement of regional income and the theory of income determination in the classical and in the Keynesian systems.

ECONOMICS C304
Intermediate Macroeconomic Theory II
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C303. Topics will include review of the complete Keynesian system, business cycles, economic fluctuations in Canada, inflation and unemployment theories, macroeconomic policies, economic growth, and their theory and application to Canada.

ECONOMICS C311
Economic Development I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. The course investigates comparative economic development, with special attention to problems of capital formation, population growth, quality of labour force, and social and cultural attitudes towards economic modernization. Theories of economic development are evaluated in the context of the realities of historical patterns and the varying degrees of ability to achieve modernization.

ECONOMICS C312
Economic Development II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C311. The concept and meaning of economic planning, methodology and strategy of planning, input-output and sector analysis, techniques of planning, investment criteria and priorities, study and appraisal of economic plans of a few countries.

ECONOMICS C315
The Economic Development of Quebec
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. This course will review past and present trends in the economic development of Quebec. Emphasis will be placed on the economic growth of Quebec since the Second World War. Attention will be given to the regional aspects of Quebec's growth problems.

ECONOMICS C316
Canadian Economic Issues I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. This course will be devoted to an analysis of some economic issues facing Canada; for example, employment and unemployment, inflation, economic growth and potential, income distribution, social-security policies, monetary and fiscal policies.

ECONOMICS C317
Canadian Economic Issues II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. This course is similar to ECON C316, but will cover a different group of topics; for example, foreign ownership and control, regional-development problems, monopoly and competition, government regulation of business, agricultural policy, trade policy.

ECONOMICS C323
The Use of Economic Data (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. The purpose of this course is to acquaint the student with the sources, interpretation and methods of application of economic data. To achieve this, the student will be introduced to computerized statistical packages (e.g. TSP, SPSS, MPOS), computerized and other data bases (e.g. CANSIM), and the use of bibliographic search techniques.

ECONOMICS C325
Mathematics for Economists I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203; MATH C201, or equivalent. This course introduces the student to differential and integral calculus and to their applications in economic analysis. Topics covered include set theory, the concept of limits and rules for differentiation and integration. It also deals with the relevance of these concepts and techniques to economic problems such as maximization, equilibrium analysis, and dynamic adjustments.

ECONOMICS C326
Mathematics for Economists II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. The main emphasis is on the study of linear algebra and its application to the solution of economic models consisting of a system of linear simultaneous equations. Topics covered include: matrices and vectors; basic properties of determinants and their use in solving equations pertaining to economic problems, such as linear programming and constrained optimization.

ECONOMICS C331
Money and Banking (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. Overview of a monetary economy: nature, forms and the economic role of money. Monetary standards: markets, prices, and the value of money; the payments system; financial markets. Determinants of size and distribution of wealth portfolios. Supply of money: measure, composition, and size determination. The economic role of commercial banks and non-bank financial intermediaries. Central banking and monetary policy. The international monetary system. (Topics will be covered within the Canadian banking institutional framework.)

ECONOMICS C335
Economics of the Public Sector I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. This course examines government fiscal activity within the context of a free-market system. Rationale for public-sector activity is reviewed in terms of economic efficiency conditions and the market failures. Among the topics covered in the course are growth of public spending, the concept of public good externalities, collective decision-making process, pure theory of public expenditures, local expenditures analysis, and efficiency in public spending, with special reference to Quebec and Canada.

ECONOMICS C336
Economics of the Public Sector II
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. The principal purpose of this course is to examine and evaluate the important elements of the Canadian fiscal structure, emphasizing taxation and the financing of public expenditures. Among others, issues in taxation of income, both at the individual and corporate levels, excise and sales taxation, taxation of capital gains and wealth, intergovernmental fiscal relations, and tax reform will be taken up.

ECONOMICS C341
International Economic Relations
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. This course focuses on the discussion and the analysis of the major forms of economic relations among nations; viz., international trade and international capital movements. Emphasis is placed on policies and institutions for the smooth functioning of the international economy, although some theoretical constructs are also introduced. Topics covered include international trade, protection, balance of payments, economic integration, and international monetary system.

ECONOMICS C351
Economic History of Canada (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. This course is designed to introduce the student to Canadian economic development from the early period of settlement to the present day. Emphasis will be placed on the economic history of Canada since Confederation.

ECONOMICS C352
Economic History of the U.S.A. (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. American economic history will be presented from the viewpoint of the "new" economic history. This is a topical approach in which formal economics is used to evaluate traditional historical material. Among the topics which will be covered are: the economic consequences of slavery, the American business cycle, the development of American central banking, the merger movements, the causes of the American "take-off", and the economic causes and consequences of the major wars.

ECONOMICS C353
Economic History of Europe (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. The course will explore the causes and consequences of the British Industrial Revolution and its diffusion to the Continent, in terms of differential national-growth patterns, and social problems associated with economic change. It will include an analysis of free trade, economic nationalism, the new imperialism, the importance of the crisis of 1929, in terms of economic organization, thought, and policy. Post-World War II reorganization, in terms of planning the welfare state, and economic integration.

ECONOMICS C361
Industrial Organization (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. This course develops the relationship of the firm to various forms of market structure. The course will focus on the objectives of the corporation, corporate interdependence, and the government control of industry. A study of policy matters will centre on anti-trust and corporate regulation, with respect to both the legislative and economic aspects.

ECONOMICS C362
Economics of the Firm (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C222 or QUAN C244. This course stresses the application of economic principles and methodologies to the decision making process of the firm, with an emphasis on the role of risk and uncertainty. Topics will include decision-making criteria, demand analysis and estimation, cost analysis and estimation, pricing theory under various market structures, applied topics in pricing, and the impact of government on the firm. This course is primarily of interest to Commerce students, but is open to others as well.

ECONOMICS C370
Comparative Economic Systems (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. A comparative study of contemporary economic systems. While mainly concerned with the institutional features of contemporary free-market economics, the course will also deal with their counterparts, the systems of a command economy, and a Socialist market economy. Of primary interest will be the institutions, mechanisms, and policies which govern allocation, efficiency, growth, and distribution of income, with emphasis on the historical background of the institutions and the social, political, and ideological influences which continue to shape them.

ECONOMICS C374
Theory and Practice of Cooperation
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. This course will deal with the effect of cooperatives on economic and social development, with emphasis on Quebec and Canada. Among the topics discussed are the origins and development of the cooperative economy, differences among cooperative, capitalist, and communist economic systems; economic, social, educational, and moral transformations taking place under cooperative influence, and the role of cooperation on the international political scene.

ECONOMICS C375
The Soviet Economy (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. The evolution of the Soviet economic system and the policy measures adopted to deal with the problems of establishing and consolidating a socialist state. Special attention is given to Lenin's role in the early phase of the Soviet system, and early economic measures, such as the collectivization of farms. Other topics covered are: the nature of economic planning and progress under Stalin, and the important recent reforms and modifications of the Soviet system under the impact of Liberman's proposals.

ECONOMICS C377
The Chinese Economy (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. This course is devoted to an analysis of Chinese economic development since 1949. Topics include: performance and efficiency, strategy for development, agricultural organization, the contribution of policy to economic growth, the industrial sector, control and allocation of resources, national economic planning.

ECONOMICS C381
Labour Economics I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. The general objective of this course is to acquaint the student with various theoretical and empirical issues in the area of labour economics. Particular emphasis is placed upon the relation between theoretical frameworks and their empirical counterparts in Canada. Topics include the theory of wage determination, the effects of minimum wages, human capital theory, the economics of discrimination, and the economics of the household.

ECONOMICS C382
Industrial Relations I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. A study of the general and practical problems that arise in the labour field, such as collective bargaining, the legal framework for the settlement of industrial disputes, the weapons of industrial conflict; the labour movement; contemporary labour issues, such as automation, cost-push inflation, and structural employment.

ECONOMICS C383
Industrial Relations II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C382. Topics in industrial relations, with particular emphasis on developments in Canada.

ECONOMICS C386
Economics of Human Resources (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. A study of recent contributions by economists to the understanding of and solution to social problems which society currently faces in the areas of crime, health, education, and welfare. In addition, specific federal and provincial governmental policies in these areas are analyzed with the standard tools of economics.

ECONOMICS C387
Labour Law (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. The development of the trade union movement and early labour legislation in the U.S.A. and Canada; collective bargaining; labour law in Canada and Quebec today, with emphasis on the Industrial Relations and Disputes Investigations Act (Canada), the Quebec Labour Code, and related statutes. An in-depth study of employer's free speech; evocation in matters of arbitration awards; injunctions; successor rights. Practice and procedure before the courts, and labour relations boards and commissions.

ECONOMICS C391
Economics of the Environment (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. The subject of this course is environmental quality. It proceeds through an analysis of the relationships among the natural environment, economics, and institutions. The objective is to depict the problem of environmental quality as an economic problem whose solution demands major changes in economic, political, and legal institutions. Attention is also given to policies of collective environmental actions in which the effective management of common property resources will be discussed. The course concludes with a discussion of some broader issues, such as the consistency of improved environmental quality with continued economic and population growth.

ECONOMICS C392
Urban Economics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. This course will focus on the basic issues of economic growth and stagnation, urban land use, the problems of the urban public economy, and special urban problems, such as transportation, congestion, poverty, housing, and urban renewal, and zoning.

ECONOMICS C396
Natural Resource Economics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. This course focuses on the problems of the finiteness of the natural resources base in Canada and in the world, and on an analysis of the demand for and supply of natural resources and energy. The course also discusses the economic aspects of a selected group of conservation measures (financial incentives, reallocation of property rights, regulation).

ECONOMICS C397
Economics of Discrimination (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. The purpose of this course is to examine some economic issues of discrimination, with particular reference to women in a Canadian context. Among the topics so examined are: techniques for measuring discrimination and poverty, review of empirical studies, traditional and radical approaches to the study of discrimination, and policies to combat discrimination and poverty.

ECONOMICS C398
Study in a Special Subject I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. This course is designed primarily for Honours, Specialization, and Major students. Its purpose is to provide an opportunity for advanced students to intensify their study beyond the traditional areas of specialization already represented in the curriculum. The selected subject will depend upon the special interest of the instructor offering the course in any given year.

ECONOMICS C399
Study in a Special Subject II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C201; ECON C203. A student who has received credit for ECON C398 may register for ECON C399 provided the subject matter is different.

ECONOMICS C401
Advanced Microeconomic Theory
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302; ECON C325; ECON C326. Selected topics in microeconomic analysis, including: methodology, general equilibrium analysis, welfare economics; theory of the firm, factor pricing, and income distribution capital theory. Primarily for Majors, Specialization, and Honours students.

ECONOMICS C403
Advanced Macroeconomic Theory
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C303; ECON C304; C325; ECON C326. Selected topics in macroeconomic analysis, including construction of models of the economy encompassing the labour, product, and financial markets; the role of monetary and fiscal policies; classical, Keynesian, and post-Keynesian models. Primarily for Majors, Specialization, and Honours students.

ECONOMICS C405
Welfare Theory (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302; C303; ECON C304. This is an advanced course, intended primarily for Honours students. The course will be devoted to an examination of selected topics in contemporary welfare economics and its applications.

ECONOMICS C408
History of Economic Thought (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302; ECON C303; ECON C304. This course traces the development of economic analysis from the time of the Scholastics to modern times. It also includes a description of the prevailing economic, social, and cultural environment in which economists have written. Primarily for Majors, Specialization, and Honours students.

ECONOMICS C411
Quantitative Development I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302; ECON C325; ECON C326. Methods of national accounting and input-output analysis for under-developed countries. Methods of comparing standards of living. Patterns of economic development. Appraisal of models constructed on the premises of modern theories of economic development.

ECONOMICS C412
Quantitative Development II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C411. The model of economic policy. Planning in stages. The model of linear-activity analysis and efficient decentralization of economic decisions. Planning of efficient accumulation of capital. Individual project evaluation. Foreign-aid and debt-service models. Projection of manpower requirements. Evaluation of empirical applications of optimum planning to underdeveloped economies.

ECONOMICS C413
Economic Growth and Fluctuations (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C303; ECON C304. A review of some theories of causes of economic fluctuations. Discussion of the economic climate and of stabilization policies.

ECONOMICS C421
Econometrics I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C221; ECON C222; ECON C325; ECON C326. This course develops the simple and multiple classical regression models. The problems of misspecified structures, multicollinearity, and forecasting will also be presented.

ECONOMICS C422
Econometrics II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C421. This course is a continuation of ECON C421. It deals with the problems of random-error correlation, stochastic regressors, and the stimulation and the estimation of multiple-equation models.

ECONOMICS C425
Mathematical Economics I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302; ECON C303; ECON C304; ECON C325; ECON C326. A set-theoretic approach to the theory of demand and production. Special topics in the application of static optimization.

ECONOMICS C426
Mathematical Economics II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C425. Optimization over time: theory and applications to problems of consumption and investment planning, growth, and capital accumulation. Differential equations.

ECONOMICS C428
Optimization Techniques (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302; ECON C303; ECON C304; ECON C325; ECON C326. This is an advanced course for Honours students, and for Specialization and Majors students with the consent of the Department. Topics include linear programming and input-output analysis; basic concepts and solutions of linear programming, its application to optimum resources allocation; exposition of basic inter-industry theory within the framework of input-output techniques; its applications to structural analysis.
NOTE: Only 3 credits will be awarded from ECON C428 and QUAN C416.

ECONOMICS C432
Advanced Monetary Theory (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302; ECON C303; ECON C304, or permission of the Department. The nature of the monetarist-Keynesian controversy and critical appraisal of the IS-LM-AS model. Special topics; theory and evidence of term structure of interest rates, post-Keynesian demand for and supply of money in aggregative and dis-aggregative economic models. Theory of macro-economic policy. Transmission mechanisms, policy coordination, lags, international constraints, and other problems.

ECONOMICS C435
Advanced Public Finance (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302; ECON C303; ECON C304; ECON C335; ECON C336. In this course, several key areas in Public Finance will be dealt with in depth. Topics covered will be selected from the following: public goods and externalities, cost-benefit analysis, pricing policy of public enterprises, structure of commodity taxation, structure of income taxation, issues in tax reform, and intergovernmental fiscal relations.

ECONOMICS C442
International Economics: Trade Theory (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302. The basis of international trade, gains from trade, factor-price equalization, the tariff, Canadian commercial policy, trade and development, economic integration.

ECONOMICS C443
International Economics: Finance (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C303; ECON C304. International monetary economics, foreign exchange markets, adjustment mechanisms, capital flows, balance of payments and domestic policy goals, international liquidity.

ECONOMICS C450
Advanced Economic History (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C221; ECON C222; ECON C301; ECON C302; ECON C303; ECON C304. Advanced topics in economic history, with emphasis on the application of economic theory to specific historical questions.

ECONOMICS C461
Industrial Economics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C221; ECON C222; ECON C301; ECON C302. This course analyzes the structure, conduct, and performance of Canadian and U.S. industries. Topics include the determinants of industrial structure, such as economies of scale and barriers to entry, measures of conduct and performance, technological change, advertising, mergers, integration, and public policy.

ECONOMICS C462
The Corporate Economy (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C221; ECON C222; ECON C301; ECON C303 or FINA C314; FINA C315. This course will examine the nature of the large firm, its behaviour and its impact on the national and international economy. Topics will include: the emergence and historical development of the corporate firm; the separation of ownership from control; the large firm in Canada; theories of the large firm; mergers; macro-economic effects of large firms (administered pricing-inflation); the multinational corporation (theories, evidence, and effects).

ECONOMICS C473
Economics of Socialism (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302. This course analyzes the theoretical aspects of various types of socialist economies:

market, centrally planned, and worker-managed. Definitions and models of the various forms will be developed and compared with a capitalist model and with existing socialist economies such as those of Cuba, China, Yugoslavia, and the U.S.S.R.

ECONOMICS C476
Marxist Economics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302; ECON C303; ECON C304 or ECON C370, or permission of the Department. A general survey of Marxist theory, including historical and dialectical materialism. Marx's microeconomics: labour theory of value and its classical predecessors; theory of exploitation and the Iron Law of Wages; transformation problem and price theory. Marx's macroeconomics: business cycles and the theory of capitalist development; crises and the breakdown of capitalism. Contemporary Marxism and the question of the withering away of the state.

ECONOMICS C481
Labour Economics II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302; ECON C303; ECON C304; ECON C381. Advanced topics in labour economics with special emphasis on labour-market problems and policies in Canada. Topics include the theory of work-leisure choice, mobility and immigration, unemployment and unfilled vacancies, income distribution, labour market information and the wage-price relationship.

ECONOMICS C490
Economics of Social Welfare (6 credits)

Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302; ECON C303; ECON C304. This course will be devoted to an examination of the economic aspects of social welfare issues in Canada. Topics include: employment and unemployment; manpower problems and policies, inequality, poverty, social insurance and social assistance; investment in man, especially education and health; urban and regional development; environmental economics; federal, provincial, and municipal policies.

ECONOMICS C493
Regional Economics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302; ECON C303; ECON C304. This course introduces the student to the methods and techniques of regional economic analysis, and their application to the problems of regional economies within Canada. Among the microeconomic topics covered are: the location behaviour of firms and households, and the factors determining the allocation of land among alternative competing uses. Macroeconomic topics include: the measurement and analysis of regional income and growth levels, cyclical changes in those levels, and interregional differences in growth rates. Policy problems pertinent to Canadian regions are stressed throughout the course.

ECONOMICS C495
Economics of Transportation and Communications (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ECON C301; ECON C302. Congestion problems and solutions, pricing, costs, demand, and regulation in transportation. Some applications to communications.

ECONOMICS C498
Study in a Special Subject III (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course is designed primarily for Honours, Specialization, and Majors students. Its purpose is to provide an opportunity for students to intensify their study beyond the traditional areas of specialization already represented in the curriculum. The selected subject will depend upon the special interest of the instructor offering the course in any given year.

ECONOMICS C499
Study in a Special Subject IV (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. A student who has received credit for ECON C498 may register for ECON C499 provided the subject matter is different.

NOTE: Upon successful completion of the BA Specialization in Early Chilhood Education programme and application to the Registrar's Services Department, students may be recommended to the Quebec Teachers Certification Service for a Quebec Teaching Permit (Probation), for prekindergarten, kindergarten and Grades 1-3.*

To be recommended for certification students must:

1. achieve at least ■ B (75%) grade in each of the following courses: EDUC C270, C271, C371, C472, C473, C474; and
2. achieve at least a C (65%) grade in each of the following courses: EDUC C380, C382, C383, C384, C385, C386, C387, and C388.

Students who obtain a failing grade or a passing grade that is below the level required for recommendation for certification will be placed on conditional standing within the programme and will be so informed in writing by the Chairman of the Department of Education. Students will be allowed to repeat the course(s) in question only once in order to achieve the required grade. (For the status of this grade as part of the student record, see calendar §16.3.8.)

In order to remain in the degree programme, students who fail to repeat the course successfully within one year are required to acknowledge in writing that they have forfeited the right to be recommended for certification.

In the event that a student meets regular University standards but does not satisfy the requirements for recommendation for certification, the student may apply to receive the University degree but will not be recommended to the Ministry.

The provisions of this policy also apply to the Certificate in Education programme. In EDUC C471, at least a B (75%) grade is required for such recommendation, in EDUC C480 and C481 at least a C (65%) grade.

*CERTIFICATE IN EDUCATION

The Department of Education offers a 30-credit programme leading to the Concordia University Certificate in Education and certification from the Provincial Department of Education.

NOTE: This programme is restricted to individuals at present employed in a recognized educational institution in Quebec and holding a provisional teaching authorization.

Admission Requirements

1. Evidence of full-time employment with a recognized institution in Quebec.
2. Possession of a Quebec Provisional Teaching Authorization.

Admission limited.

Courses

EDUC C201[6]
EDUC C210[6]
either EDUC C480[3], C481[3], or an equivalent course in teaching methodology
EDUC C445[3]
EDUC C471[6]
6 additional undergraduate credits in Education chosen in consultation with the Director of the Programme.

Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to twelve credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

NOTE:

1. The student must meet the minimum scholarity requirements set by the Provincial government before being recommended for certification. See the conditions for certification following the BA Specialization in Early Childhood Education, above.

2. This programme is not open to teachers of vocational subjects or elementary teachers.

For other programmes which may be of particular interest to teachers, see §21.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

EDUCATION C201
The Nature and Function of Teaching
(6 credits)

An introduction to the purpose, theories, and methods of teaching.

EDUCATION C210
Psychology of Education (6 credits)

This course will introduce the student to a broad range of content in educational psychology, including its scope and methods, learning motivation, growth and development, adjustment, individual differences, guidance, and concept of self.

EDUCATION C211
Child Growth and Development (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in Early Childhood Education Specialization or Major in Child Studies, or permission of the Early Childhood Education Director. Students will study the physical, cognitive, affective, and social development of the young child. Genetic and environmental factors that influence development will be examined. The implications of developmental needs in terms of planning environments will be covered.

EDUCATION C230
Introduction to Philosophy of Education
(3 credits)

This course will introduce the student to the content and form of several major educational theories, and to conceptual and logical procedures of philosophizing about education, with particular reference to teaching and learning.

EDUCATION C260
A Survey of Early Childhood Education
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in Early Childhood Education Specialization, or Major in Child Studies, or permission of the Early Childhood Education Director. This course provides an introduction to the field of early childhood education. The history and philosophy of pre-schools, day care, and the nursery school movement will be presented. The influences of major writers, such as Rousseau, Froebel, Pestalozzi, Itard, Seguin, Montessori, and Dewey will be examined. Comparative pre-school educational practices in other countries will be explored.

EDUCATION C262
The Family and the Child (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in Early Childhood Education Specialization, or Major in Child Studies, or permission of the Early Childhood Education Director. Students will study various dimensions of the child-parent-school interaction process. Parental understanding of and empathy for the child will be discussed. Family attitudes, feelings, values, expectations, and their impact on the child will be examined. Changes in familial living styles resulting from societal changes will be explored. Students will study and practise methods to facilitate and improve school-parent communications.

EDUCATION C264
Parenthood Study (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in Early Childhood Education Specialization or Major in Child Studies or permission of the Early Childhood Education Director. This course will focus on the role of parents in the development of the young child. Topical issues concerning teacher-parent-child relationships will be examined. Students will be required to attend a weekly laboratory session in order to observe a parent discussion group and to attend a weekly seminar.

EDUCATION C270
Practicum I: Curriculum, Classroom Management, and Micro-Teaching
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in Early Childhood Education Specialization. Students will study curriculum development and classroom management at the pre-school level. Teaching skills will be modelled and practised in microteaching sessions. Students will plan and develop activities, lessons, and units, which they will implement in the microteaching sessions. Videotapes of performance will be reviewed and discussed.

EDUCATION C271
Practicum II: Pre-School Field Experiences
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in Early Childhood Education Specialization. This course requires students to spend one day a week for one semester in the Concordia Child Care Centre, or other pre-school setting. Students will be required to observe, record, and assess the behaviour of young children, to study programme organization and general classroom functioning. Each student will develop a curriculum unit which will be taught. Students must attend a weekly seminar given by the Director, Concordia Child Care Centre.

EDUCATION C305
Technology for Educational Change I
(3 credits)

This course introduces the student to a wide range of ideas and practical skills in Educational Technology, a field which encompasses mass communications, computer-based systems, audio-visual instrumentation, simulation and gaming, systems analysis, and instructional design. A modular approach is adopted; each module covers, in a six-week period, a particular area of thought in Educational Technology. Two modules are offered. The first deals, from a theoretical viewpoint, with human communication processes (semiotics, gesture, sociolinguistics, etc.). The second module focuses on specialized applications of computer technology in education: computer-assisted learning (CAL) and computer-managed instruction (CMI). The course will require laboratory work outside class.

EDUCATION C306
Technology for Educational Change II
(3 credits)

Like EDUC C305, this course offers two modules focusing on particular aspects of Educational Technology. Each module is covered in six weeks. The first module deals with small-studio television production, tutorials in production skills culminating in script-writing, and group production of an educational TV programme. The second module introduces techniques for systematically designing instructional units tailored to individual needs. The course requires laboratory work outside class.

EDUCATION C317
The Urban Child (3 credits)

This course concentrates upon the life of the inner-city child and the concomitant influences upon his development in and out of the classroom. Students are instructed in how to view the urban area from the child's perspective, through field assignments in inner-city schools or recreation centres. Lectures by social workers, police officers of the youth section, legal aid counsellors, and inner-city teachers heighten the awareness of students to the environment in which the inner-city child lives.

EDUCATION C321
Sex Role Socialization in the School
(3 credits)

This course will focus upon how children at the elementary- and secondary-school level are socialized for different work roles, and how work segregation has occurred on the basis of this process. The role of schools and curriculum, then, will be examined in relation to cultural changes in social roles.

EDUCATION C324
Patterns of Educational Culture (3 credits)

This course is an introduction to the variety of cultural settings in which formal schooling and informal education socialization take place. The cultural milieu of education, both inside the classroom and outside, in the family, the neighbourhood, the market-place, and the political arena is the focus of readings and lectures.

The aim of this course is to immerse the student in the concepts of anthropology and education in the broadest sense. It is hoped that students will become sensitized to the concept of culture, cultural assimilation, enculturation, socialization, informal, non-formal, and formal educational systems, open and closed societies, and cross-cultural comparison.

EDUCATION C371
Practicum III: Classroom Interaction Dynamics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Early Childhood Education programmes. This course is designed to encourage both systematic and anthropological observation of children in large and small groups in the classroom. Interaction between child/teacher, children/teacher, and children/children will be studied. Models of interaction will be examined, and verbal as well as non-verbal communication will be covered. The purpose of this course is to develop more effective teaching. The implications of classroom grouping, as well as individual interactions in teaching styles and techniques will be discussed. Videotapes, classroom observation, and participation will be employed.

EDUCATION C380
Language Arts in Early Childhood Education (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Early Childhood programmes or permission of the Early Childhood Director. The aim of this course is to give the early childhood educator the skills to develop a stimulating and appropriate language arts programme for the classroom. The language arts curriculum, resource materials and teaching methodologies for the preschool and primary child will be studied. The course will focus on listening, speaking, reading and writing, with special emphasis on integrating language arts activities into all subject areas.

EDUCATION C382
Teaching Science Concepts to Young Children (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Early Childhood programmes or permission of the Early Childhood Director. This course will examine areas of science which are relevant to the young child and will emphasize the development of the spirit of and classroom activities for early childhood education (preschool and primary) will be examined and evaluated. Assignments will emphasize developing activities for classroom use.

EDUCATION C383
Promoting Moral and Spiritual Attitudes and Values in Young Children (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Early Childhood programmes or permission of the Early Childhood Director. This course is designed to introduce the early childhood teacher to the various issues involving the development of moral judgment and reasoning in the young child. Cultural, social, cognitive and emotional factors influencing the growth of morality will be discussed. The major focus will be on examining methods and techniques to enhance the personal development of positive social behaviours (i.e. helping, sharing, caring, etc.) in preschool and primary level children.

EDUCATION C384
Exploring the Human Sciences with the Preschool and Primary Age Child (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Early Childhood programmes or permission of the Early Childhood Director. This course will examine the teaching of the human sciences to young children.

EDUCATION C385
Teaching a Second Language to a Young Child (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Early Childhood programmes or permission of the Early Childhood Director. This course is designed to give teachers a background in current theories of language acquisition and second language learning. Teaching methodologies such as immersion, enrichment, core/complementary curricula will be studied and resource materials will be examined and evaluated. Assignments will include the development of appropriate classroom activities for young children.

EDUCATION C386
Teaching Reading to Preschool and Primary Children (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Early Childhood programmes or permission of the Early Childhood Director. This course deals with the teaching of reading skills to children up to grade 3. Students will be introduced to various approaches used in the teaching of reading. They will examine and evaluate several reading programmes. Special emphasis will be placed on classroom organization; resources for individualizing reading instruction and methods to evaluate reading performance.

EDUCATION C387
Teaching Mathematics to Preschool and Primary Children I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Early Childhood programmes or permission of the Early Childhood Director. This course and the following course (EDUC C388) are designed to provide teachers of young children with background mathematical knowledge and teaching competencies necessary for the development of an exciting and creative mathematical programme for preschool and primary children.

Phase IV
6 ADED C493[6]

NOTE: With permission of the Director of the Certificate Programme, a 200-level course may be taken prior to or concurrently with ADED C200.

Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to twelve credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

ADULT EDUCATION C200
The Nature of Adult Education (6 credits)

This course is designed to help students develop an understanding of the scope of adult education, both as a field of practice and as a field of study. Emphasis is placed on existing programmes, and the institutions and various agencies providing them. Basic concepts and principles of adult education are also examined and the course stresses active student participation and self-directedness.

NOTE: This course is a prerequisite for all 300- and 400-level courses in Adult Education.

ADULT EDUCATION C220
Adults as Learners (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C200. This course examines the unique physiological, psychological and sociological characteristics of adults, their influence on adult learning and development and their implications for educational intervention. Attention is given to changes which occur at various stages of the adult life cycle and particularly to the dimensions which affect the adult's self-concept and orientation to learning, the motivations, needs and interests which cause adults to participate in educational activities.

ADULT EDUCATION C230
Roles and Competencies of Adult Educators (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C200. The purpose of this course is to review the state of professionalization of adult education. General skills, knowledge and attitudes expected of adult educators regardless of the setting in which they work are examined. In addition, according to the participants' needs and interests, an opportunity is given to explore competencies related to the particular roles of, e.g., administrators, programme developers, trainers, leaders, instructors, counsellors, and volunteer workers.

ADULT EDUCATION C240
Introduction to Research in Adult Education (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C200. This course is designed to introduce students as to how to gain access to and utilize major information sources in Adult Education. In addition, the course will examine research interests and problem areas studied in Adult Education and related fields, along with current trends and various methods of enquiry used.

ADULT EDUCATION C333
Methods and Techniques for Facilitating Adult Learning (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C200. This course is designed to give an opportunity to adult educators to practise and improve their skills in facilitating adult learning. Different models of educational processes and optimal conditions for promoting adult learning are examined; attention will be given to small or large group methods and techniques, as well as to individualized learning formats.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for ADED C330 or C331 may not take this course for credits.

ADULT EDUCATION C343
Design and Assessment of Adult Learning Projects (6 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C200. The purpose of this course is to assist participants in developing a clear working concept of various models of planning and assessing adult learning projects. To facilitate this understanding, the different steps of the process are closely examined and discussed, and participants are given an opportunity to design, conduct and evaluate a learning activity.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for ADED C340 or C341 or C342 may not take this course for credits.

ADULT EDUCATION C351
Administration of Adult Education Programmes (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C200. This course is designed to develop a better understanding of the principles of organization and administration as they relate to educational programmes for adults. The course also examines the main factors which influence the provision of these programmes along with the various skills necessary at all levels of the decision-making processes: accessing needs, budgeting, staffing, and advertising.

ADULT EDUCATION C370
Workshops for Adult Educators (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C200. The purpose of these workshops is to examine a number of topics and problems related to the field of adult education. The issues considered may differ from year to year; several workshops will be offered over one academic year and students are required to select four workshops from the package. The workshop format is designed to allow adult educators to participate in learning opportunities with flexibility in scheduling. Possible topics are: learning problems of adults, education of immigrants, women and continuing education, literacy and adult basic education, and adult education in rural areas.

ADULT EDUCATION C410
Adult Education in Canada and Quebec (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C200. The purpose of this course is to examine the historical development and current state of adult education in Canada, with special reference to Quebec. Various factors which influenced the development of adult education in our society will be explored; the focus will be on present status, role and structure, and socio-cultural and philosophical underpinnings of the field.

ADULT EDUCATION C412
Concepts and Values in Adult Education (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C200. This seminar is designed to encourage adult educators to reflect upon and question what one is engaged in and why. A selection of conceptual and philosophical issues underlying adult educational practice is critically examined and discussed. Attention is given to the meaning of words, the nature of ideas and values, the implications of assumptions and principles which are deemed specific in the sphere of the education of adults.

ADULT EDUCATION C440
Issues in the Practice of Adult Education (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C200. The purpose of this seminar is to study and discuss current issues relating to the field and profession of adult education in general, along with more specific and local concerns. Group and individual interests will have an important bearing on the design of this course.

ADULT EDUCATION C450
Adulthood and the Process of Educational Change (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C220. This course will examine research literature on the impacts of changes in perception, attitudes, abilities and needs associated with the adult life cycle; and the literature on the impact of institutionalization on adult learners. The course presents a more advanced examination of issues covered in ADED C220, such as: effect of changes in the adult life cycle on instructional methods; effects of changes in institutional policies and organization on educational opportunities for the adult learner.

ADULT EDUCATION C492
Special Topics Seminar in Adult Education I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C200, or permission of the Department. The subject for the seminar will vary from year to year, reflecting recent developments in adult education, and the special interests of the students or the instructor.

ADULT EDUCATION C494
Special Topics Seminar in Adult Education II (3 credits)

Students who have received credit for ADED C492 may register for ADED C494 provided the subject matter is different.

ADULT EDUCATION C495
Integrative Seminar (6 credits)

Prerequisite: ADED C200. This seminar, to be taken during final year in the programme, is designed to assist individual students in acheiving a synthesis of their own experience in the light of acquired knowledge, skills, values and attitudes. The purpose of this course is to help each participant to clarify his/her aims and to structure his/her personal philosophy of adult education.

A course for native speakers of English who need basic training in written English. Emphasis is placed on grammar, sentence structure, paragraphing and other fundamentals of good usage.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for any ESL course may not take this course for credits.

This course may not count for credit within any English programme.

ENGLISH C206
Basic Language Skills - Stage II (3 credits)

A course for native speakers of English who need basic training in written English. This course is a continuation of ENGL C205.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for any ESL course may not take this course for credits.

This course may not count for credit within any English programme.

ENGLISH C209
Elements of Written English (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course will deal with problems in written English that students encounter when writing university assignments. The course will begin a few weeks after the commencement of term. This will give students an opportunity to register for it after they have discovered deficiencies in their written English that hinder their academic progress.

ENGLISH C211
English Composition (6 credits)

This course is designed to help the students to develop skills in writing, research, and documentation, so that they may be able to prepare written work clearly, concisely, and in a logically organized way.

NOTE: This course may not be taken for credit with ENGL C212 or C213.

Students who have received credit for this course may not take subsequently any ESL course or ENGL C205 or C206.

ENGLISH C212
English Composition - Stage I (3 credits)

This course is the equivalent of the first half of ENGL C211. It is designed to provide students with basic training in writing. Stress will be laid on the development of skills in the writing of good expository prose through a study of the basic rules of grammar, in the organization of essays, in effective sentence construction and diction, in effective paragraphing, and in paraphrasing and summarizing.

NOTE: Students who have taken ENGL C211 may not take this course for credit.

Students who have received credit for this course may not take subsequently any ESL course or ENGL C205 or C206.

ENGLISH C213
English Composition - Stage II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGL C212 or permission of the Department. This course is the equivalent of the second half of ENGL C211. It develops further the writing skills acquired in ENGL C212. The aim of this course is two-fold: a) to develop skill in writing, appropriate to the audience; and b) to familiarize students with research techniques necessary for the preparation of term papers and other written accounts for business and academic purposes. Instruction will focus on the techniques of persuasion, narration, and description, on logical structure, and how to use the library.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for ENGL C211 may not take this course for credit.

Students who have received credit for this course may not take subsequently any ESL course or ENGL C205 or C206.

ENGLISH C396
Advanced Composition (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGL C211; or ENGL C212; ENGL C213; or permission of the Department. This course is designed for students already in control of the basic techniques of composition and who wish to perfect their ability to write clearly and effectively for business and professional purposes.

ENGLISH C397
Technical Writing (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGL C211 or ENGL C212; ENGL C213 or permission of the Department. This course is designed for students who wish to develop their ability to write technical material, including reports, resumés, summaries, reviews, instructional and descriptive manuals, and similar items.

ENGLISH C410
Non-Fiction Writing (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGL C225; ENGL C226; ENGL C227 or permission of the Department. A workshop for students who intend to become professional writers of the forms of non-fiction (such as journals, personal essays, biographies, autobiographies, and reviews).

ENGLISH C411
Script Writing for Radio, Screen, and Television (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGL C225; ENGL C226; ENGL C227, or permission of the Department. A workshop for the composition and development of creative scripts for radio, screen, and television. In any one year, the course may concentrate on one or two of these areas.

ENGLISH C412
Writing of Children's Literature (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGL C225; ENGL C226; ENGL C227, or permission of the Department. A workshop in the writing of prose, poetry, and drama for children. This course will involve an exploration of the literary techniques appropriate to the sensibilities of children and their world.

ENGLISH C413
Editing, Publishing, and Creative Research (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course deals with such areas as magazines, small presses, and anthologies, that stimulate and promote literary activity. Emphasis will also be given to the research problems peculiar to the creative writer.

ENGLISH C425
Advanced Creative Writing: Poetry (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGL C225, or approved work. A workshop in the writing of poetry. The students are expected to enter this course with competence in the fundamentals of the form, and to go on, by experimenting more fully with its material and techniques, to demonstrate their further progress in the craft.

ENGLISH C426
Advanced Creative Writing: Prose (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGL C226, or approved work. A workshop in the writing of fiction. The students are expected to enter this course with competence in the fundamentals of the form, and to go on, by experimenting more fully with its materials and techniques, to demonstrate their further progress in the craft.

ENGLISH C427
Advanced Creative Writing: Drama (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGL C227, or approved work. A workshop in the writing of plays. The students are expected to enter this course with competence in the fundamentals of the form, and to go on, by experimenting more fully with its materials and techniques, to demonstrate their further progress in the craft.

72 BA Specialization in French/English Translation

NOTE:

1. Enrolment in the BA Specialization in French/English Translation is limited. Since the nature of the programme requires competence in French and English, applicants are required to take an entrance examination. Priority of enrolment in translation courses at the 300 and 400 levels shall be given to students admitted to the Translation Programme.

2. Students admitted to the Translation Programme are required to achieve a C (65%) or better in all translation courses in order to proceed to the next level and to graduate. Students who obtain a passing grade that is below C (65%) will be placed on conditional standing within the programme and will be so informed in writing by the Chairman of the Department. Students will be allowed to repeat the course(s) in question only once in order to achieve the required grade. (For the status of this grade as part of the student record, see calendar 16.3.8).

Students who fail to repeat the course(s) within one year will be required to withdraw from the programme upon notification by the Chairman of the Department. Students who obtain a failing grade in any of the translation courses will be required to withdraw from the programme and will be so informed in writing by the Chairman of the Department.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

Les cours du département ayant reçu de nouveaux numéros, les étudiants trouveront une liste d'équivalences à la section 200.1.

FRANCAIS C200
French Language: Elementary I (3 credits)

This course is intended for students having no previous training in French. It includes a comprehensive introduction to the basic structures and vocabulary of French and should enable students to acquire an ability to speak and understand simple conversational French. Both oral and written aspects of the language are presented, with special emphasis on oral skills. Laboratory sessions are included.

FRANCAIS C201
French Language: Elementary II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: FRAN C200 or equivalent. Continuation of the previous course.

FRANCAIS C202
Langue française: niveau de transition I
(3 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN C201 ou l'équivalent. Ce cours s'adresse en principe aux étudiants ayant suivi soit un an de français à l'université ou au niveau collégial, soit deux ans de français à l'école secondaire, ou l'équivalent. Ce cours permet aux étudiants d'accéder à un niveau de compréhension et d'expression suffisant pour communiquer en français oralement et par écrit avec une certaine assurance. Par l'utilisation de techniques de conversation dirigée, de travail systématique en classe et au laboratoire et d'exercices écrits, les étudiants acquerront un répertoire de structures et un vocabulaire plus étendu. Séances de laboratoire.

FRANCAIS C203
Langue française: niveau de transition II
(3 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN C202 ou l'équivalent. Suite du cours précédent.

FRANCAIS C204
Langue française: niveau intermédiaire I (3 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN C203 ou l'équivalent. Ce cours s'adresse en principe aux étudiants ayant suivi 4 ans de français à l'école secondaire au Québec ou l'équivalent. Par une étude et une pratique intensive des tournures du français courant, l'étudiant pourra acquérir l'aisance nécessaire à une communication orale et écrite spontanée. Le cours fournira également quelques aperçus sur le mode de vie des francophones.

FRANCAIS C205
Langue française: niveau intermédiaire II (3 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN.C204 ou l'équivalent. Suite du cours précédent.

FRANCAIS C206
Cours élémentaire de grammaire (3 crédits)

Préalable: Être inscrit en FRAN C302 ou l'avoir suivi. Etude des règles fondamentales de la grammaire française. De nombreux exercices oraux et écrits permettront d'en préciser et d'en asseoir les bases.

FRANCAIS C220
Littérature moderne (6 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN C205 ou l'équivalent. Au moyen d'un choix de nouvelles, romans, pièces de théâtre, et poèmes de la francophonie, l'étudiant apprendra à "lire", et à apprécier les caractéristiques des différents genres.

FRANCAIS C250
Littérature québécoise en traduction (3 crédits)

Etude de la littérature québécoise en traduction, surtout du point de vue de l'écriture (vocabulaire, style, images, etc.). Etude de textes sur le plan thématique, linguistique, stylistique, et structural. Analyses des meilleures traductions disponibles. Travaux pratiques en traduction, compositions, recherches. Textes: Bessette Le libraire; Blais, La Belle Bête; Thériault, Agaguk; Hébert, Kamouraska, etc.

NOTE: Ce cours n'est pas crédité dans les programmes de mineure, de majeure, de BA spécialisé, et d'honneurs en littérature québécoise.

FRANCAIS C251
Culture et civilisation québécoises (6 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN C205 ou l'équivalent. La culture et la civilisation québécoises vues à travers une de leurs expressions particulières: la littérature. Etude des grandes étapes de la production littéraire avec, comme toile de fond, un aperçu général de l'histoire politique, économique, sociale, et culturelle du Québec. Etude des principaux courants de pensée dans le Québec d'hier et d'aujourd'hui: l'expression littéraire comme reflet du mouvement de libération et du processus de décolonisation québécois. Ce cours vise en outre à ce que les étudiants entrent en contact avec diverses manifestations culturelles québécoises: théâtre, chanson, cinéma, etc.

FRANCAIS C254
Langue et condition des femmes au Québec I (3 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN C205 ou l'équivalent. Ce cours vise deux objectifs: examiner les différents aspects de la condition des femmes au Québec (évolution, débat actuel, etc.) et permettre à l'étudiant/e de se donner la compétence langagière en vue d'une participation au débat sur la condition féminine. Le cours sera structuré autour de certains thèmes ou dossiers tels que: le rôle des organismes politiques, gouvernementaux et syndicaux dans le débat; les questions d'actualité sociale concernant la femme: la publicité sexiste, la femme et la politique, la femme au foyer et la femme au travail, la femme et les arts, la santé des femmes, la pornographie, le viol, la violence, etc.

NOTE: Les étudiant/e/s francophones ne peuvent s'inscrire à ce cours.

Les étudiant/e/s qui ont suivi FRAN C312 ne peuvent obtenir de crédits pour ce cours.

FRANCAIS C255
Langue et condition des femmes au Québec II (3 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN C205 ou l'équivalent. Ce cours vise des objectifs semblables à ceux du cours FRAN C254 et obéit aux mêmes principes. Le choix des thèmes sera toutefois différent.

NOTE: Les étudiant/e/s francophones ne peuvent s'inscrire à ce cours.

Les étudiant/e/s qui ont suivi FRAN C313 ne peuvent obtenir de crédits pour ce cours.

FRANCAIS C260
Stylistique comparée du français et de l'anglais (3 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN C307 ou l'équivalent. Le cours a pour but d'étudier les ressources stylistiques du français par rapport à celles de l'anglais. Le passage entre les deux langues est étudié en fonction des tendances particulières à chaque langue, tant du point de vue grammatical et lexical que du point de vue du contexte culturel.

FRANCAIS C261
Initiation à la traduction (3 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN C260 ou l'équivalent. Traduction de textes vers l'anglais et vers le français, avec étude des problèmes typiques soulevés par le passage d'une langue à l'autre.

FRANCAIS C262
Introduction à la linguistique française (6 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN C303 ou l'équivalent. Introduction à l'analyse descriptive de la structure linguistique du français contemporain. Aperçus des aspects phonémiques, morphosyntaxiques, et lexicaux de la langue considérée comme un système. Applications théoriques et pratiques.

FRANCAIS C264
Phonétique I (3 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN C303 ou l'équivalent. Etude systématique des habitudes articulatoires du français en comparaison avec celles de l'anglais. Introduction aux principes de l'analyse phonologique: groupes consonantiques possibles ou impossibles dans les deux langues. Etude de l'aspect physiologique de la parole; propriétés des voyelles et des consonnes en français. Etude des phénomènes prosodiques; intonation, rythme, accent. Aperçu de la phonétique acoustique et expérimentale.

FRANCAIS C265

FRANCAIS C472
Le théâtre français du XXème siècle I (3 crédits)

Préalable: 12 crédits parmi les suivants: FRAN C302[3] et C303[3], C270[3] et C271[3], C324[6], C320[6] ou C321[3] et C322[3] ou autorisation du Département. A la fin du XIXème siècle, le théâtre français connut des transformations profondes. Ce cours suivra l'évolution du théâtre à partir d'Antoine, à travers ses étapes successives, jusqu'à la fin de la période de l'entre-deux-guerres. Seront étudiés les grands metteurs en scène qui ont succédé à Antoine: Lugné-Poe, Copeau et le Cartel, ainsi que les mouvements d'idées et les dramaturges qui ont marqué cette période.

FRANCAIS C473
Le théâtre français du XXème siècle II (3 crédits)

Préalable: 12 crédits parmi les suivants: FRAN C302[3] et C303[3], C270[3] et C271[3], C324[6], C320[6] ou C321[3] et C322[3] ou autorisation du Département. La guerre de 1939-1945 marque une coupure dans l'histoire du théâtre en France au XXème siècle. La relève du Cartel est assurée par des animateurs tels que Jean-Louis Barrault, Jean Vilar, Roger Planchon, etc. De nouvelles lignes de force se dégagent. Seront étudiés, entre autres, des représentants du théâtre politique, du théâtre de l'Absurde, et du théâtre nouveau qui se développe à la suite des événements de mai 1968.

FRANCAIS C474
Etude d'un sujet spécial dans le théâtre français (3 crédits)

Préalable: 12 crédits parmi les suivants: FRAN C302[3] et C303[3], C270[3] et C271[3], C324[6], C320[6] ou C321[3] et C322[3] ou autorisation du Département. Ce cours portera sur une période ou un problème particuliers dans l'histoire du théâtre français. Les sujets seront, par exemple: les origines du théâtre français dans le drame liturgique et son développement en tant que forme populaire jusqu'au théâtre baroque; le théâtre dit "classique" de sa naissance jusqu'à son déclin; le théâtre de la Révolution française; la commedia dell'arte en France; le théâtre bourgeois de Diderot aux comédies du boulevard.

FRANCAIS C475
Etude d'un sujet spécial dans le théâtre français (3 crédits)

L'étudiant s'inscrivant pour la seconde fois au FRAN C474 (sur un sujet différent) obtient les crédits FRAN C475.

FRANCAIS C476
La littérature au féminin I (3 crédits)

Préalable: 12 crédits parmi les suivants: FRAN C302[3] et C303[3], C270[3] et C271[3], C324[6], C320[6] ou C321[3] et C322[3] ou autorisation du Département. A partir de manifestes et d'oeuvres de création, on retracera différentes manifestations de la prise de conscience "féministe" chez les écrivaines françaises, ainsi que les solutions envisagées aux problèmes posés. Ce cours permettra de considérer les tendances actuelles dans une perspective historique.

FRANCAIS C477
La littérature au féminin II (3 crédits)

Préalable: 12 crédits parmi les suivants: FRAN C302[3] et C303[3], C270[3] et C271[3], C324[6], C320[6] ou C321[3] et C322[3] ou autorisation du Département. Ce cours portera sur l'éclatement qui caractérise l'écriture au féminin à l'heure actuelle. On étudiera différents concepts tels que la "prise de parole", la valorisation de l'anima, le renversement des mythes anciens, ainsi que la révolution formelle et stylistique qui accompagne cet éclatement.

FRANCAIS C478
Histoire de la critique littéraire (3 crédits)

Préalable: 6 crédits en littérature. Etude de l'évolution de la critique littéraire des origines au début du XXème siècle, au moyen d'un choix d'oeuvres théoriques et critiques.

FRANCAIS C480
Approches critiques I: la sémiotique textuelle (3 crédits)

Préalable: 6 crédits en littérature. Etude des conditions générales de la production du sens et de la spécificité du texte littéraire. Examen des principales théories formalistes en France et au Québec et apprentissage des méthodes critiques qui en découlent. Travaux pratiques qui permettront à l'étudiant d'en contrôler l'efficacité et la valeur au contact des oeuvres.

FRANCAIS C481
Approches critiques II: la sociologie de la littérature (3 crédits)

Préalable: 6 crédits en littérature. Etude des relations qu'entretiennent entre eux le littéraire et le social. Le point de vue résolument sociologique que l'on adoptera dans ce cours permettra d'étudier l'oeuvre en fonction du milieu qui en a permis l'émergence et du contexte socio-idéologique dont elle est à la fois un reflet et un élément actif.

FRANCAIS C482
Approches critiques III: la critique philosophique (3 crédits)

Préalable: 6 crédits en littérature. Ce cours vise à sensibiliser l'étudiant aux problèmes épistémologiques que pose l'étude d'un texte littéraire. La critique philosophique, essentiellement thématique, doit constamment remettre en question ses présupposés théoriques et tenter de justifier sa méthode. Quelles sont les conditions d'un discours véridique prenant en charge le texte littéraire, quelle est la signification du texte littéraire considéré comme signe global, telles sont les deux principales questions qui seront examinées.

FRANCAIS C483
Approches critiques IV: la psycho-critique (3 crédits)

Préalable: 6 crédits en littérature. Ce cours est une introduction à la psychanalyse de la littérature. Axé sur le créateur et sur ses rapports avec sa création, il permettra à l'étudiant de faire le point sur les différentes méthodes psychocritiques et sur leurs applications. Par des travaux pratiques d'interprétation portant sur des oeuvres particulières, on évaluera les avantages de chaque méthode et on en précisera les limites.

FRANCAIS C489
Méthodologie des travaux de recherche (6 crédits)

Préalable: FRAN C324; FRAN C367 ou FRAN C401. Destiné aux étudiants de dernière année et préparant aux études graduées, ce cours permettra, par des exercices de rédaction commentés et critiqués, d'atteindre la précision, l'élégance, et l'originalité dans l'expression écrite. Analyse stylistique proprement dite (définitions et procédés de style). Théorie et pratique de l'analyse de texte - Théorie de la versification - Théorie et pratique des recherches bibliographiques.

FRANCAIS C490
Etude avancée d'un sujet particulier (6 crédits)

Préalable: 12 crédits de langue ou de linguistique au niveau "400". Etude d'un sujet particulier dans le domaine de la langue ou de la linguistique.

NOTE: Tout étudiant s'inscrivant pour la seconde fois au cours FRAN C490 obtient les crédits FRAN C491 et C492.

FRANCAIS C491
Etude avancée d'un sujet particulier (3 crédits)

Préalable: 12 crédits de langue ou de linguistique au niveau "400". Etude d'un sujet particulier dans le domaine de la langue ou de la linguistique.

FRANCAIS C492

12 Elective credits chosen in consultation with the Coordinator of the Certificate Programme.

NOTE: Acceptance into certificate programme is dependent upon possession of Bachelor's degree by applicant or graduation from the three-year CEGEP programme no. 391 (Recreation).*

Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to six credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

Recreation and Leisure Studies

The courses listed below, and fully described in §31.260, are open to all students, in particular Exercise Science students desiring increased competency in the field of Recreation and Leisure Studies.

LEIS C241[3], C342[6], C426[6], C464[6]

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C201
Introduction to Exercise Science (3 credits)

The course examines from an historical perspective the philosophical and applied concepts of Exercise Science. There is particular emphasis on the development of the relationship between Exercise Science and the allied health professions. Lectures.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C201 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C215
Psychomotor Learning and Eurhythmics in Early Childhood Curriculum (3 credits)

The course examines the psychomotor domain of learning in young children. Application of perceptual motor processes to motor learning in the early childhood curriculum are analyzed. Special consideration is given to the use of rhythmic activities as a learning mode. Lectures, laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C413 and C415 (1979-80, 1980-81); EXCI C315 and C415 (1981-82) or EXCI C316 and C413 (1982-83) may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C251
Basics of the Science of Movement
(3 credits)

Anatomical, physiological and kinesiological aspects of movement are presented. Acute and chronic responses to exercise and the development of fitness programmes are studied. Detrimental as well as beneficial responses are considered. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: Students registered in the Major and Specialization programmes in Exercise Science may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C253
Structural Human Anatomy (3 credits)

The skeletal and muscular systems of the body are studied in depth to give a basis for subsequent study in core courses in Exercise Science. Lectures, laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C351 or EXCI C351 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C255
Systemic Human Anatomy (3 credits)

The major areas of emphasis in this course are the cardiovascular, lymphatic, nervous and respiratory systems. The other systems are also given brief discussion. This course provides the foundation for subsequent study in Exercise Science. Lectures, laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C355 or EXCI C355 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C261
Principles of Physical Conditioning
(3 credits)

The major thrust of this course is a practical experience in adult physical activities, e.g., industrial fitness. This includes a conditioning as well as a skill development component. Lectures and special projects relate the physical activities to theoretical concepts. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C261 may not take this course for credits.

This course was first offered in the present form in the 1981-82 academic year.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C309
Play, Sport, and Recreation Skills for Children (3 credits)

Interests, characteristics and physical activity needs of children are examined. Basic skills, progressions and appropriate teaching/learning strategies are reviewed. Lectures, laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C310 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C311
Introduction to Psychomotor Behaviour
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C207. This course will examine the acquisition and performance of skilled motor behaviour. An information processing model will be used to identify the major mechanisms involved in the production of skilled movement. Lectures, laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C211 or EXCI C211 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C317
Neural Control of Human Movement
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: EXCI C253; EXCI C311; EXCI C353. This course examines the major neural mechanisms involved in the control of posture and movement. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C313 or EXCI C313 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C331
Health Science (3 credits)

The subject matter is approached with "health" viewed as the optimal functioning of the human organism. The course synthesizes and applies knowledge from biological, epidemiological, and medical sciences to furnish a comprehensive understanding of factors which influence health such as: human sexuality, nutrition, fitness and disease processes. Lectures.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C331 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C333
Personal and Community Health Problems (3 credits)

The course examines causes and symptoms and proposes solutions to individual and community health problems. Problems considered include: alcoholism, drug abuse, sex education and industrial and occupational health hazards. Lectures, seminars.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C333 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C335
Prevention of Athletic Injuries (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EXCI C337; EXCI C253. This course examines the biomechanics of acute activity-related injuries and the pathology of chronic conditions associated with physical activity. Preventive methods which can be used to reduce the risk of injury are presented. These include: physical conditioning, skill development, prophylactic taping and protective apparel. Lectures.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C335 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C337
Emergency Care of Athletic Injuries (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EXCI C255. This course identifies common injuries and chronic pathological conditions associated with physical activity. Students learn to recognize the injury or condition and perform emergency or initial treatment. The "how" and "why" of emergency treatment is covered. Lectures, laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C337 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C353
Human Physiology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C222; EXCI C255. This course introduces the student to the functional organization of the human body. Cell physiology, metabolism, thermoregulation, endocrine function, reproduction, neural and muscular physiology are presented. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C353 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C357
Cardiovascular-Respiratory Physiology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EXCI C353. This course introduces the student to those mechanisms and systems which are of primary importance in the metabolic processes of exercise. The function of renal, cardiac, circulatory and respiratory physiology are detailed. Lectures, laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C357 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C370
Outdoor Recreation and Leadership (6 credits)

This course focuses on using and understanding the environment as a setting for recreation. Learning by experience is emphasized. Potential leaders and administrators in outdoor recreation or outdoor education will find this course of value. Lectures, laboratories: weekend field trips to be arranged.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C370 and EXCI C470 (81-82) may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C393
Selected Topics in Exercise Science (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course focuses on current topics of interest in the field of Exercise Science. The content will depend upon the theme designated by the Department when the course is offered. The course will draw upon the expertise of individuals and visiting guest lecturers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C393 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C395
Selected Topics in Exercise Science (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Students who have received credit for EXCI C393 may register for EXCI C395 provided the subject matter is different. This course focuses on current topics of interest in the field of Exercise Science. The content will depend upon the theme designated by the Department when the course is offered. The course will draw upon the expertise of individuals and visiting guest lecturers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C395 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C397
Selected Topics in Exercise Science (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course focuses on current topics of interest in the field of Exercise Science. The content will depend upon the theme designated by the Department when the course is offered. The course will draw upon the expertise of individuals and visiting guest lecturers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C397 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C399
Selected Topics in Exercise Science (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Students who have received credit for EXCI C397 may register for EXCI C399 provided the subject matter is different. This course focuses on current topics of interest in the field of Exercise Science. The content will depend upon the theme designated by the Department when the course is offered. The course will draw upon the expertise of individuals and visiting guest lecturers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C399 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C403
Therapeutic Role of Movement (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EXCI C357 The course introduces the student to the technique of modifying physical activities and sports to the needs of the handicapped. Rationale and methods of providing exercise for individuals with specific permanent disabilities and chronic physical or mental deficiencies are emphasized. Assignments will require practical experience. Lectures.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C402 or EXCI C402 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C404
Therapeutic Exercise Physiology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EXCI C403. The course introduces the student to the role and use of exercise in the treatment of specific physiopathologies. Metabolic syndromes, cardiovascular diseases and respiratory disorders in which therapeutic exercise is either beneficial or contraindicated are emphasized. Lectures.

NOTE: Students who have taken BIOP C401 or EXCI C401 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C411
Research Design (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C207 or the equivalent; EXCI C357, recommended to be concurrent with EXCI C453; EXCI C468. Through lectures and laboratory experience, students will be exposed to various research designs including: descriptive survey, historical survey, experimental and analytical design. Presentation and interpretation of data as well as guidelines for writing a research paper will be covered. Lectures, seminars and laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C411 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C412
Advanced Methods and Materials in Physical Education and Recreation (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing and consent of instructor. The interactive behaviour between student and teacher is approached scientifically. Among topics considered are history and philosophy of physical education, modern trends in education and their adaptation to the physical education field, Mosston's spectrum of styles, T.E.T. (Teacher Effectiveness Training), learning performance criteria, pupil's perception of teacher influence, behavioural objectives, values clarification, leadership theory, curriculum and daily lesson planning. In the laboratory periods, students are given the opportunity to practise various methodological techniques on peers and on adolescents and young adults in academic or recreational settings.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C412 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C417
Electromyographic Kinesiology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EXCI C317. This course examines fundamental concepts of electromyography and the use of electromyographical techniques to investigate selected aspects of normal and pathological movement. Lectures and laboratories.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C421
Administration of Physical Education Programmes (3 credits)

The course examines fundamental concepts of sports administration and management. Organizational structures of intramural and interscholastic programmes are examined. Budget, facilities management, legal responsibilities and public relations are covered. These are applied to both the public and the private sector. Lectures and seminars.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C421 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C433
Rehabilitation and Treatment of Athletic Injuries (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EXCI C335. In this course, the normal physiological process of healing is examined, and consideration is given to various rehabilitative interventions which facilitate or improve this process. These interventions include: surgical treatment, therapeutic modalities and remedial exercises. Lectures, laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C433 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C436
Sports Medicine (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EXCI C357; EXCI C433, recommended to be concurrent with EXCI C453. Selected topics from the current literature dealing with health oriented aspects of involvement in sport will be examined. Lectures and seminars.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C436 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C451
Kinesiology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EXCI C253; EXCI C317; also recommended is PHYS C241. This course concentrates on the mechanical principles pertinent to an understanding of human movement performance. Fundamental principles of mechanics involved in the kinematics and kinetic analysis of basic human movement and their applications are covered. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C451 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C453
Physiology of Exercise (6 credits)

Prerequisite: EXCI C357; EXCI C317. The physiology of man's acute and chronic adaptation to physical activity is examined. Factors affecting muscle strength, cardiorespiratory endurance and other components of fitness are studied. Criteria for exercise prescription and the effects of training are also presented. Laboratory techniques for the assessment of performance are emphasized. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C453 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C455
Preventive Medicine and Geriatrics
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: EXCI C357 or permission of the Department, recommended to be concurrent with EXCI C453. This course examines the role of physical activity as it relates to the physiological, psychological and sociological needs which accompany the aging process. Activities are explored in view of their preventive, rehabilitative and/or adaptive benefit to the aged population. Lectures and laboratories.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C455 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C460
Sports Science Internship (6 credits)

Prerequisite: This course is open to students with advanced standing enrolled in the Sports Science Option. This course offers a supervised period of work in a rehabilitation or athletic therapy clinic. This course involves a commitment of 240 hours including a weekly seminar.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C462 or EXCI C462 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C461
Community Fitness Science Internship
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: This course is open to students with advanced standing in the Community Fitness Science Option. This course offers a supervised period of work in a fitness programme/centre or similar facility. The course involves a commitment of 240 hours including a weekly seminar.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C463
Therapeutic Activity Internship (6 credits)

Prerequisite: This course is open to students with advanced standing in Exercise Science enrolled in the Therapeutic Activity Option. The course offers a supervised period of work as activity leader or exercise technician in a hospital or rehabilitation centre or similar institution, a technician assisting in physiological evaluation or a related position. The course involves a commitment of 240 hours including a weekly seminar.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C466 or EXCI C466 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C468
Research Internship (6 credits)

Prerequisite: This course is open to students with advanced standing in Exercise Science enrolled in the Pre-Research Option. In consultation with a faculty supervisor, students are given the opportunity to study theoretical, practical and scientific problems in the field of Exercise Science. Students will participate in experiments under close supervision of a faculty adviser. At the conclusion of these experiments the student will prepare a report and make a verbal presentation of the findings. The course involves a commitment of 240 hours including a weekly seminar.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C468 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C470
Scientific Principles of Outdoor Education
(6 credits)

The course offers a comprehensive analysis of outdoor education. The aims and objectives of outdoor education are examined; organization and administration of model programmes are analyzed; innovative units of instruction and outdoor education programmes are evaluated. Students will plan, teach and participate in outdoor learning experiences. Lectures, laboratories, seminars and field study.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C470 and EXCI C370 (81/82) may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C472
Outdoor Education - Administration and Implementation (6 credits)

The course explores use of the out-of-doors to enrich the school curriculum. In addition, outdoor education as a strategy in the wider context of education is examined. Students will receive instruction in skills necessary for planning, administering and implementing outdoor education programmes. The philosophical base for this educational approach will be assessed, particularly as it pertains to interdisciplinary methods in the elementary and high school curricula. Field study and laboratories will supplement classroom instruction. 3-4 week intensive summer course. Alternate summers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C472 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C491
Independent Study in Exercise Science
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Students will work on topic(s) chosen in consultation with their department supervisor. The study can include readings, field studies, interviews, and field work. An in-depth report of the activities conducted by the student will be presented to the supervisor upon completion of the course.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C491 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C493
Advanced Topics in Exercise Science
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Consent of professorial staff. This course focuses on advanced topics of interest in the field of Exercise Science. The content will be dependent upon the theme designated by the Department when the course is offered. The course will draw upon the expertise of individuals and visiting guest lecturers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C493 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C495
Advanced Topics in Exercise Science
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Consent of professorial staff. Students who have received credit for EXCI C493 may register for EXCI C495 provided the subject matter is different.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C495 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C497
Advanced Topics in Exercise Science
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Consent of professorial staff. This course focuses on advanced topics of interest in the field of Exercise Science. The content will be dependent upon the theme designated by the Department when the course is offered. The course will draw upon the expertise of individuals and visiting guest lecturers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C497 may not take this course for credits.

EXERCISE SCIENCE C499
Advanced Topics in Exercise Science
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Consent of professorial staff. Students who have received credit for EXCI C497 may register for EXCI C499 provided the subject matter is different.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for BIOP C499 may not take this course for credits.

60 BA Honours in Geography

Pattern A: Physical Geography

Year I

18 GEOG C211^{6}, C262^{6}, C271^{6}

Years II & III

12 GEOG C341^{6}, C361^{3}, C362^{3}

12 Chosen from GEOG C371^{6}, C372^{6}, C373^{6}

Year III

12 GEOG C369^{3}, C391^{3}, C491^{6}

6 Chosen from GEOG C470^{3}, C475^{3}, C476^{3}

Pattern B: Human Geography

Students may emphasize one of the following areas: Cultural-Historical or Economic-Urban.

Year I

18 GEOG C211^{6}, C262^{6}, C271^{6}

Year II

12 GEOG C341^{6}, C361^{3}, C362^{3}

12 Cultural-Historical: GEOG C312^{3}, C315^{3}, C317^{3}, C325^{3}

or

Economic-Urban: GEOG C331^{6}, C358^{3}, C359^{3}

Year III

12 GEOG C369^{3}, C391^{3}, C491^{6}

6 Cultural-Historical: GEOG C410^{3}, C420^{3}

or

Economic-Urban: GEOG C430^{3}, C433^{6}, C450^{3}

60 BA Specialization in Geography

Pattern A: Physical Geography

18 GEOG C211^{6}, C262^{6}, C271^{6}

Year II

12 GEOG C341^{6}, C361^{3}, C362^{3}

12 Chosen from GEOG C371^{6}, C372^{6}, C373^{6}

Year III

6 GEOG C369^{3}, C391^{3}

6 GEOG C470^{3}, C475^{3}, C476^{3}

6 Elective credits at the 300-400 level

Pattern B: Human Geography

Students may emphasize one of the following areas: Cultural-Historical or Economic-Urban

Year I

18 GEOG C211^{6}, C262^{6}, C271^{6}

Year II

Environmental Geography, Hydrology, Geoscience.

NOTE:
Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may take the courses in Geography listed below for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

GEOGRAPHY C262
Introduction to Cartography (6 credits)

GEOGRAPHY C271
The Natural Environment (6 credits)

GEOGRAPHY C362
Quantitative Geography I (3 credits)

GEOGRAPHY C371
Biogeography (6 credits)

GEOGRAPHY C372
Analysis of the Environment (6 credits)

GEOGRAPHY C373
Climatology (6 credits)

GEOGRAPHY C462
Advanced Cartography (3 credits)

GEOGRAPHY C463
Topics in Applied Cartography (3 credits)

GEOGRAPHY C470
Topics in Physical Geography (3 credits)

GEOGRAPHY C475
Hydrology I (3 credits)

GEOGRAPHY C476
Hydrology II (3 credits)

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

GEOGRAPHY C200
Foundations of Geography: Environment and Man (6 credits)
A course designed for the student with no previous training who is interested in the geographic background to world and environmental problems. A study will be made of both physical and human factors in geography. Areas of concentration will be: energy, natural systems, and the environment; landscape evolution, climate, and resources; variation and spatial distribution of man's economic, social, and political activities; the relationship of urban and non-urban man to the environment. Lectures: 3 hours per week, including laboratory.

GEOGRAPHY C202
Ecology of Man (3 credits)
A general introduction to the relationship between physical and cultural distributions on the earth's surface. Global patterns of human, economic and natural resources will be examined.

GEOGRAPHY C211
Introduction to Human Geography
(6 credits)
A study of the evolution of the earth's populated areas and the gradual enlargement of geographical horizons. The emphasis will be on cultural distributions, landscape and settlement, and the geography of economic, social, and political activities.

GEOGRAPHY C262
Introduction to Cartography (6 credits)

An introduction to the study of maps as a tool of the geographer. The course will focus on the various stages involved in topographic map production and map interpretation, and the study of the cartographic methods available for presenting qualitative and quantitative statistical data on maps. Laboratory assignments of a practical nature complementary to the lectures form an important part of the course.

GEOGRAPHY C265
Maps and the Presentation of Statistical Data I (3 credits)

This course is useful to anyone interested in how to read and analyze the information on a map; or in how to display data by means of maps and diagrams. It is basic to all other courses in Geography. Topics include: analysis of topographic, land use, urban, and weather maps; the application of maps to economic, social, medical, and historical topics; the interpretation of aerial photographs. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOG C262 may not take this course for credits.

GEOGRAPHY C266
Maps and the Presentation of Statistical Data II (3 credits)

The emphasis will be on thematic maps, and statistical diagrams and graphs. Elementary quantitative techniques will be studied along with their application to the analysis of geographic, economic, population, and other scientific data. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOG C262 may not take this course for credits.

GEOGRAPHY C271
The Natural Environment (6 credits)

An introduction to the earth sciences as they relate to the environment of man, with special emphasis on weather, climate, and the evolution of landscape.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for either GEOG C275 or C276 may not take this course for credits.

GEOGRAPHY C273
The Sea (6 credits)

A physical, historical, and human geography of the world ocean. The course includes an introduction to oceanography, navigation, and elementary geophysics, as well as an account of travels and discovery ending with modern scientific exploration of the deeps. Topics include coasts and islands; ports, ships, and shipping; submarine topography; waves, tides, and earthquakes; marine life, fish, and fisheries.

GEOGRAPHY C275
Climate and the Biosphere (3 credits)

A study of the energy systems of the atmosphere and an introduction to environmental geography. The hydrologic cycle, world climates, and weather systems. Interrelationships in the biosphere and man's impact upon them. Weather and climate maps will also be studied. Lectures: 3 hours per week, including laboratory.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOG C271 may not take this course for credits.

GEOGRAPHY C276
Landforms and the Biosphere (3 credits)

GEOG C275 a help. An introduction to the energy systems of the earth's crust and oceans, and the processes that have shaped our environment. The evolution of land forms and man's impact upon landscapes. The Pleistocene aand Recent epochs in Canada, and their effects on soils and land use. The study of relevant topographic land-use maps and aerial photographs. Lectures: 3 hours per week, including laboratory.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOG C271 may not take this course for credits.

GEOGRAPHY C305
Tutorial in Man-Environment Relationships I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: 18 credits in Geography. Tutorial discussion of the changing human attitudes to nature, perception of the environment, and of the impact of environmental factors on man and culture.

GEOGRAPHY C312
Political Geography (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOG C211 or permission of the Department. The course will be structured around traditional and contemporary themes in political geography. Emphasis will be on the political/administrative organization of space, the interrelationships between politics and environment, electoral geography, and the geographical aspects of public policy.

GEOGRAPHY C313
Montreal: Habitat and Society (6 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOG C211, or permission of the Department. The course is an introduction to the urban geography of Montreal, both past and present. Three themes are investigated. They are: (a) 'habitat': the biophysical environment of the site, the growth of the physical fabric of the city, and the evolution of its architectural forms; (b) 'Society and ways of life': the origins and growth of population, the ethnic and cultural heritage of the city, and the pattern of social areas within the metropolitan region; and (c) 'the contemporary urban scene': the personality of the city's landmarks, nodes, streetscapes, and districts. Fieldwork is an important part of the course.

GEOGRAPHY C315
Cultural Geography (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOG C211, or permission of the Department. Cultural Geography is concerned with the application of the concept of culture to geographic problems. Attention is focused on the spatial patterning of material and non-material elements of culture (culture areas); on the processes of cultural, temporal, and spatial change; on the relationships between man and land (cultural ecology); and especially on how these relationships are reflected in different ensembles of man and land (cultural landscapes).

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOG C316 may not take this course for credits.

GEOGRAPHY C317
Population Geography (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOG C200 or GEOG C211, or permission of the Department. The characterisitics, dynamics, and distribution of world populations. Census data and techniques of census analysis. Rural/urban populations and their varying proportions. The vital processes of population change; natural increase and migration. Growth rates, population policies, and population pressure. Study of selected groups. The demographic prospects.

GEOGRAPHY C325
Introduction to Historical Geography
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOG C211 or permission of the Department. This course aims to develop a geographical understanding of the past for its own sake and for its relevance to interpreting present geographical patterns of population, settlement and economic activity. The focus is on sources and techniques in historical geography. These are demonstrated through case studies of selected themes and problems.

GEOGRAPHY C331
Urban Geography (6 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOG C211 or URBS C280, or permission of the Department. A study of the prehistoric town, the Greek and Roman town, towns in the Middle Ages, the trading city, the pioneer town, and the modern metropolis. The distribution of such towns, their development, growth, and internal pattern of organization will be looked at from a historical and geographical point of view. Problems of conurbations and large metropolitan cities in the present age will be discussed and evaluated. Special emphasis will be given to Canadian cities, to their site, function, organization, growth, and development, as well as to urban problems relating to zoning, transportation, urban renewal, etc.

GEOGRAPHY C341
Regional Geography of Canada (6 credits)

Prerequisite: One of GEOG C200, C211, C271, C275, and C276, or permission of the Department. A study of Canada, past and present, based on the various natural regions into which the country is divided. In the first half of the course, a historic-geographical approach will be taken to bring to the student's attention the main trends in Canadian cultural and historical development from aboriginal times to the present. The changing nature of man-land relationships at different periods of time, and under different forms of occupance, will receive particular attention. In the second half of the course, the present-day pattern of human occupance on a regional and national basis will be analyzed.

GEOGRAPHY C345
The Geography of a Selected Region
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: One of GEOG C200, C211, C271, C275, and C276, or permission of the Department. A detailed examination of the physical environment, the people, their history, and the present political and economic patterns within the region. The course will provide a deep understanding of the interrelationships between the constituents of the region and an appreciation of those factors responsible for regional unity, and will also illustrate the holistic nature of the geographical discipline.

NOTE: In alternate years, beginning 1976-77, this course will focus on the Geography of the USSR.

GEOGRAPHY C346
The Geography of a Selected Region
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. A student who has received credit for GEOG C345 may register for GEOG C346 provided the subject matter is different.

GEOGRAPHY C352
Geography of Recreation (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOG C211, second-year standing in the Recreation and Leisure Studies Programme, or permission of the Department. The course examines the geographical aspects of recreation. The approaches followed are from the viewpoints of spatial patterns, landscape analysis and man-environment relations. The topics studied are within the framework of (i) recreation in the countryside and (ii) recreation in the city. Specific topics include national parks, recreation land capability analysis, landscape evaluation, and city parks.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOG C356 may not take this course for credits.

GEOGRAPHY C353
Geography of Tourism (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOG C211, second-year standing in the Recreation and Leisure Studies Programme, or permission of the Department. The course examines the geographical aspects of tourism. Topics studied include: the analysis of tourist flow, the role of tourism in area development, the spatial aspects of selected elements of tourism (such as transportation and marketing), examination of selected areas as tourist destinations, and geographical analysis of resort cities.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOG C356 may not take this course for credits.

GEOGRAPHY C357
Resource Utilization and Conservation
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOG C200 or GEOG C211, or permission of the Department. The course will examine the resource concept and concepts of conservation, together with the regional approach to resource management. Case studies will include problems in developing particular natural resources.

GEOGRAPHY C358
Economic Geography I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C211 or permission of the Department. This course will deal with the spatial organization of agricultural land use, industrial patterns and networks, with some attention given to tertiary activities and urban land use. The focus will be on the classical location theories - Von Thunen, Weber, Lösch and Christaller - and their application to behaviour in the real world, characterized by individual and corporate decision-making. Selected examples of real-world distribution will be considered.

GEOGRAPHY C359
Economic Geography II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C211; GEOG C358, or permission of the Department. The aim is to integrate the various aspects of GEOG C358 by focusing on the question of regional systems and regional development. The course will examine various models of regional structure, such as, the heartland - periphery paradigm. Consideration will also be given to models of short- and long-term diffusion innovations and economic changes in the spatial economy.

GEOGRAPHY C361
Introduction to Geographical Research (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Six credits in Geography, or permission of the Department. The course will introduce students to the methods and techniques used to acquire original geographical information in the field, laboratory, and archives. The course includes a weekend field camp.

GEOGRAPHY C362
Quantitative Geography I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Twelve credits in Geography, or permission of the Department. An introductory course in the applications of descriptive and analytical statistical techniques in Geography. Lectures and laboratory. NOTE A/See §200.7

GEOGRAPHY C369
Field Studies in Geography (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C361, or permission of the Department. A field course in which a selected area is intensively studied.

GEOGRAPHY C371
Biogeography (6 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C271, or permission of the Department. A study of the distribution of plants and animals, with emphasis on their soil and climatic inter-relations. Relevant field trips are included.

GEOGRAPHY C372
Analysis of the Environment (6 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C271, or permission of the Department. A review of modern theories and techniques in geomorphology, hydrology, pedology, denudation, chronology, and landscape classification. The course includes a discussion of the Pleistocene Epoch in terms of applied research methods.

GEOGRAPHY C373
Climatology (6 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C271, or permission of the Department. The broad aspects of world regional climates considered from the point of view of both physical and dynamic climatology. The course includes practical work.

GEOGRAPHY C391
History of Geographical Thought (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Eighteen credits in Geography. A study of the development of the field of geography from ancient times down to the present. Representative geographical works of the Greeks, the Romans, and of the Middle Ages, the Age of Discovery, the nineteenth and twentieth centuries will be examined and discussed. The present-day concepts of the field and function of geography will receive special attention.

GEOGRAPHY C405
Tutorial in Man-Environment Relationships II (6 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C305. Tutorial discussion of man's impact on the environment, emphasizing current problems and issues.

GEOGRAPHY C410
Topics in Cultural Geography (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C316 and one of GEOG C312, C317, C325, or permission of the Department. Subject matter will vary from year to year, depending on the interest of the Instructor. The course will provide opportunities to senior students for discussion and advanced study.

GEOGRAPHY C411
Topics in Cultural Geography (3 credits)
Students who have received credit for GEOG C410 register under GEOG C411 for credit, provided the subject matter is different.

GEOGRAPHY C420
Topics in Historical Geography (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C325 and one of GEOG C312, C316 and C317, or permission of the Department. Subject matter will vary from year to year depending on the interests of the Instructor. The course will provide opportunities to senior students for discussion and advanced study.

GEOGRAPHY C421
Topics in Historical Geography (3 credits)
Students who have received credit for GEOG C420 register under GEOG C421 for credit provided the subject matter is different.

GEOGRAPHY C430
Topics in Urban Geography (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C331 or permission of the Department. Subject matter will vary from year to year depending on the interests of the Instructor. The course will provide opportunities to senior students for discussion and advanced study.

GEOGRAPHY C431
Topics in Urban Geography (3 credits)
Students who have received credit for GEOG C430 register under GEOG C431 for credit provided the subject matter is different.

GEOGRAPHY C433
Applied Urban Geography (6 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C331, or permission of the Department. An applied course in urban design and land use planning. An overview of current theory and practice will be balanced, during the second term, by studio planning projects emphasizing a team approach.
NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOG C401, INTE C480 or URBS C433 may not take this course for credits.

GEOGRAPHY C450
Topics in Economic Geography (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C358; GEOG C359, or permission of the Department. Subject matter will vary from year to year, depending on the interests of the Instructor. The course will provide opportunities to senior students for discussion and advanced study.

GEOGRAPHY C451
Topics in Economic Geography (3 credits)
Students who have received credit for GEOG C450 register under GEOG C451 for credit provided the subject matter is different.

GEOGRAPHY C462
Advanced Cartography (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C262 and twelve additional credits in Geography. A study of the major stages and techniques involved in map compilation, design, and production. Lectures, practical periods with assignments, and relevant field trips.
NOTE: Students who obtained credits for GEOG N-466 in 1975-76 may not register for this course.

GEOGRAPHY C463
Topics in Applied Cartography (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C462. The subject matter of the course will vary from year to year to take advantage of the special interests of the course instructor, and may include such topics as automated cartography, remote sensing, historical cartography, or special-purpose mapping. Seminars, practical applications with assignments, and relevant field trips. Students may register for this course a second time under GEOG C464.

GEOGRAPHY C464
Topics in Applied Cartography (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. A student who has received credit for GEOG C463 may register for GEOG C464 provided the subject matter is different.

GEOGRAPHY C470
Topics in Physical Geography (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Twelve credits from GEOG C371, C372, C373, or permission of the Department. Subject matter will vary from year to year, depending on the interests of the Instructor. The course will provide opportunities to senior students for discussion and advanced study.

GEOGRAPHY C471
Topics in Physical Geography (3 credits)
Students who have received credit for GEOG C470 register under GEOG C471 for credit provided the subject matter is different.

GEOGRAPHY C475
Hydrology I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C271, and one of GEOG C371, C372, or C373, or permission of the Department. Theories and practice of hydrology, with emphasis on geographical aspects and resource utilization. Includes introduction to glaciology.

GEOGRAPHY C476
Hydrology II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOG C475. Soil moisture experiments, textural analysis, hydrological models, and field trips.

GEOGRAPHY C491
Honours Essay (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Final-year standing in Honours Geography. The course will require the student to propose and conduct a research project and to produce a substantial report under the supervision of a faculty adviser.

PROGRAMMES

In addition to programmes in geology, the Department, in cooperation with Physics, Chemistry, Geography and Biology Departments, offers four geology-based interdisciplinary programmes. The Geology-Physics and Geology-Chemistry programmes are designed for students who wish to pursue careers in Geophysics and Geochemistry respectively, through subsequent job training or graduate studies. The programme in Resource Analysis and Land Use is designed to develop the conceptual and technical facility to enable graduating students to make objective judgements regarding the resource potential and land use of a geographical region. The geology programme with ecology option is available only at the Major level and as such is aimed at the generalist interested in environmental problems.

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.

24 Minor in Geology
12 GEOL C210[3], C211[3], C212[3], C213[3]
12 GEOL elective credits

NOTE: GEOL C202[3], C203[3], C205[3], C206[3], C207[3], C208[3] cover topics of general interest in Earth Sciences and may be taken by students without a strong background in science.

Students without CEGEP Geology 901 or equivalent are required to take GEOL C210[3].

Students seeking admission to the Honours programme on or after June 1, 1977, will be bound by the Honours requirements outlined in §16.2.4 of this Calendar. Students who already had Honours status by June 1, 1977, will continue to be governed by the requirements which applied at the date of their admission to the Honours programme.

Field Trips and Field Schools

Field trips, normally conducted on weekends, are mandatory in some of the geology courses. In addition, two field schools (GEOL C216, GEOL C316) are conducted by the staff in the two weeks immediately following the Spring exams. Enrolment in field schools is normally restricted to students registered in programmes for which they are required courses. Other geology students with appropriate prerequisites will be accepted only if space is available in the courses.

Summer Employment

It is strongly recommended that, prior to graduation, at least one summer be spent in some phase of geological work. Although the Department of Geology cannot guarantee summer employment, its students can normally expect to work in geology with government agencies or private exploration companies during the summer months.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

GEOLOGY C202
Oceanography (3 credits)

Geomorphology of the ocean floor, with emphasis on the significance of the mid-oceanic ridges and trench systems. The physical and chemical characteristics and circulation of ocean waters and their causes. Tides and waves. Distribution and origin of terrigenous, biogenous, chemogenic, volcanogenic, and polygenic sediments in the ocean basins. Conditions of oceanic sedimentation. Quantitative distribution of suspended sedimentary materials at the ocean bottom. Size composition of suspensions and bottom sediments. Economic resource potential of the oceans. Lectures only.

NOTE: Geology students in degree programmes may not take this course for Geology credits.

GEOLOGY C203
Man and His Geological Environment
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: None; GEOL C210 recommended. Geology in the ecosystem. The earth's atmosphere, hydrosphere, lithosphere, and biosphere in geologic time. Long-range geological effects of ecosphere pollution. Trace nutrients and health, with emphasis on the geology of trace-elements and their cause and effect on biological systems. Understanding of, control for, and prevention of natural hazards. Changes in the earth's climate. Role of Geology in land use. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students in degree programmes in Geology may not take this course for Geology credits.

GEOLOGY C205
Non-Renewable Resources (3 credits)

Prerequisite: None; GEOL C210 recommended. Rocks and ore minerals. Present and future availability of earth resources. The nature, classification, and mode of occurrence of mineral deposits. Exploration, development, and rational exploitation of mineral resources. Elements of mining economics. Distribution of oil, gas, coal, and base-metal deposits. Evaluation of the effects of mining operations on environment. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students in degree programmes in Geology may not take this course for Geology credits.

GEOLOGY C206
Earthquakes, Drifting Continents and Volcanoes (3 credits)

The aim of the course is to provide an up-to-date account of our present knowledge of earthquakes and volcanoes and their global connections which will be of general interest for students with little or no previous background in earth science. Areas of concentration will be: nature, distribution and causes of earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, earthquake waves and their effects, measuring earthquakes, great earthquakes and volcanic eruptions in world history, products of volcanic eruptions, four billion years of volcanism on the Earth and elsewhere in the solar system. Prediction of earthquakes and volcanic eruptions and global connections between earthquakes, drifting continents and volcanoes. Lectures only.

NOTE: Geology students in degree programmes may not take this course for Geology credits.

GEOLOGY C207
North America and the Great Ice Age (3 credits)

The aim of the course is to present the major principles of geology upon which our knowledge of the ice age is based. Areas of concentration will be: the development of the glacial theory, glaciers and glaciation, tracking ancient glaciers, glacial chronology in North America, two million years of cold spells and warm spells, earlier glaciations, causes of glacial climates, speculations for the future and the effect of glacial loads on the earth's crust. Lectures only.

NOTE: Geology students in degree programmes may not take this course for Geology credits.

GEOLOGY C208
The Earth, Moon and the Planets (3 credits)

The course emphasizes the cosmic perspective of the Earth and focuses attention on how the results of the last two decades of planetary exploration have brought about an intellectual revolution concerning the planets, especially their surface features, processes and histories. Lectures only.

NOTE: Geology students in degree programmes may not take this course for Geology credits.

GEOLOGY C210
Physical Geology (3 credits)

An elementary study of minerals and rocks, and of the internal and external processes which shape the earth's surface. Laboratory work deals with identification of minerals, rocks, and fossils, as well as interpretation of topographic and geologic maps. Field trips to Mount Royal, Eastern Townships, and Laurentians. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C211
Mineralogy I (3 credits)

Physical and chemical properties of minerals. Crystallography, crystal notation, stereographic projection. Crystal structures. Identification, description, and classification of minerals. One or two field trips near Montreal. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C212
Invertebrate Paleontology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C210, or equivalent. A systematic survey of major invertebrate fossil groups, with chief emphasis on morphology, classification, and geologic occurrence. Study of principles of evolutionary concepts and zonation. Some selected discussion on paleoecology. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C213
Structural Geology I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C210 or equivalent, previously or concurrently or permission of the Department. Major structural features of the Earth; principles of rock deformation; primary structures in igneous and sedimentary rocks and their significance. Classification and analysis of folds and fractures, study of secondary structures associated with folding. Laboratory deals with structural problems solved by orthographic and stereographic methods. Several field trips to selected outcrop areas, with reports. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C215
Photogeology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C213, previously or concurrently, or permission of the Department. Evaluation of rocks, landforms, and geologic structures by means of aerial photographs. Principles of photointerpretation and photogrammetry. Introduction to remote sensing. Laboratory: geological interpretation of stereopairs from Canada and other countries; horizontal and vertical measurements and calculations. Construction of base maps using triangulation methods. Preparation of a geological map, with sections and report based on photointerpretation. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C216
Field Methods (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C213; GEOL C221. Elements of surveying, construction of base maps. Geological field methods: description and recording of geological field data, construction of geological maps. Collection and presentation of field data in exploration geophysics and exploration geochemistry. One lecture per week in the Winter Session and two-week field school in the Spring, immediately after the final examinations.

GEOLOGY C221
Physics of the Earth (2 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Mathematics 103; CEGEP Mathematics 203; CEGEP Physics 303; GEOL C210 or equivalent. This course is directed toward the general understanding of physical phenomena of the solid earth. Subjects for consideration include the following: earth's origin, age, radioactivity, magnetism, gravity field, seismology, heat flow, structure and physical state of the earth's interior. Lectures only.

GEOLOGY C223
Introduction to Geochemistry (2 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Chemistry 201; CEGEP Physics 30l; CEGEP Mathematics 103; CEGEP Mathematics 203; GEOL C210. The course will focus on the application of concepts of elementary chemistry to geological problems. Subjects for consideration include: application of thermodynamics to geological problems, phase equilibria relationships in petrogenesis, partitioning of elements, crystal chemistry, distribution of elements, chemistry of natural waters including properties of water at high temperatures and pressures. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students who have credit for GEOL C222 may not take this course for credits.

GEOLOGY C310
Historical Geology (2 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOL C212; GEOL C213, or permission of the Department. Fundamental concepts in Historical Geology; principles of stratigraphy, paleogeography and geochronology. A systematic review of the geological history of the Earth, and development of life forms from the Precambrian to Recent. Geological evolution of classical areas with special attention to the North American continent. Studies of stratigraphic sections and geological maps. Lectures only.

GEOLOGY C311
Introductory Petrology (6 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOL C211. The identification and description of hand specimens of igneous, sedimentary, and metamorphic rocks. Rock associations. Classification and origin of major rock groups. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C312
Mineralogy II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOL C211. Point and translational symmetry, point groups, space groups, interpretation of space-group tables, elements of crystal chemistry, chemistry and phase relations of important rock-forming minerals. Stereographic projections of crystal data; the Universal Stage and powder diffractometry in identifying minerals are subjects stressed in laboratories. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C313
Optical Crystallography (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOL C211. Behaviour of light in crystals. The optical indicatrix. The polarizing microscope and optical properties of minerals. Identification of non-opaque minerals in oil immersion and thin sections. If time permits, use of the Universal Stage will be introduced. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C314
Stratigraphy (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOL C212; GEOL C311. Introduction to historical developments of stratigraphic concepts. Role of natural dynamic processes in the evolution of stratigraphic record. Discussion on stratigraphic classification and nomenclature. Major classification of tectonic elements in sedimentary basins, and broad patterns in the distribution of sedimentary rocks in relation to tectonic framework. Detailed analysis of stratigraphic principles, such as correlation (lithostratigraphic, biostratigraphic, chronostratigraphic), facies (lithofacies; biofacies), unconformities, and cyclotherm. Critical evaluation of stratigraphic sequences using modern and ancient examples for the recognition of aeolian, alluvial fan, fluvial, lacustrine tidal flats, barrier coastlines, carbonate shoreline, shallow marine and submarine environments. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C316
Field Geology (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOL C216; GEOL C311, or permission of the Department. Two-week field work right after the final examination period. Working in groups, students will map an area, prepare sections, and submit a geological map and/or written report. Group studies of important outcrops or outcrop areas and quarries. Transportation is provided by the Department but students must pay for board and lodging.

GEOLOGY C317
Earth Resources (2 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOL C311, previously or concurrently. Economic evaluation of mineral deposits, coal deposits and oil reservoirs. Study of principal ore types of major metal commodities and of fossil fuels, their geological characteristics and world distribution patterns. Lectures only.
NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOL C412 may not take this course for credits.

GEOLOGY C318
Structural Geology II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOL C213. Concepts of strain and mechanics of deformation. Description of tectonic fabrics and analysis of folds; identification and interpretation of polyphase deformation. Regional structural associations and their evaluation. Laboratory will include field oriented structural problems, drill holes and regional structural analysis. Use of aerial photographs in the preparation of geological maps and sections. Several field trips and structural mapping of selected outcrops or outcrop areas. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C322
Phanerozoic Geology of Canada (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOL C310; GEOL C311 (may be taken concurrently). A study of the geology of Cordilleran, Appalachian and Arctic provinces, platforms and continental shelves of Canada with emphasis on structure, stratigraphy, tectonic evolution and resources. Reading assignments and colloquium are used to probe into specific problems. Lectures and seminars.

GEOLOGY C323
Precambrian Geology of Canada (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GEOL C310; GEOL C311 (may be taken concurrently). A study of the geology of the Canadian Shield with emphasis on problems of correlation, tectonic style and distribution of ore deposits. Lectures and seminars.

GEOLOGY C324
Analytical Methods in Geochemistry
(6 credits)
Prerequisite: CEGEP Chemistry 201; CEGEP Physics 301; CEGEP Mathematics 103; CEGEP Mathematics 203; or equivalent courses. Chemical equilibrium as applied to volumetric and gravimetric procedures; general theory of volumetric titrations; titration curves; application of general titration theory to neutralization precipitation; complexation oxidation- reduction and nonaqueous solvent titrations; theory of potentiometry and potentiometric titrations; theory of gravimetric analysis; methods of separation by chemical and physical means; electrogravimetry and electrolytic separations; absorptimetric theory and absorptimetric methods of analysis. Analyses of major and minor components of geological material. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: A student who has obtained credits for CHEM C211 may not take this course for credit.

GEOLOGY C325
Geostatistics and Computer Applications in Geology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C210, or equivalent. Statistical analysis and computing methods applied to geological problems. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C390
Petrology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C311; GEOL C313. Microscopic study of thin sections of common igneous, metamorphic and sedimentary rocks. Selected topics in petrogenesis. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOL C411 may not take this course for credits.

GEOLOGY C411
Igneous and Metamorphic Petrology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C311; GEOL C312; GEOL C313. Interpretation of phase diagrams. Mineralogy, fabric, and petrogenesis of igneous and metamorphic rocks. Magmatic and metamorphic processes. ACF and AKF diagrams for various metamorphic facies. Study of selected problems. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOL C390 may claim only three credits for this course.

GEOLOGY C413
Sedimentary Petrology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C311; GEOL C313. General principles of sediment diagenesis, followed by detailed analysis of the diagenetic evolution of sandstone, shale, and carbonate rocks. Emphasis is placed heavily on the microscopic criteria in the recognition of diagenetic fabric. Problems of primary sedimentary structures and their hydro-dynamic interpretation are also discussed. Specialized topics on current development in sedimentary lithogenesis are also included. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C414
Undergraduate Research (6 credits)

Prerequisite: For Third-Year Honours students. Honours students in their final year are expected to show competence in isolating and examining a geological problem under the supervision of a faculty adviser. A written application to take the course, including a brief outline of the research project, must be made to the Department before April 15 of the second year. The application will be reviewed by a committee and a decision forwarded by mail. The results of research must be presented in the form of an undergraduate thesis, two copies of which must be submitted by April 25.

NOTE: Written requests from Specialization students, with appropriate academic records, to take the course will be considered.

GEOLOGY C415
Tectonics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C213; GEOL C221; GEOL C311. Techniques of data collection in tectonics. Structure and rheology of the upper mantle. Tectonics of crustal types to include shields, platforms, passive continental margins, Phanerozoic foldbelts, continental rifts, island-arc trench belts and oceanic rises. Sea-floor spreading, plate tectonics, magma associations and plate reconstructions. Crustal origin and growth. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOL C315 may not take this course for credits.

GEOLOGY C416
Ore Petrology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C317; GEOL C390 or GEOL C411, previously or concurrently. Petrologic studies of principal types of metallic and non-metallic mineral deposits and their genesis including the use of stable isotopes and fluid inclusions. Laboratory will include the integrated study of ore suites in handspecimen and microscopically. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOL C412 may not take this course for credits.

GEOLOGY C421
Exploration Geochemistry (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C311, or permission of the Department. Basic principles; primary and secondary dispersion processes and their significance in geochemical exploration; field and analytical techniques (one field excursion early in the fall term); interpretation of geochemical data; organization of exploration programmes; selected case histories. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C422
Exploration Geophysics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C221, or permission of the Department. A brief study of the principles of magnetic, gravimetric, electric, and seismic methods of mineral exploration; interpretation of geophysical data; organization of exploration programmes; selected case histories. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C423
Introduction to X-ray Crystallography (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C312. The nature of X-rays, diffraction, the reciprocal lattice, powder diffractometer, powder cameras, single-crystal methods. Laboratory work will stress the techniques of powder diffractometry and precession photography. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C424
Engineering Geology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C210, or equivalent (GEOL C213; GEOL C215 are recommended). Engineering properties of rocks and soils. Landslides, groundwater, frost action, and permanently frozen ground. Application of geology to engineering problems—concrete petrology, tunnels, slope control, foundations, roads, airports, dams, and reservoirs. One term paper to be prepared. The laboratory period will include field trips, engineering geology, case histories, and feasibility study of engineering geology problems. Lectures and laboratory.

GEOLOGY C425
Fossil Fuels (3 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOL C314; GEOL C415 or permission of the Department. Origin and accumulation of petroleum hydrocarbons and coal. Distribution of oil, natural gas, and coal deposits as a function of geological environments. Geology of major oil and coal fields of the world. Global energy requirements and production forecasts. Lectures and laboratory.

PROGRAMMES

Health Education offers three programmes:
1. B.A. Specialization in Community Nursing
2. Certificate in Community Nursing
3. Certificate in Health Education

Beginning January 1, 1983, no new students will be admitted into Health Education Programmes. Courses will continue to be scheduled to meet the needs of students in the programmes.

All three programmes may be taken on a full-time or part-time basis. A minimum of one course in a semester is mandatory in all three programmes.

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.
The superscript indicates credit value.

66 BA Specialization in Community Nursing
Prerequisite: R.N.
Year I
18 NURS C205[3], HEAL C206[6], C209[3], C211[3], C215[3]
Year II
24 NURS C301[3], C307[3], HEAL C320[6], HEAL C323[3], NURS C324[6], C325[3]
Year III
12 NURS C415[3], C417[3], C435[3], C436[3]
12 Elective credits in Nursing chosen in consultation with the programme adviser

45 Certificate in Community Nursing
Prerequisite: R.N.
45 HEAL C206[6], NURS C213[3], C301[3], C307[3], HEAL C320[6], C323[3], NURS C324[6], C325[3], C415[3], C417[3], C435[3], C436[3]

Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to twelve credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

45 Certificate in Health Education
18 HEAL C206[6], C209[3], C320[6], C323[3]
27 Elective credits in Health chosen in consultation with the programme adviser.

Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to twelve credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

Nursing Courses

NURSING C205
Current Issues in Nursing(3 credits)

An introductory course designed to explore, at the local and national levels, educational and professional concepts of nursing, their similarities and differences, and their influence on the changing patterns in nursing. The major intent is to illustrate the relationship between the profession, the impinging pressure to change, and nursing's reaction and response to this concept.

NURSING C213
Basic Nutrition(3 credits)

The goal of this course is to provide instruction on theoretical and practical knowledge of normal nutrition. The course content includes food habits and food ways; psychological, sociological, and cultural effects on food habits; the world food crisis; hunger and its effects on people; major nutrients and their interrelationships in human nutrition. The Nutrition Canada Survey assessment of nutrition status will be discussed. Nutrition during the life span, pregnancy and lactation, growth and development, aging and the aged will be described. Weight control, food economics, protection of food supply, food fads and fallacies will be examined.

NOTE: This course is not available to students who have received credit for an equivalent course.

NURSING C301
Pharmacology for Nurses (3 credits)

Prerequisite: HEAL C206, or equivalent. This course is designed to introduce nurses to the basic concepts of drug pharmacokinetics as the basis for rational therapeutics. The major drug classes will be reviewed, emphasizing those drug effects that are important for the Registered Nurse in providing modern therapeutic care. Stress will be made on the importance of collaboration between professions for the better care of the patient.

NOTE: Students must take NURS C301 and C307 in consecutive terms.

NURSING C307
Pharmacology: The Nurse's Role in the Community (3 credits)

Prerequisite: NURS C301. The purpose of this course is to apply the principles of pharmacodynamics and pharmacokinetics given in NURS C301 to individual and community health problems. The course content includes identification and discussion of major drug classes; hormones, contraceptives, psychotropic drugs, alcohol, opiates, barbiturates, stimulants, hallucinogens, nicotine, antibiotics, etc. The consequences of drug use and abuse in personal, family, and community life, as well as the nurse's role will be considered.

NOTE: Students must take NURS C301 and C307 in consecutive terms.

NURSING C324
Pathophysiology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: HEAL C206. This course will study body systems and the common diseases which attack them. Normal and abnormal functioning will be compared; e.g., the circulatory system and heart disease. Stress will be laid upon control and prevention. The systems to be discussed are: digestive, excretory, endocrine, circulatory, nervous, musculatory, and respiratory.

NURSING C325
Community Nutrition (3 credits)

Prerequisite: NURS C213 or equivalent. This course will apply basic nutrition knowledge to the problems of nutrition in the community. It will prepare students to act as facilitators of change in the food habits of their clients and assist them to practise clinical evaluation of nutrition through field work under supervision. Existing community programmes and resources to improve nutritional status will be evaluated.

NURSING C391
Selected Topics in Nursing (3 credits)

The theme and the methodology will vary according to the special interests of the professor and the needs of the students. The course is designed to provide students with the opportunity to extend their studies beyond the subjects already included in the curriculum.

NURSING C392
Selected Topics in Nursing (3 credits)

Students who have received credit for NURS C391 may register for NURS C392 provided the subject matter is different.

NURSING C393
Anthropological Concepts in Nursing(3 credits)

This course is an introduction to anthropological concepts relevant to nursing problems and an explanation of the application of these concepts. The cross-cultural perspective on health attitudes, illness behaviour, and medical practices is of particular interest to nurses providing service to culturally diverse communities and to third-world medical aid programmes. No previous anthropology is required.

NURSING C395
Leadership and Community Change
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: HEAL C209; HEAL C320, or equivalent. This course examines a variety of leadership styles and the effectiveness of each in producing social change. Students learn methods of determining when social change is needed and methods of planning, implementing, and evaluating interventions designed to produce such changes.

NURSING C415
Community Nursing I: Nursing Assessment
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: HEAL C215; HEAL C323. This course is designed to help students to learn to make comprehensive community nursing-care plans. Such plans require understanding of the ethnic, cultural, demographic, and socio-economic influences upon the lives of people and of the methods for collecting data with which to assess the health needs of the individuals and families comprising a community.

NOTE: NURS C415 and C417 must be taken in consecutive terms.

NURSING C417
Community Nursing II: Roles in Intervention
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: NURS C415. In this course, students study the concerns of governments, educational institutions, and health agencies with the prevention of disease and the promotion of health. They learn ways in which nurses may intervene to help individuals and families to adopt healthful life styles.

NOTE: NURS C415 and C417 must be taken in consecutive terms.

NURSING C431
School Health Nursing (3 credits)

This course presents the health needs of school pupils and personnel. It explores the responsibilities of provincial and local Departments of Health, the school authorities, and the school personnel and nurse in meeting these needs. It assists nurses to plan programmes of health services, health education, and healthful school living for various levels and types of schools, to inaugurate such programmes, and to coordinate the efforts of schools and community agencies to promote health and prevent illness in schools.

NURSING C433
Nursing the Elderly (3 credits)

This course provides a study of the physiological and psychological adjustments necessary to adapt a life style to the later years of life. It attempts to assist students to make an accurate assessment of a client's physical, social, and emotional condition, to use available health resources to maintain or restore health, and to develop guidelines for home care, health counselling, referral to other health professionals, and follow-up.

NURSING C435
Family Structure and Health Care Delivery I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: NURS C417. This course is concerned with the life cycle of the family structure, the interaction between the ever-changing family relationships and the health system, and the influence of health and disease upon these relationships.

NOTE: NURS C435 and C436 must be taken in consecutive terms.

NURSING C436
Family Structure and Health Care Delivery II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: NURS C435. Building on the theoretical knowledge of NURS C435, this course emphasizes home visiting, patterns of home-care process recording, teaching families to know and use suitable community agencies. Stress is placed on knowledge of healthful life styles as a means of preventing illness.

NOTE: NURS C435 and C436 must be taken in consecutive terms.

NURSING C437
Occupational Health Nursing (3 credits)

This course will deal with the relationship between doctor and nurse, employer and employee; management and the health department. Also, the role of the nurse today and tomorrow in our rapidly changing society. Instruction will consist of lectures, group discussions, and practical applications through field work and simulation.

NURSING C495
Advanced Topics in Nursing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: As determined by the programme adviser. The theme will vary according to the special interests of the professor and the needs of the students. The course is designed to provide students with the opportunity to take advantage of the special interests and expertise of a professor, and to develop this knowledge and these abilities in an area not covered in the programme.

NURSING C496
Advanced Topics in Nursing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: As determined by the programme adviser. A student who has received credit for NURS C495 may register for NURS C496 provided the subject matter is different.

NURSING C497
Advanced Topics in Nursing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: As determined by the programme adviser. The theme will vary according to the special interests of the professor and the needs of the students. The course is designed to provide students with the opportunity to take advantage of the special interests and expertise of a professor, and to develop this knowledge and these abilities in an area not covered in the programme.

NURSING C498
Advanced Topics in Nursing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: As determined by the programme adviser. A student who has received credit for NURS C497 may register for NURS C498 provided the subject matter is different.

Health Education Courses

HEALTH EDUCATION C206
Applied Human Physiology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: R.N. or CEGEP Biology or BIOL C201, or equivalent. A course on the functions of the human body. A detailed analysis of homeostasis from a systems approach will be given. Physiological processes as applied to clinical testing will be described.

HEALTH EDUCATION C208
Nutrition in the 80's(6 credits)

This course will study the influence of socio-economic and political systems on the nutritional status of the individual, and the interrelationship between food habits and the cultural, social, and psychological aspects of life. Topics will include diet-related problems such as obesity, heart disease, faulty eating habits, malnutrition. Food budgeting for all levels of the socio-economic structure will be examined.

HEALTH EDUCATION C209
Personal Interrelations (3 credits)

This course is designed to provide an orientation to the field of interpersonal relationship and human awareness, focusing particularly on relating to and working with other people. Concepts of personal growth and development will be highlighted.

HEALTH EDUCATION C211
Clinical Epidemiology and Biostatistics I (3 credits)

The purpose of this course is to present the concepts and methods of epidemiology as they are applied to a variety of disease problems. Emphasis is placed on the integration of biological and statistical elements in the sequence of epidemiological reasoning that derives inferences about the etiology of disease from population data. The course will concentrate on epidemiology of infectious disease and the measurement of health status in a community. NOTE See §200.7

NOTE: HEAL C211 and C215 must be taken in consecutive terms.

HEALTH EDUCATION C215
Clinical Epidemiology and Biostatistics II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: HEAL C211. Necessary statistical methods for conducting and analyzing epidemiological studies will be further described. Retrospective and prospective studies are defined and described. Their impact as a means of determining association between etiological factors and disease will be discussed. The advantages and disadvantages of these methods of investigation will be compared. Classical epidemiological experiments and clinical serials will be reviewed. These will be analyzed in the context of health care research. NOTE See §200.7

NOTE: HEAL C211 and C215 must be taken in consecutive terms.

HEALTH EDUCATION C251
Hunger in the Classroom: The School's Role(3 credits)

Review of evidence indicating existence of malnutrition in schools in Quebec, followed by discussion of observable effects of hunger and malnutrition in the classroom. Discussion of various programmes and approaches by the school administration, the school board, the teachers, nurses, etc., taken to alleviate the problem. Topics of discussion will include: Action for school lunches; Malnutrition; Learning and behaviour - Nutrition education programme.

HEALTH EDUCATION C261
Community Health Information(3 credits)

This course will investigate the formal and informal patterns in Health Education. This information will be applied in order to plan pertinent programmes that will serve society. Data collected will be used in curriculum-planning exercises and programme development within formal educational systems, such as schools and CEGEPs, in such areas as cardiovascular disease, anti-smoking clinics, family life education.

HEALTH EDUCATION C270
School Health Services Seminar(6 credits)

The seminar will deal with current issues of school health, nationally and locally, and their effect on our present school health programmes. It will consider the interrelation of the school administrators, the family, community, and health professionals in utilizing existing resources for a more efficient distribution of health care to school-age children. The need for leadership, group participation, and community cooperation in defining and dealing with priorities will be demonstrated through the media of case studies and problem-solving techniques.

HEALTH EDUCATION C319
Drug Use and Abuse(3 credits)

The course is structured to introduce non-medical personnel to the modern concepts of drug therapeutics, and to discuss the consequences of use and abuse of drugs. The drug classifications will include steroids, antibiotics, minor and major psychotropics, and the potential chronic abuse of drugs such as amphetamines and other stimulants, barbiturates, and other sedatives, hallucinogens, minor tranquilizers, opiate narcotics, alcohol, and tobacco.

HEALTH EDUCATION C320
Interviewing Techniques and Counselling Concepts (6 credits)

Prerequisite: HEAL C209, or equivalent. A course in which the student examines the dynamics of helping interviews, models of human effectiveness, and theories of counselling. The variety of issues to be covered includes the enhancement of specific skills through different training experiences, a proper emphasis on self-understanding, an awareness of the role of philosophy, ethical standards, and research. This course demands a high level of observation, participation, and involvement from each student.

NOTE: Students will receive no more than 6 credits from among HEAL C320, APSS C451 and APSS C452.

HEALTH EDUCATION C323
Teaching Strategies for the Health Professional (3 credits)

Prerequisite: HEAL C209; HEAL C320. This course is designed to meet the needs of individuals who are involved in educational programmes in schools, industry, clinics, volunteer agencies, in-service programmes, etc., aimed at promotion and maintenance of health, prevention of disease, and rehabilitation.

HEALTH EDUCATION C397
Selected Topics in Health Education(3 credits)

The theme and the methodology will vary according to the special interests of the professor and the needs of the students. The course is designed to provide students with the opportunity to extend their studies beyond the subjects already included in the curriculum.

HEALTH EDUCATION C398
Selected Topics in Health Education(3 credits)

A student who has received credit for HEAL C397 may register for HEAL C398 provided the subject matter is different.

HEALTH EDUCATION C401
Public Health Administration(3 credits)

The basic objective of this course is to make the student aware of the administrative structure of the health-care system in the Province of Quebec and elsewhere. Emphasis will be centered around the planning of health-care programmes, health economics, and various health administrative systems commonly used today. Case analysis will be used to study the solving of health administrative problems.

HEALTH EDUCATION C403
The Law and the Health Professional(3 credits)

This course is designed for nurses, other health professionals, and administrators working in various health services. The content includes an analysis of Quebec and Canadian Law, civil and criminal liability and how it affects the health workers, the legal status of a hospital corporation and a community clinic and their interior workings. This course will also provide discussions of patients' rights, informed consent to treatment, recent Canadian court decisions on malpractice, and other subjects of interest to the students.

HEALTH EDUCATION C408
Group Structure and the Role of the Community Worker(6 credits)

The course is developed to assist volunteers, interested citizens, social workers, and individuals with no formal health training but working as a part of a multidisciplinary team, to identify their roles in order to play a more effective part as community workers. Assignments will be directed toward practical applications of field work to problem-solving in a field of their choice: i.e., post-retirement, rehabilitation of drug addicts and alcoholics, single parents, etc.

HEALTH EDUCATION C410
Community Mental Health(6 credits)

This course will explore the historical and traditional models of mental health as they relate to the more progressive model of community mental health. The intent is to gain some knowledge of topics of concern within the community: crisis and suicide prevention, how to handle specific situations such as problems in a school, industry, home, and clinical setting. The course is structured for people in the helping professions: nurses, social workers, counsellors, teachers, nutritionists, etc.

HEALTH EDUCATION C418
Current Health Issues (6 credits)

This course deals with areas selected for their epidemiological importance in the understanding of modern health problems. Implications of human ecology, pollution, and environment on disease outcomes will be described.

HEALTH EDUCATION C472
Special Workshop on Human Sexuality
(6 credits)

The course investigates "Psychological Concepts of Human Sexuality as they influence Family Planning and Sex Education." The study will explore variations in sexual patterning, therapy and counselling, biological, anthropological and ontological perspectives of sexuality. Open to educators, guidance counsellors, nurses, social workers, and psychologists.

NOTE: This course may be taken only by students registered in the Health Education or Nursing Programmes. Students will receive no more than 6 credits from HEAL C472 and APSS C453.

30 Minor or Certificate in the History of Quebec
This programme is designed to prepare teachers at both the Secondary and CEGEP levels to offer courses in the History of Quebec. It also provides an outline of study for those who are generally interested in the topic of Quebec History.
3 HIST C209[3]
3 HIST C210[3]
12 Chosen from HIST C307[3], C308[3], C315[6]; or from HIST C393[6], C394[6], C395[3], C396[3] as courses or tutorials with Québec content
6 Chosen from HIST C400[6] or HIST C491[6] as a tutorial with Québec content
6 Chosen from courses on Quebec or French Canada offered by the Departments of Economics, Etudes Françaises, Geography, Political Science or Sociology.

Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to twelve credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

HISTORY C200
The Nature and Practice of History
(6 credits)
This course, open only to History students, will address itself to two types of concerns. Students will examine the nature of historical enquiry: its varieties, purposes, traditions, and its place in contemporary society. In addition, they will receive systematic introduction to the practical aspects of critical scholarship: the use of the library, methods of research, and forms of writing critical essays.

HISTORY C201
Introduction to European History to 1789
(3 credits)
A survey of the history of Europe to the French Revolution, with emphasis on the development of ideas and political institutions.

HISTORY C202
Introduction to European History, from 1789 to the Present (3 credits)
A survey of the history of Europe from the French Revolution to the present, with emphasis on the development of ideas and political institutions.

HISTORY C203
History of Canada, Pre-Confederation
(3 credits)
A survey of Canadian history, from settlement to Confederation, emphasizing readings and discussions on selected problems.

HISTORY C205
History of Canada, Post-Confederation
(3 credits)
A survey of Canadian history from Confederation to the present, emphasizing readings and discussions on selected problems.

HISTORY C208
Native Peoples of Canada (6 credits)
This course examines the Canadian Native experience from a multi-disciplinary perspective, including history, law, education, the arts, etc. Focusing on Eastern Canada and, in particular, Quebec, it attempts to understand the Native experience and contemporary situation.

HISTORY C209
Quebec to 1867 (3 credits)
An introductory survey of the history of Québec from its origins as a colony to the creation of modern Canada by the British North American Act of 1867. Particular emphasis will be placed on a consideration of those elements of Québec's past which best assist in the comprehension of the trends prevalent in modern Québec.

HISTORY C210
Québec since Confederation (3 credits)
A survey of the history of Québec from the time of Confederation until the present. While due emphasis will be placed on political developments in the Province, the purpose of the course is to acquaint the student with the significant economic and social trends in modern Québec.

HISTORY C215
History of Recreation and Leisure in Canada (3 credits)

A survey of the history of recreation and leisure from the time of European contact with native peoples to the present day. It is placed in the context of Canadian history to examine such phenomena as European and American influences on Canada, effects of urbanization, the roles of women in society, and the commercialization of leisure. Recreation and leisure are understood to include not only sports and games but such activities as rural bees, education, drinking, gambling, and celebrations. The course will also provide an introduction to the historical literature on recreation and leisure, and to the discipline of History.

HISTORY C219
(Also given as Classics C230)
The Ancient Near East I (3 credits)

A survey of the political; social, economic, and intellectual history of the Ancient Near East, from the Neolithic age to the Indo-European invasions of the early 2nd Millennium, with special emphasis placed upon the problem of the emergence of civilization in Mesopotamia, Egypt, and the Indus valley. Ancient sources utilized wherever possible.

HISTORY C221
(Also given as Classics C231)
The Ancient Near East II (3 credits)

A survey of the political, social, economic, and intellectual history of the Ancient Near East, from the Indo-European invasion of the early 2nd Millennium to the establishment of the Persian Empire, with special emphasis placed upon the process of diffusion of civilization throughout the Near Eastern World, the creation of Egyptian, Mesopotamian, and Persian imperialism, and the development of Hebrew monotheism. Ancient sources utilized wherever possible.

HISTORY C223
(Also given as Classics C240)
Greek History I (3 credits)

INDIVIDUAL STUDIES PROGRAMME

Under the direction of the Provost's Office

Individually Structured Programmes (Specialization or Honours)

Admission

Opportunities are available in some departments and programmes to follow an Individually Structured Specialization or Honours Programme. Students must apply to the department that seems most relevant to the central aspect of their proposed programme. Students in general must have demonstrated in their previous academic endeavours that they are capable of good (B level) achievement, but in exceptional cases a student may be admitted provisionally on the recommendation of the department undergraduate coordinator.

Formal entry to the ISP may occur only after completion of preparatory courses such as are required in Matury Entry and ECP programmes. Students wishing to follow an Honours programme must follow the Faculty procedures and regulations concerning admission to Honours programmes.

Academic Regulations

The programme will consist of not less than 60 credits. The courses chosen must be based on a departmental or programme core, usually the major, but not less than 24 credits. Students will thus be required to complete necessary prerequisites, and general preparation courses such as Research Methods or Statistics, so that they could later follow a regular departmental programme if they so desire.

A Specialization student must maintain* an average of C+ in all Specialization courses; the minimum acceptable grade in any single Specialization course is C-.

For purposes of continuation in the programme from year to year as well as for graduation.*

Students in Honours programmes must meet the Faculty Honours requirements.

The programme of study must be worked out at the time of student registration into the programme. Admission to the programme must be finalized before a student registers for the final 60 credits of the 90-credit protion of their degree. To allow for the non-availbility of certain courses during certain sessions, allowable substitute courses must be listed in advance. Such substitution provisions will be necessary only in the case of specialized courses that are known not to be available on a session by session basis. The intention of this regulation is to assure that the programme does not become an ad hoc mixture of courses without clearly rationalized academic coherence.

Students must prepare a careful, not necessarily long, statement of their goals indicating the specific reasons for their programme choice. The rationale and the sequence of courses chosen must be approved by the departmental programme coordinator and the Assistant Dean for Student Academic Affairs.

All correspondence concerning the Individual Studies Programme should be addressed to:

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES COURSES

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

HUMANITIES 110

General Course in Humanities (6 credits)

It is the purpose of this course to enlarge and enrich the student's comprehension of his cultural heritage by the study of man as a unique creative being. The sources for this study of man are drawn primarily from the fields of history, philosophy, religion, literature and the arts with a view toward examining those experiences and ideas of enduring power which have shaped the nature of modern man from the age of Greece to the present century. (6 credits, which may not be applied to the degree programme of students admitted to the University on the basis of the D.E.C. or formal academic equivalent).

SOCIAL SCIENCE 110

General Course in the Social Sciences (6 credits)

This course has a dual purpose: to introduce the student to some of the basic concepts and subject matter of the various social sciences and to demonstrate their interrelation; and to provide the student with some knowledge of contemporary society and the social problems which confront it. (6 credits, which may not be applied to the degree programme of students admitted to the University on the basis of the D.E.C. or formal academic equivalent).

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES C200
Introduction to the Methods of the Humanities and Social Sciences (6 credits)

This course will introduce students to representative methods used in the humanities and social sciences. Methodologies suitable to each discipline will be shown through examples and projects centered upon themes with Canadian content where possible. Instruction will be shared by the professors from the disciplines concerned.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES C201
Aesthetics: An Interdisciplinary Approach (6 credits)

This course attempts to bring together a number of areas central to the cultural climate of our time, with emphasis on aesthetics, and man's encounter with the creative arts. The course examines the relation of aesthetics, generally, (and art in particular) to the crisis in values, and to contemporary identity crisis. More specifically, artistic questions such as the meanings and functions of style, taste, and criticism; the questions of form and content, subjectivity and objectivity in art; and the comparison of different artistic media are integrated into the broader issues noted above. The course's format is lecture and discussion, with the use of slides, recordings, and films as illustrative material.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES C230
Philosophy and Literature I: The Ancient World (3 credits)

The interaction of philosophy and imaginative literature in the ancient world, from the origins of civilization in Mesopotamia through some of the major texts of Ancient Greece and Rome. Reading and discussion of literature with a high thematic content and philosophy with important literary connections: for example, selections from Gilgamesh, The Iliad, and the works of Aeschylus, Sophocles, Euripides, Plato, Aristotle, Lucretius, and Virgil. There will be special emphasis on the following topics: epic, fate and free will, and justics in the individual and the community.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C300 or L391 may not take this course for credits.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES C231
Philosophy and Literature II: The Middle Ages and the Renaissance (3 credits)

The interaction of philosophy and imaginative literature in the Middle Ages and the Renaissance, from late Rome to 1605. Reading and discussion of literature with a high thematic content and philosophy with important literary connections: for example, selections from The Romance of the Rose, and the works of Apuleius, Augustine, Dante, Thomas Aquinas, Machiavelli, Marlowe and Shakespeare. There will be special emphasis on the following topics: romance, faith, reason, and will.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C302 or L393 may not take this course for credits.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES C232
Philosophy and Literature III: The Modern World (1605-1832) (3 credits)

The interaction of philosophy and imaginative literature in the Western World in the seventeenth, eighteenth, and early nineteenth centuries. Reading and discussion of literature with a high thematic content and philosophy with close literary connections: for example, from the works of such authors as Bacon, Pascal, Newton, Milton, Locke, Berkeley, Pope, Rousseau, Hume, Goethe, Kant, Blake and Shelley. There will be special emphasis on the following topics: the development of natural science, the problem of perception, classicism and romanticism.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C300 or L391 may not take this course for credits.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES C233
Philosophy and Literature IV: The Modern World (1832-The Present) (3 credits)

The interaction of philosophy and imaginative literature in the Western World in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Reading and discussion of literature with a high thematic content and philosophy with close literary connections: for example, from the works of such authors as Mill, Darwin, Dostoevsky, Shaw, Freud, Sartre, and Kafka. There will be special emphasis on the following topics: the theory of evolution, the emergence of modern psychology, and existentialism.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C302 or L393 may not take this course for credits.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES C300
Selected Topics in Interdisciplinary Studies (3 credits)

The theme and methodology chosen will depend upon the background and interests of the instructor. Students are advised to consult the Director before registering, in order to be sure of the title of the course in any one session.

NOTE: With the permission of the Director, students may take this course twice for credits, provided that a different subject is dealt with the second time, and will register under INTE C301.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES C301
Selected Topics in Interdisciplinary Studies (3 credits)

Students who have received credit for INTE C300 may register for INTE C301 provided the subject matter is different.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES C302
Lecture Series (3 credits)

This course provides a flexible context for study in a field of immediate or specific interest. The theme or topic discussed will vary from year to year.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES C400
Self-Elected Specialization Tutorial
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: Reserved for Self-Elected Specialization students in their final year. This tutorial is directed by a faculty member from a field of studies relevant to the student's programme. The faculty member will be chosen by the Director in consultation with the student concerned. The tutorial Director will supervise an intensive reading programme and assist the student in the preparation of a paper. The tutorial is intended to bring together the various fields of knowledge included in the student's programme.

ADMISSION AND GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Enrolment in the writing workshops in the Journalism Programme is limited and depends on the applicants' successful completion of the admission procedures outlined in the following paragraphs.

All applicants should apply through the University Admissions Office; they must also contact the Journalism Programme office at 482-0320, Ext. 421, before April 1.

Admission procedures include: a test of English proficiency; a letter of application of about 300 words describing the student's academic and work background and aspirations in journalism; and an interview. Although it will not determine acceptance, applicants are advised that a working knowledge of French is important.

Due to enrolment limitations, priority of placement is given to students enrolled in the specific Journalism programmes.

A student must achieve a final mark of C or better in the reporting workshops in order to proceed to the next level.

To graduate with a Minor, Major or Specialization in Journalism, a student must demonstrate a working knowledge of French. Tests of oral and reading proficiency in French are administered by the Département d'Etudes Françaises on behalf of the Journalism programme, which is responsible for the final evaluation of each student's competence.

Written work in writing and reporting workshop courses is in English; please consult the Department.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

JOURNALISM C201
Writing and Reporting I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in Journalism Programme. This course gives training in basic reporting and newswriting. Students will practise writing news and will receive out-of-classroom assignments.

JOURNALISM C205
History of Journalism (3 credits)

A history of the news media in the English-speaking world, starting with the government gazettes of seventeenth-century England and their illegal, underground competition, through the "news" papers of the eighteenth century, the rise of the yellow press, the human interest story, the penny press in the nineteenth century, down to today's corporate press. The course is designed to show that our expectations of the news media are not inherent in human nature, but are the result of historical processes that continue to evolve.

JOURNALISM C210
The Media in Quebec (3 credits)

This course studies the special characteristics of Quebec media, focusing particularly on the historical development of Quebec journalism and the part it has played in the shaping of modern Quebec. Particular attention is given to the influence of journalists in cultural and political affairs. The recent increasing concentration of media ownership will be examined. Much of the reading material is in French.

NOTE: Students who have credit for JOUR C305 may not take this course for credits.

JOURNALISM C215
Contemporary News Media (3 credits)

This course introduces students to the increasingly complex structures of modern media. It will examine the organizations, practices and problems of news media, focusing on key functions in their day-to-day activities. In any given year, it may explore in detail a particular development or problem in the news media.

JOURNALISM C302
Reporting Methods (3 credits)

Prerequisite: JOUR C201. This course builds solid foundations for a variety of journalistic assignments: feature writing, background and in-depth reporting, analyses and investigative reporting. It is designed to help students understand and master a variety of information-gathering techniques, and overcome some of the hurdles confronting the contemporary journalist. It will cover: information sources, interpretation and use of documents, access to information, and reporting and interviewing techniques to supplement official and conventional information sources.

JOURNALISM C303
Feature Writing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: JOUR C302. This course is designed to help students develop and enhance their writing abilities, preparing for the broadest range of journalistic feature writing, from brief colour stories and profiles to in-depth articles. It will consolidate interviewing techniques and introduce a variety of writing approaches. Students will be building the final foundations for a full spectrum of print-oriented writing assignments, preparing for advanced reporting work and the demands of specialized journalism.

JOURNALISM C306
Radio News (3 credits)

Prerequisite: JOUR C302. Students will learn to write for newscasts and for longer broadcast formats. There will be field assignments in interviewing, tape editing, and preparation for broadcast.

JOURNALISM C310
The Press and the Law (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing in Journalism, or permission of the Director. Lectures will cover those aspects of criminal and civil law which will bear most directly on the work of professional journalists - libel, slander, contempt of court.

NOTE: Students who have credit for JOUR C405 may not take this course for credits.

JOURNALISM C400
Advanced Reporting (3 credits)

Prerequisite: JOUR C301. Students will be introduced to several areas of specialist reporting—economics and business, public affairs, medicine and science, the arts, etc.—and to a variety of journalistic treatments: background, interpretive and investigative reporting.

NOTE: Students who have credit for JOUR C401 may not take this course for credits.

JOURNALISM C402
Specialist Reporting (3 credits)

Prerequisite: JOUR C400. Students will cover a beat in the field of their choice for several weeks, producing news, features, and background stories. A term-end major background story will also be produced. There will be seminars and discussions, with leaders from the media on the specifics of beat coverage and on general media topics, such as trade unionism, ethics, journalistic responsibility.

JOURNALISM C404
Magazine Writing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: JOUR C400 and a qualifying assignment. This is a workshop for students who intend to write in the burgeoning magazine field. Students will develop and apply the techniques used in a variety of magazine formats, from the highly specialized to the general: news magazines, special interest, topical or industrial publications, expansive feature formats, and internal corporate publications. It will be of particular interest to students wishing a freelance career.

JOURNALISM C410
Principles of Editing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: JOUR C301. Lectures and workshops in the art of story editing, with an introduction to layout and design. While the material used is designed primarily for print reproduction, the techniques, and particularly the intellectual processes employed are applicable to all media.

JOURNALISM C415
Television News (3 credits)

Prerequisite: JOUR C306. The study of and practice in the application of news writing and editing for television. Classes and field assignments will cover writing, interviewing, and editing of videotape for short television newscast items and for longer news feature formats.

JOURNALISM C420
Advanced Broadcast Reporting (3 credits)

Prerequisite: JOUR C300; JOUR C306. An advanced workshop in broadcast reporting, for radio and television, in the fields of Quebec affairs and contemporary social problems. A story project submitted either in written or broadcast form will be required.

JOURNALISM C425
Special Topics in Journalism (3 credits)

Content will depend on the theme designated by the department.

JOURNALISM C426
Special Topics in Journalism (3 credits)

Students who have received credit for JOUR C425 may register for JOUR C426 provided the subject matter is different.

NOTE: All Library Studies students must take C201 and C202 as prerequisites to all other Library courses, the only exception being LIBS C411 and C461.

The Library Studies Programme offers a Major in Library Studies to those who wish to pursue a career in library work at a non-graduate level. For those interested in taking advanced studies at the Master's level, a Double Major will be necessary. (36 credits are required in Library Studies for a Major.)

All new applicants must be interviewed by the Coordinator or Assistant Coordinator. Appointments may be made at the Library Studies Office, 7079 Terrebonne Ave., Montreal West. All students must preregister with the Programme and obtain course approval prior to the date of registration.

Students will be expected to maintain an average of 65% throughout the Programme.

The Certificate in Library Studies is offered to meet the needs of students who may not wish to fulfill the requirements of a Bachelor of Arts degree. All courses in the Programme are 3-credit courses. Sixty (60) credits are required to complete the Certificate Programme, thirty-six (36) of which consist of Library Studies, with twenty-four (24) credits of electives. Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to twelve credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

Diploma in Library Studies

The Department also offers a diploma programme for students who have completed their undergraduate degree in another field. Detailed information on the programme is given in the University's Calendar of Graduate Studies.

LIBRARY STUDIES C201
Principles of Library Service (3 credits)

This course, which is the prerequisite to all others in the programme, lays the groundwork for the development of sound supportive staff in libraries. The objectives of library service, the effective use of the library, its basic tools and terminology, and the skills and duties required of the library technician in the library organization will be introduced as they relate to the principles of librarianship.

NOTE: Students may be required to bear some of the cost of materials.

LIBRARY STUDIES C202
Organization of Library Services (3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201. This course is primarily concerned with the introduction of the skills and sources needed to utilize library resources and research a term paper, and with the bibliographic form used in documenting research. The course also outlines both internal library functions and organizations, and some of the ways in which libraries cooperate.

NOTE: Students may be required to bear some of the cost of materials.

LIBRARY STUDIES C303
Information Services (3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202. The course will examine the basic informational services given in all types of libraries. Standard general reference works will be studied to enable the student to work under a professional librarian in the Information Services Department of a library.

LIBRARY STUDIES C305
Bibliographic Searching (3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202; LIBS C303. This course will provide a broad introduction to bibliographic searching. General and subject bibliographies as well as indexes and directories will be studied to enable the student to use the library's resources effectively. Procedures relating to verifying and searching will be studied in detail as they relate to ordering, cataloguing, and interlibrary loans. The mechanics of literature searching, both manual and automated, in any subject field will be introduced. The main emphasis in this course will be on the study of bibliographical sources to enable the student to work in a library as a bibliographical searcher.

NOTE: Students may be required to bear some of cost of the on-line searching.

LIBRARY STUDIES C320
Cataloguing and Classification I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202. This course is designed to give the student a basic knowledge of book and serial cataloguing. Coverage includes: pre-cataloguing routines, the composition of catalogue cards, descriptive cataloguing as well as introduction to automated cataloguing using UTLAS EDUCATSS as a complete system. Weekly laboratory sessions, assignments, and readings are required. A knowledge of typing is essential.

NOTE: Students will be required to bear the costs of on-line searching.

LIBRARY STUDIES C325
Cataloguing and Classification II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202; LIBS C320. This course is designed to give the student, who possesses a thorough understanding of descriptive cataloguing, a basic knowledge of and ability to assign subject headings. Sears and Library of Congress Subject Headings will be studied in depth. MARC formats and coding of machine-readable cataloguing records will also be examined. There will also be demonstrations of the UTLAS CATSS system. Weekly laboratory sessions, assignments and readings are required.

NOTE: Students will be required to bear the costs of on-line searching.

LIBRARY STUDIES C330
Cataloguing and Classification III
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202; LIBS C320. This course will familiarize the student with the Dewey Decimal as well as the Library of Congress classification systems. Topics covered will include coding, editing and inputting of information for computerized cataloguing systems, understanding commonly used types of catalogue formats and methods of creating cataloguing records. Formal instruction is accompanied by practical assignments in the cataloguing laboratory.

NOTE: Students will be required to bear the costs of on-line searching.

LIBRARY STUDIES C331
Data Processing and Automation (3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202. A basic introduction to the use of computers and a systems approach in solving library problems. Students will receive instruction in flowcharting, and other concepts of systems design and data processing. Automated library applications, services, and networks will be considered. A tour of an automated library or a data centre will provide an insight into the routine technical activities undertaken by, or on behalf of, the library staff. No previous knowledge of or experience in mathematics, business administration, or data processing is required.

LIBRARY STUDIES C345
Technical Skills - Collection Control
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202. The course is designed to provide the student with a thorough understanding of library practices and procedures as related to the acquisition, organization, circulation, housing, and maintenance of library collections. This will include monographs, serials, government publications, technical reports, and pamphlet materials. The student will study circulation control systems and circulation functions including loan policies and procedures, inter-library loans, reserves, overdues, statistics, inventory control, and library security.

NOTE: Students may be required to bear some of the cost of materials.

LIBRARY STUDIES C374
Selected Topics in Library Studies
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202, or permission of Coordinator. Content will depend on the theme designated by the Programme; this theme varies from year to year.

LIBRARY STUDIES C375
Selected Topics in Library Studies
(3 credits)

A student who has received credit for LIBS C374 may register for LIBS C375 provided the subject matter is different.

LIBRARY STUDIES C376
Selected Topics in Library Studies
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202, or permission of Coordinator. Content will depend on the theme designated by the Programme; this theme varies from year to year.

LIBRARY STUDIES C377
Selected Topics in Library Studies
(3 credits)

A student who has received credit for LIBS C376 may register for LIBS C377 provided the subject matter is different.

LIBRARY STUDIES C407
Research Methodology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C303; LIBS C305. The aim of this course is to develop an understanding and appreciation of research methods and approaches specific to subject disciplines, based on the consideration of general principles of research methodology and the planning of logical research strategies. The library-oriented approach ensures a solid background of data from which problems may be attacked and solutions derived. Topics covered in logical progression include: selecting and defining the problem; planning the research programme; developing and testing hypotheses; collecting, classifying, evaluating, and analyzing evidence; drawing conclusions; presenting results. The course assumes general knowledge of reference and bibliographic sources for at least one academic discipline. Students will be evaluated principally on a term paper related to a research strategy, and methods applied to a problem of their own choosing, and on class participation.

LIBRARY STUDIES C409
Library Research and Library Resources in Science and Technology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202; or enrolment in a Major in science or engineering. The course is designed to introduce Science and Engineering undergraduates, as well as the Library Studies student, to the structure of scientific literature, to the basic types of information sources in Science and Technology, and to information networks, and computer-based retrieval systems. The student will also become familiar with search strategies and indexing techniques. Emphasis will be placed on developing skills in the student's particular discipline or interest.

NOTE: Students who have taken LIBS L475 (76/77); L478 (78/79); C376 (79/80) may not take this course for credit.

LIBRARY STUDIES C410
Computer Applications in Libraries
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Completion of all required 300-level courses and permission of the Coordinator. A practical introduction to the operation and use of automated systems and equipment commonly encountered in libraries. Students will become familiar with the techniques of searching large commercially-available data bases for bibliographic retrieval and computer-assisted cataloguing and will gain first-hand experience in searching, altering and operating small-scale circulation and cataloguing systems.

NOTE: Students may be required to bear some of the cost of on-line searching.

LIBRARY STUDIES C411
Library Service and Work with Children
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202, or permission of the Coordinator. The course is designed to introduce the student to the major genres of children's literature. The student examines the methods used in the library to stimulate the child's love of reading and evaluates children's literature through assignments, films and a field trip to a children's library.

LIBRARY STUDIES C421
Library Service and Work in Schools
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202. The duties and responsibilities of the library assistant, library technician and teacher-librarian will be discussed. Topics include programmes for teaching the use of the library, methods for cooperating with teachers, the assembling of materials for instructional units, responding to curriculum demands upon the library, and examining the effects of new curriculum trends in education upon the school library/resource centre.

LIBRARY STUDIES C432
Library Service and Work in the College and University (3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202. The organization, administration, and functions of academic libraries will be studied, with special references to curriculum-oriented library service, and to services relating to large academic research libraries and library colleges.

LIBRARY STUDIES C433
Technical Skills - Multi Media Operations
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202. This course will be mainly practical in nature. It will provide the student with the opportunity to operate a broad range of audio-visual equipment found in the modern media centre. It will also introduce the student to the concept of audio-visual media as instructional tools within the library/media centre, by requiring the design, development and evaluation of an instructional audio-visual project on some aspect of library studies.

NOTE: Students will be required to bear the costs of materials.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for LIBS C333 may not take this course for credits.

LIBRARY STUDIES C435
Organization of Audio-Visual Collections
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C320. All aspects of audio-visual materials available in public, university, school and special libraries will be studied. The student will be introduced to basic reference sources, aids for acquisition, ordering, storage and circulation. Coverage will also include pre-cataloguing routines and MARC coding. Materials featured will be those frequently found in libraries, such as records, cassettes, films, kits and slides as well as those which are becoming more common such as microforms, video-cassettes and video-tapes as well as computer programmes and software.

NOTE: Students will be required to bear the costs of on-line searching.

LIBRARY STUDIES C441
Library Service and Work in Business and Industry (3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202. The role of the library in relation to business and industry will be examined. The specific skills and devices employed to provide direct information to the users will be explored. Management and administrative concerns will be reviewed from the viewpoint of the library and the sponsoring organization.

LIBRARY STUDIES C451
Library Service and Work in the Public Library (3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202, and permission of Coordinator. This course traces the development of the public library, particularly in Quebec. It deals with the objectives, roles, and functions of public library service in contemporary society. Topics such as freedom of access to information, copyright, public lending right, and collection and preservation of library materials will be explored.

LIBRARY STUDIES C461
Library Service and Work with the Young Adult (3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202, or permission of the Coordinator. The course will explore through books the major phenomena of the teenager's world. Some of the skills needed to serve young adults in a library setting will be examined. Literature written especially for young adults, and some adult literature which is especially popular with, and suitable for, young people, will be studied. A pre-course reading list is available.

LIBRARY STUDIES C478
Advanced Topics in Library Studies
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202, or permission of the Coordinator. This course focuses on advanced topics of interest in Library Studies. Content will depend on the theme determined by the Programme, and will vary from year to year.

LIBRARY STUDIES C479
Advanced Topics in Library Studies
(3 credits)

A student who has received credit for LIBS C478 may register for LIBS C479 provided the subject matter is different.

LIBRARY STUDIES C480
Advanced Topics in Library Studies
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: LIBS C201; LIBS C202, or permission of the Coordinator. This course focuses on advanced topics of interest in Library Studies. Content will depend on the theme determined by the Programme, and will vary from year to year.

LIBRARY STUDIES C481
Advanced Topics in Library Studies (3 credits)

A student who has received credit for LIBS C480 may register for LIBS C481 provided the subject matter is different.

LIBRARY STUDIES C495
Field Practice (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Completion of all other required library studies courses. In consultation with the appropriate supervising librarian the student will be placed by the Programme Coordinator in a local library system other than in a library in which the student is employed. The duration of the field practice will be five weeks. Field practice will include a wide variety of library tasks. In addition the student will be required to complete a written research project on a topic approved by the Programme Coordinator.

PROGRAMMES

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.

The superscript indicates credit value.

A student wishing to follow a Mathematics Programme but not meeting the entrance requirements should consult with the Department.

By careful choice of electives, students can select whether the emphasis of the programme will be in the area of Pure Mathematics, Applied Mathematics or Statistics.

Students seeking admission to the Honours programme on or after June 1st, 1977 will be bound by the Honours requirements outlined in §16.2.4 of this Calendar. Students who already had Honours status by June 1st, 1977 will continue to be governed by the requirements which applied at the date of their admission to the Honours programme.

Students in a Mathematics programme may not take any of the following courses for credit: EMAT C212, C232, C252, C271. Students wishing to take other Engineering Mathematics courses for credit must obtain prior approval of the Department.

24 Minor in Statistics

24 MATH C231[3], C241[6], C281[6], C343[3], C344[6]

24 Minor in Mathematics for Students in BA Programmes

24 MATH credits approved by the Department of Mathematics. At least 12 credits must be at the level of MATH C231 or above.

NOTE: Students in BA programmes are also eligible for a regular Minor in Mathematics or Statistics provided they have the necessary prerequisites.

The Department also offers to practising teachers the following undergraduate programmes:

30 Certificate in Mathematics for Teachers (Elementary School Level)

6 MATH C305[6]

24 Chosen from MATH C300[6], C301[6], C302[6], C303[6], C304[6], C307[3], C309[3]

NOTE: Where students have completed similar courses in previous studies, pro tanto credits may be approved up to a maximum of 12 credits. In some cases, students with fewer than 12 pro tanto credits may, with approval of the Faculty of Arts and Science obtained upon the recommendation of the programme director, be permitted to take courses in related areas for credit towards the certificate. However, at least 18 of the credits must be taken within the programme.

30 Certificate in Mathematics for Teachers (Junior Secondary School Level)

15 MATH C400[3], C401[6], C404[6]

15 Chosen from MATH C402[3], C403[3], C405[3], C406[3], C408[3], C409[3], C410[3], C411[3], C417[3], C419[3]

NOTE: In some cases where students have completed similar mathematical courses in previous studies, the Mathematics Department may modify a student's programmes to meet his professional requirements. It may grant pro tanto credits up to a maximum of 12 credits.

For further details about the Certificate Programmes, see §31.290.

MATHEMATICS CO-OPERATIVE PROGRAMME

Director
L.S. Adler, Associate Professor

The Mathematics Co-Operative Programme is offered to students who are enrolled in the B.A. or B.Sc. Honours or Specialization in Applied Mathematics or Statistics, or B.A. or B.Sc. Specialization in Actuarial Mathematics.

Students in Mathematics Co-Op take the regular academic programme. The schedule of academic and work periods for an entering group of Mathematics Co-Op students is given in §31.515.

The overseeing of the Mathematics Co-Op Programme is the responsibility of the Director of the Mathematics Co-Operative programme and the departmental Co-Op Committee which provides the connecting link between students, employers and the Institute for Co-Operative Education.

Students interested in applying for Mathematics Co-Op should refer to §31.515 where a full dexcription of the admission requirements is provided or write to The Principal, Institute for Co-Operative Education, 7308 Sherbrooke Street West, Montreal, Quebec, H4B 1R6. For information by telephone see "CONTACTS" in §31.515.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

MATHEMATICS C200
Fundamental Concepts of Algebra
(3 credits)

This course is designed to give students the background necessary for MATH C201. Some previous exposure to algebra is assumed. Sets, algebraic techniques, inequalities, graphs of equations.

NOTE: Students who have credit for MATH C201 or equivalent may not take this course for credits.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

MATHEMATICS C201
Elementary Functions (3 credits)

Sets, inequalities, graphs of functions, and relations. Trigonometric, exponential, and logarithmic functions. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

MATHEMATICS C202
College Algebra (3 credits)

Progressions, combinations, permutations, binomial theorem, mathematical induction, inequalities, polynomials, cartesian and polar forms of complex numbers; conics.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

MATHEMATICS C203
Differential and Integral Calculus I
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C201, or equivalent. Functional notation. Differentiation of polynomials. The power, product, quotient, and chain rules. Differentiation of elementary functions. Implicit differentiation. Higher derivatives. Maxima and minima. Applications: tangents to plane curves, graphing, related rates. Approximations using the differential. Antiderivatives, definite integrals, area. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

MATHEMATICS C204
Vectors and Matrices (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C202 or equivalent. Algebra and geometry of vectors, dot and cross products, lines and planes. System of equations, operations on matrices, rank, inverse, quadratic form and rotation of axis.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

MATHEMATICS C205
Differential and Integral Calculus II
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C203. Techniques of integration: substitutions, integration by parts, partial fractions. Improper integrals. Physical applications of the definite integral. Infinite series: tests for convergence. Power series, Taylor's theorem. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

MATHEMATICS C206
Algebra and Functions (3 credits)

Coordinate systems. Radicals and distance formula. Polynomials, factoring and graphing. Relations and functions. Linear and quadratic functions, equations and systems. Exponents, exponential and logarithmic functions and equations.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for MATH C201 or equivalent may not take this course for credits.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

MATHEMATICS C207
Statistics for the Social Sciences (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C206 or equivalent, or permission of the Department of Mathematics. Elementary probability, permutations and combinations, binomial and normal distribution. Analysis and organization of statistical data. Tests of hypotheses. Confidence limits. Introduction into linear regression and correlation. Lectures and laboratory. NOTE See §200.7

NOTE: Students with credit for MATH C241 or equivalent may not take this course for credits.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

MATHEMATICS C208
Fundamental Mathematics I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C206, or equivalent. This course is intended primarily for pre-Commerce students. Progressions, compound interest, annuities, permutations, combinations, and binomial theorem, polynomials, curve fitting, inequalities, linear programming.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

MATHEMATICS C209
Fundamental Mathematics II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C206, or equivalent. This course is intended primarily for pre-Commerce students. Limits, differentiation of rational, exponential, and logarithmic functions, theory of maxima and minima, integration.

NOTE: Students who have received credits for MATH C203 or equivalent may not take this course for credits.

Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

MATHEMATICS C210
Mathematics for the Biological Sciences I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Mathematics 103, or equivalent. Discrete probability, probability distributions, difference equations, differential equations, transients, steady-state solutions, system concept, block diagrams, linear programming, game theory. Markov chains, applications to ecology, population models, physiology.

MATHEMATICS C211
Fundamental Mathematics III (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C209, or equivalent. This course is intended primarily for pre-Commerce students. Operations on matrices, determinants; system of linear equations, rank, inverse matrix, characteristic values. Functions of two variables, partial derivatives, maxima and minima, iterated integrals; difference and differential equations. This course was first offered in 1979-80.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

MATHEMATICS C215
Ideas in Mathematics I (3 credits)

A course for students registered in a programme other than one leading to the B.Sc. degree. The course endeavours to reveal the extent and power of mathematics and to give some insight into its historical development. The topics chosen will be presented in a way that requires a minimal mathematics background. This course has no formal prerequisites and does not serve as a prerequisite for any other course in Mathematics. Students should consult with the Department before registering for this course.

MATHEMATICS C216
Ideas in Mathematics II (3 credits)

A course for students registered in a programme other than one leading to the B.Sc. Degree. The course objectives are identical to those of MATH C215, but different topics are covered. This course has no formal prerequisites and does not serve as a prerequisite for any other course in Mathematics. Students should consult with the Department before registering for this course.

MATHEMATICS C220
Mathematical Methods in Chemistry
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Mathematics 203, or equivalent. Partial derivatives. First-order differential equations (first- and second-order chemical reactions). Hermite, Laguerre, and Legendre equations. Solutions by power series. Eigen-functions and eigenvalues, Sturm-Liouville Theory.

MATHEMATICS C225
Introduction to Actuarial Mathematics
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C202 or MATH C208; MATH C203 or MATH C209 or equivalent. Simple-interest, compound interest, force of interest; annuities-certain, continuous annuities-certain, perpetuities; amortization and sinking funds, graduated mortgage schemes; bonds and related securities; capital cost and depletion. Brief introduction to life insurance.

MATHEMATICS C229
Workshop in Actuarial Mathematics I
(2 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C261; MATH C281 previously or concurrently or permission of the Department. This workshop is intended to prepare students for the General Mathematics Examination of the Society of Actuaries and the Casualty Actuarial Society. Special topics from calculus, introductory real analysis, and linear algebra which are not normally included in first courses are covered with the instructor. Students will work in small groups on problems taken from sample examinations of the Society and other sources.

MATHEMATICS C231
Introduction to Applied Mathematics
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C281, previously or concurrently. Introduction to the theory of optimization, linear programming, the Simplex Method. Deterministic and stochastic models for growth processes. Introduction to graphs and networks. Applications.

NOTE: Only 3 credits will be awarded from MATH C231, QUAN C313, ENGR C412.

MATHEMATICS C232
Computing in Mathematics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Mathematics 105; CEGEP Mathematics 203 or MATH C204; MATH C205 or equivalent. Introduction to APL, primitive and dyadic operators, simple and mixed functions. Programming and editing, dealing with workspaces. Applications to calculus (sequences, series, convergence and integrals), to statistics (simulations, combinatorics and distributions) and to algebra (systems of equations, matrices and non-linear equations).

MATHEMATICS C241
Introduction to Statistics (6 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Mathematics 203, or equivalent. Fundamental concepts of probability, probability distribution, sample statistics, estimation of parameters, test of hypotheses, regression and correlation. NOTE See §200.7

MATHEMATICS C261
Advanced Calculus (6 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Mathematics 105; CEGEP Mathematics 203, or equivalent. Functions of several variables, partial derivatives, maxima and minima, vector functions, multiple integrals, line and surface integrals and related topics.

MATHEMATICS C271
Differential Equations I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Mathematics 105; CEGEP Mathematics 203. Separable equations, exact equations, integrating factors, force fields, first-order linear equations, input-output concept, second-order equations, reduction of order, variation of parameters, nth-order linear equations with constant coefficients, Laplace transforms, block diagrams and signal-flow graphs.

MATHEMATICS C281
Linear Algebra I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Mathematics 105, or permission of the Department. The theory of matrices as related to the solution of linear equations, matrices as an algebraic system, orthogonality and application to linear differential equations, linear inequalities and maximization problems, vector spaces.

MATHEMATICS C290
Algebraic Systems (Introduction)
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Collegial pre-Science Mathematics profile or equivalent. Sets, functions, binary operations, examples of number systems, polynomial functions, divisibility, definitions and examples of groups and subgroups, fields.

MATHEMATICS C300
Mathematics for Elementary School Teachers I (6 credits)

This course and the following course (C301) are designed to cover the main mathematical topics in the programme-cadre for elementary schools. In both courses, the study of the mathematical content will be linked to thorough consideration of classroom applications. A project will be included among the assignments in both courses. In both courses, the mathematical language of sets, relations, functions, and operations will be applied where appropriate, and various modes of graphical representation used. Counting numbers and systems of numeration, number operations, factors and multiples, numbers as measures, classification and properties of geometrical shapes.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

MATHEMATICS C301
Mathematics for Elementary School Teachers II (6 credits)

This course and the preceding course (C300) are designed to cover the main mathematical topics in the programme-cadre for elementary schools. In both courses, the study of the mathematical content will be linked to thorough consideration of classroom application. A project will be included among the assignments in both courses. In both courses, the mathematical language of sets, relations, functions, and operations will be applied where appropriate, and various modes of graphical representation used.

The extension of the number system to fractions, decimals, and signed numbers. Equalities and inequalities, bases of symmetry and geometric transformations.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

MATHEMATICS C302
Transformation Geometry (6 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C301 or permission of the Department. A more advanced study of symmetry and geometric transformations, applications in 2 and 3 dimensions, an overview of a K-6 programme of geometry.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

MATHEMATICS C303
Measurement (6 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C300 or permission of the Department. A more advanced study of measures and measurement, descriptive statistics, and elementary notions of probability, an overview of a K-6 programme of measurement.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

MATHEMATICS C304
Advanced Topics in Elementary Mathematics (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Topics will be scheduled to meet more advanced mathematical needs of students, especially in the light of potential developments in the elementary school curriculum.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

MATHEMATICS C305
Psychology of Mathematics Education
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: Any three chosen from MATH C300, C301, C302, C303, C304; or permission of the Department. The content of the course will be selected from those areas of psychological theory and research which have implications for the teaching of mathematics. It will normally include: psychological theories of cognition, studies of mathematical learning in children, motivation, applications of research to the classroom.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

MATHEMATICS C307
Selected Topics in Mathematics I
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Topics will be chosen to take advantage of competencies and interests of the instructor as well as of the students.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

MATHEMATICS C309
Selected Topics in Mathematics II
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Topics will be chosen to take advantage of competencies and interests of the instructor as well as of the student.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

MATHEMATICS C310
Mathematics for the Biological Sciences II
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C210, or equivalent. Continuous probability, stochastic processes, population models, systems of linear difference and differential equations, Laplace transforms, signal-flow graphs, systems trajectories, stability, applications to ecology and biology.

MATHEMATICS C311
An Introduction to Numerical Analysis
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Mathematics 105; CEGEP Mathematics 203 or MATH C204; MATH C205 or equivalent; MATH C232 or COMP C211 or equivalent. Error analysis and computer arithmetic. Numerical methods for solving linear systems, Gaussian elimination, LU decomposition. Numerical solution of non-linear equations, fixed point iterations, rate of convergence. Interpolations and approximations, Lagrange polynomials, divided differences, discrete least-square approximation, Legendre polynomials. Numerical integration, Newton-Cotes formulas, Romberg integration.

MATHEMATICS C312
Numerical Analysis (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C311 or COMP C361 or equivalent; MATH C261; MATH C281 or equivalent. Linear Systems: Cholesky decomposition for positive definite systems; tridiagonal case. Orthogonal factorizations: Householder matrices, least-square solutions for overdetermined systems. Data fitting: piecewise, splines, continuous least-squares. Quadrature: infinite intervals, orthogonal polynomials, Gaussian quadrature. Differential equations: systems of ODE's, predictor-corrector formula, stability, error analysis. Eigenvalue problem: Bisection, deflation, tridiagonalization, inverse iteration.

MATHEMATICS C322
Mathematical Logic (3 credits)

Prerequisite: 18 credits in post-Collegial Mathematics. This course deals with the mathematical ideas and techniques required to state and prove one of the most spectacular theorems of modern mathematics: Godel's incompleteness theorem establishing the non-algorithmic nature of Arithmetic and, hence, of most of higher mathematics. The subject involves the study of formal languages and recursive functions and is suitable for students interested in computer science.

MATHEMATICS C325
Introduction to Life Contingencies
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP pre-Science mathematics profile or equivalent; MATH C225. Measurement of mortality: the survival function, mortality tables, force of mortality. Life annuities: pure endowments, annual payments, continuous annuities, net annual premiums, net level premium reserves. The expense factor; special topics.

MATHEMATICS C329
Workshop in Actuarial Mathematics II
(2 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C241; MATH C311; MATH C345 previously or concurrently, or permission of the Department. This workshop is intended to prepare students for the Society's Examination 2 (Probability and Statistics) and 3(a) (Numerical Methods). Students will work with an instructor on special topics required for these examinations and not covered in other courses of the programme, such as Markov chains, finite differences, and difference equations. Instruction will be supplemented by regular problem sessions on the entire contents of the examinations.

MATHEMATICS C331
Deterministic Methods of Operations Research (6 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C231 or permission of the Department. Linear programming, simplex method, revised simplex, duality, dual simplex, method, convex set, convex functions, post-optimal analysis, transportation problem, networks. Lagrange multipliers, Kuhn-Tucker conditions, search methods, quadratic programming, gradient techniques.

MATHEMATICS C332
Introduction to Game Theory (3 credits)

Prerequisite: 18 credits in post-Collegial Mathematics. Matrix games. Strategies. Optimum stategies and the value of a game. Strictly determined games, Non-strictly determined games and linear programming. Applications. Further material according to interest of instructor and students.

MATHEMATICS C342
Quality Control and Industrial Statistics
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C241 or permission of the Department. Concepts of statistical control; X, R, P, and C charts; acceptance-sampling inspection, continuous-sampling plans, reliability and life tests.

MATHEMATICS C343
Sample Surveys (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C241 or permission of the Department. Simple random sampling, stratified random sampling, systematic sampling, multi-stage sampling, regression and ratio estimates, non-sampling errors.

MATHEMATICS C344
Regression and Analysis of Variance
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C241; MATH C281 or permission of the Department. Simple, multiple, and polynomial regression, analysis of variance and covariance, multiple comparison, computer packages.

MATHEMATICS C345
Mathematical Statistics (6 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C241; MATH C261. Probability, random variable in one or more dimensions, point distributions and transformations, order statistics, sequential hypothesis testing, Bayesian methods, computer simulation of random variables.

MATHEMATICS C347
Non-Parametric Statistical Methods
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C241. Chi-square and Kolmogorov-Smirnov Goodness-of-Fit tests, the sign, rank, and Mann-Whitney Wilcox tests for one and two samples, Kruskal-Wallis tests for k-samples, rank correlation and Kendall's TAU statistics, computer packages.

MATHEMATICS C351
Concepts of Probability (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C241. Axiomatic approach to probability, combinatorial probability, discrete and continuous random variables, geometric probability, expectation, conditional probability and conditional expectations, introduction to Markov chains and the Poisson process.

MATHEMATICS C353
Stochastic Processes and Applications
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C351. Continuous stochastic processes. Poisson processes, continuous-time Markov processes, queuing models, birth and death processes, renewal theory and reliability of systems.

MATHEMATICS C362
Introduction to Analysis I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MATH C261; MATH C281. Real-number system, cardinality, least upper bounds, limits, sequences, series, properties of continuous functions.

MATHEMATICS C363
Introduction to Analysis II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MATH C362. Riemann integration, fundamental theorem of calculus, sequences and series of functions, uniform convergence, functions of bounded variation; Riemann-Stieltjes integration.

MATHEMATICS C366
Complex Analysis I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MATH C261. Algebra and geometry of complex numbers, linear transformations, analytic functions, Laurent's series, calculus of residues, special functions.

MATHEMATICS C371
Differential Equations II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MATH C271. Numerical methods for ordinary differential equations, relation-to-existence theorem, solution-in-power series. Partial differential equations, separation of variables, Fourier series, diffusion equation, wave equation, Laplace's equation, Schrodinger's equation. Separation of variables leading to further applications of power-series method. Physical illustrations and problems.

MATHEMATICS C373
Qualitative Theory of Differential Equations (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MATH C271. Systems of linear differential equations. Fundamental matrices. Nonhomogeneous linear systems. Nonlinear systems. Solutions and trajectories. The phase plane. Stability concepts. Liapunov's second method. Periodic solutions and limit cycles. Introduction to Boundary-value problems and Sturm-Liouville theory.

MATHEMATICS C381
Linear Algebra II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MATH C281. Matrices, linear transformations, determinants, metric concepts, inner-product spaces, dual spaces, spectral theorem, bilinear and quadratic forms, canonical forms for linear transformations, matrix functions, selected topics.

MATHEMATICS C382
Geometry (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MATH C261; MATH C281. An introduction to a number of geometries both from the historical point of view and in terms of groups of transformations. Particular topics may include Euclidean, projective, or hyperbolic geometry.

MATHEMATICS C392
Elementary Number Theory (3 credits)
Prerequisite: 18 credits in post-Collegial Mathematics. Number systems, division and factorization, number-theoretic functions, congruences, algebraic congruences and primitive roots, quadratic residues, diophantine equations.

MATHEMATICS C393
Algebraic Systems I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: 12 credits in post-Collegial Mathematics, or permission of the Department. Introduction to algebraic systems: groups, rings, fields, homomorphisms.

MATHEMATICS C394
Algebraic Systems II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MATH C393, or equivalent. Normal subgroups, quotient groups, iso-morphism theorems, polynomial rings, principal ideal rings, elementary field theory.

MATHEMATICS C395
Selected Topics in Mathematics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department.

MATHEMATICS C397
History of Mathematics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MATH C261; MATH C281, or permission of the Department. Early mathematics, Greek mathematics, European mathematics in the Middle Ages, the origin and development of analytic geometry and calculus, mathematics as free creation, the generality of mathematics in the twentieth century.

MATHEMATICS C400
Seminar on the Teaching of Mathematics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course is conducted in the form of a workshop and examines alternative methods of presentation of mathematical ideas at the secondary school level. It studies relevant aspects of the psychological development of the adolescent in the context of existing mathematics curricula.
NOTE: This course should be taken at the end of the programme and is available to practising teachers only.

MATHEMATICS C401
Functions (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course examines the topics in a traditional functions course: the concept of a function and its inverse. Linear and quadratic functions, rational functions, exponential, logarithmic, and trigonometric functions. Graphing is stressed. An historical overview is given. Methods of teaching these topics and of preparing secondary school students for a functions course are discussed.
NOTE: This course is available to practising teachers only.

MATHEMATICS C402
Algebra I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MATH C401 or equivalent previously or concurrently. Progressions, combinations, permutations, Bionomial Theorem, mathematical induction, inequalities, polynomials, cartesian and polar forms of complex numbers; conics.
NOTE: This course is available to practising teachers only.

MATHEMATICS C403
Calculus I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MATH C401, or equivalent. Functional notation, limits, and continuity. Differentiation of polynomials. The power, product, quotient, and chain rules. Implicit differentiation. Higher derivatives. Mean value theorem, Rolles theorem. Maxima and minima. Applications: tangents to plane curves, related rates. The differential, use in finding approximations. Indefinite and definite integrals, areas and volumes.

NOTE: This course is available to practising teachers only.

MATHEMATICS C404
Geometry for Teachers (6 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C401 or equivalent. Certain fundamentals of Cartesian, vector and transformation geometry. Distance preceiving motions in the plane, affine transformations with applications in Euclidean geometry. Projective transformations and applications to conics. Applications of these methods to topics presented as informal geometry in grades 7-10.

NOTE:This course is available to practising teachers only.

MATHEMATICS C405
Calculus II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C403. Differentiation and integration of trigonometric functions. Derivatives of inverse trigonometric functions, logarithmic functions, and exponential functions. Methods of integration by parts, by substitution, by separation into partial fractions. Improper integrals, L'Hopital's Rule. Series: Convergence. tests, Maclaurin and Taylor Theorems.

NOTE: This course is available to practising teachers only.

MATHEMATICS C406
Algebra II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C401, or equivalent. Systems of equations, determinants, Cramer's rule. Matrices, operations on matrices, the inverse matrix. Gauss-Jordan method. Matrix transformations. Linear programming.

NOTE: This course is available to practising teachers only.

MATHEMATICS C408
Topics in Geometry (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C401 or equivalent and permission of the Department. Topics will be chosen to meet more advanced mathematical or professional needs of students in the light of potential developments in the geometry curriculum at the junior secondary school.

NOTE: This course is available to practising teachers only.

MATHEMATICS C409
Computational Mathematics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C401, or equivalent. Introduction to the computer and to the writing of simple programmes in BASIC. The use of pocket calculators as pedagogic devices. Approximately one-third of the course will be spent on problems related to the secondary school curriculum which can be solved by computer or calculator.

NOTE: This course is available to practising teachers only.

MATHEMATICS C410
Curriculum Seminar (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Conducted in the form of a workshop. Examines arithmetic, algebraic, and geometric aspects of the mathematics curricula, grades 7 - 11. Critical examination of various textbooks and pedagogic approaches used in the schools.

NOTE: This course is available to practising teachers only.

MATHEMATICS C411
Topics in Probability and Statistics
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C401 or equivalent. Elementary probability, permutations and combinations, binomial and normal distribution. Analysis and organization of statistical data. Tests of hypotheses. Confidence limits. Introduction into linear regression and correlations. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: This course is available to practising teachers only. Students who have received credit for MATH C407 may not take this course for credits.

MATHEMATICS C417
Topics in Mathematics Education I
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Topics will be chosen to take advantage of faculty and students' interest in areas related to psychology and research on learning mathematics, exceptional children, diagnosis and remediation.

NOTE: This course is available to practising teachers only.

MATHEMATICS C419
Topics in Mathematics Education II
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Topics will be chosen to take advantage of faculty and students' interest in areas related to psychology and research on teaching, curriculum analysis, applications of mathematics.

NOTE: This course is available to practising teachers only.

MATHEMATICS C425
Topics in Contingency Theory, Risk Theory and Mortality (6 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C325 or permission of the Department. Topics will vary from year to year, but will be chosen from the following: Applications of contingency theory in areas of life and health insurance, annuities and pensions; individual risk theory including Rosenthal's approximation, ruin theory, stop-loss reinsurance; fundamental assumptions underlying exposure formulas, interim schedules, King's method. Mathematics of graduation of mortality tables, measures of mortality, construction of life tables from population statistics.

MATHEMATICS C429
Workshop in Actuarial Mathematics III
(2 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C325; MATH C331; MATH C431 previously or concurrently, or permission of the Department. This workshop will review, consolidate, and supplement the material from MATH C231, C331, and C431 required for the Society's Examination 3(b) (Operations Research) and the topics in MATH C225 and C325 needed for Examination 4 (Theory of Interest and Introduction to Life Contingencies). Students will be required to participate in the organization and presentation of material.

MATHEMATICS C431
Probabilistic Methods of Operations Research (6 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C331. Difference and differential-difference equations, z transforms, stochastic distributions. Markov chains, queuing theory, inventory theory, reliability and renewal theory, competition and introduction to decision theory, dynamic programming, simulation and Monte Carlo techniques; formulation, testing and stability of mathematical models incorporating uncertainty.

MATHEMATICS C432
Theory of Graphs and Networks (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Directed and undirected graphs. Partitions, planar graphs, matrix representation, applications to network theory.

MATHEMATICS C433
Calculus of Variations (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C373. Nature of problems, Weak variations, the first variation, Euler's equation. The second variation, Jacobi's equation, Legendre's test, conjugate points. Relative maxima and minima, isoperimetrical problems. Integrals with variable end points. Applications to problems in pure and applied mathematics; the principle of least action. Strong variations, the Weierstrass E-function.

MATHEMATICS C435
Topics in Numerical Analysis (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C311; MATH C312, or equivalent. Advanced problems and techniques in numerical linear algebra, systems of non-linear equations, roots of polynomials, spline fitting, mini-max fitting, extrapolation techniques, solution of initial value ordinary differential equations, solution of two-point boundary value problems in ordinary differential equations, elliptic partial differential equations, finite difference and finite element methods for hyperbolic and parabolic partial differential equations.

MATHEMATICS C445
Topics in Statistics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C345; MATH C351. Topics such as sequential procedures, multivariate analysis, time series, reliability, advanced design of experiments, advanced topics in estimation, and hypothesis testing.

NOTE: With permission of the Department, students will be allowed to repeat this course as MATH C446.

MATHEMATICS C446
Topics in Statistics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C445. Additional topics as in MATH C445.

NOTE: Students who have taken MATH C445 may register for this course with permission of the Department.

MATHEMATICS C451
Topics in Probability (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C351. Topics in Markov Chains, occupancy and matching problems, characteristic functions and moment-generating functions, central limits theorem and weak law of large numbers, probability generating functions and applications to combinatorial problems, random walk and the reflection principle, branching processes.

MATHEMATICS C461
Analysis (6 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C362; MATH C363. Metric spaces, completeness, fixed-point theorems, Baire's theorem, function spaces, Ascoli-Arzela theorem, Stone-Weierstrass theorem, C(0,1). Measure and Lebesgue integration on the real line, convergence theorems, absolute continuity and completeness of L(0,1).

MATHEMATICS C466
Complex Analysis II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C363; MATH C366. Cauchy's theorem, singularities, maximum modulus principle, uniqueness theorem, normal families, Riemann mapping theorem.

MATHEMATICS C471
Partial Differential Equations (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C371 or MATH C373. Classification of partial differential equations, the Cauchy-Kowalewski theorem, characteristics, boundary value and eigenvalue problems for elliptic equations, initial value and initial boundary value problems for parabolic and hyperbolic equations.

MATHEMATICS C472
Linear Systems (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C281; MATH C371, or MATH C373. State-space analysis and design of continuous and discrete systems. Controllability and observability, modal control, pole-displacement techniques. Luenberger observers, Liapunov stability.

MATHEMATICS C473
Stability Theory of Differential Equations (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C373. Existence and uniqueness of solutions of nonlinear differential equations. Properties of solutions. Linear systems. Asymptotic behaviour of linear systems. Stability in nonlinear systems. Linearization. Liapunov functions. Two dimensional systems. Limit cycles.

MATHEMATICS C474
Introduction to Mathematical Control Theory (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C363; MATH C472. Linear control systems. Attainable sets; compactness, convexity, continuity in time. Controllability and observability. Time optimal control. Maximum principle. Examples of physical systems. Switching curves. Optimal control with quadratic cost.

MATHEMATICS C475
Topology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C362, or equivalent. An introduction to fundamental ideas in topology. Topics will be chosen from general topology and combinational or algebraic topology. These may include compactness and connectedness, topological equivalence, winding number of a curve, Euler characteristic and classification of surfaces.

MATHEMATICS C491
Abstract Algebra I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C394, or equivalent. Sylow theorems, composition series, ideal theory of rings, noetherian rings, modules.

MATHEMATICS C492
Abstract Algebra II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C491, or equivalent. Elements of field and Galois theory, including ruler-and-compass construction and the unsolvability of equations of fifth degree.

MATHEMATICS C495
Advanced Topics in Mathematics
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department.

MATHEMATICS C499
Mathematical Thinking (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course is intended to stimulate the student's mathematical creativity and to improve his ability to think systematically, analyze problems, and communicate his reasoning. Students participate actively in discussing and solving problems drawn from a variety of sources (including previous Putnam competitions) and are expected to explain their thinking both orally and in writing. Discussions include the following topics: problem posing, Polya's techniques of problem solving; equivalence and similarity of problems; generalization; applications. The problems are selected from: combinatorics, geometry, group theory, number theory, real analysis, etc.

PROGRAMMES

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.

The superscript indicates credit value.

60 BA Honours in German, Italian, or Spanish

A student entering any of these programmes with no previous knowledge in the field would take the following sequence of courses in German, Italian, or Spanish. Students must consult with the Department prior to selecting their courses.

Year I

18 GERM (or ITAL or SPAN) C210[6], C220[6], C235[6]

Year II

12 GERM (ITAL or SPAN) C250[6], C255[6]

6 LING C200[6]

Year III

12 GERM (ITAL or SPAN) C300[6], C305[6]

12 credits (in the language studied) at the 400 level in a sequence approved by the Department. Certain 300-level courses may be substituted with prior approval of the Department.

NOTE: Students in the Honours in Italian programme may register for HIST C346[6]: History of Modern Italy, with permission of the Department.

For students with previous knowledge in the field, the programme will be established in consultation with the Department.

72 BA Joint Honours in one of the Modern Languages and in English

See Section 31.004

60 BA Joint Specialization in one of the Modern Languages and in English

See Section 31.004

72 BA Joint Honours in one of the Modern Languages and in French

See Section 31.004

42 BA Major in German, Italian, or Spanish

A student entering any of these programmes with no previous knowledge in the field would take the following sequence of courses in German, Italian, or Spanish. Students must consult with the Department prior to selecting their courses.

Year I

12 Chosen from GERM (or ITAL or SPAN) C210[6], C220[6], C235[6]

Year II

12 GERM (or ITAL or SPAN) C250[6], C255[6]

Year III

18 credits (in the language studied) at the 300 level or higher in a sequence approved by the Department.

For students with previous knowledge in the field, the programme will be established in consultation with the Department.

30 Minor in German, Hebrew, Italian, or Spanish

A student entering any of these programmes with no previous knowledge in the field would take the following sequence of courses in German, Hebrew, Italian, or Spanish. Students must consult with the Department prior to selecting their courses.

Year I

12 Chosen from GERM (or HEBR*, or ITAL, or SPAN) C210[6], C220[6], C235[6]
Students in Hebrew must select 6 credits in consultation with the Department.*

Year II

12 GERM (or HEBR*, or ITAL, or SPAN) C250[6] and C255[6]
Students in Hebrew must select 6 credits in consultation with the Department.*

Year III

6 credits (in the language studied) at the 300 level or higher in a sequence approved by the Department.

For students with previous knowledge in the field, the programme will be established in consultation with the Department.

30 Minor in Russian

Students following a programme in Russian must establish the course sequence in consultation with the Department.

30 RUSS credits chosen with prior approval of the Department.

LINGUISTICS

The Department offers an Honours, a Major, and a Minor programme in Linguistics.

60 BA Honours in Linguistics

A student entering an Honours programme in Linguistics will normally take the following courses:

6 LING C200[6]
6 LING C410[3], C411[3]
12 LING C320[3], C321[3], C372[3], C373[3]
12 LING credits chosen at the '300' level
6 Chosen from LING C421[6], C431[6]
6 LING credits chosen at the '400' level
12 credits in Linguistics or 12 credits chosen in consultation with the Department in one of the following: Latin, Greek, Hebrew, Russian, German, Spanish, Italian, French, English, Sociology, Philosophy, Psychology, Arabic, Portuguese

42 BA Major in Linguistics

6 LING C200[6]
12 LING C372[3], C373[3], C410[3], C411[3]
18 LING credits chosen at the '300' and '400' level, in consultation with the Department
6 Elective LING or 6 credits chosen in consultation with the Department

30 BA Minor in Linguistics

6 LING C200[6]
24 credits in Linguistics

Students seeking admission to Honours programmes on or after June 1, 1977, are bound by the Honours requirements outlined in §16.2.4 of this Calendar. Students who already had Honours status by June 1, 1977, will continue to be governed by the requirements which applied at the date of their admission to the Honours programme.

NOTE: "A/B" and "B" 200-level courses. The second-term content of 6-credit language courses designated "A/B" is identical to that of 3-credit courses, with the same title, labelled "B". The "A/B" courses are designed to permit less advanced students to reach the level of students taking only the "B" course. Students in "A/B" courses may not withdraw after completing the fall term and receive credit.

Written work may be required in the language being studied for these courses; please consult with the Department.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

Arabic:

ARABIC C451
Literary Arabic (6 credits)

Prerequisite: LING C200, or permission of the Department. This course is designed to give the student in one year a thorough understanding of modern literary Arabic through linguistic analysis of its structure.

German:

GERMAN C210
Introductory Course in German A/B
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. A beginners' course in the German language, designed to make the student conversant with the grammar, pronunciation, and ordinary vocabulary. Equal emphasis placed on speaking and understanding, reading and writing. Can be taken concurrently with GERM C220 and/or GERM C235. Lectures and laboratory.

GERMAN C211
Introductory Course in German B
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course is equivalent to the second term of GERM C210. It is designed for students who have taken some German at the CEGEP level, or equivalent. Can be taken concurrently with GERM C221 and/or GERM C235. Lectures and laboratory.

GERMAN C220
Introduction to German Studies A/B
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. An introductory language course, which develops all basic skills. Emphasis on the audio-lingual approach; i.e., on speaking and understanding. May be taken concurrently with GERM C210 and/or GERM C235. Lectures and laboratory.

GERMAN C221
Introduction to German Studies B
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course is equivalent to the second term of GERM C220. It is designed for students who have taken some German at the CEGEP level, or equivalent. Can be taken concurrently with GERM C211 and/or GERM C235. Lectures and laboratory.

GERMAN C235
Translation I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course will give the student sufficient training to read German and to translate from German into English with reasonable competence. No previous knowledge of German required. Texts will include a variety of reading materials of current interest.

NOTE: This course alone may not be used as a prerequisite for advanced courses in German.

GERMAN C250
Intermediate German A/B (6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C210 or GERM C220, or equivalent. Advanced instruction in the language. Emphasis upon idiom, and usage in conversation and composition. Readings from German authors and other texts. Lectures and laboratory.

GERMAN C251
Intermediate German B (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course is equivalent to the second term of GERM C250. It is designed for students who have taken at least four semesters of German at the CEGEP level or equivalent. May be taken concurrently with GERM C255.

NOTE: Students who have credit for GERM C250 may not take this course for credits.

GERMAN C255
Translation II (6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C210 or GERM C220, or equivalent. This course is a continuation of Translation I and presents more complicated problems of translation from German into English. It is also an introduction to the basic skills required to translate English into German.

GERMAN C300
Advanced Composition and Stylistics
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C250 or GERM C255, or equivalent. This course is intended to give the student increased fluency in and a firmer command of the language. The emphasis of the course is on stylistics and composition.

GERMAN C305
Translation III (6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C255, or equivalent. This course is a continuation of Translation II and deals with advanced problems and techniques of translating from English into German.

GERMAN C345
(Also given as History C345)
Germany and Austria in Modern Times
(6 credits)

Socio-economic change and the development of nation-states in German Central Europe from the eighteenth century to the present. For advance reading, the student might refer to H. Holborn, A History of Modern Germany.

GERMAN C350
Literature in Translation (6 credits)

A study of representative works of German literature. All readings and lectures will be in English.

GERMAN C360
German Civilization (6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C250 or GERM C255 or equivalent. This course is designed to acquaint the student with the intellectual and cultural history of German-speaking nations as reflected in their writers. Although it is primarily concerned with ideas and aesthetics, attention will also be given to the development of language, customs and folklore.

ALL COURSES WITH NUMBERS 400 AND HIGHER ARE CONDUCTED IN GERMAN

GERMAN C400
Survey of German Literature 800 to 1600
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. A survey of Old High German, Middle High German, and Early New High German literature.

GERMAN C405
German Literature from 1600 to 1750
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. A detailed study of representative writers of the German Baroque, Rococo, and Enlightenment periods.

GERMAN C410
Literature of the Classic Period (6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. Pre-classic and classic German literature, with its philosophical background.

GERMAN C415
Literature of the Romantic Period
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. Romanticism as a universal attitude. The works of the major German Romanticists and their influence.

GERMAN C420
German Literature of the Nineteenth Century (6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. A study of representative works of post-romantic authors and the writers of German Realism.

GERMAN C425
German Literature from 1880 to 1930
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. The development of German literature from Naturalism to the beginnings of Hitler-Germany.

GERMAN C430
Contemporary German Literature
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. Literature in Hitler-Germany, German emigrant literature, and post-war literature.

GERMAN C435
History of the German Drama (6 credits)

Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. A study of German drama from its beginnings to modern times.

GERMAN C440
A Study of the Deutsche Novelle (6 credits)
Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. A study of the Deutsche Novelle from Goethe to Kafka.

GERMAN C445
Reading Course in the Modern German Novel (6 credits)
Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. A study of the German novel since 1900. There will be no class periods. Students will work under the direct supervision of the instructor. Regular assignments, written and oral examinations will be given.

GERMAN C450
German Poetry from the Middle Ages to Modern Times (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. A survey of German poetry through the centuries. Outstanding examples of representative poets will be studied in detail.

GERMAN C460
The Hörspiel (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. A study of one of the youngest art forms developed with the help of and for a new medium—radio. Literary and technical aspects, as well as the most representative writers, will be discussed.

GERMAN C470
Study of an Individual German Author I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. This course will consist of the detailed study of one important German author.

GERMAN C471
Study of an Individual German Author II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: GERM C250 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. This course will consist of the detailed study of one important German author. The subject matter of GERM C470 and GERM C471 will never be the same in any given year.

GERMAN C480
Tutorial I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Guided readings in German language and/or literature, and at least two major assignments to meet the student's individual needs.

GERMAN C481
Tutorial II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Guided readings in German language and/or literature. Written and oral criticism of the works studied.

GERMAN C482
Tutorial III (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Guided readings in German language and/or literature, and at least two major assignments to meet the student's individual needs.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GERM C480 may register for GERM C482, provided the subject matter is different.

GERMAN C483
Tutorial IV (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Guided readings in German language and/or literature. Written and oral criticism of the works studied.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GERM C481 may register for GERM C483, provided the subject matter is different.

Hebrew:

HEBREW C210
Introductory Course in Hebrew A/B (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. A beginners' course in Hebrew, spoken and written, with reading of classical and modern texts. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students who have credits for CEGEP Hebrew 301 or 401, or whose schooling has been conducted in Hebrew, will not be admitted to this course.

HEBREW C211
Introductory Course in Hebrew B (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course is equivalent to the second term of HEBR C210. It is designed for students who have taken some Hebrew at the CEGEP level or equivalent.

HEBREW C250
Intermediate Hebrew A/B (6 credits)
Prerequisite: HEBR C210, or two to three years of high school Hebrew or equivalent. This course consists of a complete review of Hebrew grammar and syntax, with special emphasis on modern Hebrew usage, readings in the Bible, and an introduction to modern Hebrew literature. Can be taken concurrently with HEBR C300. Lectures and laboratory.

HEBREW C251
Intermediate Hebrew B (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course is equivalent to the second term of HEBR C250. It is designed for students who have taken two to three years of high school Hebrew or equivalent. Lectures and laboratory.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for HEBR C250 may not take this course for credits.

HEBREW C300
An Introduction to Biblical Hebrew (6 credits)
Prerequisite: HEBR C210 or equivalent. A study of classical Hebrew grammar. This course will give the student sufficient training to read, with reasonable competence, classical Hebrew texts, as well as the Hebrew Bible.

Can be taken concurrently with HEBR C250. This course is designed especially for students in the Departments of Theological Studies and Religion.

The Philosophy Department offers a number of programmes of study which include: Honours, Specialization, Major and Minor, and certain joint programmes. Double majors programmes are also offered in consultation with other departments. The Philosophy Department should be consulted for information concerning these programmes. Seminars and tutorials are offered mainly for students in a programme in Philosophy. In addition, courses are offered to students with a general or specific interest in Philosophy.

Students enrolled in Philosophy programmes are required to confirm their status with the Department during the second week of lectures of each year.

Students admitted to the Honours programme on or after June 1, 1977, will be bound by the Honours requirements outlined in §16.2.4 of this Calendar. Students who already had Honours status by June 1, 1977, will continue to be governed by the requirements that applied at the date of their admission to the Honours programme.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

PHILOSOPHY C201
Problems of Philosophy (3 credits)
This course is designed for students who wish to be acquainted with philosophy through problems rather than through the historical approach. Methods used in Philosophy will be discussed and topics, such as the existence of God, the mind-body problem, freedom and determinism, rights and duties, will be used to illustrate philosophical approaches.
NOTE: This course may not be taken for credits with PHIL C202.

PHILOSOPHY C202
Introduction to Philosophy (6 credits)
A study of basic questions in the major areas of philosophy, and the classical attempts to answer them.
NOTE: This course may not be taken for credits with PHIL C201.

PHILOSOPHY C211
Philosophical Classics (6 credits)
A critical discussion of selected philosophical classics. Readings will be chosen from Plato, Aristotle, Descartes, Hume, Kant, and one recent or contemporary philosopher.

PHILOSOPHY C223
Critical Thinking (3 credits)
This course is designed to help students to think more clearly and critically and to improve their ability to present, defend, and evaluate arguments. Sample topics may include the nature of definition, validity and truth, formal and informal fallacies.

PHILOSOPHY C224
Introduction to Logic (6 credits)
A study of the basic elements of Aristotelian and modern logic, including an analysis of argumentation, language, definition, fallacies, deduction, and induction.

PHILOSOPHY C226
Elementary Deductive Logic (3 credits)
This course begins with an analysis of syllogistic logic and proceeds to an extensive treatment of propositional logic. The course will conclude with an examination of the rudiments of predicate logic. The techniques of constructing formal derivations will be included.

PHILOSOPHY C228
Methods of Enquiry (3 credits)
A study of the methods and structure of basic types of organized knowledge: mathematics, science, history, and normative disciplines. This course will discuss crucial concepts in scientific methodology, such as the axiomatic system, the hypothetico-deductive method, and scientific explanation.

PHILOSOPHY C230
Human Identity (3 credits)
A critical examination of some theories of human identity, including reference to male and female identity, the unity of self, and transcendence of self. Works will be selected from the history of philosophy, literature, and the social sciences.

PHILOSOPHY C231
Introduction to General Systems Theory (6 credits)
An elementary survey of the transdisciplinary general systems approach. Such basic concepts as structure information and regulation will be explored, and a teleological framework suited to the social and behavioural sciences will be developed.

PHILOSOPHY C240
Philosophy of Man (6 credits)
A study of representative classical and contemporary positions on human nature, action, and life. Such topics as knowledge, affectivity, freedom, person, will be treated.

PHILOSOPHY C241
Ethics (6 credits)
A study of the principles underlying moral conduct with reference to classical and contemporary positions.

PHILOSOPHY C242
Business Ethics (3 credits)
The purpose of this course is to elucidate the key ethical notions with reference to the business world. The intention is to make students aware of situations in which ethical implications arise rather than to impose specific rules.

PHILOSOPHY C244
Social and Political Philosophy (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or the permission of the Department. This course treats of the individual in relation to the State and Society through the reading and discussion of selected texts. Problems treated: political authority, its sources and varieties; the limits of political authority; classical images of man; personality and society; the paradox of social control.

PHILOSOPHY C245
Philosophy and Society (3 credits)
The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the philosophical treatment of social problems. Examples would include conceptions of man as individual and as citizen, as free and as determined, as well as conceptions of the state and of the community.

PHILOSOPHY C246
Introduction to Philosophy of Religion (3 credits)
This course examines the classical arguments for the existence of God. Course content includes the nature of faith and of religious experience, as well as the nature of religious language.

PHILOSOPHY C248
Biomedical Ethics (3 credits)
This course is a study of the moral and legal norms involved in medical issues such as health care priorities; euthanasia; fertility control and abortion, protection of the incapable; preventive medicine; problems of physician and patient relationships; human experimentation; genetic engineering; and behaviour modification.

PHILOSOPHY C255
Philosophy of Leisure (3 credits)
This course examines philosophical problems relating to such issues as: leisure, recreation, labour, time and fulfillment. The aim is to stimulate the student to think critically about the goals of individuals and of society as they concern these issues. The course will be of interest to students in Recreation and Leisure Studies and to others interested in the problems of using free time to best advantage.

PHILOSOPHY C291
Introductory Special Topics in Philosophy (3 credits)
The topics selected will vary from year to year.

PHILOSOPHY C292
Introductory Special Topics in Philosophy (3 credits)
A student who has received credit for PHIL C291 may register for PHIL C292 provided the subject matter is different.

PHILOSOPHY C310
Ancient Western Philosophy (6 credits)
A study of the principal developments from the Presocratics through Plato and Aristotle up to Plotinus. Emphasis will be placed on the critical reading of selected texts.

PHILOSOPHY C312
Existentialism (6 credits)
A course designed to acquaint the student with the fundamentals of the existentialist movement as a philosophical perspective. Among philosophers considered will be Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, Heidegger, Sartre, Merleau-Ponty, Jaspers, Marcel, and Berdyaev.

PHILOSOPHY C313
Contemporary Philosophy (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. A study of selected philosophers of the twentieth century. Movements and figures discussed vary from year to year. Such topics as the following will be considered: Positivism, Pragmatism, Marxism, Phenomenology, Existentialism, and Philosophical Analysis.

PHILOSOPHY C321
Symbolic Logic (6 credits)
An introduction to modern formal logic, its techniques and applications. The course covers sentential logic, first-order predicate logic with identity, intuitive set theory, relations, and functions.

PHILOSOPHY C328
Conceptual Revolutions in Twentieth Century Science I (3 credits)
This course will begin with a consideration of the structure and growth of scientific theories and of the relationship between theory and observation. This will be followed by a fairly detailed exposition of Einstein's theories of special relativity and general relativity. The philosophical implications of the two theories will be carefully considered, with particular attention being devoted to the fundamental revisions of the concepts of space and time, which these theories have forced upon us.

PHILOSOPHY C329
Conceptual Revolutions in Twentieth Century Science II (3 credits)
The major part of this course will be devoted to the conceptual development of quantum mechanics, with special attention to such topics as the wave-particle duality, causality and determinism, the principle of indeterminacy, and the distinction between the knowing subject and the object of knowledge. It will conclude with a discussion of Gödel's celebrated incompleteness theorem, which has profound implications concerning our views on the relationship between logic and mathematics, the nature of mathematical truth and even for the ultimate prospects for the field of artificial intelligence.

PHILOSOPHY C331
Philosophical Ideas in Literature (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Second-year standing, or permission of the instructor. A critical examination of philosophical ideas as expressed in various literary works. The subject matter is chosen for its relevance to such themes as the nature of man, the nature of the good life, and the relation of man to society.

PHILOSOPHY C334
Anarchism and Marxism (3 credits)
The contradictory character of Russian cultural and philosophical development is used as a basis for an analysis of the main philosophical differences between Anarchism and Marxism as presented in the works and activities of its main protagonists (Bakunin, Kropotkin, Plekhanov, Lenin). Philosophical relevance of such major Russian writers as Dostoyevsky, Tolstoy, and Solzhenitsyn will be shown as well.

PHILOSOPHY C335
Contemporary Marxism (3 credits)
Critical and comparative analysis of different schools and individual thinkers of twentieth-century Marxism, in particular, those in Russia, Germany, and France. These positions will be considered primarily on their philosophical merits.

PHILOSOPHY C338
Philosophical Psychology (3 credits)
A critical examination of the explanation of human behaviour and the self in the light of new developments in philosophy and psychology. Detailed studies of selected problems such as motives, intention, the concept of person, choice, reason, freedom, purpose, and action.

PHILOSOPHY C340
Contemporary Theories of Love (6 credits)
Prerequisite: One previous course in Philosophy. A two-semester topical analysis of love and attendant phenomena, with special emphasis on their metaphysical, epistemological, psychological, aesthetic, social, theological, and linguistic dimensions. The classes will be conducted on a lecture-seminar basis.

PHILOSOPHY C341
Political Philosophy (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or the permission of the Department. This course concentrates on the theoretical foundations of communism, fascism, and democracy through the reading and discussion of selected texts.

PHILOSOPHY C342
Political Philosophy (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Second-year standing, or permission of the Department. Critical analysis of contemporary political-philosophical concepts, such as tolerance, violence, separatism, racism, and the nationalism of visible minorities.

PHILOSOPHY C344
Law, Liberty, and Human Rights (3 credits)
In this course, the student will examine several perspectives from which the problem of the relation between law and morality may be treated. Conflicting concepts of law, morality, and the relation of the individual to society will be discussed. The problem of authority will be examined in relation to issues of civil liberties, civil rights, and the social basis of legal conflicts.

PHILOSOPHY C345
Philosophy of Social Science (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy or third-year standing in a social science department, or permission of the Department. Following the distinction between natural and social sciences, this course will be concerned with philosophies of the social sciences. It will investigate the structure, methodology, and problems of these sciences toward understanding and clarifying how they function as quasi-separable disciplines and how they contribute to a wider understanding of man and his varied social relations.

PHILOSOPHY C346
Philosophy of Social Science (3 credits)
Philosophical examination of the structure and methodology of the social sciences. Special attention to problems of functionalism, teleological explanation, and the testing of social theories.

PHILOSOPHY C347
Phenomenology and Psychology (3 credits)
This is an introduction to the fundamentals of Phenomenology through a study of conscious experience, both subjective and intersubjective. Standard psychological models and methods will be examined in order to open up phenomenological alternatives in the fields of aesthetics, literary criticism, religious and moral experience. Phenomenology complements psychological research in these areas.

PHILOSOPHY C348
Philosophy of Culture (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or the permission of the Department. This course entails a philosophical critique of contemporary culture, stressing such issues as identity crisis, the weakening of structures of orthodoxy, meditation and humour in relation to the vita activa, work in relation to labour, and the socio-cultural manifestation of value crisis.

PHILOSOPHY C349
Philosophy of Education (6 credits)
An examination of philosophical principles underlying educational theories and of the problems arising from the practical implementation of those theories.

PHILOSOPHY C350
Philosophy of Communication (6 credits)
This course is concerned with a philosophical analysis of the foundations of communication acts: linguistic and non-linguistic, cognitive and affective. Philosophical sources may include: F. Nietzsche, M. Black, M. Merleau-Ponty, and P. Ricoeur.

PHILOSOPHY C351
Philosophy of Religion (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. A critical assessment of modern developments in Philosophy regarding the question of whether thinking man can maintain a religious belief in God.

PHILOSOPHY C352
Philosophy of History (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Second- or third-year standing in a History programme, or permission of the Philosophy Department. An analysis of the nature of historical knowledge and explanation will be followed by a study of classical and contemporary attempts to elucidate the meaning of history. Authors discussed include Augustine, Vico, Kant, Hegel, Marx, Spengler, Popper, Toynbee.

PHILOSOPHY C353
Aesthetics I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Second-year standing, or permission of the Department. A philosophical analysis of selected aspects of the aesthetic experience and the logic of appraisal. Specimen topics include: perception in art, symbolic expression, the role of feeling and emotion in aesthetic judgment, objectivity and subjectivity of value judgments, commensurability of values.

PHILOSOPHY C354
Artificial Intelligence (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy or in Computer Science. The purpose of this course is to explore the analogy between mental activity and the operation of computers or "electronic brains", with a view to answering the question: Can machines think? Such topics as the following will be treated: the concept of the Turing machine; the Turing test of intelligence; the functionalist theory of the mind; the nature of creativity; and the alleged implications of Godel's incompleteness theorem.

PHILOSOPHY C357
Philosophy of Law: General Jurisprudence (3 credits)
A philosophical study of natural law, legal positivist and legal realist replies to the question of what law is. Contemporary and classical replies are criticized and are applied to cases. The associated issues of legal moralism, legal justice, legal obligation and its limits, and legal reasoning are treated.

PHILOSOPHY C358
Legal Philosophy: Legal Rights and Duties (3 credits)
A philosophical study of the nature, sources and functions of rights and duties. Attention is given to the particular rights associated with contract and property, and their abuse, to duties arising by law alone, to excuses and justifications for failure to fulfill duties, and to enforcement, punishment and compromise.

PHILOSOPHY C362
Second-Year Seminar (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Second-year standing in a philosophy programme, or permission of the Department. Problems in Moral Philosophy, with topics to be announced. This seminar will conduct the students through a series of problems on moral topics.

PHILOSOPHY C398
Intermediate Special Topics in Philosophy (3 credits)
Consideration of a special topic selected from the principal areas of philosophy, e.g., ethics, epistemology, metaphysics, logic.

PHILOSOPHY C399
Intermediate Special Topics in Philosophy (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. A student who has received credit for PHIL C398 may register for PHIL C399 provided the subject matter is different.

PHILOSOPHY C410
Medieval Philosophy (6 credits)
Prerequisite: PHIL C310, or permission of the Department. A study of Western Philosophy from Augustine to the later Scholastics.

PHILOSOPHY C412
Modern Philosophy (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. A study of Western Philosophy from Descartes to Hume.

PHILOSOPHY C417
Nineteenth-Century Philosophy (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. An examination of some of the main currents of post-Kantian philosophy. Hegel and the post-Hegelians, the romantic reaction, positivism, and pragmatism.

PHILOSOPHY C421
Philosophy of Science (6 credits)
Prerequisite: One course in logic, or permission of the Department. A critical examination of problems pertaining to the structure and status of scientific theories and the logic of scientific inference. Such topics as the following will be discussed: explanation, confirmation, verifiability and falsifiability, problems of definition, observational and theoretical terms, models and analogies.

PHILOSOPHY C422
Advanced Topics in Logic (3 credits)
Prerequisite: A 300-level course in Symbolic Logic, or permission of the Department. This course is designed to extend the basic knowledge of logic by introducing students to areas such as modal logic, deontic logic, higher-order calculi, logical theory, and logical semantics.

PHILOSOPHY C449
Phenomenology (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Twelve credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. Origins and development of phenomenology from Brentano and Meinong through the different stages of Husserl's writings. Post-Husserlian modifications will be considered briefly. The second term will be devoted to a discussion of the influence of the phenomenological movement on contemporary developments in the social sciences and humanities. Actual topics will be determined by the student's areas of interest and academic qualifications.

PHILOSOPHY C453
Epistemology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Twelve credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. A study of characteristic problems in epistemology, with particular emphasis on their historical and systematic contexts. The concepts analyzed include fundamental questions in the empirical sciences.

PHILOSOPHY C454
Metaphysics (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Twelve credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. In this course, metaphysics will be treated in two ways: firstly, the problem of being in classical and contemporary ontologies; secondly, the metaphysical suppositions underlying epistemological, moral, and social theories.

PHILOSOPHY C455
Aesthetics II (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. This course will examine central problems in the philosophy of art and sensibility, examining the works of major authors in this area, such as Aristotle, Longinus, Kant, Hegel, Dewey, Santayana.

PHILOSOPHY C456
Recent Ethical Theory (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. A critical analysis of leading contemporary ethical theories from Moore to the present. Special attention is given to the naturalistic fallacy, the reducibility or normative statements, ethical reasoning, and the relation of ethics to psychology and sociology.

PHILOSOPHY C457
Philosophy of God (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. The problem of the natural knowledge of God, including readings from Plato, Aristotle, Anselm, Aquinas, Descartes, Hume, Pascal, Kant, Hegel, Feuerbach, Marx, Kierkegaard, Newman, Nietzsche, Sartre, Ayer, and Russell.

PHILOSOPHY C460
Honours Seminar in Epistemology and Metaphysics (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing. Intensive study of major contemporary issues in the theory of knowledge and metaphysics, designed to accommodate honours students in any department.

PHILOSOPHY C463
Third-Year Seminar (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing in a philosophy programme, or permission of the Department. Themes selected from modern and contemporary Philosophy, with topics and authors to be announced.

PHILOSOPHY C469
Contemporary Analytic Philosophy (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Twelve credits in Philosophy, or permission of Department. A seminar devoted to the investigation of selected philosophical problems as they arise in the writings of such philosophers as Moore, Russell, Ayer, Carnap, Quine, Wittgenstein, Ryle, Wisdom, Austin, and others.

PHILOSOPHY C471
Tutorial in Philosophy (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Eighteen credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. If permission for a tutorial is granted, the tutorial Director will supervise an intensive reading programme in the student's area of special interest.

PHILOSOPHY C472
Tutorial in Philosophy (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Eighteen credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. If permission for a tutorial is granted, the tutorial Director will supervise an intensive reading programme in the student's area of special interest.

PHILOSOPHY C480
Author Course in Philosophy (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Eighteen credits in Philosophy or permission of the Department. This course involves the intensive study of the writings of a selected author(s). The author or authors selected will be announced.

PHILOSOPHY C485
Kant (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Twelve credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. An intensive study of Kant's Critique of Pure Reason and related works.

PHILOSOPHY C486
The Study of a Given Thinker (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. A detailed study of one or more of the central works of a major philosopher. When appropriate, some attention may be devoted to his philosophical development.

PHILOSOPHY C488
The Study of a Given Thinker (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. Students who have received credit for PHIL C486 may register for PHIL C488 provided that the subject matter is different.

PHILOSOPHY C493
Advanced Special Topics in Philosophy (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy, or permission of the Department. Consideration of a special topic selected from the principal areas of philosophy: e.g., value theory, epistemology, metaphysics, philosophy of mind, philosophy of science, philosophical logic.

PHILOSOPHY C495
Advanced Special Topics in Philosophy
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: Six credits in Philosophy and permission of the Department. A student who has received credit for PHIL C493 may register for PHIL C495 provided the subject matter is different.

Year I, II and III

15 PHYS C243[3], C253[3], C254[3], C291[1], C293[1], C364[3], C394[1]

9 Chosen from PHYS C232[3], C244[3], C292[1], C294[1], C295[2], C335[3], C336[3], C344[3], C352[3], C354[3], C392[1], C434[3], C435[3], C456[3], C477[3], C478[3]

12 To be chosen with the approval of the Department

NOTE: Students following a Major in Physics must register with the Department by November 1 of each year.

24 Minor in Physics

These credits are to be chosen in consultation with the Department.

NOTE: Students following a Minor in Physics must register with the Department by November 1 of each year.

32 Certificate in Scientific Measurement (Biology Option)

12 BIOL C220[3], C222[3], C223[3], C230[3]
6 CHEM C311[2], C316[1], C390[2], C399[1]
14 PHYS C295[2], C296[2], C396[5], C397[5]

Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to twelve credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

33 Certificate in Scientific Measurement (Chemistry Option)

19 CHEM C211[6], C310[2], C314[2], C315[1], C319[1], C390[2], C399[1], C490[3], C499[1]
14 PHYS C295[2], C296[2], C396[5], C397[5]

Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to twelve credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

32 Certificate in Scientific Measurement (Physics Option)

18 PHYS C253[3], C254[3], C293[1], C294[1], C295[2], C296[2], C354[3], C355[3]
3 Chosen from PHYS C243[3], or C352[3] or C364[3]
5 Chosen from PHYS C395[5], or C396[5] or C397[5]
6 MATH C261[6]

Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to twelve credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

NOTE:

In general, experiments involved in the laboratory courses on the Sir George Williams Campus can be done from week to week, at variable times chosen by the student.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

PHYSICS C204

Mechanics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CEGEP Mathematics 103 or equivalent, previously or concurrently. Kinematics, Newton's Laws of Motion. Statics, Dynamics. Conservation of momentum and energy. Rotational motion. Periodic motion. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration. See PHYS C224 for laboratory associated with this course.

PHYSICS C205

Electricity and Magnetism (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C204 or equivalent. Electrical charge and Coulomb's Law. Electrical field and potential. Capacity, Steady state, and transient currents. Electro-magnetic induction and alternating currents. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration. See PHYS C225 for laboratory associated with this course.

PHYSICS C206

Waves and Modern Physics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C204 or equivalent. Simple harmonic motion. Wave propagation. Superposition. Stationary waves. Doppler effect. Interference. Diffraction. Photoelectric effect. Compton effect. Bohr's atom. Radioactivity, fission, fusion. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration. See PHYS C226 for laboratory associated with this course.

PHYSICS C207

Heat and Sound (3 credits)

Prerequisite: 6 credits of Collegial Physics, and 6 credits of Collegial Calculus or equivalent. Temperature and thermometry, heat effects, measurement and transfer, thermal properties of matter, thermodynamics, first and second laws, kinetic theory, waves, vibrations, and accoustical phenomena. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

NOTE: This course is intended for pre-Engineering students. Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits.

PHYSICS C210

Discoveries in Physics (6 credits)

A non-mathematical course in physics specifically designed for students who have had little or no experience in physics. It traces the fundamental ideas from which modern physics has emerged and attempts to develop insights into the understanding of natural phenomena. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits.

PHYSICS C215
The Mechanics of Visual Representation
(3 credits)

An introductory course combining laboratories and lectures illustrating the basic laws that govern the mechanism of image reproduction. Relevant topics concerning the interaction of light and materials are discussed and demonstrated. Students perform experiments with light-sensitive materials, the pinhole camera, light intensity, and illumination measurement. Human visual response, the gray scale, sensitometry, densitometry, the characteristic curve and ASA, DIN; film speeds are examined in depth. This course parallels CHEM C280, and both are designed to complement COMS C275 (Visual Dynamics I). This course is designed for students in Communication Studies. Laboratory and lectures: 3 hours per week.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits.

PHYSICS C217
The Physics of Photo-Reproduction
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C215. A combined laboratory and lecture course designed for students in Communication Studies who have some basic knowledge of physical laws. Ideas introduced in the "Mechanics of Visual Representation" (PHYS C215) are further developed, covering such topics as exposure measurements and control, and the Standard Association Institute Photographic Exposure Guide. The mechanics of a lens, image formation, f-stops diaphragm openings, the 3-colour composition of light, the colour-temperature scale, and filters are studied. This course is designed so that the student will gain an intelligent and efficient use of his equipment. Laboratory and lecture: 3 hours per week.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits.

PHYSICS C219
Physics of Photography (3 credits)

Prerequisite: 6 credits of Collegial physics, or the equivalent. This course is intended for students in university science programmes. It includes the following topics: Light, illumination; the photographic process, tone reproduction, the gray scale; sensitometry: the characteristic curve; characteristic curve analysis, gamma, contrast index, film speeds; exposure measurement and control; the exposure guide; previsualization, exposure zones; correct exposure, control of development, Optics: image formation, lenses, standards of definition, depth of focus, depth of field; covering power, perspective; image brightness, exposure, shutters; colour analysis, filters,. Lectures and laboratories: 3 hours per week.

PHYSICS C224
Introductory Experimental Mechanics
(1 credit)

Prerequisite: PHYS C204, previously or concurrently, or permission of the Department. A laboratory course covering fundamental experiments in classical mechanics. Experiments will include: Resolution of forces, centrifugal force and conservation of energy, pendulums. Laboratory only, 10 experiments.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

PHYSICS C225
Introductory Experimental Electricity
(1 credit)

Prerequisite: PHYS C205, previously or concurrently, or permission of the Department. A laboratory course covering fundamental experiments in electricity. Experiments will include Kirchoff's Law, resistors in series and parallel, oscilloscope, induction, Alternating Current. Laboratory only. 10 experiments.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

PHYSICS C226
Introductory Experimental Waves and Modern Physics (1 credit)

Prerequisite: PHYS C206, previously or concurrently, or permission of the Department. A laboratory course covering the fundamental experiments in waves and modern physics. Experiments include spectrometer measurements. Newton's rings and measurements involving radioactivity. Laboratory only. 10 experiments.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration.

PHYSICS C232
Theoretical Physics I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C261, previously or concurrently. Introduction to linear algebra. Ordinary Vector Calculus, matrices, determinants, system of linear equations; Introduction to ordinary differential equations with application to physics. (Linear first-order and second-order ordinary differential equations, Wronskian, non-homogenous differential equations, power-series method, problems from mechanics and electricity). Lectures only.

PHYSICS C241
Biomechanics of Human Motion (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C204 or CEGEP Physics 101. The application of elementary laws of mechanics to the understanding of static equilibrium conditions of the human body subjected to external forces - the efficiency of human movement seen from the reference point of physical laws as applied to sports. This course is intended for the physio-therapist, the athlete, and all those interested in understanding body mechanics in the light of inanimate physical laws. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students who have credits for PHYS C243 or equivalent may not take this course for credits.

PHYSICS C243
Classical Mechanics I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C204 or CEGEP Physics 101; MATH C261, previously or concurrently. Fundamental concepts, the laws of motion, equilibrium of forces, friction, forces of constraint, centre of mass, work, potential, motion of a particle, motion in resisting media, simple harmonic oscillation, damped oscillations. Lectures only.

NOTE: See PHYS C291 for laboratory associated with this course.

PHYSICS C244
Classical Mechanics II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C243 or equivalent. Central forces, Kepler's Laws, dynamics of a system of particles, mechanics of rigid bodies, Lagrange's equations, Hamilton's equations. Lectures only.

NOTE: See PHYS C292 for laboratory associated with this course.

PHYSICS C253
Electricity and Magnetism I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C205 or CEGEP Physics 201, or equivalent; MATH C261, previously or concurrently. Electric charge, Coulomb's Law, Electrostatic forces, electric field, Gauss's Law, electric potential, stored energy. Dielectrics, properties of materials in electric fields. Electric current, conduction in a vacuum and in material media, displacement current, magnetic field of a current, force on a current-carrying wire, magnetic induction, electromotive force, energy stored in a magnetic field. Magnetism in material media, magnetic circuits, Time-varying fields. Capacitance, resistance, inductance; circuitry. Lectures only.

NOTE: See PHYS C293 for laboratory associated with this course.

PHYSICS C254
Electricity and Magnetism II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C253. The field concept. Maxwell's equations. Boundary conditions. Power and energy. The electrostatic field. Electrostatic potential. The concept of capacitance. Polarization. The concept of local field in matter. The magnetostatic field. The Biot-Savart law. The scalar magnetic potential. Plane waves. Total internal reflection. Lectures only.

NOTE: See PHYS C294 for laboratory associated with this course.

PHYSICS C270
Introduction to Energy and Environment (3 credits)

This course is designed for students who have little or no background in physics. Topics covered include: Relationship of physics to environment and energy. Concept and definition of work and energy. Interaction of man and inanimate objects with the environment. Heat and chemical energy. Electromagnetic and nuclear energy. Conservation of energy - how it affects everyday life. Sources of energy used on earth. Solar energy. Production of wind power, water power, solar cells from sun's energy, biological uses, biopower. Lectures only.

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may not take this course for credits.

PHYSICS C273
Energy and Environment (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C270, or 6 credits in CEGEP Physics or equivalent. Nuclear energy stored in the earth. Geothermal energy. Biological energy stored in the earth. Second law of thermodynamics. Entropy. Food energy. Home heating and cooling. Solar heating. Transportation of man, goods, and energy. Recycling materials. Resource conservation and man's ability to change - need for a conservation ethic, need for alternate energy sources, need for public knowledge. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C291
Experimental Mechanics I (1 credit)

Prerequisite: PHYS C243, previously or concurrently. A laboratory course in mechanics. Experiments include pendulum, coefficient of restitution, centrifugal force, rotational inertia, inelastic impact.

PHYSICS C292
Experimental Mechanics II (1 credit)

Prerequisite: PHYS C291. A laboratory course in mechanics. Experiments include the use of air tracks to study acceleration, collisions, dissipative forces, and periodic motion. Other experiments include viscosity and surface tension of liquids.

PHYSICS C293
Experimental Electricity and Magnetism I (1 credit)

Prerequisite: PHYS C253, previously or concurrently. A laboratory course in electricity and magnetism. Experiments include motion of electrons in electric and magnetic fields, exponential relaxation, damped oscillations, resonance, nonlinearity, negative resistance.

PHYSICS C294
Experimental Electricity and Magnetism II (1 credit)

Prerequisite: PHYS C293. A laboratory course in electricity and magnetism. Experiments include the transistor, amplification and frequency response, transient response and negative feedback, positive feedback and oscillation, periodic structures.

PHYSICS C295
Experimental Electronics I (2 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C225 or CEGEP Physics 201, or equivalent. A practical laboratory course in electronics. Experiments include resistors in series and parallel, voltmeter, Ohm's Law, Kirchhoff's Current and Voltage Laws, Ohmmeter, capacitor, inductor, transformer, rectifiers, voltage doubler, zener diode, power supplies.

PHYSICS C296
Experimental Electronics II (2 credits)
Prerequisite: PHYS C295. A practical laboratory course in electronics. Experiments include oscilloscope, biasing of bipolar transistors, transistor amplifiers, voltage and current regulators, field-effect transistor, oscillators, operational amplifier circuits, audio amplifier, I-F transformer, limiter, amplitude and frequency modulation.

PHYSICS C324
Selected Topics in Physics (3 credits each)
The topics chosen will vary from year to year. The course is designed to provide students with the opportunity of extending their studies beyond subjects already included in the curriculum. Open to all students with permission of the Department.

PHYSICS C325
Selected Topics in Physics (3 credits)
Students who have received credit for PHYS C324 may register for PHYS C325 provided the subject matter is different.

PHYSICS C335
Theoretical Physics II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PHYS C232 or equivalent. Linear Algebra: Linear Map, Linear coordinate transformations, eigenvalue problem, Vector space of functions, Sturm-Liouville problem, Fourier Series and applications. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C336
Theoretical Physics III (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PHYS C335 or equivalent. Classification and derivation of partial differential equations in physics. Separation of variables technique. The Fourier method for solving partial differential equations. Special Functions. Application to physical problems arising from electro-statics, heat conduction, wave propagation, etc. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C344
Advanced Classical Mechanics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PHYS C232; PHYS C244; or equivalent. Lagrangian and Hamiltonian dynamics, collision between particles, motion of rigid bodies, Hamilton-Jacobi theory, small oscillations. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C345
Special Relativity (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PHYS C244; PHYS C254. Historical introduction, Einstein and relativity, application of the Lorentz transformation, four-vectors, the Lorentz invariance of physical theories. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C352
Optics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PHYS C205, or CEGEP equivalent. Geometrical optics: General treatment of optical systems. Wave optics: review of simple harmonic motion, wave equation, superposition of waves, electromagnetic waves, scattering, polarization, interference-coherent sources, interference-uniformly extended sources, diffraction, waves in a dispersive medium, lasers. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C354
Electronics I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PHYS C205 or CEGEP Physics 201, or equivalent. Semi-conductor physics: p-n junction, bipolar transistor, field-effect transistor, Circuit Theory, Diode Applications, Bipolar Transistor: h-parameters, small-signal amplifiers. Lectures only.
NOTE: See PHYS C295 and C296 for associated laboratory courses.

PHYSICS C355
Electronics II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PHYS C354. Biasing of Transistors; Feedback Analysis, Common Circuits involving Operational Amplifiers; Large Signal Amplifiers, Digital Circuits: gates, flip-flops, logic functions. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C364
Atomic Physics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PHYS C205 or the CEGEP equivalent. Special relativity. Wave-particle duality. The Rutherford atom, the Bohr-Sommerfeld atom. Origin of quantum theory. Schroedinger's equation. Electrons and ions. Electromagnetic radiation. Atomic structure. Lectures only.
NOTE: This course should not be taken before the second year of university studies. See PHYS C394 for laboratory associated with this course.

PHYSICS C392
Experimental Optics (1 credit)
Prerequisite: PHYS C352, previously or concurrently. An experimental course in optics. Experiments include diffraction, optical instruments, resonance, and various experiments using lasers. Laboratory only, 10 experiments.

PHYSICS C394
Experimental Atomic Physics I (1 credit)
Prerequisite: PHYS C364, previously or concurrently; PHYS C226 or CEGEP Physics 301 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. An experimental course in atomic physics. Experiments include the Frank-Hertz experiment, the Zeeman effect, Mass spectrometer, and some X-ray work. Laboratory only, 10 experiments.

PHYSICS C395
Communication Media Electronics
(5 credits)
Prerequisite: PHYS C296 or equivalent. Distortion, Noise, i.f. transformers, converters, power supplies, superheterodyne circuits, video amplifiers and detectors, VHF adn UHF tuning, automatic gain control, FM and FM detectors, synchronization circuits, sweep circuits, automatic frequency and phase control, color demodulation, burst-gate amplifiers, chromabandpass amplifiers, static convergence, dynamic convergence, high-voltage generators, Techniques of troubleshooting electronic circuits. Laboratory only.

PHYSICS C396
Computer Electronics (5 credits)
Prerequisite: PHYS C296 or equivalent. Diode clipping circuits, transistor as a switch, multivibrator circuits, logic circuits. Study and troubleshooting of integrated circuit logic gates, J-K flip-flops, analogue-to-digital and digital-to-analogue converters, frequency-divider circuits, digital multiplexers and demultiplexers, pulse-distributor logic gates. Study and implementation of basic logic functions and Boolean expressions to programme a small digital computer. Laboratory only.

PHYSICS C397
Experimental Medical Electronics (5 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C296 or equivalent. A laboratory course in the maintenance and use of medical instruments, including ECG monitor, electro-cardiograph, cardiotachometer, blood-pressure recorder, respiration-rate recorder, and clinical thermometer. The component parts of the instruments are studied first, and then, the instruments are constructed and operated. Laboratory only.

PHYSICS C428
Advanced Topics in Physics (3 credits)

The topics chosen will vary from year to year. The course is designed to provide students with the opportunity of extending their studies beyond subjects already included in the curriculum. Open to all students with permission of the Department.

PHYSICS C429
Advanced Topics in Physics (3 credits)

Students who have received credit for PHYS C428 may register for PHYS C429 provided the subject matter is different.

PHYSICS C434
Thermodynamics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C204 or CEGEP Physics 101, or equivalent. Temperature, simple thermodynamic systems; work, heat, and first law; ideal gas, Van der Waal's gas, heat engines, reversible and irreversible processes; entropy, second law, thermodynamics potentials, kinetic theory, Maxwell distribution, mean free path. Lectures only.

NOTE: This course should not be taken before the second year of university studies. See PHYS C494 for laboratory associated with this course.

PHYSICS C435
Statistical Physics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C364; PHYS C434. Basic probability concepts, statistical description of systems of particles, thermal interactions, microscopic theory and macroscopic measurements, temperature and entropy, M-B, E-D, B-E statistics. Canonical distribution in the classical approximation, general thermodynamics interaction. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C436
Theoretical Physics IV (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C232. Theory of Complex variables leading to Residue theory, with applications to Physics. Tensor calculus: tensor algebra; line element, covarient differentiation; applications. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C456
Electromagnetic Theory I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C254; PHYS C336. Derivation of the laws of electrostatics and magnetostatics from the basic experimental laws; methods of images; solutions of Laplace's and Poisson's equations for electrostatic problems, magnetism, Maxwell's equations. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C457
Electromagnetic Theory II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C456. Wave Solution of Maxwell's equations in various media. Classical model of a dielectric. Helmholtz equation and wave equation by Green's functions. Multipole fields. Interaction of charged particles. Radiation by moving charges. Abraham-Lorentz theory.

PHYSICS C465
Nuclear Physics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C364. Discussion of nuclear properties. The deuteron nuclear structure and models. Scattering. Nuclear transitions, disintegrations, and reactions. Radioactivity and decay laws. Passage of radiation through matter, shielding, radiation dosage. Detection and acceleration of particles. Neutrons. Nuclear reactors. Environmental concerns. Lectures only.

NOTE: See PHYS C495 for laboratory associated with this course.

PHYSICS C467
Solid State Physics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C477 previously or concurrently. Crystal structure of solids. Lattice dynamics. Specific heat. Electrons in metals. Free-electron Theory of conduction. Band Theory. Semi-conductors. Dielectric and magnetic properties of solids. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C477
Quantum Mechanics I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C364; PHYS C232 or PHYS C244. State functions and their interpretation, wave packet, linear momentum, motion of a free particle, Schroedinger's equation, stationary state, solution, potential wells. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C478
Quantum Mechanics II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C477. The harmonic oscillator, creation operators, approximation methods of solving Schroedinger's equation, perturbation theory, system of particles, motion in three dimensions, spin, angular momentum, hydrogen atom. Lectures only.

PHYSICS C494
Experimental Thermodynamics I (1 credit)

Prerequisite: PHYS C434, previously or concurrently. A laboratory course in thermodynamics. Experiments include Clement and Desormes' experiment, vaporization, specific heats, liquid nitrogen boiling. Laboratory only, 10 experiments.

PHYSICS C495
Experimental Nuclear Physics I (1 credit)

Prerequisite: PHYS C394; PHYS C465, previously or concurrently. A laboratory course in nuclear physics. Experiments include gamma- and beta-ray spectroscopy, nuclear magnetic resonance, absolute counting, half-life determination, nuclear activities. Laboratory only, 10 experiments.

PHYSICS C496
Methods of Experimental Physics
(4 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C296 or equivalent; PHYS C394 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. Experiments include fundamentals of digital logic and applications of operational amplifiers, solid-state and nuclear physics. Students are encouraged to propose new experiments and will have the opportunity to design and build equipment. Laboratory only.

PHYSICS C497
Experimental Atomic Physics II (2 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C364; PHYS C394. An experimental approach to some basic methods of radiation detection and measurement, including alpha-, beta-, and gamma-ray spectroscopy. Other experiments present Hall Effect, Microwaves and Vacuum Techniques. Laboratory only.

PROGRAMMES

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.

The superscript indicates credit value.

60 BA Honours in Political Science

18 POLI C200[6], C270[6] or C271[3] and C273[3], C372[6]

42 Chosen from at least three of the five Groups in Political Science, with a minimum of 30 credits taken at the 300 or 400 level, 12 of which must be seminar courses.

6 credits may be taken in a cognate discipline with the permission of the Department.

60 BA Honours in Political Science (Concentration in a Special Field of Study)

18 POLI C200[6], C270[6] or C271[3], and C273[3], C372[6]

18 Chosen from at least three of the five Groups in Political Science

24 Chosen from one of the five Groups in Political Science with a minimum of 18 credits taken at the 400 level, 12 of which must be seminar courses.*

6 credits may be taken in a cognate discipline with the permission of the Department.*

66 BA Joint Honours in Political Sociology

18 SOCI C200[6], C300[6], C435[6]

18 POLI C200[6], C270[6], C470[6]

12 Chosen from SOCI C400[6], C405[6], POLI C370[6], C372[6]

12 Chosen from SOCI C280[6], C320[6], C330[6], C335[6], C353[3], C354[3], POLI C230[6], C336[6], C351[6], C353[6], C360[6], C430[6]

6 Chosen from SOCI C409[6]*, or POLI C471[3] and C473[3] or C474[6]

With the approval of the Honours Adviser, the prerequisites for SOCI C409 may be modified for students in this programme.*

60 BA Specialization in Political Science

6 POLI C200[6]

12 Chosen from Group V: Theory

42 Chosen from at least two of the other four Groups in Political Science. A minimum of 30 credits must be taken at the 300 or 400 level, 6 of which must be a seminar course.

6 credits may be taken in a cognate discipline with the permission of the Department.

42 BA Major in Political Science

6 POLI C200[6]

36 Chosen from at least three of the five Groups in Political Science. A minimum of 24 credits must be taken at the 300 or 400 level.

42 BA Major in Political Science (Concentration in one Group)

6 POLI C200[6]

24 Chosen from one of the five Groups in Political Science. A minimum of 18 credits must be at the 300 or 400 level.

6 Chosen from the other four Groups in Political Science at the 300 or 400 level.

6 Chosen from a cognate discipline (courses to be designated)

24 Minor in Political Science

6 POLI C200[6]

18 Chosen from any of the five Groups in Political Science. A minimum of 12 credits must be taken at the 300 or 400 level.

The Department of Political Science offers the following programmes of study: a General Honours; an Honours, with concentration in a special field of study; a Specialization; a General Major; a Major, with concentration in a Special field of study; and a Minor.

Additionally, in cooperation with the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, the Department offers an Honours programme in Political Sociology.

In order to maintain Honours status, students must obtain approval for their programmes from the Honours Adviser each year prior to registration. In the second year of the Honours programme, each student will choose a faculty adviser to advise the student on course selection and seminar research essays.

Students seeking admission to the Honours programme on or after June 1, 1977 will be bound by the Honours requirements outlined in §16.2.4 of this calendar.

Students who already had Honours status by June 1, 1977 will continue to be governed by the requirements which applied at the date of their admission to the Honours programme.

The Specialization is designed for students who wish to acquire a broad knowledge of the discipline without the additional requirements of the Honours programme.

The programme of courses leading to a Minor in Political Science consists of 24 credits in the Department. The Minor is designed to provide an opportunity for students to make a combination with a Specialization, a Major, or Honours in another discipline. A student's Minor will be arranged in consultation with the Department of Political Science so that it relates to courses in the Major area of study.

Explanation of Course Numbers.

1. Courses in the 200 and 300 range are open to all Political Science students and students in other departments.
2. Courses in the 400 range are open to all students in Political Science who are in their second or third year. Students in other departments may take these courses with the permission of the Political Science Department.

66 BSc Honours in Psychology

Year I

6 PSYC C310[3], C315[3] concurrently

6 PSYC C311[3], C316[3] concurrently
Years I and II
6 PSYC C320[6]
12 Chosen from PSYC C357[6], C360[6], C363[6], C366[6], C369[3], C381[3], C384[3]
Years II and III
6 Chosen from PSYC C345[6], C348[6], C351[6]
6 Chosen from PSYC C330[6], C333[6], C336[6], C339[6], C342[6]
12 Psychology electives at '300' or '400' level selected in consultation with a psychology programme adviser
Year III
6 PSYC C420[6]
6 PSYC C430[6]
NOTE: In addition students must take a minimum of 15 science credits outside the department selected in consultation with the Psychology programme adviser.

Psychobiology Option
Students wishing to do BSc Honours (Psychobiology Option) must take PSYC C357 or C360 as part of their Psychology programme.
To complete the option students will select 21 credits in Chemistry and Biology from the courses listed below. Fifteen of these credits will replace the 15 outside credits of science electives and up to 6 of these credits may be substituted for 6 credits of Psychology electives.
Year I
6 CHEM C221[3] and C222[3]
3 BIOL C230[3]
Year II
6 CHEM C372[3], C373[3] or BIOL C333[6]
6 Chosen from BIOL C260[3], C321[3], C335[3], C336[3], C363[3], C364[3], C365[3], C462[3], CHEM C475[3], C476[3]

60 BA Specialization in Psychology
Year I
6 PSYC C310[3], C311[3]

6 Department-approved Psychology electives at '300' or '400' level

NOTE: Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may take for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration any 300- or 400-level course in Psychology except PSYC C320, C390-394.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

PSYCHOLOGY C200
Introductory Psychology (6 credits)

This comprehensive survey course will introduce the student to the phenomena and terminology encountered in a number of areas of scientific psychology. Topics covered include basic mechanisms of the receptors and nervous system, memory, motivation, perception, learning, abnormal psychology, personality, cognition, and social aspects of behaviour.

NOTE 1: Students who have credit for or exemption from Introductory Psychology at CEGEP or elsewhere may not take this course for credit.

NOTE 2: Students who have credit for PSYC C200 or equivalent may not take MANA C213 for credit.

SELECTED TOPICS IN PSYCHOLOGY

The following 3-credit courses, numbered at the '200' level, are designed as elective courses for students who are not registered in a psychology programme. These courses which have only Introductory Psychology as a prerequisite cover a wide variety of areas of contemporary interest and importance. The particular topic covered will vary from session to session and from campus to campus. The material will be dealt with in a manner appropriate to students who have little or no formal background in psychology. Students registered in a psychology programme will not normally take these courses for credit. It is not possible to offer topics in all the subject areas each session. Students should see the Psychology Department Course Guide (published yearly) to ascertain which topics are available in each session.

PSYCHOLOGY C220
Selected Topics in Developmental Psychology A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C221
Selected Topics in Developmental Psychology B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C222
Selected Topics in Social Psychology A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C223
Selected Topics in Social Psychology B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C224
Selected Topics in Individual Differences A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C225
Selected Topics in Individual Differences B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C226
Selected Topics in Personality A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C227
Selected Topics in Personality B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C228
Selected Topics in the Application of Psychology A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C229
Selected Topics in the Application of Psychology B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C230
Selected Topics in Learning and Motivation A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C231
Selected Topics in Learning and Motivation B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C232
Selected Topics in Sensory and Perceptual Processes A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C233
Selected Topics in Sensory and Perceptual Processes B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C234
Selected Topics in Cognitive Processes A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C235
Selected Topics in Cognitive Processes B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C236
Selected Topics in Physiological Psychology A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C237
Selected Topics in Physiological Psychology B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C280
Adolescence (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Introductory Psychology or equivalent. This course will deal with various aspects of adolescence including such topics as physical change, sexual and sex-related behaviours, cognitive growth and lifestyles.

NOTE: This course is intended for students not enrolled in psychology programmes. Students who have credit for PSYC C379 or C391 may not take this course for credits.

PSYCHOLOGY C281
Learning Disabilities (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Introductory Psychology or equivalent. This course will deal with selected aspects of theory and practice related to learning disabilities including perceptual and motor disabilities, language disabilities and methods of diagnosis and remediation.

NOTE: This course is intended for students not enrolled in psychology programmes. Students who have credit for PSYC C377 or C392 may not take this course for credits.

PSYCHOLOGY C283
Emotional Development (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Introductory Psychology or equivalent. This course focuses on emotional development in childhood. Topics that may be considered include prenatal and genetic influences on emotion, attachment formation, effects of alternative child care, role of father and poverty. The normal development of anxiety, fear and affection will be discussed.

NOTE: This course is intended primarily for students in the Family Life Education Certificate programme (Department of Applied Social Science).

NOTE: Students who have credit for PSYC C220, Sec. A or B (1980-81); Sec. B (1981-82); or Sec. A (1982-83) may not take this course for credits.

PSYCHOLOGY C284
Socialization (3 credits).

Prerequisite: Introductory Psychology or equivalent. This course examines socialization processes during infancy, childhood and adolescence. The effects on socialization of factors such as family structure, disciplinary techniques and social class will be considered. The development of social skills, morality, prosocial behaviour and agression will be examined.

NOTE: This course is intended primarily for students in the Family Life Education Certificate programme (Department of Applied Social Science.)

NOTE: Students who have credit for PSYC C221, Sec. B or C (1980-81); Sec. A (1981-82); or Sec. A (1982-83) may not take this course for credits.

PSYCHOLOGY C286
Psychology of Leisure (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Introductory Psychology or equivalent. This course explores the rapidly developing psychologically oriented theory and research on leisure and its meaning and importance for the individual. Topics that may be considered include motivation for leisure activities, planning for leisure and/or retirement, therapeutic value of leisure, new conceptions of work and leisure, leisure and self-development.

NOTE: Students who have credit for PSYC C222, Sec. 60 (1981), Sec. 02 (1981-82) or for Sec. 51 (1982-83), or for PSYC C223, Sec. 60 (1982) may not take this course for credits.

PSYCHOLOGY C310
Research Methods in Experimental Psychology I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Introductory Psychology or equivalent; PSYC C315 to be taken concurrently. An examination of the experimental method in psychology. Students will complete experimental projects to acquaint themselves with procedures in various areas of psychology, such as perception, learning, and motivation. Statistical procedures for analysis of the results of the experiments will be presented in the concurrently taught course in psychological statistics. Lectures and laboratory.

PSYCHOLOGY C311
Research Methods in Experimental Psychology II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. This course will build on the experience gained in PSYC C310 and C315. It will be devoted to a critical examination of more complex designs used in psychology. Students will be required to conduct and evaluate experiments. An opportunity will be provided for them to undertake a supervised research project.

PSYCHOLOGY C312
Field Research Methodology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. This course will deal with techniques for studying complex behaviour in non-laboratory settings. Topics such as the neutrality or invisibility of the observers, participant observation, categorization, and recording problems may be studied. The relationship between laboratory findings and findings from the non-laboratory setting will be considered.

PSYCHOLOGY C315
Statistical Analysis in Experimental Psychology I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Three approved credits in Mathematics at CEGEP or university; PSYC C310 to be taken concurrently. This course is an introduction to statistics, presented in an experimental psychology context. Topics dealt with include frequency distributions, measures of central tendency and dispersion, the normal curve, correlation, elementary probability theory, an introduction to hypothesis testing, and the t test. These topics are coordinated with the laboratory projects in Research Methods I which must be taken concurrently. NOTE See §200.7

PSYCHOLOGY C316
Statistical Analysis in Experimental Psychology II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. This course builds on the experience derived from PSYC C310 and C315 to advance the student's understanding of hypothesis testing and statistical inferences. The material dealt with will include non-parametric statistics, the chi-square and F-distribution, introductory analysis of variance, and various correlational techniques. NOTE See §200.7

PSYCHOLOGY C317
Introductory Statistical Methods in Psychology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Any two CEGEP courses in Mathematics. Topics dealt with include frequency distributions, measures of central tendency and dispersion, correlation and regression, elementary probability theory, the binomial and normal distributions, sampling and statistical inference, simple analysis of variance, miscellaneous non-parametric techniques. Lectures and laboratory. Only 6 credits will be recognized from PSYC C315, C316, or C317. NOTE See §200.7

PSYCHOLOGY C318
Advanced Statistical Methods in Psychology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C315; PSYC C316, or PSYC C317 or equivalent. The course is intended for students who already possess some background in statistics. Knowledge of elementary descriptive and inferential statistics will be assumed. The course will cover topics such as advanced analysis of variance designs, introductory multivariate analysis, advanced topics in correlation, and regression.

PSYCHOLOGY C320
Modern Psychology in Historical Perspective (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Introductory Psychology or equivalent. The course deals with the historical background of psychology from ancient and medieval times up to the present. Early contributions to psychology from the fields of philosophy, physics, physiology, and psychophysics are presented and related to the various schools of psychological thought from the late nineteenth century to the modern era.

PSYCHOLOGY C330
Developmental Psychology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. Basic findings and contemporary issues concerned with human cognition, social and emotional development are considered. The course deals with a variety of topics such as the behavioural organization and competence of the new-born, relationships in the pre-school period, effects of different early environments, Piaget's theory of cognitive development.

PSYCHOLOGY C333
Social Psychology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. The behaviour of the individual as a member of a larger grouping or society will be dealt with. The study of the social influences on individuals or groups will involve consideration of topics such as attitude change and development, intragroup communication and problem solving, leadership, prejudice, development of social movements, and cults.

PSYCHOLOGY C336
Personality: Normal and Abnormal (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. The organization, functioning, and development of personality will be discussed according to major theories of personality. Evidence from experimental studies and field findings are discussed. Socio-economic, cultural, and biological system factors may also be considered.

PSYCHOLOGY C339
Behaviour Disorders (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. The course will deal with contemporary research and theory related to the aetiology, diagnosis, and treatment of various psychological disorders. Psychoneuroses, psychoses, and psychosomatic conditions will be studied. Social, learning, and biological influences on the development of such disorders as schizophrenia, depression, anxiety neuroses, and phobias will be discussed.

PSYCHOLOGY C342
Motivation (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. Contemporary theory and empirical research concerned with factors related to the initiation and maintenance of goal-directed behaviour will be reviewed and evaluated. Research findings from human and sub-human studies in such areas as hunger, sleep, sex, agression, cooperation, and competition may be presented and evaluated.

PSYCHOLOGY C345
Learning (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. Current theories and research findings concerning the basic mechanisms of learning are considered. The current status of the Pavlovian and instrumental conditioning paradigms will be reviewed from behavioural and cognitive viewpoints. Topics such as the mechanisms of reinforcement, cognitive versus associative theories of conditioning, memory, and control of autonomic nervous system responses will be dealt with.

PSYCHOLOGY C348
Sensory and Perceptual Processes (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. Physiological and psychological bases of sensory and perceptual phenomena will be discussed. Topics such as pitch perception, colour vision, perception of movement, size, and distance are included. The areas of sensation and perception are integrated through a human information-processing approach to the understanding of auditory and visual phenomena.

PSYCHOLOGY C351
Cognitive Processes (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. The course will involve a study of the processes involved in thought and language. Possible topics for discussion are: cognitive development, psycholinguistics, pattern recognition, organization and memory, attention, problem solving and concept formation, and creativity.

PSYCHOLOGY C354
Mathematical Theories of Behaviour (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. The course will survey applications of mathematical techniques to problems of psychology in such areas as motivation, learning, decision making, sensory psychophysics, and perception. Students enrolling in this course should have a mastery of elementary probability theory and should be confident of their ability to deal with elementary calculus, algebra, and logic.

PSYCHOLOGY C357
Physiological Psychology (6 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315, or 9 credits in CEGEP-level Chemistry and Biology courses or permission of the Department. This course deals with current theory and research concerning the neural and humoral bases of behaviour. The biological bases of behaviour will be clarified through study of such topics as the function of nerve cells and circuits, brain-hormone interactions, physiological mechanisms of sensation, perception, memory, and coordinated movement.

PSYCHOLOGY C360
Brain Chemistry and Behaviour (6 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315, or 9 credits in CEGEP-level Chemistry and Biology courses or permission of the Department. Neural systems will be classified in terms of their different chemical transmitter substances. The mechanisms of hunger, thirst, pain, reward, drug abuse, and the neurochemical basis of disorders such as schizophrenia, depression, and Huntingdon's Chorea may be discussed. Methods for the identification and selective stimulation and destruction of the various systems are included.

PSYCHOLOGY C361
Psychology of Drug Dependence
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315, or 6 credits from among PSYC C357, PSYC C360 or PSYC C363, or permission of the Department. This course will focus on the behavioural and pharmacological mechanisms underlying the phenomenon of drug dependence. Concepts such as physical and psychological dependence, tolerance, reinforcement and aversion will be discussed. In addition the role of these concepts in the development of new treatment procedures will be assessed.

PSYCHOLOGY C363
Neuroanatomical Bases of Behaviour
(6 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315, or 9 credits in CEGEP-level Chemistry and Biology courses or permission of the Department. Major emphasis is given towards gaining a knowledge of the structural anatomy and functions of the human central nervous system. Neurological mechanisms subserving human motives, emotions, language, visual-spatial perceptions, etc., will be examined. Research related to both animal and human neuropathology will be considered.

PSYCHOLOGY C364
Introduction to Behavioural Medicine
(6 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315 or 6 credits from among PSYC C357, C360 or C363. This course surveys some of the areas dealt with by psychologists who conduct research or provide clinical services relating to physical health. The structure of the course reflects the growing recognition that psychological factors can be of major importance for both the development and eventual treatment of physical disorders. The course will introduce students to the history and basic concepts of the field and will cover psychological aspects of the etiology and treatment of such problems as pain and headache, substance abuse, anxiety and stress, cardiovascular disorders, sexual dysfunction. In discussing treatment emphasis will be placed on psychologically-based procedures, though somatic interventions (e.g. medication, diet and surgery) will also be reviewed at a level appropriate to the non-medical nature of the course.

PSYCHOLOGY C366
Animal Behaviour (6 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315, or 9 credits in CEGEP-level Chemistry and Biology courses or permission of the Department. The study of animal behaviour will be approached from the point of view of sociobiology, ethology, and comparative psychology. Research findings from the experimental laboratory and from studies of animals in their natural environment will be discussed. A study of genetic and evolutionary aspects of behaviour is intrinsic to the course.

PSYCHOLOGY C369
Hormones and Behaviour (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. The course deals with the role of hormones in integrating the activity of various neural, endocrine, and sensory systems to bring about organized, purposeful behaviour. Topics discussed include the reproductive, sexual, or environmentally adaptive systems, with treatment of material ranging from the molecular to the behavioural level.

PSYCHOLOGY C372
Psychology of Physical Activity (6 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315 or permission of the Department. The relationship between physical and psychological well-being is systematically explored. Topics that may be dealt with include philosophical roots of the mind - body problem, the structural and metabolic basis of both emotional expression and physical activity, the role of aerobic fitness level in altering emotional reaction patterns.

PSYCHOLOGY C375
Industrial and Organizational Psychology
(6 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. A systematic examination of current research and theory about human behaviour as it occurs in the context of work organizations. Possible topics are: motivation to work, communication in organizations, career development, and systems approach to conceptualizing the social psychology of organizations.

PSYCHOLOGY C377
Abnormal Development (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315; 6 credits from among PSYC C330, PSYC C336, PSYC C339 previously or concurrently, or permission of the Department. This course will cover major theoretical and applied issues in abnormal child development. Topics covered may include gender and sex-role-related problems, anxiety and fear-related problems, conduct disorders and delinquency, childhood anorexia and obesity, hyperactivity and attentional disorders, learning and school-related problems, mental retardation, and childhood psychosis.

PSYCHOLOGY C378
Learning in the Classroom (6 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. A systematic examination of psychological principles and research reports that contribute to an understanding of learning in the school.

PSYCHOLOGY C379
Adolescent Development (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315; 6 credits from among PSYC C330, PSYC C336, PSYC C342 or PSYC C351 previously or concurrently. This course examines the physical, cognitive and motivational changes in puberty and early adolescence, their underlying mechanisms, interrelations and behavioural effects. Topics that may be covered include effects of early and late pubertal onset, parent and peer relations, sex differences and sex roles, and identity issues.

PSYCHOLOGY C380
Psychology of Aging (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315; 6 credits from among PSYC C330, PSYC C333, PSYC C336, PSYC C342 or PSYC C351 previously or concurrently. This course examines psychological development during the later phases of life. The material covered includes methodological issues in the study of aging as well as research findings in such areas as adjustment and well-being, coping styles and stress, age-related changes in memory and learning, the impact of social and family variables on aging, and health and medical issues related to the elderly.

PSYCHOLOGY C381
Scaling (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. The theoretical basis and application of scaling methods in psychophysics and social psychology will be studied. Quantitative scales for the measurement of attitudes and sensations will be derived and constructed. Other topics that may be covered include subjective estimate methods, the law of comparative judgement, unfolding techniques, and signal detection theory.

PSYCHOLOGY C384
Measurement (3 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315. A consideration of the general theory of psychological measurement and its application in the development and use of various psychometric instruments such as achievement, intelligence, aptitude, personality, and interest tests. Derived scores, norms, reliability, and validity of these instruments will be discussed in the context of general measurement problems in psychology.

PSYCHOLOGY C390
Sexual Differentiation (6 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315, or Introductory Psychology and second-year standing in any degree programme in Arts and Science or enrolment in the Family Life Education Certificate, or permission of the Department. The genetic, hormonal, and social influences shaping the behaviour of men and women from embryonic life through adulthood are examined. Topics discussed include gender identity, sexuality, aggression, and cognitive abilities. The course, primarily approached from the point of view of women, includes an exploration of some of the myths surrounding the differences between men and women.

PSYCHOLOGY C393
Psychology of Language and Communication (6 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315, or a minimum of three credits from among TESL C211, LING C200, FRAN C381 or COMS C240 or permission of the Department. The course deals with the cognitive, developmental, and social aspects of language and human communication. Topics discussed may include psychological consideration of modern linguistic theories, child language development, second-language development in chidren and adults, speech perception, biological basis of language, social psychological aspects of human communication.

PSYCHOLOGY C394
Community Psychology (6 credits)
Prerequisite: PSYC C310; PSYC C315; or Introductory Psychology and second-year standing in any degree programme in Arts and Science, or permission of the Department. The course will relate psychology to the day-to-day problems of man in society. The contributions of psychology to community leadership in the study of personal, social, cultural, and ecological arrangements will be considered as they relate to such institutions as the family, school, prisons, health and welfare, and political structures.

SELECTED PROBLEMS IN PSYCHOLOGY
The following 3-credit courses are designed for students enrolled in a Psychology programme. The particular topics covered will vary from session to session and campus to campus. The material will be dealt with in a manner that assumes a background in experimental psychology and, in some cases, specific preparation through a prior completion of a related course. Only some of the problem areas will be available in a given session. Students should see the Psychology Department Course Guide (published yearly) for details concerning these courses.

PSYCHOLOGY C331
Selected Problems in Developmental Psychology A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C332
Selected Problems in Developmental Psychology B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C334
Selected Problems in Social Psychology A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C335
Selected Problems in Social Psychology B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C337
Selected Problems in Personality A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C338
Selected Problems in Personality B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C343
Selected Problems in Learning and Motivation A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C344
Selected Problems in Learning and Motivation B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C349
Selected Problems in Sensory and Perceptual Processes A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C350
Selected Problems in Sensory and Perceptual Processes B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C352
Selected Problems in Cognitive Processes A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C353
Selected Problems in Cognitive Processes B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C358
Selected Problems in Physiological Psychology A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C359
Selected Problems in Physiological Psychology B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C373
Selected Problems in the Application of Psychology A (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C374
Selected Problems in the Application of Psychology B (3 credits)

PSYCHOLOGY C400
Advanced Experimental Psychology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310, PSYC C311, PSYC C315, PSYC C316 or equivalent, and permission of the Department. The course provides experience in the design, conduct, analysis, and reporting of independent research in the major areas of psychology. The research will be undertaken under the supervision of a Faculty member.

PSYCHOLOGY C410
Supervised Practicum in Psychology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310, PSYC C311, PSYC C315, and/or permission of the Department. A limited number of opportunities for gaining advanced practical experience in various institutional or field-work settings will be available. The student activities will be closely supervised by a qualified Faculty member.

PSYCHOLOGY C420
Honours Seminar (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Open to final-year Honours students. The seminar will deal, in depth, with the research and theory relevant to selected contemporary issues in psychology.

PSYCHOLOGY C430
Honours Thesis (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Open to final-year Honours students. This course will require the student to propose and conduct a study and submit a thesis written according to the APA format. The work will be supervised by a Thesis chairman selected by the student from within the Department.

PSYCHOLOGY C437
Directed Research in Psychology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PSYC C310, PSYC C311, PSYC C315, PSYC C316 or equivalent, and permission of the Department. Under the supervision of a Faculty member, the student will carry out an independent research project and report it in writing. The area of study must be decided upon through consultation with the Faculty member.

PSYCHOLOGY C438
Directed Readings in Psychology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Acceptance by a supervisor and confirmation by the Department. This course is designed for the advanced student wishing to do independent, individually supervised literature research on a specific topic in psychology. This research will culminate in a written paper. Students should have a well-defined topic in mind before registering for this course.

31.260 Recreation and Leisure Studies

Director
R. SWEDBURG, Associate Professor

D. SANDERSON, Lecturer

Recreation and leisure service meets a basic social and cultural need, and is concerned with the interrelationships among people in their environment. A great deal of money is poured into recreation and leisure at all governmental levels, leading to a pressing need for people to administer and develop programmes at the necessary standards of sophistication.

This programme attempts to fulfill this need and is offered to those students interested in a career in recreation and leisure services together with those students who foresee the increasing academic enquiry into the problems derived from recreation and leisure within the work ethic.

The primary focus is on managing, programming, counselling, and coordinating rather than instructing. The programme draws from the departments of Applied Social Science, Exercise Science, Geography, History, Philosophy, Psychology, Sociology and the Faculties of Commerce and Administration, and Fine Arts.

Requirements:

Both required and elected courses within the Social Science and Applied Recreation options should be chosen in consultation with the Director.

Additionally it will be required that students must maintain an overall average of 65% (1) to continue into the second and third years of their studies and (2) to graduate.

Students registered in the programme who are not fluent in French are strongly advised to use some of their elective credits in pursuit of French-language competence.

Upon completion of all requirements the student will receive a BA with Specialization in Recreation and Leisure Studies.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES C241
Recreation and Leisure in Contemporary Society (3 credits)

The course provides a basis for understanding recreation and leisure as increasingly important aspects of our culture. In an era of rapidly changing life styles, with a high incidence of anxiety and frustration, the value of worthy use of free time in maintaining mental and physical health is presented. Topics discussed include: motivations for participation in leisure and recreation; social, psychological and historical foundations of leisure; education for leisure; and the analysis of special problems. Lectures and seminars: 3 hours per week.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES C250
Principles of Leisure Services (6 credits)

The course is concerned with the fundamental concepts governing the field of recreation and leisure. Many aspects of programme planning and development are examined, including: planning models and principles, classification, evaluation, leadership; analyses of programme models in social, cultural, physical, intellectual and adventure recreation, as they relate to the provision of services. Lectures and field study.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES C340
Industrial Recreation (3 credits)

Examination of the origins and development of recreation related to the place of employment. Critical analysis of the research literature in the areas of: work/leisure relationships; cost/benefits; government intervention; programme design and family involvement.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES C350
Leisure Education (3 credits)

An introduction to the field of leisure education. The history and underlying philosophy of the concept is presented. The roles of the school, community and community-serving agencies are examined. Existing models are analyzed and discussed.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES C393
Therapeutic Recreation (3 credits)

An examination of the basic concepts of recreational therapy in a clinical or other therapeutic setting. Recreation as a therapeutic mode is studied in relation to physical, occupational, cultural (music, art), and correctional therapies.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES 398
Selected Topics in Leisure Studies
(3 credits)

The topics selected will vary from year to year.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES C426
Administration of Leisure Services
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the final year of a Recreation and Leisure Studies programme. Analysis of the processes involved in planning and managing leisure service delivery systems. Topics to be studied include: principles of planning, organization, zero-based budgeting, financial control, supervision. The course exposes the students, through field study, to a variety of management procedures currently used in the field. Lectures and Field Study.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES C431
Leisure Studies Seminar (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the final year of a Recreation and Leisure Studies programme. This is a third-year interdisciplinary seminar in which students can tie together all they have learned in the Leisure Studies Programme. Additionally, students will be set on a course of study that should continue after they graduate so that they can keep up with future developments in this area. Lectures: 3 hours per week or equivalent time in independent study.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C430/LEIS C430 may not take this course for credits.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES C450
Leisure Counselling (3 credits)

The application of counselling theory to the field of leisure services is considered in this course. The aims, methods, concepts and assessment tools are the focus of study.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES C464

Leisure Studies Internship (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the final year of a Recreation and Leisure Studies programme. In consultation with their mentors, students are given the opportunity to study theoretical and practical problems confronting professionals in the field of Recreation. The course offers a supervised period of work with a selected organization. Each student, during seminar sessions, formulates a study proposal. The practicum commences when the proposal has been approved. The course involves a minimum of a six-week 240-hour period.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES C490

Independent Study I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Programme Director. Students will work on topics in consultation with a study supervisor. The study may include readings, field studies, and/or research.

This course will identify and analyze ethical issues arising from social groups today. In discussing the issues, account will be taken of the bearing of religious institutions and traditions upon social attitudes and problems. Topics will vary from year to year, but examples of problem areas that have evoked ethical and religious debate are: economic and social inequality, race relations, violence and war, hunger and poverty, population growth.

RELIGION C333
Women and Religion I (3 credits)
An examination of the roles and images of women in the history of religions. Topics might include: the development of patriarchal religion, religion and sexuality, women and myth, the roles of women in different religious communities. This course will include an integrated sequence of lectures (minimum, three weeks) by an anthropologist on matriarchal and patriarchal societies.

RELIGION C334
Women and Religion II (3 credits)

An examination of the religious and ethical questions raised by contemporary discussions of women's experience. Topics might include: the recent beginnings of a feminist theology, the feminist critique of organized religion and society, the effects of male perspective upon philosophy and theology, and women in the ministry.

RELIGION C335
Sexuality in the History of Religions (6 credits)

A study of religious attitudes towards human sexuality using materials drawn from a variety of religious traditions, with special attention to such topics as: incest taboos, adultery, celibacy, ritualized sexual acts, and patterns of marriage.

RELIGION C341
Religion and Literature (6 credits)

This course deals with the questions raised for the study of religion by works of literature. An account will be given of the recent development of interdisciplinary studies in religion and literature, and of the problems of method that have arisen. The relation between the interpretation of religious language, with its use of myth, parable, symbol and metaphor, and literary criticism will be explored. The religious implications, direct and indirect, of selected literary works will be discussed.

RELIGION C342
Religion and Science (6 credits)

An historical investigation of the reasons for the conflict between religion and science in Western culture, and an examination of the chief issues involving both science and religion still under discussion today.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for RELI C443 may not take this course for credits.

This course will examine the theological ramifications of the Holocaust in Jewish and Christian thought. Issues to be discussed include the problem of evil; suffering; the election of Israel; God and His relation to the course of human events.

RELIGION C361
Studies in the History of Christian Thought
(6 credits)

An introduction to the classics of Christian thought from the Fathers to the modern period. Authors studied at length may vary from year to year, but, in any case, students will acquire a basic knowledge of Augustine, Aquinas, Luther, and Calvin.

RELIGION C362
Questions from the Christian Tradition
(6 credits)

A study of some of the major religious questions and controversies in the history of the Christian West. The questions chosen will vary, but examples are: grace and free will, faith and reason, history and eschatology, church and state, contemplation and action.

RELIGION C363
Religion in Canada (6 credits)

The historical development of the major religious traditions in Canada, their influence on the social, political, and cultural areas of Canadian life and their contemporary significance. Attention will also focus on the interaction of Catholic, Protestant, Jewish, Indian, and Eskimo groups.

RELIGION C370
Death and Dying (6 credits)

A comparative examination of conceptions of death and dying among the major religious traditions. Attention will be paid as well to exploring contemporary notions of death and dying both in so far as we are still informed by traditional conceptions, and to the extent that, for many, such notions have lost their cogency.

RELIGION C371
Religion and Healing (3 credits)

An examination of the interaction between religious conceptions and practices on the one hand and healing arts on the other. The course considers such phenomena as: shamanism; healing and Christian shrines; native healing rites, folk medicine of the third world; modern spiritual healing groups; the contemporary dialogue between established forms of medicine, psychiatry and religion in the twentieth century.

RELIGION C372
The Human Body in Religious Faith and Practice (3 credits)

A study of 1) the attitudes to the human body in various religious traditions; 2) the impact of the body-mind problem upon religious conceptions of human life and destiny; 3) the body as the foundation of religious symbolism and ritual.

RELIGION C373
Comparative Mysticism (3 credits)

This course will introduce students to the study of mysticism and mystical experience using materials drawn from a wide range of cultural and religious sources and examining the work of such contemporary theorists as William James, Rudolph Otto, W.T. Stace, R.C. Zaehner and Robert Ellwood.

RELIGION C374
Islamic Mysticism (3 credits)

Prerequisite: RELI C313 or permission of the Department. A study of the major themes of Islamic mystical thought as expressed in philosophical writings and in poetry.

RELIGION C376
Religion, Myth and Magic in Classical Antiquity (3 credits)

An examination of the interaction and significance of religion, myth and magic in classical antiquity, in the East and the West, as discernible in such cultures as: Ancient Egypt, Babylon, India, China, Israel, Greece and Rome through the beginnings of the Christian era and the Medieval period.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for RELI C364 may not take this course for credits.

RELIGION C377
Religion and Occult Ideas in Modern History (3 credits)

An examination of the basic ideas and cultural impact of occult traditions in the modern period from the so-called "Rosicrucian Enlightenment" in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, as described by Frances Yates, to the nineteenth- and twentieth-century resurgence of occult themes in what Robert Ellwood has called "an alternative reality tradition in the West."

NOTE: Students who have received credit for RELI C364 may not take this course for credits.

RELIGION C378
Religion and the History of Psychical Research (3 credits)

A review of the history of psychical research (including discoveries, claims, limitations and problems) from the foundation of the British and American Societies for Psychical Research in the nineteenth century through the establishment of contemporary "experimental parapsychology" in the West and behind the Iron Curtain. An evaluation of the possible significance of this material for comparative studies in the philosophies of religion and science.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for RELI C465 may not take this course for credits.

RELIGION C379
Religion and Contemporary Psychic Experience (3 credits)

An examination of the contemporary varieties of psychic experience being claimed by persons in the modern world and reported in popular literature, sociological surveys and medical or psychological literature. This material will be critically evaluated in the light of the theories of C.G. Jung, William James and others.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for RELI C465 may not take this course for credits.

RELIGION C380
Comparative Religious Ethics: West and East (6 credits)

This course will identify the ways in which different religious and ideological traditions from West and East consider and deal with ethical issues. Examples of such traditions are: Navaho, Jewish, Christian, Islamic, Hindu, Buddhist, Confucian, Humanist, Communist. The ethical values and ideals found in these traditions, and their influence upon individual life patterns and social organization, will be considered.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for RELI C435 may not take this course for credits.

RELIGION C387
Special Topics in the Philosophy of Religion (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course affords an opportunity for the advanced student to study a special theme or problem in the Philosophy of Religion.

RELIGION C389
Special Topics in Comparative Religious Ethics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course affords an opportunity for the advanced student to study a special theme or problem in Religious Ethics.

RELIGION C391
Special Topics in the History of Religions (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course affords an opportunity for the advanced student to study a special theme or problem in the History of Religions.

RELIGION C393
Special Topics in Religion and Culture (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course affords an opportunity for the advanced student to study a special theme or problem in Religion and Culture.

RELIGION C395
Special Topics in Biblical Studies (3 credits)

This course will examine a selected book or theme of the Hebrew Bible with a discussion of current research. The course will focus on critical methodology and its application.

RELIGION C396
Special Topics in Ancient Judaism (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course will examine a selected issue or area of concern in Ancient Judaism with a discussion of current research. Possible Topics might be: the Dead Sea Scrolls, the Formation of the Mishna, Alexandrian Jewry.

RELIGION C397
Special Topics in Medieval Judaism (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course will examine a selected issue or area of concern in medieval Judaism. Possible topics might include: Hasidism, Codification of Halakha, messianic thought and movements.

RELIGION C398
Special Topics in Modern Judaism (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course will examine a selected issue or area of concern in modern Judaism. Possible topics might include: the rise of Reform Judaism, the encounter between Judaism and modern Philosophy, Zionist thought.

RELIGION C400
Honours Seminar in Judaic Studies (6 credits)

This course is open only to Honours students in Judaic Studies. The student will work with an individual faculty member in a particular area of Judaic Studies. The student will be asked to produce a sustained piece of written work to be read by his/her adviser and at least one other member of the Department.

RELIGION C401
Advanced Studies in Classical Jewish Texts (3 credits)

This course will be based on representative readings from Biblical, post-Biblical, and medieval Hebrew literature. It will concentrate on specific topics and will pay attention to the historical and philosophical background of the texts.

RELIGION C491
Special Seminar (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Subject matter will vary from year to year to take advantage of the special interests of the seminar leader. This course will provide opportunities to senior students for discussion and advanced study.

RELIGION C493
Religious Institutions (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Seminar on a particular period or institution in the history of religion.

RELIGION C495
Religious Thinkers (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. Seminar on a particular thinker or school of thought in the history of religion.

RELIGION C499
Honours Seminar in Religion (6 credits)
This course is open only to Honours students in Religion. The student will work with an individual faculty member in a particular field of Religious Studies. The student will be asked to produce a sustained piece of written work to be read by his/her adviser and at least one other member of the Department.

31.280 Russian Studies

Coordinator
I. SMITH, Associate Professor

The Russian Studies Programmes prepare students for professional and academic careers in the Civil Service, Trade and Commerce, External Affairs, and other areas of relationship between Canada and the Soviet Union. A wide variety of courses in Russian language, politics, economics, history, philosophy and geography is taught by specialists who work closely with students in designing programmes which best fit their needs.

PROGRAMMES

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.

The superscript indicates credit value.

Students should consult with the Programme Coordinator prior to registering for Russian Studies courses. Written work may be required in Russian for these courses.

60 BA Honours in Russian Studies

6 Chosen from ECON C370[6], C375[3], C476[3]*
18 RUSS C210[6], C250[6], C300[6]

31.290 Science/Mathematics for Teachers

CERTIFICATE IN THE TEACHING OF SCIENCE (Elementary School Level)

Programme Director
R.H. PALLEN, Associate Professor

The Faculty of Arts and Science offers a Certificate in the Teaching of Science (Elementary School Level) for the professional development of teachers interested in science. Practising teachers are offered the opportunity to improve their knowledge of science in order to help them teach modern science more effectively. The presentation will generally be in workshop form, with emphasis on assignments that develop activities for classroom use. Courses will be offered on and off campus during the Winter and Summer months, subject to gufficient demand and the availability of suitable instructors.

Admission Requirements

Admission to this programme is open to teachers who already hold either a General Elementary Licence or an Elementary Special Education Licence. Under certain conditions individuals certified to teach at the Secondary level may be admitted into this programme depending on their educational background and teaching experience.

PROGRAMME

30 Certificate in the Teaching of Science (Elementary School Level)

30 SCIE C315[6], C316[6], C317[6], C318[6], C319[6]

NOTE: Where students have completed similar courses in previous studies, pro tanto credits may be approved up to a maximum of 12 credits. In some cases, students with fewer than 12 pro tanto credits may, with approval of the Faculty of Arts and Science obtained upon the recommendation of the programme director, be permitted to take courses in related areas for credit towards the certificate. However, at least 18 of the credits must be taken within the programme.

Science courses in this programme have been renumbered.

SCIENCE C315
Philosophy and Methodology of Teaching Science, Elementary Level (6 credits)

A study of the role, impact, and responsibility of science at the elementary school level, a study of science programme design, teaching processes, and classroom activities at the elementary level.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for SCIE C314 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE C316
Matter and Energy (6 credits)

Prerequisite: SCIE C315. States and properties of matter, change of state, force, common machines, mass, volume, expansion, gravitation, heat, light, sound, electricity, magnetism, other sources of energy, conservation of energy.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for SCIE C310 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE C317
Man and his Environment (6 credits)

Prerequisite: SCIE C315. Temperature, soil, water, air, atmosphere, reproduction, heredity, erosion, weather, nitrogen cycles, pollution, ecology and ecosystems.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for SCIE C311 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE C318
Our Earth and the Universe (6 credits)

Prerequisite: SCIE C315. Time cycles, volume,density, constitution, and properties of the solar system, gravity, seasons, water, and carbon cycles.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for SCIE C312 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE C319
Living Things and Their Activities (6 credits)

Prerequisite: SCIE C315. The cellular structure of living things, food chains, plants, animals, germination, growth, soil, water, respiration, nutrition, life cycles. Classification into families, communities, and populations.

NOTE: This course is available only to practising teachers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for SCIE C313 may not take this course for credits.

CERTIFICATE IN MATHEMATICS FOR TEACHERS (Elementary School Level)

Programme Director
M.A. BOSWALL, Associate Professor

Admission Requirements

Admission to this programme is open to teachers who already hold either a General Elementary Licence or an Elementary Special Education Licence. Under certain conditions individuals certified to teach at the Secondary level may be admitted into this programme depending on their educational background and teaching experience.

The Department of Mathematics offers a Certificate in Mathematics for Teachers (Elementary School Level) for the professional development of teachers interested in mathematics. This programme was designed in accordance with the programme-cadre for Elementary Mathematics issued by the General Directorate of Elementary and Secondary Education and approved for "perfectionnement" by the Higher Education Branch of the Department of Education on February 15, 1974.

Practising teachers are offered the opportunity to improve their knowledge of mathematics in order to help them teach mathematics more effectively. The presentation will generally be in workshop form with emphasis on assignments which develop activities for classroom use. Courses will be offered on and off campus during the Winter and Summer months subject to demand and the availability of instructors.

30 Certificate in Mathematics for Teachers (Elementary School Level)

6 MATH C305[6]

24 Chosen from MATH C300[6], C301[6], C302[6], C303[6], C304[6], C307[3], C309[3]

NOTE: Where students have completed similar courses in previous studies, pro tanto credits may be approved up to a maximum of 12 credits. In some cases, students with fewer than 12 pro tanto credits may, with approval of the Faculty of Arts and Science obtained upon the recommendation of the programme director, be permitted to take courses in related areas for credit towards the certificate. However, at least 18 of the credits must be taken within the programme.

CERTIFICATE IN MATHEMATICS FOR TEACHERS (Junior Secondary School Level)

Programme Director
S.H. ERLWANGER, Associate Professor

Admission Requirements

Admission to this programme is open to teachers who already hold a teaching licence at the secondary level. This licence may be a generalist licence or a mathematics specialist licence.

The Department of Mathematics offers a Certificate in Mathematics for teachers who teach mathematics at the junior high school level. Some of the courses offered have been specially designed to deal with new subject matter which is being introduced into the secondary school curriculum, as well as with aspects of mathematical pedagogy necessary for the teaching of this material. This programme was approved for perfectionnement on February 14, 1974, by the Higher Education Branch of the Department of Education.

30 Certificate in Mathematics for Teachers (Junior Secondary School Level)

15 MATH C400[3], C401[6], C404[6]

15 Chosen from MATH C402[3], C403[3], C405[3], C406[3], C408[3], C409[3], C410[3], C411[3], C417[3], C419[3]

NOTE: In some cases where students have completed similar mathematical courses in previous studies, the Mathematics Department may modify a student's programmes to meet his professional requirements. It may grant pro tanto credits up to a maximum of 12 credits.

Course descriptions see §31.200.

31.300 Science and Human Affairs

Coordinator
F.H. KNELMAN, Professor

This programme is concerned with the social dimensions and interactions of science and technology. Its teaching and research provide an interdisciplinary examination of the ethical, cultural, political and environmental problems associated with scientific and technological change. Attention is also focused on analysis of the social systems of science from historical, sociological, economic and philosophical perspectives.

The programme is designed for students interested in science and technology, but who do not plan careers in scientific research or the technical professions. Rather it prepares them for constructive careers which involve a grasp of scientific methods, an understanding of scientific principles and an appreciation of the nature, content and implications of scientific research, technological innovation and industrial development. For students working toward degrees in science or engineering, the programme provides the opportunity to develop important additional perspectives and capabilities.

There are a number of streams or areas within the programme. In the History and Philosophy of Science, for example, students may concentrate so as to prepare themselves for graduate work. Another stream examines the social impact of science and technology by focusing on policy problems. Students may develop a variety of approaches for dealing with public policy in either the areas of science and technology or environment. These also are preparatory for existing graduate programmes.

PROGRAMMES

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.

The superscript indicates credit value.

Students should consult with the Programme Coordinator prior to registering for Science and Human Affairs courses.

60 BA Specialization in Science and Human Affairs

12 SCHA C250[3], C251[3], C253[3], C254[3]
6 Chosen from SCHA C350[6], C351[6], GEOG C200[6], C211[6]; or Science electives approved by the Coordinator
18 SCHA C450[6], C451[6], C453[6]
18 Chosen from SCHA C452[6], PHIL C226[3] and C228[3], C231[6], C421[6], RELI C342[6], SOCI C405[6], HIST C381[3], C382[3] or electives approved by the Coordinator
6 SCHA C454[6]

NOTE: Students may be required by their adviser to take an English writing course at an appropriate level.

42 BA Major in Science and Human Affairs

12 SCHA C250[3], C251[3], C253[3], C254[3]
6 Chosen from SCHA C350[6], C351[6]; GEOG C200[6], C211[6]; or Science electives approved by the Coordinator

6 SCHA C454[6]

30 Minor in Science and Human Affairs

12 SCHA C250[3], C251[3], C253[3], C254[3]
18 Chosen from SCHA C350[6], C351[6], C450[6], C451[6], C452[6], C453[6]

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

SCIENCE AND HUMAN AFFAIRS C250
Introduction to Science and Human Affairs I (3 credits)

The social and historical context of scientific and technological change. The reciprocal interactions of science with government, ideology, economic development, religion, literature and social theory; science and the city; science and the control of human life; science and human liberation; new definitions of scientific responsibility may be considered.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C250 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE AND HUMAN AFFAIRS C251
Introduction to Science and Human Affairs II (3 credits)

A continuation of SCHA C250. This course may be taken independently.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C251 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE AND HUMAN AFFAIRS C253
Environmental Issues I (3 credits)

The scientific, social and cultural nature of man's relationship to his environment. Emphasis will be placed on pollution, conservation, population resources and human ecology.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C253 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE AND HUMAN AFFAIRS C254
Environmental Issues II (3 credits)

A continuation of SCHA C253. This course may be taken independently.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C254 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE AND HUMAN AFFAIRS C350
Case Histories in Experimental Science (6 credits)

Readings will concentrate on the original scientific texts (e.g. Harvey, Galileo, Newton, Faraday, Pasteur, Crick and Watson). In the laboratory section, students will follow the original experimental procedures which will also be examined in classroom demonstrations on film and videotape.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C350 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE AND HUMAN AFFAIRS C351
Astronomy, Cosmology and the Space Age (6 credits)

The nature of the universe as interpreted by relevant scientific theories; cosmology and the shape, size and structure of the universe; possibility of intelligent life in the universe; social implications of space flight.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C351 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE AND HUMAN AFFAIRS C450
Advanced Study in Technology and Society (6 credits)

Prerequisite: SCHA C250; SCHA C251, or permission of the Coordinator. The social role and impact of technology in modern society; alienation in the technological age; the critique of technology; the sources and processes of discovery; invention and innovation; methods of technological assessment and forecasting.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C450 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE AND HUMAN AFFAIRS C451
Advanced Study in the History of Science (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Coordinator. Seminar in a selected topic in the History of Science. The emphasis will be on encouraging students to conduct historical investigation on their own under a professor's guidance. The specific content will vary from year to year depending on the instructor.

NOTE: With the permission of the Coordinator students may take this course twice for credits provided that a different subject is dealt with the second time and will register under SCHA C452.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C451 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE AND HUMAN AFFAIRS C452
Advanced Study in the History of Science (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Coordinator. Students who have received credit for SCHA C451 may register for SCHA C452 provided the subject matter is different.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C452 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE AND HUMAN AFFAIRS C453
Science and Public Policy (6 credits)

Prerequisite: SCHA C250; SCHA C251 or permission of the Coordinator. This course will deal with those public policy issues which involve a major component of science and technology, i.e., energy, environment, resources, health, etc. The course will also cover the general relationships of science and government relating to the making of science and technology policy particularly emphasizing the Canadian context, but including such topics as technology aid and transfer.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C453 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE AND HUMAN AFFAIRS C454
Seminar in Science and Human Affairs (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in Major or Specialization in Science and Human Affairs, or permission of the Coordinator. Taught by all members of staff, this seminar affords an opportunity for intensive examination of an explicitly interdisciplinary theme.

NOTE: With the permission of the Coordinator students may take this course twice for credits provided that a different subject is dealt with the second time and will register under SCHA C455.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C454 may not take this course for credits.

SCIENCE AND HUMAN AFFAIRS C455
Seminar in Science and Human Affairs (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Coordinator. Students who have received credit for SCHA C454 may register for SCHA C455 provided the subject matter is different.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C455 may not take this course for credits.

On approval of the Honours Adviser, the prerequisites for SOCI C409 may be modified for students in this programme.*

NOTE: The course-numbering system in Sociology uses the first digit of the course number to indicate the number of prerequisites required for admission to a course. A C2— course has no prerequisites, a C3— has one, and a C4— has two prerequisites. The second digit indicates the place of a course among different subject groups. C-1- courses constitute the research methods group, C-0- courses the theory group. Thus, when a prerequisite is stated as "one 300-level course from Group 2," any course whose number is C32- (i.e., C320, C323, C324, C325) fulfills the prerequisite requirement.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

SOCIOLOGY C200
Introduction to Sociology (6 credits)
Introduction to the basic concepts used in the study of social structure, processes, and change. Survey of the substantive areas of social life ranging from the relations between individuals and groups to institutions and total societies.

SOCIOLOGY C210
Statistics (6 credits)
An introduction to those descriptive and inferential statistics most applicable to the discipline of Sociology. NOTE See §200.7

SOCIOLOGY C220
Social Organization (3 credits)
Examines the basic characteristics of societal organization through the use of comparative and evolutionary perspectives. Conceptual analysis of specific forms of, and changes in, the comprehensive pattern of social organization.

SOCIOLOGY C230
Race and Ethnic Relations (3 credits)
Race and ethnicity are examined as bases of social differentiation. Ethnic group relations are analyzed in relation to stratification and the exercise of power. Explorations of the phenomena of discrimination, prejudice, and intergroup accommodation.

SOCIOLOGY C260
Deviance (6 credits)
Examination of the nature, forms, sources, and consequences of deviations from social norms and the mechanisms of social order and control. Theories of deviant behavior, including juvenile delinquency, and their social, legal, and practical implications are considered.

SOCIOLOGY C261
Social Problems (3 credits)
Consideration of a range of social problems from a sociological perspective. Examination of the process by which "problems" are socially defined and recognized.

SOCIOLOGY C270
Socialization (6 credits)
Examination of the social and cultural processes by which the individual becomes a functioning member of society. Attention given to adult socialization and re-socialization in diverse institutional contexts; e.g., schools, occupations, hospitals, prisons, the military. The relation of social structure to role acquisition and role performance is a major focus of the course.

SOCIOLOGY C272
The Family (6 credits)
The family as an institution is examined in relation to social structure and historical change. Special emphasis is placed on trends in the nuclear family patterns of contemporary North American society, and on the relation of the family to the broader societal environment.

SOCIOLOGY C280
Quebec Society (6 credits)
Focus upon the historic changes in Quebec society, with emphasis upon the period following the Second World War. Examination of issues which have provoked conflicting interpretations, including the Conquest, the nature of Confederation, Quebec nationalism, and the language question.

SOCIOLOGY C282
Canadian Society (6 credits)
Analysis of Canadian social structure and change; the relation of the whole of Canadian society to its constituent elements; the relation of Canadian society to its international environment.

SOCIOLOGY C290
Selected Topics in Sociology A (3 credits)
Study of a special topic in Sociology.

SOCIOLOGY C291
Selected Topics in Sociology B (3 credits)
Study of a special topic in Sociology.

SOCIOLOGY C300
Classical Social Theory (6 credits)
Prerequisite: SOCI C200. Examination of the origins of Sociology and of the sociological works of nineteenth- and early twentieth-century European theorists, with consideration of the social and political context. Particular emphasis is given to the works of Durkheim, Marx, and Weber. Readings include primary sources and critical commentaries.

SOCIOLOGY C310
Research Methods (6 credits)
Prerequisite: SOCI C200. Introduction to qualitative and quantitative methods of research in Sociology.

SOCIOLOGY C311
Survey Research Methods (6 credits)

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent course.

ANTHROPOLOGY C211
Introduction to Anthropology (6 credits)

An introduction to the fields of Anthropology: facts and ideas about the nature of the human species and its past; and the search for the causes of social and cultural differences and similarities. This course deals with the diversity of languages, of family and marriage systems, religious beliefs and rituals, political and economic organizations. Examples are drawn from past and present societies, from western and non-western cultures.

ANTHROPOLOGY C301
Oral Literature (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. This course will acquaint students with various types of oral poetry, historical tales, myths, and personal narratives from indigenous cultures of Africa, Oceania, and North America. The discussion of these materials will focus on contemporary anthropological issues, such as: 1) The various modes of conceptualizing time and historical truth, man's relation to nature and to his fellow man; 2) The reliability of narrator-informants as spokesmen for their own cultures. Translations of transcribed primary sources are supplemented by background lectures on the cultures studied.

ANTHROPOLOGY C302
Art, Aesthetics, and Anthropology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. This course introduces students to painting, sculpture, costume decoration, masks, music, and dance in different, non-industrial, cultural settings. Readings and lectures focus on contrasting values concerning beauty in various cultural settings. Readings and lectures focus on contrasting values concerning beauty in various cultural and historical settings. The ways in which different cultures have expressed and explained their aesthetic values will be presented, alongside interpretations by anthropologists and art historians. The course will employ slides and readings. Students will attend films and possibly local galleries whenever they show relevant materials.

ANTHROPOLOGY C321
The Stateless Societies of Africa (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. The course will survey stateless societies spread across the Sudan into Nigeria. The course will outline hominid evolution in Eastern and Southern Africa and sketch the outlines of African prehistory as reconstructed by archeologists. These will be followed by an investigation of such present-day hunters and gatherers as the Kalahari Bushmen and the Ituri forest Pygmies. The bulk of the course will study a number of stateless societies in the area, such as the pastoral Nuer and the agricultural Tiv. Particular emphasis will be given to the ways in which kinship and marriage organize social, political, and economic relations and preserve social order in these cultures without institutionalized chieftainship.

ANTHROPOLOGY C322
Early States and New Nations of Africa (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. A survey of chiefdoms and early states in Africa, and of the response of Africa's peoples to colonial rule and new nationhood.

ANTHROPOLOGY C325
Magic, Science, and Religion (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ANTH C211, or RELI C211 or RELI C213, or permission of the Department. A comparative study of beliefs, ritual, and ceremony in tribal, peasant, and modern societies. Consideration of anthropological theories regarding the development and functions of supernaturalistic and naturalistic modes of thought.

ANTHROPOLOGY C362
Aboriginal Indian and Inuit Social Organizations (6 credits)

Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. Description and analysis of the diverse aboriginal forms of social and political organization of North American Indian and Inuit populations. Archaeology is briefly considered to ascertain whether it may provide explanations for the different levels of societal complexity which separated these cultures from one another at the time of first contact with Europeans.

ANTHROPOLOGY C364
Peoples and Cultures of India (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. This course will deal with the development of these cultures from their earliest manifestation to the present. Emphasis will be upon the interrelations of techno-economic, social structural, and ideological aspects, with considerable attention to recent and prospective changes.

ANTHROPOLOGY C365
Chinese Culture and Society (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. This course will deal with the development of Chinese culture from its earliest manifestation to the present. Emphasis will be upon the interrelations of techno-economic, social structural, and ideological aspects, with considerable attention to recent and prospective changes.

ANTHROPOLOGY C367
Peoples and Cultures of Southeast Asia (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. This course will deal with the development of these cultures from their earliest manifestation to the present. Emphasis will be upon the interrelations of techno-economic, social structural, and ideological aspects, with considerable attention to recent and prospective changes.

ANTHROPOLOGY C368
Peoples and Cultures of the Caribbean
(6 credits)
Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. A comparative study of Caribbean peoples and cultures, their history in colonization and slavery, their current similarities in diversity.

ANTHROPOLOGY C369
Anthropology of Dependency (6 credits)
Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. This course examines the phenomenon of dependency in terms of economic, political, and social linkages that may exist between economically advanced and traditional societies. An analysis of the structure of dependency will be followed by discussions of its effects upon traditional cultures. Case-study material will be drawn from the literature on tribal and peasant cultures, as well as from literature on those Canadian communities the economies of which have remained at the subsistence level.

ANTHROPOLOGY C394
Topics in Ethnography I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. The area studied will vary yearly, reflecting students' interests and requests. This course, like other courses in Group A, offers a presentation of cultural and societal forms in a given area.

ANTHROPOLOGY C395
Topics in Ethnography II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. The area studied will vary yearly, reflecting students' interests and requests. This course, like other courses in Group A, offers a presentation of cultural and societal forms in a given area.

ANTHROPOLOGY C397
Topics in Culture and Society I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. The topic will vary yearly, reflecting students' interests. This course, like other courses in Group B, offers the analysis of aspects of social life in a comparative perspective, drawing examples from a world sample of societies or cultures.

ANTHROPOLOGY C398
Topics in Culture and Society II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ANTH C211 or equivalent, or permission of the Department. The topic will vary yearly, reflecting students' interests. This course, like other courses in Group B, offers an analysis of aspects of social life in a comparative perspective, drawing examples from a world sample of societies or cultures.

ANTHROPOLOGY C426
Symbolic Anthropology (6 credits)
Prerequisite: 12 credits in 300-level Anthropology, or permission of the Department. Comparative examination of the interaction between symbols systems and other components of society (e.g.political and economic). Religious ceremonies, rituals, rites of passage, myths, folk-tales, etiquette, and social conventions (from both western and non-western societies) will first be analyzed as sytems of communication. The effects of these phenomena upon the continuity of social structures will then be examined. Important publications by the major writers in this field will be closely examined: Levi-Strauss, Leach, Turner, Geertz, Sperber, Althusser, Baudrillard, and Barthes.

ANTHROPOLOGY C434
Anthropological Theories (6 credits)
Prerequisite: 12 credits in 300-level Anthropology, or permission of the Department. A study of the major schools of thought in social-cultural anthropology, such as functionalism, structuralism, the American historical school, evolutionism, cultural materialism, Marxism, and symbolic analysis. Important publications by the major writers in these fields will be closely examined.

ANTHROPOLOGY C459
Political Anthropology (6 credits)
Prerequisite: 12 credits in 300-level Anthropology, or permission of the Department. An examination of political process and political organization in cross-cultural perspective. Part I considers the differing approaches to political organization and processes, leadership, power, and authority in non-western cultures of various degrees of complexity. Part II analyzes social conflict in relation to politics, social continuity, and social change.

ANTHROPOLOGY C460
Social Anthropology (6 credits)
Prerequisite: 12 credits in 300-level Anthropology, or permission of the Department. The first term will cover a range of techniques for analyzing descent and marriage in societies where these are the most important and all-encompassing social relations. Examples of systems of kinship nomenclature, methods of reckoning descent, and rules of marriage will be chosen from different societies throughout the world. The student will be introduced to a series of important anthropological debates concerning the relative significance of descent and marriage in these systems. During the second term, the focus will shift to cultures in which the various functions of the bonds of kinship and marriage have been taken over by government, markets, law courts, and other institutions.

ANTHROPOLOGY C469
Economic Anthropology (6 credits)
Prerequisite: 12 credits in 300-level Anthropology, or permission of the Department. The study of the interrelations among production, exchange, and apportionment of goods and services in non-industrial societies. Conditions for the replication of such economic systems over time. Materials are drawn from societies in Africa, in Asia, in pre-capitalist Europe, in native America, and in the Pacific culture areas. The first term is devoted to a review of theories regarding the nature of economics within non-industrial societies and methods used in the analysis of their modes of production. The second term is concerned with selected case-studies. The course concludes with an appraisal of economic life in non-industrial societies and of the modifications brought to the human experience by capitalism.

ANTHROPOLOGY C494
New Topics in Anthropology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: 12 credits in Anthropology 300-level courses, or permission of the Department. Subject matter will vary yearly to take advantage of the special aptitudes of the instructor. As in every 400-level course, this course is theoretically oriented and reflects current trends in Anthropology.

ANTHROPOLOGY C499
Honours Essay (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing in Honours Anthropology. Under the supervision of an Anthropology staff member, the student will prepare an Honours essay on a subject chosen in consultation with, and approved by, the professor.

PROGRAMMES

*BACHELOR OF EDUCATION (Teaching English as a Second Language)

The Centre for the Teaching of English as a Second Language offers the Degree of Bachelor of Education (Teaching English as a Second Language).

Admission Requirements (B.Ed.)

General admission requirements are listed in §13 (Admission Regulations). Specific requirements are as follows:

1. Satisfactory completion of a two-year pre-university programme in a CEGEP or equivalent. Within the programme, the students will be required to have successfully completed the equivalent of four semester courses in English.

2. Owing to the specialized nature of this programme, no more than 30 pro tanto credits will normally be permitted, and the University reserves the right to determine which ones these should be.

3. Candidates must demonstrate competence in English. All non-native speakers of English must take a formal test of English proficiency and obtain a score acceptable to the TESL Centre.

NOTE I: Arrangements for taking the proficiency test may be made through the Admissions Office.

4. The B.Ed.(TESL) is open to both prospective and experienced teachers. The B.Ed.-(TESL) is offered in the day and evening, and in the summer session. Some of the courses may also be offered outside Montreal through the Office for Off-Campus Education.

INFORMATION RELEVANT TO ALL PROGRAMMES

NOTE IV: Upon successful completion of the BEd programme, and application to the Registrar's Services Department, students may be recommended to the Quebec Teachers Certification Service for a Teaching Permit (Probation) to teach English as a Second Language. Teachers previously certified by the Ministry of Education of Quebec will be recommended for a Teaching Diploma. Upon successful completion of the TESL Certificate: Sequence I or Sequence II programme, students (applying in the same way) may also be recommended for appropriate teacher certification. No recommendation is possible, by the TESL centre, for teaching at the CEGEP, or other adult, level.

To be recommended for certification (Permit or Diploma), students must achieve at least a C (65%) grade in methodology and teaching practice courses: that is,

1. for the B.Ed., in TESL C324, C424, C385, and C485;

2. for the Certificate Sequence I or II options, in TESL C324, C424, and C433.

Students who obtain a passing grade that is below the level required for recommendation for certification will be placed on conditional standing within the programme and will be so informed in writing by the Director of the TESL Centre. Students will be allowed to repeat the course(s) in question only once in order to achieve the required grade. (For the status of this grade as part of the student record, see calendar 16.3.8.)

Students who fail to repeat the course successfully within one year will, to remain in the programme, be required to acknowledge in writing that they have forfeited the right to be recommended for certification.

Students who obtain a failing grade (F, R or NR) in any of the courses listed in paragraphs (1) and (2) above will be required to withdraw from the programme and will also be so informed in writing by the Director of the TESL Centre.

To be recommended for certification in Quebec, students must demonstrate reasonable fluency in French.

In the event that a student meets regular University standards but does not satisfy the requirements for recommendation for certification, the student may apply to receive the University degree or certificate but will not be recommended to the Ministry.

NOTE V: Upon admission, students may be granted exemptions from courses in TESL programmes if they have completed equivalent work at the university level.

Replacement for these exemptions must be made in accordance with the guidelines established by the TESL Centre and approved by the University. Copies of these guidelines may be obtained in the TESL Centre.

Courses in English as a Second Language are designed for students who are not native speakers of English and who need further training in the effective use of English in the university setting. Students must be tested for placement in ESL C207, C208, C209, or C210. Information about placement testing schedules may be obtained from the English Language Proficiency Testing Office, TESL Centre, 2130 Bishop Street, Room 205, Tel. (514) 879-8590. A special examination fee is charged. (See §15.1)

NOTE: Students enrolled in a 90-credit degree programme in the Faculty of Arts and Science may take ESL courses for degree credit, up to a maximum of six credits.

Written work may be required in English for these courses; please consult with the Department.

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

ESL C207
English Language—Intermediate I
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Placement by the Concordia English Language Diagnostic Test. A course for students who are not native speakers of English and who need further training in the effective use of English in the university setting. Emphasis is on reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills.

NOTE: Students who have completed ESL 100 or have received credit for ENGL C205 or C206 may not take this course for credits.

ESL C208
English Language—Intermediate II
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: ESL C207 or placement by the Concordia English Language Diagnostic Test. This course is a continuation of ESL C207.

NOTE: Students who have completed ESL 100 or have received credit for ENGL C205 or C206 may not take this course for credits.

ESL C209
English Language—Advanced I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ESL C208 or placement by the Concordia English Language Diagnostic Test. This course is for students who are not native speakers of English. It encourages the development of effective written communication and improved reading comprehension, so that students may perform competently in their other university work.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for ESL C201 or ENGL C205 or C206 may not take this course for credits.

ESL C210
English Language—Advanced II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ESL C209 or placement by the Concordia English Language Diagnostic Test. This course is a continuation of ESL C209. Emphasis is upon writing the academic research paper.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for ESL C201 or ENGL C205 or C206 may not take this course for credits.

ESL C290
Communication through the Study of Special Topics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Successful completion of ESL C201; ESL C209 or tested equivalence. This course is for non-native speakers of English only. Its primary aim is to increase students' oral fluency in English; its secondary aim is to encourage improved levels of competence in the other language skills: listening, reading, and writing.

TESL C201
Speech (3 credits)

This course is open only to non-native speakers of English. The aim of the course is to prepare ESL teachers who are not native speakers of English to analyze pronunciation difficulties in terms of the major phonetic and phonemic features of English. Emphasis is placed on appropriate instruction for improving pronunciation.

NOTE: This course is available for credit only towards TESL Certificate: Sequence I.

Students who have received credit for TESL C221 may not take this course for credits.

TESL C203
Effective Communication (6 credits)

This course is open only to students who are not native speakers of English. The aim of the course is to raise the level of oral and written communication of ESL teachers who are not native speakers of English.

NOTE: This course is available for credit only towards TESL Certificate: Sequence I.

TESL C205
Introduction to the Structure of English
(3 credits)

This course is open only to students who are not native speakers of English. The structure of English is examined together with ways of using this knowledge for the effective teaching of English as a second language.

NOTE: This course is available for credit only towards TESL Certificate: Sequence I.

Students who have received credit for TESL C231 may not take this course for credits.

TESL C211
Introduction to Language and Applied Linguistics (3 credits)

In this course, selected characteristics of language and linguistics will be described. Related fields such as psycholinguistics, sociolinguistics, neurolinguistics and anthropological linguistics will be examined. The relevance of work in these areas for language learning and teaching will be discussed.

TESL C221
Comparative Phonetics (3 credits)

This course is specifically designed for students who intend to teach ESL. It provides an introduction to the sound systems of English and French. It compares the two systems and emphasizes techniques for teaching pronunciation in ESL classes.

NOTE: When the course is offered to a group preparing to teach students whose first language is not French, the course content may be adjusted to suit their specific needs.

TESL C231
Modern English Grammar I (3 credits)

This course is primarily designed for students who intend to teach ESL. The course involves a study of important aspects of English structure. It aims to prepare students to apply their knowledge of grammatical structure to the teaching of ESL, for example in the identification and analysis of errors and in the preparation of pedagogical materials.

TESL C318
The Teaching of Reading and Writing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: 9 TESL credits. This course analyzes the relationship between speech and writing, and surveys the structure and function of written English. Techniques and procedures for teaching reading and writing skills are studied and demonstrated. Current ESL materials are evaluated. Students are expected to prepare specimen materials for developing reading and writing skills in the classroom.

TESL C324
Methodology I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: TESL C221; TESL C231 or TESL C201; TESL C205 and admission to a TESL programme or permission of the Department. This course reviews current theory in applied linguistics which relates directly to teaching and learning ESL in the classroom. Techniques and methods appropriate to child, adolescent, and adult learners are discussed and demonstrated. In this course the emphasis is on classroom-oriented techniques and materials related to the teaching of listening and speaking.

NOTE: A student must have achieved at least a C (65%) in this course in order to be recommended for teacher certification upon completion of the programme.

TESL C341
Language Acquisition (3 credits)

Prerequisite: TESL C221; TESL C231 or permission of the Department. This course analyzes developmental processes of both native language and second language acquisition. Research is examined in terms of implications for second language teaching.

TESL C351
History and Development of the English Language (3 credits)

Prerequisite: TESL C221; TESL C231, or permission of the Department. A study of the morphological, phonological, syntactical, and semantic changes that have taken place from Proto-Indo-European to the present. Students are required to do elementary linguistic analyses of texts from different stages in the development of the language.

TESL C361
Teaching English for Specific Purposes (3 credits)

Prerequisite: TESL C324 or permission of the Department. This course provides instruction in the teaching of language skills to those who require English either as an auxiliary to their scientific, technical or professional skills or as a medium for training in these areas.

TESL C385
Observation and Practice Teaching (3 credits)

Prerequisite: TESL C324 previously or concurrently. This course introduces the student teacher to the ESL classroom. Students observe experienced teachers and have opportunities for micro-teaching, peer teaching, as well as some teaching to ESL students. Opportunities are provided for observation and practice with ESL learners at different ages and levels of proficiency in English.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for TESL C433 may not take this course for credits.

Students must have achieved at least a C (65%) in this course in order to be recommended for teacher certification upon completion of the programme.

Students will complete the in-school portion of this course in a (M.E.Q.-approved) private or public primary or secondary school (where French is the language of instruction), in order to be recommended for teacher certification at these levels. Teaching practice completed with adults will not qualify students to be recommended for teacher certification.

TESL C413
Audio-Visual Aids (3 credits)

Prerequisite: TESL C324 previously or concurrently. This course examines audio-visual resources and their effective use in second-language teaching. Students are given experience with the technical equipment generally available for use in second-language classrooms. In addition, students produce their own audio-visual materials.

TESL C415
Testing and Evaluation (3 credits)

Prerequisite: TESL C324. An introduction to the general purposes and methods of language testing, with a description of the chief characteristics of sound educational measures. The course examines the processes involved in constructing and administering tests designed to evaluate achievement in the ESL classroom.

TESL C424
Methodology II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: TESL C324. This course continues the presentation of techniques and methods begun in TESL C324. In this course the emphasis is on classroom-oriented techniques and materials related to the teaching of reading and writing.

NOTE: Students must have achieved at least a C (65%) in this course in order to be recommended for teacher certification upon completion of the programme.

TESL C431
Modern English Grammar II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: TESL C231. This course continues the study of English grammatical structure begun in TESL C231. It aims to increase students' knowledge in this field and to improve their ability to apply this knowledge to the teaching of ESL.

TESL C433
Practicum (3 credits)

Prerequisite: TESL C324. This course is open only to students enrolled in Certificate I or Certificate II. In this course students will practise techniques which were introduced in their methodology courses. There will be opportunities for observation of ESL classes taught by experienced teachers. Techniques presented in TESL C324 and C424 will be practised in micro-teaching, peer teaching and sessions with groups of ESL students. Requirements include lesson planning and evaluation of one's own teaching performance.

NOTE: Students must have achieved at least a C (65%) grade in this course in order to be recommended for teacher certification upon completion of the programme.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for TESL C385 may not take this course for credits.

TESL C434
Error Analysis (3 credits)

Prerequisite: 15 TESL credits including TESL C324 and TESL C341. In this course current theories of second language acquisition are reviewed and applied. Each student carries out analyses of ESL learners' language, focussing on patterns of errors. The identification and classification of errors is followed by the development of teaching materials which the student uses in order to help learners overcome some persistent errors.

TESL C442
Problems in Bilingualism (3 credits)

Prerequisite: 15 TESL credits. This course is an introduction to some linguistic, social and psychological aspects of languages in contact, with particular attention to the situation in Canada. Emphasis is placed on the description and evaluation of different types of bilingual education programmes and the factors which influence the choice of particular models.

TESL C485
Internship (6 credits)

Prerequisite: TESL C385 or equivalent. This internship is closely integrated with TESL C424. Students will do supervised teaching in ESL classes. In addition to seminars including demonstrations and discussions of teaching techniques appropriate to different ages and levels of proficiency in English, students will be responsible for teaching a group or groups of ESL learners over a prescribed time period.

NOTE: Students must have achieved at least a C (65%) in this course in order to be recommended for teacher certification upon completion of the programme.

Students will complete the in-school portion of this course in a (M.E.Q.-approved) private or public primary or secondary school (where French is the language of instruction), in order to be recommended for Quebec provincial teacher certification at these levels. Teaching practice completed with adults will not qualify students to be recommended for teacher certification.

TESL C491
Study in a Special Subject (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course provides an opportunity for advanced students to intensify their study beyond the area of specialization already represented by the curriculum. The selected subject will vary with the special interest of the instructor conducting the course in any given year.

TESL C492
Study in a Special Subject (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. A student repeating TESL C491 registers for credits under TESL C492.

Prerequisite: THEO C360 or permission of the Department. The theological and historical roles of women in Christianity. Female proto-types and images of women in the Old and New Testaments, Fathers of the Church, canon law, medieval theology, the Reformation, and modern theology. The history of women in the development of Christianity.

THEOLOGY C472
The Feminine and the Female in Contemporary Christian Theology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: THEO C360 or permission of the Department. Contemporary Christian thought on women and the role of the feminine in human development and cultural differentiation: a theological and historical critique of these contemporary perspectives within the context of human liberation.

THEOLOGY C498
Theology Tutorial I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing in Honours, Specialization, or Major programme in Theology. Students may choose, in consultation with a tutorial director, a research topic or other specialized work for intense analysis during the final year.

THEOLOGY C499
Theology Tutorial II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Successful completion of THEO C498. With permission of the Department, in special cases a second tutorial or a continuation of a tutorial under THEO C498 may be given to students who request it.

31.340 Urban Studies

Coordinator
A. MELAMED, Associate Professor

The Urban Studies Programme introduces the student, through such disciplines as Economics, Sociology, Geography, and Political Science, to the many areas of research and theory relevant to the modern city and its problems. It also provides the necessary background for later post-graduate specialization in some aspect of urban research, and opportunities for field-work.

PROGRAMMES

Students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements.

The superscript indicates credit value.

Students should consult with the Programme Coordinator prior to registering for Urban Studies courses. Students exempted from any required courses must replace them with others that are relevant to the programme, chosen in consultation with the Programme Coordinator.

66 BA Honours in Urban Studies

Year I
6 URBS C280[6]*
6 POLI C200[6], or C250[6]

Because of the renumbering of courses in the Department, students should see §200.1 for a list of equivalent courses.

URBAN STUDIES C280
Urban Development (6 credits)

An introductory course in Urban Development using an interdisciplinary approach to the process of urbanization, the city as a social system, the city as an economic system and the built environment. The material will be presented by films, tapes and special readings.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C280 may not take this course for credits.

URBAN STUDIES C380
Urban Planning in Historical Perspective (6 credits)

This lecture-and-discussion course assesses the development of Canadian cities in general and of Montreal in particular, with special stress on the implications for planning. Topics include the relative importance of geographic site and entrepreneurship in the rise of cities, the metropolitan dominance of, and rivalry between, Montreal and Toronto, the history of the early town planning movement in Canada with discussion of its British roots, the conflict among competing language and cultural groups in Montreal, and the aesthetic and cultural costs of post-war urban redevelopment.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for HIST C380 or INTE C380 may not take this course for credits.

URBAN STUDIES C433
Applied Urban Geography—Urban Design (6 credits)

Prerequisite: GEOG C331, or permission of the Coordinator. An applied course in urban design and land use planning. An overview of current theory and practice will be balanced, during the second term, by studio-planning projects emphasizing a team approach.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for GEOG C401 or INTE C480 or GEOG C433 may not take this course for credits.

URBAN STUDIES C481
Seminar in Urban Studies I (6 credits)

Seminar limited to second and third year students in the Urban Studies programme. An advanced seminar on the urban phenomenon as it occurs in the Canadian context. It will explore relevant urban issues and seek the development of urban policy positions. Students will be asked to prepare and submit appropriate research policy papers.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C481 may not take this course for credits.

URBAN STUDIES C483
Seminar in Urban Studies II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: URBS C481 and permission of the Coordinator. Students will complete a field assignment in an urban activity area. The seminar will allow students to discuss, with each other and the professor, their experiences and problems encountered during the field assignment.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for URBS C482 or INTE C482 may not take this course for credits.

URBAN STUDIES C484
Seminar in Urban Studies III (3 credits)

Prerequisite: URBS C481 and permission of the Coordinator. Students will complete a field assignment in an urban activity area. The seminar will allow students to discuss, with each other and the professor, their experiences and problems encountered during the field assignment.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for URBS C482 or INTE C482 may not take this course for credits.

31.400 Computer Science

The Department of Computer Science offers a Minor in Computer Science available to students in the Faculty of Arts and Science. For further details of this programme, see §71.80.4.

For discontinued programmes formerly offered by the Loyola Faculty of Arts and Science and by the Sir George Williams Faculty of Science, refer to §71.8.7 of the 1979-80 University Calendar.

Students in programmes leading to the B.Sc. degree may take for credits to be applied to their programme of concentration any course in Computer Science except the following:

COMPUTER SCIENCE C217
Computers in Society (3 credits)

COMPUTER SCIENCE C251
Introduction to Business Programming (3 credits)

COMPUTER SCIENCE C351
Advanced Cobol Programming (3 credits)

COMPUTER SCIENCE C455
Principles of Data Processing (3.75 credits)

COMPUTER SCIENCE C456
Information Retrieval (3 credits)

31.410 Courses Offered in Summer Only

ETUDES FRANCAISES

French Summer Institute
Intensive Language Programme

The Concordia French Summer Institute, a division of the Département d'Etudes françaises and a member of the Association Québécoise des Ecoles de Français, offers courses for regular university credit. The courses, located on Loyola Campus, are offered in two intensive sessions, each of three weeks duration.

All participants must undertake to speak French at all times. Each weekday there will be formal instruction from 9:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

As a complement to classroom learning, from 1:15 p.m. to 3:15 p.m. the students will be able to "live" in French by participating in cultural, sports or recreational activities such as n theatre, dance, photography or choral workshop, tours of the city and countryside, etc. During all activities, students will be assisted by their instructors and by French-speaking monitors.

Emphasis will be placed on various language skills depending on the student's level of competence, to be determined by an interview at the beginning of the programme. Learning will be facilitated by means of cultural tools, as well as textbooks and language-laboratory exercises.

Concordia students may apply credits obtained at the French Summer Institute to regular programmes in the Département d'Etudes françaises (e.g. Certificate, Major, Minor, etc...).

Courses taken at the French Summer Institute are not recognized by the Teacher Classification Service (Ministère de l'Education du Québec) for purposes of scholarity.

For further details, consult the Summer Schedule. A brochure and further information are available from the Département. Contact the secretary or

Assistant Provost
S. McEVENUE, Associate Professor

The Faculty of Arts and Science is the largest Faculty in the University. It offers programmes based on sound scholarship, together with a high calibre of teaching and research.

In order to combat the depersonalization so often found in a large Faculty, the Faculty of Arts and Science has created smaller, more manageable units offering a personalized approach to education. At present, there are seven such units in existence: Centre for Mature Students, Institute for Co-Operative Education, Liberal Arts College, Lonergan University College, School of Community and Public Affairs, Science College, and Simone de Beauvoir Institute. Each college, centre, school or institute is composed of a group of students and Fellows who are united by a particular philosophy of education.

Each unit operates in much the same fashion. Normally a student admitted to the University will enroll in a specific Department-based programme — a Major, Specialization, or Honours. Students in the Liberal Arts College may, however, elect to enroll in the College Major in Western Society and Culture instead of in a Departmental programme. Similarly, students in the Simone de Beauvoir Institute may enroll in a Major programme in Women's Studies. Students attracted by the particular educational opportunities offered by one of the units of Division IV will apply to the unit in question. Once admitted to the College, Institute, School, or Centre of their choice, students may benefit from the academic curriculum, the extracurricular activities, and social and intellectual environment provided in each of these units. It is the goal of Division IV to assist students to broaden their specialized disciplinary education with carefully chosen electives, with specially designed tutorials, and with career-oriented advising, all set in a more personal and friendly "university college" environment.

Each unit has a physical location of its own, where its students may gather to exchange ideas, whether in the classroom or in one of the lounges provided for such interaction. As well, there is a library of basic books and periodical literature. From time to time, there will be planned activities, special-interest seminars, and stimulating lectures by invited guest speakers.

Each unit has a group of faculty members from within the University assigned as Fellows or Tutors, whose major function will be to act as student advisers. Together, students and Fellows or Tutors plan a carefully integrated undergraduate programme based on the philosophy of education promoted.

The advantage of this approach to education is that students may utilize the resources of a large Arts and Science Faculty, yet still enjoy the effective interchange of ideas that only a small unit can provide.

Concordia University has a tradition of concern for the education of mature students; it has always sought to assist students of 21 and over to undertake undergraduate studies.

The primary aim of the Centre for Mature Students is to develop services to students returning to formal studies after an absence of many years. It is difficult to plunge suddenly into a very large urban university after years away from classes and studying; therefore, the Fellows and Staff of the Centre hope to reach out to all Mature-Entry students to offer them encouragement and guidance. The Centre has quarters on both campuses, that function as a "home base" for students who want counselling or are simply in need of some social contact with their peers. Newly equipped lounge facilities are provided in which students may meet.

Furthermore, the Centre has Fellows chosen from a cross-section of faculty members especially interested in the problems encountered by adults working towards a degree. Fellows of the Centre will be on hand at appointed times to offer advice and information on such matters as the choice of initial courses at the outset of studies and the variety of Concordia's programme offerings for those ready to embark on their field of undergraduate concentration. At all times, someone will be present to answer questions on both the Sir George Williams and the Loyola campuses.

It is the intention of everyone involved in the work of the Centre to provide mature students with a sense of belonging and thus help them gain the self-confidence so necessary for successful university work.

The Centre will be open from 9 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday. The Centre for Mature Students has two locations, as follows:

The Sir George Williams Campus
Hall Building
1455 de Maisonneuve Blvd. W.
4th Floor
Suite H-462
Tel: 879-7271, -7277

The Loyola Campus
Central Building
7141 Sherbrooke Street West
3rd Floor
Room CC-308
Tel: 482-0320, Ext. 263

General Information

The Mature-Entry means of access to the University is designed to enable individuals who are 21 years of age or older, and who have not satisfied the normal admission requirements, but have demonstrated potential, to take undergraduate programmes. The University assumes that the age of the students will have allowed them to acquire informally some of the general education given to younger students at the collegial level and, as a result, the additional credits required of Mature Entrants are intended to supply the knowledge and skills which will be needed to undertake a given programme of specialization.

CENTRE for MATURE STUDENTS 31.510

While they are obtaining these additional credits, mature students are considered in every way to be undergraduates.

The additional number of credits required of students who do not possess the necessary academic prerequisites to start immediately the 90-credit undergraduate programme is set out in §14 of this calendar, where Mature Entrants will also find information about specific requirements, recommended courses, etc.

The Institute for Co-Operative Education at Concordia University offers Co-Operative Programmes as an integral part of the Departments of Chemistry, Economics and Mathematics.

Co-Operative Programmes are open to students who are enrolled in many of the Honours and Specialization Programmes offered by the above Departments.

As it becomes feasible it is the intent of the Institute to launch other disciplines in the Co-Op format.

The Co-Operative Philosophy

Co-operative education is an educational process in which academic study terms are alternated with work terms in industry, giving students practical on-the-job experience in the area of their choice while continuing their work towards a degree.

Essentially, it is a system that integrates the interests of employer organizations, educators and students towards the attainment of common goals.

The Co-Operative Education concept as practised in a number of Canadian universities, has not only proved viable but has been outstandingly successful in developing career opportunities for students of almost any discipline. A recent survey showed that Co-Op students are a university's most marketable product and major companies who have participated in Co-Op programmes readily admit that preference in hiring is given to the Co-Op student. With some companies, the practice has become commom to recruit from among Co-Op graduates when looking for candidates with leadership potential for future positions.

Although the potential rewards from completion of the Co-Op programme are great, students should keep in mind that the programme, with its alternating academic and work terms, is extremely demanding.

ADMISSION TO CO-OP

Students who meet the criteria of the Honours or Specialization programmes offered in the Co-Op format and who are legally eligible to work in the public and private sector should indicate that they wish to apply to the Co-Op by filling in the appropriate box on the University Admissions Form. Students are also asked to submit a resumé of past work experience and a statement of the reasons for their interest in the programme. Selected students will then be invited to an interview, and asked to expand on reasons for their interest. Students accepted to the programme will be assigned a Coordinator from the Co-Op Committee within the department in which they are registered, as an adviser.

CO-OP PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENTS

Accepted applicants to Concordia's Co-Op Institute enrol as regular undergraduates in the programme of their choice and are subject to the academic regulations that apply to their programme. The Co-Op programme consists of six academic terms interspersed with five work terms, one of which is optional, for a total commitment of forty months over four years.

Institute for Co-Operative Education students enrolled in an Honours or Specialization must maintain a 'C' average (i.e. 65%) in the required courses, and no grade lower than a 'D' (i.e. 55%) in any course, elective or required. Students registered in Honours must meet the Faculty Honours programme academic requirements.

The evaluation of the four required work terms will be documented on an assessment form completed by the employer and a Work Term Report submitted by the student at the conclusion of each work term. These papers are evaluated by at least two faculty members of the department concerned. The Work Term Reports are not considered for degree credits, and they are marked on a pass/fail basis. Failure to meet the Co-Op Performance Requirements will result in the dismissal of the student from the Co-Op programme and hence the Institute.

Work Term

Concordia's Co-Operative Education programme is not to be construed as a placement operation or a cheap labour apprenticeship. The Work Term is an essential part of the student's learning experience and there is to be equitable remuneration paid for work performed. The University is responsible for negotiating Work Terms with employers who provide job descriptions to the Institute. The students prepare resumés for the various employers. After an initial screening, the employers interview students, then the students/employers rank each other. The Principal of the Institute is responsible for the final student/employer match. It should be noted that the University does not guarantee each student a job. During the Work Term, the Institute will continue to carry out its teaching responsibility by having a Coordinator visit the students at their place of work and evaluate the work performance, gauge the learning opportunities, assess the compatibility of student and employer and, if necessary, take corrective action.

Advantages of a Co-Op Education

The training in theory and practice in a structured and purposeful manner allows the student to come to terms with the realities of professional development in a way that allows for the development of self-confidence, self-reliance and self-motivation. From the work terms, students learn to accept responsibility and the importance of deadlines. Realistic career expectations may be more easily formed. In the Institute, besides technical knowledge and practical experience, students gain skills in interpersonal relations through participation in seminars, workshops, talks and, of course, through social activities.

Employers benefit as well. The employer who agrees to co-operate with the Institute gains through the opportunity to evaluate prospective personnel, without making permanent employment commitments, and the availability of students on a year-round basis. In recruiting permanent employees, they have available to them trained graduates who can be slotted into an operation without a training period. These advantages are seen as rewards in terms of lower turnover in trained personnel as the Co-Op graduates know what their goals are. Hence the economic return is one of much lower recruiting costs for experienced staff. The collaboration between employers and faculty provides an opportunity for employers to contribute to the educational process and to gain clearer insights into the University's resources from which he can draw.

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMMES

Chemistry Co-Op

The Chemistry Co-Operative Programme is offered to students who are enrolled in the B.Sc. Honours or Specialization in Chemistry, Specialization in Biochemistry or Specialization in Analytical Chemistry.

Students in CHEM Co-Op take the regular academic programme; however, in the work terms the employment opportunities range among a wide variety of industrial and government agencies located throughout Canada. Students are encouraged to choose their work term positions in a way which provides them with experience ranging from basic analysis in industrial processes and environmental control to senior research placements in the laboratories of various employers.

Economics Co-Op

The Economics Co-Operative Programme enables students to complete a Co-Op degree in a B.A. Honours or Specialization in Economics. The academic content of the Economic Co-Op programmes is identical with the regular programme; however, the required work terms provide the Co-Op student with the unique opportunity of experiencing economics in an applied format. Because of the variety of course choices, an Economics Co-Op student is prepared to seek employment during his or her work terms in a variety of public sectors including Provincial and Federal Government agencies. Private sector positions might include placements in banks, consulting firms, or planning departments in a variety of industries.

Mathematics Co-Op

Math Co-Op is open to students who are admitted to the B.A. or B.Sc. Honours or Specialization in Applied Mathematics or Statistics or Specialization in Actuarial Mathematics.

The academic content of the Math Co-Op programmes is identical to the regular programmes. However mathematics, as a respected academic subject, is an important training for an ever-growing multitude of disciplines.

Students pursuing an Honours or Specialization in Applied Mathematics or Statistics would, we envisage, be employed during their work terms in a variety of business, government, or scientific environments.

Liberal Arts College provides students with a broad, demanding educational foundation in the liberal arts. Its curriculum is an alternative for students dissatisfied with premature specialization and fragmentation of knowledge. Defining the "liberal arts" in contemporary terms, the College stresses work in a Core Curriculum of related courses, seminars, and tutorials in the humanities, social sciences, art, music, and science. Its core courses stress the acquisition of basic knowledge and research and writing skills, as well as an awareness of interpretative problems and advanced analytic approaches. The Core Curriculum, in turn, makes for informed choices in the College's second major component, advanced work and research in a specific discipline or area.

Objectives

The major goal of Liberal Arts College is to assist the student in the process of becoming an educated person. The College seeks to translate into modern idioms the traditional vision of education as a preparation for life. Its core courses and seminars, sharing a common concern with the changing nature of society and culture, aim at the development of an informed critical consciousness.

Emphasis is also placed on sharpening the basic expressive and analytic tools indispensable to social and cultural understanding. All College students are expected to present, or to acquire, a knowledge of a second language (normally, French), necessary for their research, and to write and to express themselves clearly. Training in research techniques is stressed, and original, independent work encouraged.

Liberal Arts College, linking demanding general education to significant specialization, is committed to serious intellectual work. Through its curriculum, staff, standards, and academic environment, it hopes to communicate the excitement and creativity of such engagement to its students.

Liberal Arts College Admissions and Programme Requirements

Students admitted to the University and seeking to enter the College must have a "B" average from CEGEP, or its equivalent. All students upon admission must demonstrate proficiency in English composition and a second language, or undertake necessary make-up work.* All applicants should apply through the University Admissions Office; they should also call or write the College for an interview. Mature students are admitted to the College on the basis of an interview and an examination of their record. Full-time degree candidates will normally complete their College Core Curriculum within three academic years; part-time degree candidates should complete their College Core Curriculum within six academic years. Students who have been admitted to departmental Honours programmes must maintain a "B" average in their College Core Curriculum; all others must maintain a "C" average in their College Core Curriculum. All Honours students in the College are expected to undertake significant original work, on a staff-guided basis, in their final year.

Les étudiants francophones devront donner la preuve de leur connaissance de la langue anglaise.*

Staff

Faculty Fellows chosen from the University's departments form the staff of all College courses, seminars, and tutorials. Teaching Fellows are resident in the College, as is its Principal, who also teaches in the Core Curriculum. It is intended that, each year, a Distinguished Visiting Fellow, selected on the basis of outstanding academic achievement and renown, will be resident and will teach in the College.

Facilities

Liberal Arts College is located on Concordia University's downtown Sir George Williams Campus. Much of its seminar and tutorial teaching is done in the same building that houses the College's Principal and Senior Fellows. The College has student study areas, a course-materials library, and audio-visual facilities, as well as Commons Rooms and a collection of important newspapers, journals, and periodicals. The College is the focus of an extra-curricular programme of visiting speakers and cultural events, and is a place where the exchange of ideas and views generated in courses and seminars continues on a more informal basis.

Counselling

Close student-faculty contact and exchange is part of the Liberal Arts College's stress on serious intellectual work. Each student is assigned to a faculty Fellow who acts as a personal adviser, and who follows the student's progress through the College, advising on the choice of disciplinary or area specialization. All students' work is evaluated annually by the Principal and Fellows.

College Council

Council, composed of Fellows and students, is the formal decision-making body of Liberal Arts College. It meets regularly, under the chairmanship of the Principal, as a forum in which current issues and future policy are discussed and decisions taken. Council is that body which ensures the democratic participation of all members of the College in its on-going academic and extra-curricular work.

Programmes

All Liberal Arts College students must take the Core Curriculum. These inter-related courses, including seminar and tutorial work, as well as the final-year Integrative Seminar, constitute a significant segment of the course work required for College-sponsored B.A. programmes. Liberal Arts College stresses Honours work, although a student may, with the permission of the College, combine the Core Curriculum with a departmental Specialization or Majors programme, or with the Individual Studies Programmes. Selected students may, with College permission, be admitted to the College's BA Major in Western Society and Culture.

In addition to completing the Core Curriculum, students must meet the Faculty of Arts and Science degree requirements and complete a departmental Major, Specialization, or Honours programme, or the Individual Studies Programme or the Major in L.A.C. Western Society and Culture.

The Core Curriculum may also be applied towards Specialization or Honours work in the Individual Studies Programme. (See §31.170 of this calendar).

All College students must consult with a College adviser before selecting courses in other disciplines or fields. Generally, courses in the Liberal Arts College are open only to members of the College.

Honours candidates must maintain a "B" average in their College courses, with no grade lower than a "C". Students in a Major or Specialization programme must maintain a "C" average in their College courses, with no grade lower than a "D".

In order to complete the requirements for the Major in Western Society and Culture students must take, in consultation with the Liberal Arts College, an additional 24 credits within one department or College-approved area of study.

Further information on core courses and College programmes generally may be obtained either by writing for the Liberal Arts College Informational Brochure or by calling the Liberal Arts College, Concordia University, 1455 de Maisonneuve Blvd. W., Montreal, Quebec, H3G 1M8, tel: 879-8051. Personal interviews with a Fellow of Liberal Arts College may be arranged through the Secretary.

Admission into a Departmental Honours Programme requires the approval of the Department.

Students seeking admission to a Departmental Honours Programme will be bound by the Honours requirements outlined in §16.2.4 of this calendar.

COURSES

LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE C291
Structure and Dynamics of Western Civilization (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Registration in the Liberal Arts College, or permission of the College. A study of the changing relations between productive structures, socio-political institutions and cultural traditions from antiquity to the present. This course emphasizes the analysis of social change over time, and requires reading in a variety of primary sources and secondary materials. Primary sources such as Aristotle's Politics, Aquinas' Summa Theologiae, and Rousseau's Social Contract, and works such as Marc Bloch's Feudal Society, and Eric Hobsbawm's Age of Revolutions will be read.

LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE C292
Modes of Expression and Interpretation (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Registration in the Liberal Arts College, or permission of the College. A survey of major Western literary, religious, and philosophical traditions, involving the reading and interpretation of significant primary texts from antiquity to the contemporary period. Emphasis is placed on development of writing skills and interpretive analysis. Works such as the Odyssey, Plato's Republic, Goethe's Faust, and Milton's Paradise Lost will be studied.

LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE C293
Art and Aesthetic Experience (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Registration in the Liberal Arts College, or permission of the College. An integrated course in the nature and development of music and the visual arts, with work in criticism and aesthetic theory. The course examines artistic and musical expressions through thematic and chronological approaches and includes attention to issues concerning the creative process and the relation of art to society. Slide viewing and music listening are part of the course.

LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE C391
Contemporary Civilization (6 credits)

Prerequisite: LBCL C291; LBCL C292; LBCL C293, or permission of the College. Analysis of the dynamic relations between individual, state, and society in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Classical perspectives and contemporary analysis derived from the social sciences will be brought to bear on selected social, economic, ideological, and political problems. Students will read from such works as Hegel's Phenomenology, M. Weber's Economy and Society, Marx's Capital and S. Freud's Interpretation of Dreams.

LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE C392
The Sciences in Society (6 credits)

Prerequisite: LBCL C291; LBCL C292; LBCL C293, or permission of the College. An introduction to the nature, development, organization, and social consequences of the scientific enterprise. Issues in the philosophy, sociology, and history of science, as well as in the relation of technology to science and to society, are emphasized. Works such as E.R. Dodds, The Greeks and the Irrational, T.S. Kuhn, The Structure of Scientific Revolutions, and R.K. Merton's Science, Technology and Society, will be read, as well as a number of original sources such as Aristotle's Physics, Bacon's The New Organon and Darwin's Origin of Species.

LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE C393
Contemporary Modes of Expression and Interpretation (6 credits)

Prerequisite: LBCL C291; LBCL C292; LBCL C293, or permission of the College. An advanced seminar organized on a topical and thematic basis and emphasising intensive, sustained analysis of a limited number of fundamentally important literary, religious, and philosophical works. Stress is placed on bringing critical and interpretative approaches to bear on nineteenth- and twentieth-century texts in a series of extended written papers. It permits the requisite sustained analysis of authors such as Nietzsche, Yeats, Beaudelaire, Kierkegaard, Mann, and Joyce.

LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE C490
Integrative Seminar (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Two of LBCL C391, C392, C393, or permission of the College. The College research seminar will relate the student's disciplinary or area specialization to the general perspectives of the Liberal Arts College Core Curriculum. The seminar topic will vary from year to year, and students will be required to produce a significant research paper.

Dedication

Lonergan University College is named in honour of Dr. Bernard F. Lonergan, a former student, and later a professor of Loyola College, Montreal. Dr. Lonergan's work has been recognized throughout the world and is the subject of several hundred books and dissertations. Recently, an international Journal of Lonergan Studies has been initiated in the United States.

General Philosophy

Lonergan University College exists for those of us, both students and professors, who believe in an education beyond the current tradition of depersonalized and compartmentalized knowledge. Lonergan students maintain a regular department-based programme of studies. At the same time, however, they share with others the dynamics of human enquiry that transcends the narrowness of disciplinary methodologies. The unique educational experience at Lonergan can be approached by two questions: what is it that we study and how do we accomplish such a study?

Inquiry into "Value"

The Fellows of Lonergan University College are convinced that the deepest issues of life are implicitly involved in all the academic disciplines, and that both honesty and sanity demand that we attend to this fact and reflect upon it.

The subject matter chosen for the Fellows seminar (see LUCC C302) serves as a focus for each year's activity. There are no limits to the choice of a particular thinker except that he or she be considered as among the foremost in shaping western civilization. In each choice, however, the scholarship is clearly concerned with values: they may be values centred on the question 'should it be done?' as opposed to 'can it be done?'; they may be values so entrenched in fundamental assumptions as to appear self-evident and beyond argument; or they may be values considered by some to be ultimate and beyond rational understanding. In each case, the value systems are exposed and critically analyzed, allowing the individual to come to his or her own conclusions.

Method

The College has adopted an educational strategy which is interdisciplinary and empirical.

This strategy is interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary because central and ultimate issues of human life are involved in all disciplines; yet many of these issues overlap the traditional boundaries of knowledge and must be analyzed without the dominance of any one perspective.

This strategy is empirical in the sense that all knowing begins with enquiry about experience of the world and of ourselves as subjects. Resulting judgement of truth and value must be verified through a methodologically precise appeal to this experience. Following this strategy, Lonergan students use their departmental study as a resource to be shared and extended by working with students and fellows from other departments on a common intellectual project as determined by one of the Lonergan courses.

The work and method of Bernard Lonergan are studied by many of our students. His influence is reflected in the concept of education at the College whether or not students choose to study his work explicitly.

The Style of the College

Lonergan University College offers its students all the resources of Concordia University. Lonergan students take a regular degree programme in the department of their choice on either of the two campuses of Concordia University. Moreover, the College aims to contribute to a style of life which will heighten intellectual experience and enrich personal growth during the student's university years. It does this, not by claiming to "raise standards", but rather by demanding that its students relate what they learn to their personal lives and deeper values.

A university is the place where the universe should be discussed and intellectually appropriated. Conversation, as much as courses or research, is at the heart of university life. It is precisely this aspect of university life that has been undermined in this century by the incredible growth in knowledge itself, and by the proliferation of specialities. What universal knowledge is now possible? What do students have in common to discuss?

Lonergan University College believes that there is something in common to be discussed, and dedicates its resources to assure the depth and vitality of that discussion. It involves all its members, both students and Fellows, in structured conversation that will grow in breadth and meaning through the three years of a student's university career.

Academic Programme

1) Most distinctive in the College Programme is the unique opportunity for students to participate each year in a Faculty Seminar.

2) The Lonergan curriculum may be described as a programme of general education, which focuses on 'values'. Such a study, which is both interdisciplinary and integrative in nature, is designed to complement the student's regular programme of specialized education.

3) Students must meet the degree requirements of the Faculty of Arts and Science, and complete either a departmental or interdisciplinary Major, Specialization or Honours programme.

4) The Lonergan Programme consists of 24 credits outside the above Major, Specialization or Honours. These 24 credits may be taken as follows:

   I) College Seminars (18 credits)

      a) These credits may be amassed over 3 or more years by a succession of 6-credit and/or 3-credit seminars.

      b) Students who are admitted to the College after completing their first year at Concordia (i.e., 30 credits) will be required to complete only 12 credits in Lonergan Seminars.

   II) College courses (6 credits)

      a) These courses must be selected in consultation with the student's academic adviser in the College. They may be taken in College Courses listed below, or else from the list of Lonergan-approved electives established each year by the College Curriculum Committee.

      b) Late entrants to the College who have been exempted from seminar credits under I b) above, may complete their general requirements of 24 credits by substituting additional College courses or Lonergan-approved elective courses.

College Facilities and Activities

The College is situated on the Loyola Campus of Concordia University; at 7302 Sherbrooke Street West.

The College is governed by a set of by-laws, and by a College Council composed of students and Fellows.

The central activity of the College is its weekly seminar. The seminar focuses each year on the work of a major thinker, one who has decisively influenced our culture for good or for evil. The topic will change each year, but the depth of human integration and social awareness of the authors we choose ensures continuity in our discussion. As participants in the seminar are competent in diverse academic disciplines, an understanding of the topic develops which on the one hand does justice to the diversity of contemporary awareness, and on the other demands levels of understanding which transcend technical jargon. An internationally recognized scholar will be invited to come to Lonergan University College as the "Distinguished Visiting Fellow", to lead the College Seminar. The Visiting Fellow will also give university lectures and public addresses, as seem appropriate.

Each student of Lonergan University College joins with a small number of others to form a seminar group. College Fellows will direct the group and be available for academic advising to students. These groups will meet for two hours every week.

Students and Fellows will be encouraged to share in College government, to participate in College events, and, in various ways, to make the College the centre of their lives at the University.

The College offers a comfortable lounge, a specialized library, and several quiet rooms for study. It also has a research centre for Longergan studies with a complete set of manuscripts, and of published works.

Admissions and Applications

Students seeking admission to the College should fill in the appropriate section (Box D) of the University Admissions Application form. Interested students may also contact the College directly by phoning 482-0320, Ext. 697, or by coming to the College, 7302 Sherbrooke Street West (corner of Sherbrooke and West Broadway Avenues), or else by writing to the College at the following address: 7141 Sherbrooke Street West, Montreal, Quebec, H4B 1R6. Each candidate for admission will be invited to an interview with one of the College Fellows.

COURSES

LONERGAN UNIVERSITY COLLEGE 398
Special College Seminar (3 credits)

Students who for good reason cannot follow the regular College Seminar (LUCC 399) will meet every second week for two semesters or every week for one semester, under the direction of a College Fellow. The same text will be read as in the regular seminar, and the discussion will have the same aim.

LONERGAN UNIVERSITY COLLEGE 399
Lonergan College Seminar (6 credits)

A different work will be selected by the College Council each year from among those classics which have shaped our civilization. In the last five years the following were selected: Bernard Lonergan, Carl Jung, Northrop Frye, Niccolo Machiavelli and Teresa of Avila. The works of Charles Darwin will be studied in 1984-85. The seminar meets each week through two semesters, to read segments of the work in appropriate intellectual contexts, and to move eventually to a personal, value oriented, dialectic with the work.

One week the Fellows discuss with the Visiting Scholar with limited student participation. The following week students meet in small groups with individual Fellows to deepen and broaden discussion.

LONERGAN UNIVERSITY COLLEGE 498
Lonergan University College Selected Problems (3 credits)

Courses offered under this title will investigate appropriate topics in the Humanities, Social Sciences and Natural Sciences from an interdisciplinary perspective.

LONERGAN UNIVERSITY COLLEGE 499
Lonergan University College Selected Topics (6 credits)

Objectives of the School

Community and Public Affairs is a diverse and rapidly growing field of activity. In general, it includes the institutions and processes through which concerned citizens and organized groups interact so as to improve the collective well-being of their communities. The many professionals who work in this area are concerned with community building in all its dimensions.

The purpose of the School of Community and Public Affairs is to prepare candidates for positions either in the public or private sectors as public affairs specialists. The School will also prepare students who wish to pursue post-graduate work in public affairs or public administration. The curriculum aims at the blending of vocational and scholarly values so as to produce graduates who are well educated in a broad sense.

Students enrolled in the School will benefit from a unique combination of the following components:

1. an internship programme within which students will receive credit for working in a public-affairs-related job;
2. a bilingual (French-English) environment within which to pursue their studies;
3. a combination of a Major, Specialization, or Honours in a discipline (History, Sociology, etc.) with what is essentially a multidisciplinary programme;
4. a common institutional setting for colloquia, discussion, and study relevant to community and public affairs.

One of the primary aims of the School is to provide an environment that is conducive to discussing and learning about public affairs. We believe, therefore, that what students do outside of formal courses is as important as the classroom experience itself. The historic building which the School now occupies is ideal inasmuch as it facilitates personal contact and easy communication between students and visiting practitioners. School facilities include a common room, reading room and documentation centre, a seminar room, faculty and student offices.

The School also houses the independent Institute for Research on Public Policy, one of Canada's best-known policy institutes. Students will benefit from on-going contact with the Institute's research personnel and from the extensive resources which it brings to the School.

The School Programme

Students who enrol in the School of Community and Public Affairs will follow a programme composed of the following elements:

1. The Core Courses (36 credits)

All Students must take the following:

ECONOMICS C201
Introduction to Microeconomics (3 credits)

ECONOMICS C203
Introduction to Macroeconomics (3 credits)

HISTORY C203
History of Canada, Pre-Confederation (3 credits)

HISTORY C205
History of Canada, Post-Confederation (3 credits)

POLITICAL SCIENCE C250
Canadian Government and Politics (6 credits)

SOCIOLOGY C200
Introduction to Sociology (6 credits)

SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS C301
Modular Seminar I (3 credits)

SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS C401
Modular Seminar II (3 credits)

SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS C411
Internship (3 credits)

SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS C412
Internship Research Project (3 credits)

2. The Disciplinary Programme

Members of the School of Community and Public Affairs must also pursue a departmental or interdisciplinary Honours, Specialization or Major programme.

Performance Requirement and Exemptions Policy

Students are required to maintain an overall average of 70%. In addition, all members of the School of Community and Public Affairs are expected to participate fully in the operation of the School.

Where exemptions are granted for any of the core courses, students are required to replace them with an equal number of credits chosen in consultation with the SCPA adviser.

Entrance Requirements

Students admitted to the University and seeking to enter the School must have achieved a "B" average, or the equivalent at the previous educational level. Students wishing to enter the School will be interviewed personally. In exceptional circumstances, a candidate who has failed to meet the grade requirement will be admitted on the basis of a personal evaluation of potential capacities, as against those realized in previous studies. Each student enrolled in the School will have to demonstrate a working knowledge of English and French.

For further information on curriculum, programmes, personnel, and objectives, please call the Principal, at 879-8507.

COURSES

SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS C301
Modular Seminar I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the School of Community and Public Affairs. Under the direction of a Resident Fellow, the Seminars, which will be presented by practising professionals drawn from public or private agencies, will consist of a series of "modules" of approximately 3 weeks duration. The modules will be problem oriented and will focus on specific functions and areas in public affairs in order to equip students with a range of skills needed to pursue careers in the field. Topics will vary from term to term and may include: Leadership, Decision-Making, Budgeting, Programmme Evaluation, Human Resource Development, Motivation, Conflict Resolution, Planning and Forecasting, Ethics and Public Choice, Intergovernmental Relations.

SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS C390
Special Area Study in Community and Public Affairs(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the School of Community and Public Affairs. A second-year lecture course which focuses on a specific aspect of public policy in areas of community and public affairs. Topics will vary from year to year in order to best use the areas of interest of the professional staff and visiting lecturers.

SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS C391
Special Areas Study in Community and Public Affairs(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the School of Community and Public Affairs. Students who have received credit for SCPA C390 may register for SCPA C391 provided the subject matter is different.

SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS C401
Modular Seminar II(3 credits)

Prerequisite: SCPA C301 and permission of the School of Community and Public Affairs. This seminar will normally be taken by students in their second year. Under the direction of a Resident Fellow seminars will be presented by practising professionals drawn from public or private agencies. The modules will be problem oriented and will focus on specific functions and areas in public affairs in order to equip students with a range of skills needed to pursue careers in the field.

SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS C411
Internship (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the School of community and Public Affairs. An essential part of the School's programme is a one-semester apprenticeship in some aspect of community and public affairs. After completing 60 credits of the BA programme, including a significant portion of the School's core, students are required to complete a practicum that will allow them to test their ideas in a real situation. Placements may be drawn from all areas of possible employment, including the private sector, government and community service organizations. Students are expected to participate fully in finding and defining possible internships. Employers will be asked to join in an evaluation of the work period.

SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS C412
Research Project (3 credits)

Prerequisite: SCPA C411. Students who have completed their internship are required to prepare a research brief on some aspect of their practical experience. After consulting with employers and tutors, students will select a topic or problem relevant to the job they performed. They will undertake such research and analysis as may be required by the nature of the topic and will submit their findings in a written report at the end of the academic session. Successful completion of the course will involve an oral presentation of the brief to a seminar of Fellows and Associates of the School. In unusual circumstances, SCPA C412 may be taken concurrently with SCPA C411 with permission of the School.

SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS C490
Advanced Seminar in Community and Public Affairs(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the School of Community and Public Affairs. An advanced seminar which focuses on a specific aspect of public policy in areas of community and public affairs. Topics will vary from year to year in order to best use the areas of interest of the professional staff and visiting lecturers.

SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS C491
Advanced Seminar in Community and Public Affairs(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Permission of the School of Community and Public Affairs. Students who have received credit for SCPA C490 may register for SCPA C491 provided the subject matter is different.

In the Science College, students will gain an understanding of several areas of science, while specializing in whichever one they choose. Curricular structures frequently restrict students to one discipline or another. To help overcome this, the Science College has designed a series of courses to show what practising physicists think about physics; what mathematicians do when they are thinking mathematics: - not "an introduction to", but "the state of the art".

The Science College provides an opportunity for students to become acquainted with science as practised and understood by scientists today. Its curriculum is planned to allow students to specialize in any one of the disciplines of science, while, at the same time, fulfilling the goal of the College - to provide an opportunity for research experience, for thinking about the nature of science, and for becoming aware of the style and content of the various scientific disciplines.

In the Science College, students will have the opportunity to participate in research. In order to introduce the students to the reality of scientific research, a programme of independent study has been designed which will allow the students to be involved in research in each of their university years.

In the Science College, students will be provided with an opportunity to consider the nature of science. The Science College offers courses in the intellectual and social context of science. Designed for science students in particular, these courses raise questions of interest to scientists and are based upon an understanding of the subject matter of science.

Facilities

The College has its own premises located on the twelfth floor of the Hall Building at the downtown Sir George Williams Campus. The College offers students the opportunity and facilities to discuss matters of interest among themselves and with their professors. The Science College also offers a number of courses and invites scientists to visit the University to meet College students.

Requirements for Admission to the Science College

The programme of the Science College is academically demanding, involving concentration in one discipline and a critical investigation of other aspects of science. The College is committed to serious academic work and high standards, and is planning to attract talented students who are willing to work hard in a search for an understanding of science.

The Science College represents a new departure at Concordia's downtown campus. Students must enrol in a science programme that leads to a B.Sc. degree in order to be part of the Science College. Students registered for a B.A. in Journalism are also eligible for membership in the College.

In addition to the normal requirements for admission to the University's various programmes, applicants are expected to have a good academic average. They will be considered on the basis of their academic record, and a personal interview. They will also be encouraged to submit an example of their own work for consideration.

Students must be prepared to attend courses at times outside the normal University schedule. The College is open to full-time students only.

Science College and Journalism

A limited number of students who have been admitted to the Major in Journalism programme may be allowed to register in the Science College, with a view to combining a basic understanding of science with a training in journalism. For such students, a second six-credit course in the historical, philosophical, and social aspects of science will be offered. Other members of the College will have the option of taking this course if they so desire.

Performance Requirement

Students in the College must maintain a "B" average in courses offered by the College, with no grade lower than a "C".

Further Information

Further information on the courses and activities of the Science College may be obtained either by writing to:

Concordia University
Science College
Room H-1260
1455 de Maisonneuve Blvd., West
Montreal, Quebec
H3G 1M8

or by telephoning the College office at 879-4160. Personal interviews with a Fellow of the Science College may be arranged through the Science College office.

Science College Core Curriculum

The College offers a core of courses which are required of all students. This core consists of 30 of the 90 credits normally required for a B.Sc. degree. These courses have been developed specifically for the College with the intention of providing a unique, integrated programme of education in science.

PROGRAMMES

In addition to completing the Core Curriculum, students are responsible for satisfying their particular degree requirements by completing a departmental Honours, Specialization, or Major programmme leading to a B.Sc.

The superscript indicates credit value.

30	Science College Curriculum
3	SCOL C200^3
9	Chosen from SCOL C250^3, C251^3, C252^3, C253^3
12	SCOL C290^3, C390^3, C490^{6*}
6	Chosen from SCOL C270^6, C271^6

Additionally, all Science College students are required to attend the College seminars held once weekly. College students will be expected to act as tutors to students in their departments for two hours a week in two of their three years in the University.

Students may replace SCOL C490^6 with a Departmental Honours Thesis, (6 credits) or the equivalent.*

Note: With the approval of Science College, students may replace 3 credits of the SCOL series C250, C251, C252 and C253 with a departmental science course.

COURSES

SCIENCE COLLEGE C200
Topics for Multidisciplinary Study
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Membership in the Science College, or permission of the College. The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the multiple levels at which a scientific problem can be understood. They will have the opportunity to study the interplay between scientific disciplines, the factors that distinguish the dominant approaches in each field, and the common qualities of the sciences that mark them as part of the same enterprise. The course will select one or more topics and analyze them from the viewpoint of various disciplines. Representatives of the disciplines will lecture on the different aspects. The unique contribution made by each field to the understanding of a problem will, in this way, become apparent.

SURVEY OF A SCIENTIFIC DISCIPLINE

Students are required to take 9 credits from the category of courses entitled "Survey of a Scientific Discipline". Different disciplines will be surveyed in the courses numbered SCOL C250, C251, C252, C253.

SCIENCE COLLEGE C250
Survey of a Scientific Discipline I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Membership in the Science College, or permission of the College. This course will survey one or two disciplines, these to include biology, chemistry, geology, computer science, engineering, mathematics, physics, and psychology. The form of the course may vary according to the particular discipline. The goal is to indicate the nature of the problems dealt with by a discipline at present and in the recent past, its characteristic style(s) of analysis, and the directions in which it seems to be headed.

SCIENCE COLLEGE C251
Survey of a Scientific Discipline II
(3 credits)

See description for SCOL C250 above.

SCIENCE COLLEGE C252
Survey of a Scientific Discipline III
(3 credits)

See description for SCOL C250 above.

SCIENCE COLLEGE C253
Survey of a Scientific Discipline IV
(3 credits)

See description for SCOL C250 above.

SCIENCE COLLEGE C270
Historical, Philosophical, and Social Aspects of Science I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Membership in the Science College, or permission of the College. This course will discuss the intellectual framework of science and the relationships between science and society; the political and philosophical questions inherent in the scientific process. This course is primarily intended for science students and will rely heavily on primary sources. Students will be expected to understand the scientific issues at the level at which they were originally expressed.

SCIENCE COLLEGE C271
Historical, Philosophical and Social Aspects of Science II (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Membership in the Science College or permission of the College. A student who has received credit for SCOL C270 may register for SCOL C271 provided the subject matter is different.

SCIENCE COLLEGE C290
Independent Study I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Membership in the Science College, or permission of the College. The student will work under the supervision of a member of the Faculty on either a practical laboratory project or a literature study. A formal, written report will be required.

SCIENCE COLLEGE C390
Independent Study II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Membership in the Science College, or permission of the College. A student who has completed SCOL C290 registers for SCOL C390. Students will be encouraged to work in a field different from that of their SCOL C290 project.

SCIENCE COLLEGE C490
Independent Study III (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Membership in the Science College, or permission of the College. A student who has completed SCOL C390 registers for SCOL C490. Students will be encouraged to work in a field different from that of their SCOL C290 and C390 projects.

31.560.1 SIMONE DE BEAUVOIR INSTITUTE

Founded in 1978 to promote the understanding of the historical and contemporary situation of women in society, the Simone de Beauvoir Institute of Concordia University helps women to discover and develop their potential, both by its academic base in Women's Studies and by its co-curricular activities. We are honoured that Simone de Beauvoir has authorized us to use her name and has expressed great interest in being informed of our current and future activities.

All students registered in the Major, Minor or Certificate in Women's Studies are ipso facto members of the Institute. Other undergraduate students in the Faculty of Arts and Science are welcome to become members if they undertake to complete SDEB C301, or C302 or C303 plus 6 credits in Women's Studies chosen in consultation with an Institute adviser. All members must complete the Fellows' Seminar SDEB C301, or C302 or C303 (3 credits). Members are expected to contribute to the activities of the Institute.

Students from other Faculties (graduate and undergraduate) are encouraged to become Associate Members. We attach a great deal of importance to bringing together people from diverse disciplines or who have reached different stages in their academic career.

The co-curricular life of the Institute is extremely important, and all members are expected to contribute to our activities. Exciting opportunities are available to organize workshops, colloquia and debates on subjects which interest the members, as well as to collaborate with women's organizations outside the University on research projects and other joint ventures in which we can benefit from the experience of others.

Admission Requirements for the Simone de Beauvoir Institute

Students apply simultaneously to Concordia University and the Simone de Beauvoir Institute by filling out and submitting the Concordia University Application for Admission with the box for "colleges" checked and "Simone de Beauvoir Institute" written in the space provided. The Admissions Office will inform us of your application as soon as they receive it. Further information about the Institute can be obtained by calling us at 879-8521 or at 482-0320, local 455, or by visiting our offices.

Student members of the Institute are required to complete nine credits chosen from among the Simone de Beauvoir Fellows' Seminars and the Women's Studies courses. The choice of these courses must be approved in advance by the Principal or her delegate.

Location

The main centre for the Institute is 2170 Bishop Street on the Sir George Williams Campus. It includes faculty and secretarial offices, a lounge, a reading and a seminar room; there is also a resource centre on the Loyola Campus.

COURSES

SIMONE DE BEAUVOIR 398
Fellows' Seminar I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Second-year standing and permission of the Institute. The aim of this course is to encourage students to acquaint themselves with current theoretical issues and areas of research related to women. The course will be given by the Fellows, either individually or jointly, according to their special interests and qualifications.

31.560.2 WOMEN'S STUDIES

Coordinator
E. SACCA, Associate Professor

Women's Studies encompass and modify all areas of knowledge. Through the introduction of new perspectives and new research, this field of study helps to correct and complete the traditional scholarly record. It is in essence interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary since the specificity of the condition of women embraces all existing disciplines. It thus questions the concept and structures of knowledge contained within the disciplinary boundaries and contributes to bringing about a reunification of the knowledge and scholarship that has become increasingly fragmented.

The objectives of programmes in Women's Studies may be summarized as follows: to raise fundamental questions about women in society, using a scientific and academic approach; to stimulate interest in and support of research topics relevant to women and social change; to investigate our socio-political and cultural backgrounds and their effect on the status of women; to engage in a continuous evaluation of research into the history, conditions and changing needs of women; to promote the understanding of the historical and contemporary role of women in society; to encourage a new and full recognition of the contribution of women to human achievement; to ensure that women and issues of gender are studied in a non-discriminatory manner as part of the curriculum either in separate distinguishable Women's Studies courses or in courses so modified as to give women's perspective its rightful place; to strengthen and widen women's rights by providing the conditions which allow women to exercise those rights; to ensure the equality of all individuals without distinction of race, sex, age, language or religion and thus transform society.

Students may transfer into the Certificate programme up to twelve credits earned in an incomplete degree or certificate programme or as an Independent or Special student, provided they are students in good standing. The credits that may be so transferred are determined by the University at the point of entry into the programme.

COURSES

WOMEN'S STUDIES C290
Woman's Identity and Image: Historic Attitudes (3 credits)

Women's Studies, because of its emerging yet rapidly developing nature, both affects and transcends pre-existing disciplines. On the one hand, this course will show, in a historical context, how by the use of new developments in various disciplines, fresh light can be shed on traditional assumptions. On the other, it will study not only the "mirror image" of women as found in certain male writings but also the images women have projected of themselves and the reasons underlying those projections. Topics may include: the witch question; the place of women in ecclesiastic reforms; the "blue stockings"; women and contraception; women and public life; women and education; women and socialism; theories of the family; the economic status of women; elitist feminism.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C290 may not take this course for credits.

WOMEN'S STUDIES C291
Woman's Identity and Image: Recent Approaches (3 credits)

Again, by using new tools, culled from various disciplines, this course will look at the recent history of women; in particular, the diverse ways in which they have struggled to attain autonomy and the obstacles confronting them. Particular attention will be paid at the end of the course to questions involving women and language. Topics may include: women and revolution; women and work; theories of caste and class; changes in the status of women; women and personhood; women and their bodies; women and language; women and the national question.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C291 may not take this course for credits.

WOMEN'S STUDIES 398
Selected Topics in Women's Studies I (3 credits)

This course focuses its attention on one or more aspects of the Women's Studies programme. The theme and methodology chosen will depend upon the background and interests of the instructor. Students are advised to consult with the Women's Studies coordinator before registering, in order to be sure of the special subject of the course in any one session. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C390 may not take this course for credits.

WOMEN'S STUDIES 498
Seminar in Women's Studies I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing. This is an interdisciplinary seminar on selected themes related to women in society, utilizing the perspectives of a number of academic disciplines. The emphasis is on independent study. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

NOTE: Students who have received credit for INTE C491 may not take this course for credits.

The following departmental courses are also offered as components of the programmes in Women's Studies.

61.20 Admission Requirements

General admission requirements are listed in §13.

Specific requirements for admission to the Faculty of Commerce & Administration for students in CEGEP are Mathematics 103, 105, 203, or equivalent. Arrangements will be made in the first-year programme to give special instruction to those students who lack adequate mathematical preparation.

Individuals accepted under the provisions of the extended credit programme will be required to complete the following additional 30 credits within their first year:

MATH C208	3 credits
MATH C209	3 credits
MATH C211	3 credits
ENGL C211 or an appropriate alternative	6 credits
*electives	15 credits
TOTAL	30 credits

These electives must be selected from outside the offerings of the Faculty of Commerce and Administration, but not from disciplines represented in its degree programmes.*

61.20.1 BACHELOR DEGREE PROGRAMMES

The Faculty of Commerce and Administration offers two distinct Bachelor programmes. The Bachelor of Commerce (BComm) degree is the more structured "professional" type programme in which the student will select a Major from those offered in Commerce or Economics. The Bachelor of Administration (BAdmin) degree is a less structured "liberal" type programme which permits the student to pursue interests outside the Faculty, and offers the possibility of complementing a fundamental grounding in Administration with minor concentrations in an area of interest. Degree requirements listed below apply to all students entering the programme on or after June 1, 1976.

61.20.2 CORE REQUIREMENTS

The required 51-credit core is identical for both programmes and comprises the following courses:

1st Year
ACCOUNTANCY C213
QUANTITATIVE METHODS C243
ECONOMICS C201
MANAGEMENT C213
MARKETING C213
ACCOUNTANCY C218
QUANTITATIVE METHODS C244

NOTE: Students are responsible for following the correct sequence of courses required for the completion of a particular programme.

61.20.3 BACHELOR OF COMMERCE PROGRAMME

This programme provides the student with an education for business life. It is our intention to graduate students liberally educated about business. To accomplish this, we have designed a multi-disciplinary and interdisciplinary curriculum which is intellectually challenging.

The first year of the programme is intended to provide an informative accumulation of operational attitudes, skills, and tools which form the base for the core concentration.

The core concentration in the second year attempts to give broad experience in all phases of business in a coordinated, analytical, and reflective period of study. All the resources of the student's intellectual ability are combined with his interdisciplinary studies to analyze, formulate, judge, and solve challenging business situations.

The last year of the programme is intended to provide students with an opportunity to immerse themselves in an area of specialized study. In addition, students participate in a course which is designed to test their ability to integrate their knowledge and to view the study of business as a whole.

In view of this design, all students must follow the sequence of the courses on the basis of an academic year as outlined in the curriculum. No student will be permitted to register for second- or third-year courses without having completed the courses of the first academic year.

Exceptions may be authorized in writing for valid reasons by the Dean or Academic Adviser.

Degree Requirements*

To obtain the degree of Bachelor of Commerce, all students are required to follow a Major Programme. A Major consists of at least 24 credits in the chosen discipline in addition to the required 51-credit core. The remaining credits are unrestricted electives and may be selected to form a Minor programme if applicable. Major and Minor programmes are available in the following areas:

NOTE: There are no double majors or double minors in the Faculty of Commerce and Administration.

The Faculty plans to introduce an overall minimum performance level requirement in the near future.*

The Faculty may impose quotas on some majors.

Students will indicate their preferred field of concentration at the time of application for entry. It should be noted, however, that since the programme of study of the first year is common to all programmes, students may change to another programme provided, of course, that the capacity of the programme permits it.

[1]This programme is not open to students registered in a programme leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Commerce or Bachelor of Administration.

Students of this Faculty who elect to major in any of the disciplines of the Faculty or Economics will be enrolled in a Bachelor of Commerce degree programme.

*BACHELOR OF ADMINISTRATION	Specialization
General Administration (60 credits)	X

30 credits must be selected from courses outside the Faculty of Commerce and Administration, but at least 15 credits must be beyond the introductory level.

Both degrees have a common core of 51 credits out of a total of 90 credits.*

Students may follow an Honours in Economics, but they must obtain approval from the Arts and Science Faculty (Department of Economics).*

61.20.4 BACHELOR OF ADMINISTRATION PROGRAMME

The Bachelor of Administration Programme is designed to develop problem-solvers and decision-makers in all walks of life.

A successful graduate is able to develop objectives and strategies, organize people and resources, direct an organization's activities and control these activities, and appraise objectives and strategies in the light of results.

The programme has been made flexible enough to allow a student to develop according to his own needs.

This programme provides the student with a fundamental grounding in administration and offers the opportunity to pursue varied interests among courses offered by the University.

Degree Requirements*

To obtain the degree of Bachelor of Administration, students are required to complete the 51-credit core and 9 elected credits from Commerce and/or Economics to complete the 60 credits required for Specialization. The remaining 30 credits must be selected from courses outside the Faculty of Commerce and Administration, but at least half of these must be beyond the introductory level.

The Faculty plans to introduce an overall minimum performance level requirement in the near future.*

61.30 General Information

Old Credit Programme (Transition)

Students who have enrolled in a programme at this Faculty prior to June 1, 1976 will complete the programme as shown in the University Announcement 1975/1976. For substitution of courses not offered in the new programme, students will consult with representatives of the respective departments.

Failures

Students are cautioned that a failure in a first-term course will prohibit them from proceeding to a second-term course for which the first is a prerequisite. Students who find themselves in this position must drop the second-term course and register in a section of the failed course, if available.

There will be a course-change period at the beginning of the second term, at which time students failing in the above category must make arrangements with the Office of the Registrar for the necessary course changes.

NOTE: THERE ARE NO SUPPLEMENTAL EXAMINATIONS IN THE FACULTY OF COMMERCE AND ADMINISTRATION.

French Language

The business community, as well as governments, now express a preference for university graduates who are bilingual. We, therefore, advise all students to take advantage of the opportunities available during their years at this University to ensure that they are bilingual when they present themselves for employment upon graduation.

Courses/Non Commerce Students

Students not registered in the Faculty of Commerce & Administration, who wish to undertake any courses offered by the Faculty, but do not have the stated prerequisites, must obtain permission in writing from the Student Request Committee, Faculty of Commerce prior to registration.

61.40.2 COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

ACCOUNTANCY C213
Financial I (3 credits)

This course examines the theory and practice involved in recording and reporting an organization's financial information for interested parties. It includes the preparation and analysis of financial statements. This course is required for all Commerce and Administration students and is recommended for non-Commerce and Administration students, particularly those considering graduate studies in business administration. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C217
Financial and Managerial (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C213. This course is designed to develop, through verbal analysis of business cases, an understanding and skill in the preparation of statements for financial accounting purposes, taking into account the needs of business management. The student must be able to analyze these statements and comment critically thereon. NOTE A/See §200.2

NOTE: Major and Honours students in Accountancy may not take this course for credits.

ACCOUNTANCY C218
Managerial I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C213. This course is an introduction to the development of accounting information for purposes of control, decision making, and the more efficient operation of the enterprise. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C220
An Accounting Approach to Management (3 credits)

This course is designed to cover certain major aspects of management related to the accounting process. These include: business organization; accounting concepts; financial statement analysis; management uses of accounting information; and the effect of taxation on business decisions. NOTE A/See §200.2

NOTE: Commerce and Administration students may not take this course for credits.

ACCOUNTANCY C221
Accounting and Management (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C220. This course is sequential to ACCO C220, and examines in greater depth the areas covered in that course. NOTE A/See §200.2

NOTE: Commerce and Administration students may not take this course for credits.

ACCOUNTANCY C323
Intermediate I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C213. This course extends, at a senior level, the material covered in earlier courses, integrating the previous work with advanced theory and application. Intensive study is made of the theory and practice of external reporting by commercial and other entities. Concepts and procedures involved in the valuation of resources are studied, as are the concepts of income determination. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C325
Advanced (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C326, previously or concurrently. This advanced course is concerned primarily with corporate combinations. A study is also made of other advanced accounting areas. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C326
Intermediate II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C323. This course continues the intensive study of Intermediate I, with particular emphasis on obligations, funds statements, and financial statement analysis.

ACCOUNTANCY C403
Cost and Management Accounting
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C218 and C323. This course, based primarily on lectures and problem-solving, is directed to the needs of students who contemplate careers in professional accounting as members of recognized accounting bodies. A detailed examination is made of the various techniques, systems, and procedures applicable to the managerial use of accounting information for decision-making, profit-planning, and control. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C407
Accounting Practice and Policy (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C323. Corequisite: ACCO C326, C410, C429, and C432. Areas previously or concurrently covered in the field of corporate financial reporting are extended, and current accounting literature and pronouncements of professional accounting bodies are examined. Extensive use is made of the case method of instruction. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C410
Specialized (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C326. In this course, an examination is made of some of the specialized aspects of financial accounting. The course focuses on the application of accounting principles and theory to "unusual" business transactions and entities.

ACCOUNTANCY C414
Information Systems and Control
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C218. This course includes information systems theory, control theory and practice, responsibility accounting, and a survey of selected management science techniques. Through case analysis and discussions, the interrelationships between information and control systems, managerial style, and human behaviour are established. NOTE A/See §200.2

NOTE: Introductory-level knowledge of computer systems is recommended.

ACCOUNTANCY C422
Cost and Management Accounting (Advanced) (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C403. This course, through cases and problems, continues at an advanced level the study of modern cost and managerial accounting systems, and emphasizes the contemporary problems facing accountants, and their potential solutions by the use of sophisticated techniques. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C429
Analytical Auditing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C326. This course introduces auditing theory and its application by external and internal auditors in fulfilling their respective objectives and responsibilities. The focus is on the audit of transactions or procedures used by organizations. An analytical approach is used to discuss different accounting systems and to evaluate systems of internal control. The development and use of detailed audit procedures and audit programmes is also covered. Cases and problem solving form the basis of student involvement in this course. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C432
Financial Auditing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C429. This course emphasizes the role of the public accountant in expressing an opinion on the financial statements of an organization. The use of audit standards, procedures, and internal control is related to the expression of an auditor's opinion. Cases and problems solving form the basis of student involvement in this course. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C433
Auditing and Investigation (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C429. This course deals with questions related to professional accounting practices and also covers different types of management services that auditors are frequently requested to undertake. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C441
Taxation I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C213. This course examines the Canadian taxation structure. Emphasis is given to the income taxes levied on individuals, and includes the taxation of capital gains, employment, business, and investment income. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C442
Taxation II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C441. This course extends the coverage of ACCO C441 with a detailed examination of taxes on corporate incomes, and of corporate distributions. Sales taxes, succession duties, and other tax areas are also examined. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C451
Computer Auditing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMP211 or equivalent, and ACCO C429. This course explores the impact of large scale computer use on the auditor and his examination of a company's records and systems of internal control. The emphasis is on helping the auditor understand when a computer can be used to assist him and how to follow through with its use. Topics covered include the different controls and techniques required in a computer system, the audit trail, approaches to computer auditing and computer application for auditing, computer and software security, and consideration of the various computerized audit packages available. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C461
Accounting Theory I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C325. This course examines the framework underlying current accounting thinking and procedures. A study is made of the development and the influence of professional accounting organizations and regulatory bodies on accounting theory. Controversial areas are emphasized. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C462
Accounting Theory II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C461. This course extends the coverage of ACCO C461. Particular emphasis is placed on developments in the current literature and in problem areas facing the accounting profession.

ACCOUNTANCY C468
(Also listed under International Business)
International Accounting (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C462; ACCO C218; FINA C315. (Students who have taken International Business C468 may not take this course for credit.)

This course examines accounting practices employed by different countries; accounting and financial control of international operations, and various consolidation procedures and their effect on the interpretation of financial statements are discussed.

ACCOUNTANCY C470
Special Topics in Accounting (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department. Intended to complement and supplement accounting courses taken previously or concurrently at the senior level, this course emphasizes accounting literature and modern thought. Students are encouraged to work independently on research topics of interest to them. Enrolment is restricted and is subject to departmental approval. NOTE A/See §200.2

ACCOUNTANCY C471
Accounting Seminar (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ACCO C470. This course examines in greater depth areas of individual interest. Enrolment is restricted and is subject to departmental approval. Students repeating ACCO C471 register for credits under ACCO C472. NOTE A/See §200.2

61.50 Administration

ADMINISTRATION C201
Introduction to Administration
(Administered by the Finance Department)
(3 credits)

This course is intended to develop a basic understanding of the role of administration in our society. The course includes a survey of different forms of organizations, their social and legal responsibilities, and how they function to achieve their goals.

NOTE: Commerce and Administration students may not take this course for credit.

ADMINISTRATION C202
Perspective on Business
(Administered by the Finance Department)
(3 credits)

This course is designed to review the historical development of business (in Canada in particular) and to examine the relationships between the firm (management) and the owners, the employees, the customers, the government, and the community. Further, it studies some of the problems facing Canadian business today: the dehumanizing aspect, pollution problems, large vs. small firms, foreign ownership, competition, etc.

MANAGEMENT C369
Canadian Business and its Environment (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C244; ECON C203; MANA C213; MANA C266; MARK C213; FINA C314. The purpose of this course is to examine the functioning of Canadian business and its relationships with its public, including stockholders, consumers, employees, labour, community, and government. Major contemporary issues, such as the impact of technology on people and the physical environment, are examined. NOTE A/See §200.2

MANAGEMENT C402
Supervisory Practice (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MANA C340. A seminar focusing on the emerging understanding of leadership and supervisory techniques in task-oriented organizations. Contemporary concepts and research on leadership and supervision will be examined. The seminar will analyze the multiple bases for influence and the situational or contingency aspects of leadership. A balance among the conceptual, diagnostic, and experiential approaches to the development of supervisory capability will be emphasized.

MANAGEMENT C409
Principles of Insurance (3 credits)

This course examines the growth of insurance companies in Canada and their effect upon the economy. In addition, the basic fundamentals of insurance are covered, including such topics as life insurance, income replacement, annuities, group insurance, liability, auto, fire, and theft insurance. Practical applications and use of insurance dealing with both personal and business situations will be noted. NOTE A/See §200.2

MANAGEMENT C420
Business Research Methods (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MANA C340, QUAN C244. This seminar focuses on the means by which social and organizational data can be gathered, analyzed, and interpreted. Needs of the firm for efficient, timely, and unobtrusive research are given special attention. Topic coverage includes applications of the scientific method, research design, field research techniques, data analysis, research utilization, and use of existing information sources. Student projects will parallel the classroom activities by designing and conducting business research studies of limited scale.

MANAGEMENT C441
Conflict Management (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MANA C340. An administrative approach to the study of interpersonal, intergroup, and intra-organizational conflict. Utilizes lectures, case studies, and interaction exercises to convey theory, empirical research, and applications.

The problems encountered by general managers as well as middle managers in the process of the implementation of the set policies will be studied. NOTE A/See §200.2

MANAGEMENT C462
Personnel Management I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MANA C340. The aim of this course is to provide a sound background in fundamentals, theory, principles and practice of personnel management. It will focus on the philosophies underlying current personnel policy and practices. NOTE A/See §200.2

MANAGEMENT C463
Personnel Management II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MANA C462. The course will focus on the techniques of: recruitment, selection, training, executive development, labour relations, performance appraisal, and compensation administration.

MANAGEMENT C464
Labour and Industrial Relations I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C340. Labour relations is a survey course designed to provide a practical and comprehensive approach to the state of labour-management relations in Canada. NOTE A/See §200.2

MANAGEMENT C465
Collective Bargaining and Industrial Relations II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C464. This course is designed to help the student to look at day-to-day problems connected with negotiation and administration of collective bargaining agreements. The course puts some stress on the behavioural aspects of industrial relations. NOTE A/See §200.2

MANAGEMENT C466
(Also listed under International Business)
Management of Multinational Corporations (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MARK C462, MANA C340. (Students who have taken International Business C466 may not take this course for credit.)

This is a course that demonstrates the analytical tools of operations and organization theory applicable within a multinational company. The course is designed to give students a grasp of the problems of strategy formulation and organization, and inculcates a general knowledge of the major parameters in which an international manager operates. Focus is on the Canadian as well as other international companies based in U.S.A., Europe, Japan, etc.

MANAGEMENT C467
Management Theory - Advanced (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C266. This course will attempt to develop further the conceptual framework which was established in Management Theory I. To this end, it will examine selected management concepts and appraise their value in terms of their application to the actual practice of business. Issues such as the effect of innovation and technological change, managing the knowledge worker, organization planning, and comparative management will be considered. NOTE A/See §200.2

MANAGEMENT C468
North American Labour Movements (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C464. This course focuses on the evolution of the labour movements in the U.S., Canada and Quebec since 1945. The structure and philosophy of American, Canadian and Quebec unions since that date will also be analyzed. The similarities and dissimilarities of the labour movements in the U.S., Canada and Quebec, their impact on society, and the emerging role of the state in union affairs will also be covered.

MANAGEMENT C469
Industrial Relations in the Public Sector (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C464. Historically, the government plays a third party role in collective bargaining. But as the state emerges as the largest employer in advanced industrial society, its combined roles as employer and mediator demand clarification and modernization. This course analyzes the development of the state as an employer, the growth of public sector unionism, and the impact of public sector collective bargaining on the private sector. Emphasis will be on the Quebec and Canadian experiences, with comparisons made to public sector industrial relations in other countries as well.

MANAGEMENT C470
Comparative Industrial Relations Systems (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C464. This course begins by presenting and contrasting the major theories of labour-management-state competition for control of the work situation. It then moves to applying those theories to national industrial relations systems in advanced industrial capitalist societies, in developed state socialist societies, and in underdeveloped societies.

MANAGEMENT C471
Issues in Quebec Industrial Relations (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C464. In this course, the focus is on industrial relations in specific industrial sectors in Quebec, stressing the impact of interests and forces outside the sector which influence the nature of industrial relations within it. The specific sectors will be chosen each term by the instructor and the students in order to respond to special interests of the students.

MANAGEMENT C472
Grievance, Arbitration and Collective Agreements (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C464. What is the nature and limits of a collective agreement? What can be covered and what not? This courses discusses these questions and then goes on to analyze the grievance process and the various forms of grievance arbitration from technical and social perspectives.

MANAGEMENT C474
Institutional Administration (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C340. Management of institutions and agencies in the non-profit (private and public) sector presents unique opportunities and challenges to the manager. This class will provide an introduction to that field. Emphasis will be given to those characteristics of the organization and functioning of these programmes which distinguish them from commercial firms, including the peculiar nature of human services, and the influence of social-political processes. Class activities will utilize theoretical and case material and field observations. Student projects will concentrate on policy formulation and administrative function in an agency of the student's choice.

MANAGEMENT C475
Business Law I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: QUAN C244; ECON C203; MANA C213; MANA C266; MARK C213; FINA C314. This course deals with the Canadian and Quebec Law governing business organizations, and the Quebec Civil Law concerning property, contracts, sales, lease, agency, commercial paper, consumer protection, regulation of finance, warranties and product liability, civil responsibility and obligations. It is essentially the body of law governing the relationships among businessmen, and between businessmen and consumers; i.e., private business law.

MANAGEMENT C476
Business Law II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C475. Federal and provincial government regulation of business, including bankruptcy, anti-combines, trade marks and patents, labour law, insurance, special commercial contracts including secured transactions, fair employment, environmental law.

MANAGEMENT C477
The Law of Insolvency and Secured Transactions (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C475. An examination of the various laws and cases, both Federal and Provincial, across Canada, governing commercial insolvency, with particular emphasis upon the liability of directors and officers, and the creditor's rights in bankruptcy, including the role of inspectors and the trustee. An examination of the various forms of secured transactions, of which creditors may avail themselves, more particularly financial institutions, including assignment of book debts, pledge, mortgages, bonds, trust deeds.

MANAGEMENT C478
Company Law (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C475. The examination of important legal issues relating to the business corporation, including an analysis of their legal nature and structure, and the powers, rights, and obligations of directors, officers, and shareholders, including analysis of the legal implications, insider trading, company re-organization, mergers, joint ventures, and takeovers. These matters will be studied through the Federal, Quebec, and Ontario Companies' Acts and relevant court cases.

MANAGEMENT C479
Labour Law (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MANA C475. A study of the law and relevant court cases dealing with major labour-management issues, including collective bargaining, union certification, strikes, lock-outs, grievances, and arbitration. Covers Canadian law, primarily that of Quebec.

MANAGEMENT C499
Special Topics in Administration (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department. Intended to complement and supplement business courses taken previously or concurrently, this course emphasizes business literature and modern thought. Students are encouraged to work independently on research topics of interest to them. Students repeating MANA C499 register for credits under MANA C498. NOTE A/See §200.2

61.90.2 COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

MARKETING C213
The Marketing Process (Introductory)
(3 credits)

The course examines the nature of marketing and its role in society, as well as the interrelationships that are operative within the marketing process—both externally as related to society and the consumer, and internally as related to the organization of the marketing process within the firm. Many of the factors influencing these relationships are also examined. NOTE A/See §200.2

MARKETING C350
Marketing Management (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C213. An introduction to the managerial concepts and practices involved in planning and carrying out corporate marketing policies and strategies. The four basic elements of the marketing mix, product, price, promotion and distribution and their interrelationships will be examined in detail. The case method will also be used in order to apply these concepts to realistic marketing problems.

MARKETING C351
Transportation and Marketing Logistics (3 credits)

This course will deal with economic principles underlying the various modes of transport: i.e., rail, water, motor, air, and pipeline. Current problems of each will be discussed. In addition a survey of the principles of business logistics will be covered. Cases will be utilized when possible. NOTE A/See §200.2

NOTE: Students with credits for Administration C350 may not take this course for credit.

MARKETING C352
Buyer Behaviour (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C213 and QUAN C243. This course analyzes the motivations, roles, and behaviour of the consumers, how they are affected by economic, social, and cultural influences, and how the marketer may model this behaviour for decision-making purposes. NOTE A/See §200.2

MARKETING C402
Marketing Research I (Methods) (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C350 and QUAN C244. The role of research in the marketing process, the role of models, and the development of measurement techniques are discussed. Emphasis is placed on the nature and scope of marketing research methods for obtaining internal and external data, and on the steps and principles involved in gathering and analyzing data. The student is also briefly introduced to applications of marketing research. NOTE A/See §200.2

MARKETING C452
Marketing Research II (Application) (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C402. The application of marketing research to problem areas such as advertising, sales management and product strategy. Alternative research designs are applied to actual problems. NOTE A/See §200.2

MARKETING C453
Advertising and Sales Promotion Management (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C350. The course deals with the theory and practice of advertising and sales promotion, from three viewpoints: the nature of services provided by advertising agencies, the needs of the advertiser and those of society in economic, ethical and legal issues. Emphasis will be placed on the communications process and the role of advertising and sales promotion within the marketing mix. All aspects of the development of an advertising campaign will be developed in detail: objectives, media, creative, budgeting, research and evaluation of effectiveness. NOTE A/See §200.2

MARKETING C454
Sales Management (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C350. The course deals with the theoretical and applied aspects of management of personal selling. Through cases, simulations and special presentations the student learns how to recruit, select, train, organize, motivate, evaluate, compensate, supervise, and control the sales forces. NOTE A/See §200.2

MARKETING C462
(Also listed under International Business)
Environment of World Business (3 credits)

Prerequisite: 30 credits in the Faculty of Commerce and Administration. (Students who have taken International Business C362 may not take this course for credit.)

This is a foundation course in international business; the objective is to present information which will expose the student to cultural, social, political, economic, legal, and financial environments in which the Canadian businessman manages his operations abroad. Each student will be encouraged to develop his own philosophy toward international business activities by developing research and analytical skills in analyzing current and long-term problems perceived in different economic systems and environments. Specific topics include empirical dimensions of world economy, economic development, international trade and investment patterns, regional economic co-operation, area studies, Canadian nationalism, and foreign investment in Canada, etc.

MARKETING C463
Retail Management (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C350. This course seeks to apply the theories of marketing and administration to the retail situation. Topics to be covered include site selection for single and multi-unit retail outlets, organizing and staffing the retail operation, the wholesaler-retailer relationship, consumer behaviour in the retail situation. The impact of such new developments as consumer cooperatives, franchising, discounting, and computer technology on the future of retailing will also be considered. NOTE A/See §200.2

MARKETING C464
Consumerism (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C350. The current evolution of marketing and consumerism is subjected to critical evaluation and analytical review. Problem areas which may be examined include: marketing costs and efficiency, the social objectives of and objections to marketing, the impact of marketing on the environment, the 'pollution of advertising', ethics of marketers, and the role of governments in the market place. NOTE A/See §200.2

MARKETING C465
(Also listed under International Business)
International Marketing Management (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C462; MARK C350. (Students who have taken International Business C465 may not take this course for credit). This course studies the management approach to international marketing, with emphasis on key variables that are controllable by the international marketing manager. Attention is focused on market measurement, product policy, channels, pricing, and promotion, with special emphasis on the development and control of multinational marketing strategies and programmes.

MARKETING C485
Industrial Marketing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C350. The course will focus on the managerial aspects of industrial marketing. The concept of organization buying behaviour and its impact on marketing strategy formulation will be discussed. Management of the industrial marketing mix considering product service development, intelligence, promotion, channels, and performance measurement will be covered, both in existing product lines and new product-launch activities.

MARKETING C486
Product Management (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C350. In addition to analyzing product cycles and their characteristics and strategies which relate to each stage, this course delves into some of the more practical aspects of product policy-setting strategy formulation of the analysis, development, and execution of marketing programmes for new and existing products. This course should make the student familiar with one or more product management operations through case discussions and/or field studies.

MARKETING C490
Marketing Policy (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MARK C213; MARK C350 and 9 additional credits in Marketing courses. A capstone course in Marketing, utilizing readings, projects, and selected case studies requiring the student to incorporate concepts and techniques of previous marketing courses in determining marketing policy. NOTE A/See §200.2

MARKETING C491
Special Topics Seminar (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department. This seminar is an inquiry into various selected topics which will vary from year to year. Students repeating MARK C491 register for credits under MARK C492. NOTE A/See §200.2

61.100.2 COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C221
Introduction to Data Processing (3 credits)

Prerequisite: None. An introductory course, to provide elementary computer literacy for students interested in the applications of computers in business and industry. Topics will include: the evolution of the computer; its functional organization, and related input and output; file organization and processing methods; how business applications may be designed for computers; the impact of computers on management; concepts of computer programming and the related methods of problem-solution planning; and an introduction to the BASIC programming language, including a number of programming assignments using the computer.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C223
BASIC Language Programming (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C221 or COMP C211 or equivalent. The BASIC programming language will be studied in detail, with applications to mathematical as well as data-processing problems. Elementary and advanced features of the language, as implemented on the CDC Cyber computer system, will be fully covered. Emphasis will be on the structured design of interactive programmes with proper documentation and user interface.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C243
Introductory Business Statistics I
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C208; MATH C209 previously or concurrently. (Students admitted from CEGEP with the 10.12 profile are eligible for direct entry into QUAN C243.) The objectives of the course are to introduce the student to some basic concepts of statistics in managerial decision-making, planning and analysis of data. Topics covered include: descriptive measures, frequency distribution analysis, probability theory, probability distributions, sampling theory, estimation and hypothesis testing. All examples will be derived from the functional areas of business, including Finance, Accounting, Marketing, Production, etc. Special attention will be paid to simple applications of sample designs in business. NOTE See §200.7

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C244
Introductory Business Statistics II
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C243. This course offers further development of probability and statistical concepts needed for management decisions. Topics covered include regression and correlation analysis, forecasting and smoothing techniques, time-series analysis, indices and analysis of variance. The usefulness of these techniques in managerial applications will be discussed with examples, problems and cases. NOTE See §200.7

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C313
Managerial Operations Research (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C244; MATH C211. (Students admitted from CEGEP with the 10.12 profile are exempt from MATH C211.)

This course is an introduction to operations research and its applications to the functional areas of administration. The basic model is Linear Programming. We discuss formulations, graphical and algebraic solutions, sensitivity analyses and the use of a computer package for solving large-scale problems. The related transportation, assignment, and integer programming problems are also discussed.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C314
Operations Research and Production Systems (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C313. This course surveys several operations research and production models and their applications. The basic areas covered are: Project Management, Decision Theory, Inventory and Production Models, Simulation, Waiting-line models, Dynamic Programming, and Markov processes. The tools of probability analysis will be used.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C316
Optimization Techniques (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C313. This course deals with optimization techniques in Management Sciences. It includes: linear programming, simplex algorithm, sensitivity testing and duality, postoptimality analysis, separable programming, dynamic programming, integer programming, stochastic programming. Management applications, such as portfolio selection, capital budgeting, production smoothing, inventory scheduling, competitive strategies, regeneration models will be given particular attention.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C327
Business Systems (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C221. This course discusses the following: Concepts of system structuring, using various types of structure charts and models; computer-based information systems and other business organizations considered as systems and sets of sub-systems; positive and negative feedback and control; other general system concepts and types of charting techniques.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C345
Business Decision Analysis (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C244. This course deals with the analysis of choices under uncertainty. It provides a coverage of Bayesian inference, decision theory, prior, posterior, and pre-posterior distributions (discrete and continuous). It includes the analysis of uncertain payoffs and biased measurements, analytical utility functions and their properties; the use of judgment probability and the principle of substitution for strategies. Economics of sampling, risk sharing, group decision will also be considered. Examples of decision making in production planning, research and development, manpower planning, finance, etc., will be presented and discussed.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C353
Mathematical Analysis for Business—Calculus (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C208; MATH C209. The various applications of differential and integral calculus and the use of difference and differential equations in the functional areas of management; e.g. production, marketing, accounting, finance, personnel administration, and purchasing will be studied. NOTE A/See §200.2

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C354
Mathematical Analysis for Business—Matrix Algebra (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C208; MATH C209. Properties and applications of matrix algebra in the functional areas of management; e.g., production, marketing, accounting and finance, personnel administration, and purchasing will be studied. Special applications (e.g. Input-Output Analysis) will be explored. NOTE A/See §200.2

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C365
Production Systems I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C313. In this course, an introduction to production systems of the enterprise is presented. Topics include: technology and design, forecasting, allocation of resources, scheduling, work methods and measurement, location problems, plant layout and materials handling, process control and quality control.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C412
Network Models (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C313. The course includes the fundamentals of graph theory; Euler graphs and "Chinese postman" problems; Hamiltonian graphs and "travelling salesman" tours; shortest-route problems; maximal and feasible static and dynamic flows and circulations in networks. Applications will be studied in the fields of scheduling, input-output models and optimal plant locations.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C414
Analytical Methods in Public Decision Making (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C314. The course surveys applications of Operations Research in the public sector. Efficiency and effectiveness issues in police deployment, municipal resource allocation, health care and criminal justice models are discussed. Equity and cost-benefit analysis are considered. Experience in Canada and other countries will be studied, using the tools of calculus, statistics, operations research and economics.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C415
Non-Linear Programming (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C313. This course will introduce some fundamental concepts in non-linear optimization. The topics covered will include: convexity, formulation of non-linear problems, identification of optimal points, unconstrained and constrained optimization techniques. Emphasis throughout the course will be placed on business-related problems.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C416
Inventory, Replacement, Maintenance Models (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C314. This course covers deterministic inventory models, stochastic inventory models, special structures of inventory control practice; replacement of items which deteriorate with time; replacement of items which fail suddenly; staffing problems; maintenance models; reliability theory; analysis of operational warranty techniques; renewal theory and managerial applications.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C417
Commercial Software (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C223 or QUAN C421 or COMP C221 or COMP C251 or COMP C341. A study of a representative sample of the software programme packages available commercially for use in business applications, including systems packages, such as file management, payroll, inventory, and bill-of-materials; control packages, such as critical-path scheduling, linear programming, and simulation. Sources of software; criteria for evaluating and choosing packages; implementation, maintenance, and modification of packages. Class and individual projects on the use of typical packages.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C421
R.P.G. Programming (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C223 or COMP C221 or COMP C251 or COMP C341. R.P.G. stands for Report Program Generator. This course is designed to teach the students the logic of the R.P.G. compiler. The knowledge gained in class will be utilized to solve problems and write about 5 programmes geared for the business environment. There will be 3 lecture hours per week and approximately 5 to 10 hours of programming and debugging per week outside class.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C422
Information Function Management (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C221 or COMP C211; and QUAN C424 or ACCO C414 or COMP C455. The theory and practice of management as applied in commercial data processing. Planning for new business systems and computers; the feasibility study; the computer as an aid in planning; the organization of a data centre; staffing the data centre; job description and job specifications; maintenance and security; control methods for operation, data entry, processing and output.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C423
The Management of Computer Programming (3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMP C251. The role of the programmer in a business information system will be surveyed, including the following topics: design and specification of a programme; planning and structuring a programme; documentation; testing procedures; maintenance programming; standard code modules; the history of programme development; job specifications and qualifications for a programmer; and the organization of large programming projects. A complete business application system will be programmed as a class team project.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C424
Information System Analysis and Design I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C221; QUAN C327 previously or concurrently. This course discusses the techniques of system analysis and evaluation applied to management information systems. Topics will include: basic concepts of management information systems and the impact of computers on managerial functions; where to computerize information in business; interactive and batch-mode transaction processing; file types and access methods, and the database concept; maintaining quality, economy, security and integrity in an information system; programming facilities and methodologies; methods of evaluating existing systems or proposed modifications. NOTE A/See §200.2

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C425
Information System Analysis and Design II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C221 or COMP C211; QUAN C424 or ACCO C414 or COMP C455; QUAN C327 previously or concurrently. This course discusses: techniques of business information system design; the different conventional applications of the computer such as production, inventory control, order entry, invoicing, accounting, and sales reporting; inter-relations among the various applications. Approximately half of the course grade will be based on the study of a particular application case, by students individually or in small groups. NOTE A/See §200.2

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C426
Business System Simulation (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C223 or COMP C211; QUAN C327. Computer simulations of stochastic and deterministic systems will be studied, using procedural languages such as FORTRAN and BASIC, and also special simulation-oriented languages. Topics will include the collection and preliminary analysis of input data; verification; validation; design of model experiments; and the analysis and presentation of the results. Students will study and simulate a real-life situation.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C433
Topics in Quantitative Methods (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department. This course is intended primarily for Majors students, and allows opportunity for more intensive examination of one or more particular topics in quantitative methods. The specific subject will vary according to the special interest of the professor offering the course in any given year. NOTE A/See §200.2

NOTE: Students repeating QUAN C433 register for credits under QUAN C434.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C444
Business Experimental Analysis (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C244; QUAN C223 or COMP C211. This course deals with the design and the analysis of experiments relevant to the decision-maker in management fields. It includes analysis of variance, orthogonal classification, factorial experiments, block designs, mixed models, replication, calibration studies, economics of experimentation, non-parametric statistical inference, discriminant analysis. All functional areas of management application will be considered and used as examples and in cases.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C447
Statistical Forecasting (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C244; QUAN C223 or COMP C211. This course presents the foundations of applied time-series analysis for managerial forecasting. It includes forecasting methods and objectives; fundamental concepts in time-series analysis; models for stationary time-series; model for nonstationary time-series; models for seasonal time-series; Box and Jenkins methods; forecast evaluation.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS C448
Business Sampling Techniques and Quality Control (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAN C244; QUAN C223 or COMP C211. This course consists of two parts: Part I deals with the different sampling methodologies and their applications to managerial problems. Problems relating to sampling of accounts receivable and payable, audit control, accounting information system, evaluation of inventories, market research studies, and assembly line situations, will be studied in detail. Part 2 involves understanding the use of different quality-control charts (C Chart, U Chart, X, and R Charts) in production and marketing environment.

61.140 Special Programmes in Accountancy

The three professional organizations listed below recognize certain Concordia University courses for course exemptions or standing in their professional designation programmes.

ORDER OF CHARTERED ACCOUNTANTS OF QUEBEC: Chartered Accountant (CA)

The Faculty of Commerce and Administration offers a Diploma in Accountancy which has been approved by the Order of Chartered Accountants of Quebec. Entry into the programme normally requires a Bachelor's degree in Commerce, and a Major in Accountancy with high academic standing. Applicants lacking an appropriate pattern of undergraduate work will be required to complete successfully certain qualifying courses, as assigned by the Director of the diploma programme. For further details, refer to the Concordia University Graduate Studies calendar.

PROFESSIONAL CORPORATION OF INDUSTRIAL ACCOUNTANTS OF QUEBEC: Registered Industrial Accountant (RIA)

Students who wish to follow the RIA programme must register with La Corporation professionnelle des comptables en administration industrielle du Québec, 1425 Mountain St., No. 310, Montreal, Quebec H3G 1Z3, Tel: 849-5767. A table of courses equivalencies for RIA and Concordia courses is shown below.

(4) Prerequisite to the Taxation 509 examination

NOTE: The listing above is subject to amendment as and when demanded by the CGA office.

61.150 Special Certificate Programmes

There are many organizations within the business community designed to serve the needs of people working in specialized areas of business. These organizations recognize that the educational qualifications of those seeking membership must be continually upgraded. Therefore, they sponsor an Academic Certificate which may be obtained through correspondence courses, or through a lecture programme.

The Faculty of Commerce and Administration cooperates with these business organizations by permitting personnel to register as Special (partial) students, and to take courses leading to a certificate to be awarded by the organization concerned.

Students must comply with the University regulations regarding dates of application and independent (partial) student entrance requirements as outlined in the Academic Calendar §11. In addition, they must meet the requirements of the specific organization.

The credit course taken may be applied towards the Bachelor of Commerce degree, provided the student meets the admission requirements and wishes to transfer from independent (partial) status to undergraduate status after completing a certificate programme. Students are advised that they must meet the Bachelor of Commerce curriculum requirements in force at the date of transfer.

Each certificate programme has one or more special courses required to complete the programme. These courses do not carry credit toward a Bachelor's degree and are designated as non-credit courses.

Students interested in the following certificate programmes may obtain details of required courses from the organization concerned:

The American Marketing Association
(Montreal Chapter)
Institute of Canadian Bankers
The Montreal Personnel Association
The Insurance Institute of Canada
The Trust Companies Institute of Canada
Professional Secretaries International (CPS)

61.160 Concordia Centre for Management Studies

The Concordia Centre for Management Studies is designed to promote continuous and constructive relationships and provide an effective forum for ongoing dialogue among business executives, faculty members and students. In this way, the relevance of the work of the Faculty to the needs of the business community is maintained.

As part of its mandate the Centre operates the Executive Advisory Programme (E.A.P.) which teams business leaders and distinguished faculty to teach advanced seminars in the Faculty's graduate programmes. The participating executives assist the faculty in developing new and relevant topics of study. They add professional insight by joining classes as case discussion leaders, guest lecturers or as active participants. This team approach provides students with the opportunity for guided research in actual business situations and professional counselling in career planning.

The Centre also encourages management development through the conferences and seminars it regularly offers to the business community. In addition, the Centre sponsors the annual MBA Case Competition, the Business Information Days and the Graduate Profile Book. The MBA Case Competition, initiated by Concordia University, involves some of Canada's leading business schools in case analysis, presentation and debate. The Business Information Days afford students the opportunity to meet business practitioners from a wide variety of occupations and to discuss the career opportunities available upon graduation. The MBA Profile Book furnishes prospective employers with information on Concordia MBA graduates.

The Centre is a vehicle for reciprocal exchange between the Faculty and business community. Faculty members are kept abreast of current business concerns and problems, and businessmen in turn utilize their technical expertise and research capabilities.

The Centre is governed by a Board of Directors comprised of senior executives from the business community, university administrators, faculty members and representatives of the various student associations.

71.10 Faculty of Engineering and Computer Science

NOTE: The following programmes are offered in the Faculty of Engineering:

1. Bachelor of Engineering degrees in Building*, Civil, Computer, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering.
2. Bachelor of Computer Science degree.
3. Minor in Computer Science.
4. Certificate in Quality Control.

*The BEng degree in Building Engineering may be combined with a Master's degree in the same discipline.

The requirements for the programmes are different, and the appropriate section in the following pages must be consulted for each.

Applications for admission to the BEng or BCompSc programmes are submitted to the Admissions Office at the preferred campus.

General Admission requirements are listed in §13.

71.10.1 REGULAR PROGRAMMES

In addition, the following specific requirements exist for the various programmes. Applicants should specify their choice of programme on their application.

1. BEng (Building, Civil, Computer, Electrical, Mechanical)
BCompSc (General Science, Mathematics and Digital Systems Options) See Note 3

CEGEP (Profile 10.10)
Mathematics 103
..... 105
..... 203
Physics 101
..... 201
..... 301
Chemistry 101
..... 201
Biology 301

Completion of the above courses is a necessary condition for regular admission to a BEng programme, the minimum length of which will range from 112.50 to 119.75 credits depending on the programme chosen. Consideration will be given to a reduction in individual programme length in cases where the student has completed one or more of the CEGEP courses listed below. Corresponding Concordia numbers and credit values are also listed. In no case may a programme be reduced below a minimum of 105 credits.

CEGEP Numbers	Concordia Numbers
420-911	COMP C211[3]
242-101*	ENGR C212[2]
242-925 and 935*	ENGR C213[2]
242-301*	ENGR C214[2]
205-901	CIVI C231[2.75]
221-322	CIVI C271[3]
201-307	EMAT C271[3]

*Other CEGEP courses in graphics will be considered on an individual basis.

2. BCompSc (General Business Option)
See Note 3
Certificate in Quality Control

CEGEP (Profile 10.12)

Mathematics 103
..... 105
..... 203

3. Minor in Computer Science

Although no specific entrance profile is required, (See Note 5) courses do have Mathematics prerequisites. Students admitted to the Minor without the prerequisites or their equivalents will be required to do additional course work.

Effective Summer 1985, profile 10.4 will be the normal requirement for admission to the Minor in Computer Science.

Notes:

1. Applications from graduates of CEGEP technology programmes will also be considered. Programme requirements for successful applicants will be determined on an individual basis.

2. Students in the BEng (Bldg) programme wishing to enter the combined degree programme (BEng and MEng in Building Engineering) must apply to the Assistant Dean, Student Affairs during the term in which they will be completing all but one of the required 200 and 300 level courses. A high standing is required for admission to the combined programme.

3. Students entering a BCompSc programme will be required to take COMP C211[3] during their first year, in addition to regular programme requirements, if they have not obtained credit for Data Processing 420-911 (Introduction to Fortran) or its equivalent. COMP C211[3] is available during the summer.

71.10.2 MATURE ENTRY

Admission requirements are listed in §14.

71.10.3 EXTENDED CREDIT PROGRAMME

Students admitted to an extended credit programme under the provisions of Sections 13.4.2 or 13.12 must successfully complete the requirements set out below:

Bachelor of Engineering

The individual programme requirements as set out elsewhere in Section 71.

MATH C202[3], C203[3], C204[3], C205[3]
PHYS C204[3], C205[3], C206[3]
(Electrical, Computer Engineering only), C224[1], C225[1]
CHEM C205[3]

Bachelor of Computer Science

A minimum of 120 credits including:

90	Programme requirements as set out elsewhere in Section 71.80
3	COMP C211[3]
12	MATH C202[3], C203[3], C204[3], C205[3]
15	Additional credits, as indicated below:

a) General Science, Mathematics and Digital Systems options:

and 4 credits chosen from ACCO C213[3]
BIOL C201[3]
CHEM C206[3]
ECON C201[3], C203[3]
ENGR C212[2], C213[2]
ESL 207[3], 208[3]
MARK C213[3]
MANA C213[3]
PHYS C206[3], C207[3], C226[1]

b) General Business option:
15 elective credits chosen from outside the Faculty of Commerce and Administration and the Department of Computer Science.

71.10.4 ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

Students should refer to the section presenting the Academic Regulations of the University, §16.

For additional regulations governing the programme in Building Engineering leading to the combined degrees of Bachelor of Engineering (Civil) and Master of Engineering (Building), see §71.3 in the 1980/81 calendar.

71.10.5 ADDITIONAL REGULATIONS FOR THE BACHELOR OF ENGINEERING/BACHELOR OF COMPUTER SCIENCE

Definitions

Programme: The programme consists of:

1. All courses and other requirements specified in §71 for the BEng/BCompSc degrees and/or

2. All courses and other requirements specified in §14 for the Pre-Engineering/Computer Science Mature Student programme, or,

3. Any modifications to (1) and (2) as specified by the Faculty on an individual basis.

Academic Year: A period of time which includes a Summer and its subsequent Fall and Winter terms.

Appropriate member of the Dean's office: As appointed by the Dean of Engineering.

Student Adviser: Faculty member responsible for counselling students.

Objectives

The objectives of these regulations are:

First, to ensure that students can, with the assistance or intervention of the Faculty, assess themselves objectively, and plan programmes of study designed to meet their individual needs.

Second, to ensure that the Faculty can certify that all of its graduates are qualified to enter their profession.

Grading System

See §16.3 for the Concordia grading system. Results for courses specified in §71 for the BEng/BCompSc degrees are to be submitted as letter grades only, (e.g. C-, B+, A).

Regulations

1. Upon completion of the term of study where the student's programme includes a first attempt at not less than four of the courses specified for the BEng or B CompSc degrees in §71 of the undergraduate calendar, full-time students may register for six courses in the following term (See Table 1) provided that they have achieved a grade of C- or better in each of at least two thirds of the courses for which they were registered. Students who do not achieve a grade of C- or better in each of at least two thirds of the courses for which they were registered will have their programme for the next term determined by the appropriate member of the Dean's Office in consultation with their adviser.

2. Students' standings are assessed at the end of each academic year providing they have registered for at least four courses in the programme subsequent to their previous assessment, or in the case of a first assessment, subsequent to their admission to the programme. Standings of students requiring fewer than four courses to complete the BEng/BCompSc programmes will be determined on the basis of only those courses registered for in that academic year.

The assessment is based on the grades obtained for all courses in the programme for which they have registered, subsequent to their previous assessment, or in the case of a first assessment, subsequent to their admission to the programme. A grade obtained as a result of writing a supplemental examination and/or completing the work for a course graded 'INC' is not included in the assessment.

3. Students' standings are determined according to the following criteria:

Acceptable Standing

'C-' or better in each of at least two-third of the courses registered for with no more than one failure if eight or fewer courses have been registered for, or two failures if more than eight courses have been registered for (See Table 1).

Conditional Standing

'C-' or better in each of at least one-half of the courses registered for, with no more than two failures if eight or fewer courses have been registered for, or three failures if more than eight courses have been registered for (See Table 2).

Failed Standing

Failure to meet the criteria for acceptable or conditional standings, or conditional standing over two consecutive assessments.

4. Students in acceptable standing may proceed subject to the following conditions: Any failing grade must be cleared by passing the supplemental examination and/or completing the work for the course, or by repeating the failed course, or by replacing the failed course by an alternative approved by the student's Department.

5. Students in conditional standing may proceed for one year of study subject to the following conditions:

a) They must repeat successfully all courses in which failing grades were obtained, or replace them by alternatives approved by the appropriate member of the Dean's Office in consultation with the student's department.

b) They must repeat or replace by approved alternatives at least one-half of those courses in which they obtained grades in the 'D' range. The specific courses to be repeated will be determined by the appropriate member of the Dean's Office in consultation with the student's Department.

c) Full-time students may register for a maximum of five courses per term, part-time students for a maximum of two courses per term.

d) They must obtain acceptable standing at the time of their next assessment.

6. Subject to regulation 7 below, failed students may be considered for re-admission upon application to the appropriate member of the Dean's Office. If re-admitted, they will be placed on academic probation and their programme be determined at the time of their re-admission. They must return to acceptable standing at the time of their next assessment.

7. Failed students who were previously classed as failed students must withdraw from the University.

8. Students in a combined degree programme must meet academic regulations published in the Engineering section of the Graduate Calendar.

71.10.6 AVAILABILITY OF PROGRAMMES

There is great flexibility in the method of progressing through a programme of Engineering or Computer Science at Concordia. This is shown in the table below. Students in the Engineering programme will also choose a 6- or 8-term sequence. Due to the heavy workload involved, 6-term sequences are only recommended for the exceptional student. Further information on sequencing may be found in the Programme Guide issued by the Associate Dean, Academic Programmes.

January Entrants

Depending on the availability of space, the Faculty may admit in January, students who have completed their collegial studies. In the case of the BEng programme, students will be admitted at the Sir George Williams Campus only; and if they are full-time students, must undertake full-time studies during the subsequent summer.

Industrial Parallel Studies (IPS)

Attention should be given to a programme unique to Concordia, that of Industrial Parallel Studies. IPS are available at the Sir George Williams Campus. They are offered for students who have successfully completed the First Year of the programme, or its equivalent, and whose employers are prepared to certify that they will be employed for a maximum of 20 hours per week during the Fall/Winter Sessions. The Faculty timetable is arranged to allow students undertaking IPS to attend the University for either five half days or two and one-half days per week.

Priority for IPS is given to students who have completed the First Year of the programme in the Evening. All students undertaking such studies must have been granted permission by the office of the Assistant Dean, Student Affairs, Engineering and Computer Science. The pamphlet Industrial Parallel Studies, giving more detailed information, can be obtained upon request from the Assistant Dean's Office.

71.20 Bachelor of Engineering

71.20.1 CURRICULUM FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF ENGINEERING

The University offers programmes leading to the degree of Bachelor of Engineering in the fields of Building, Civil, Computer, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering. Students enrolled in the BEng programme in Building Engineering may, after the completion of all but one of their 200 and 300 level courses, apply through the Associate Dean, Academic Programmes to enter a combined degree programme leading to the joint award of a Bachelor's and Master's degree in this field. To be recommended for the degree of Bachelor of Engineering, students must satisfactorily complete all course requirements for the programme in which they are registered and achieve acceptable standing. Course requirements include the engineering core as defined in §71.20.4, programme core and option requirements. These are given in subsequent sections. They comprise a group of required courses with a group of elective courses which allow students to select part of their programme to provide some depth in an area of specialization according to their particular interests, or breadth in the general field of their chosen discipline.

In their final undergraduate year, students with high standing may apply for permission through the Associate Dean's Office to register for a limited number of graduate courses offered by the Faculty in lieu of some courses in the undergraduate programme.

Successful completion of a BEng programme requires hard work and considerable dedication on the part of each student. Courses are presented with the expectation of an average of about two hours of 'outside' work for each lecture hour and about one-half hour of 'outside' work for each hour spent in the laboratory for all programmes of study.

71.20.2 ACCREDITATION BY THE CANADIAN COUNCIL OF PROFESSIONAL ENGINEERS

The Accreditation Board of the Canadian Council of Professional Engineers (CCPE) has accredited the Bachelor of Engineering curricula for Building, Civil, Computer, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering. The Board has recommended to the Constituent Associations of CCPE that graduation from the above curricula be considered as sufficient academic qualification for purposes of registration in all Provinces and Territories in Canada.

71.20.3 MEMBERSHIP IN THE ORDER OF ENGINEERS OF QUEBEC

The Ordre des Ingénieurs du Québec (O.I.Q.) has fully accredited the Bachelor of Engineering curricula in Building, Civil, Computer, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering, and will admit graduates of these five programmes as members according to the Engineers Act and the O.I.Q. By-Laws and providing applicants can complete the French language requirements.

Quebec law now requires that candidates seeking admission to provincially-recognized Quebec professional corporations (such as the Ordre des Ingénieurs du Québec) be tested on their ability in the French language.

Information on this testing programme of the Office de la langue française may be obtained by writing to: Office de la langue française, 800 Place Victoria, 15^{e} étage, Montréal, Québec, H4Z 1G8, telephone: 873-8361.

71.20.4 ENGINEERING CORE

To be recommended for the degree of Bachelor of Engineering, students admitted after January 1984 must satisfactorily complete the following courses as well as those specified for their programme as shown in subsequent sections. Students admitted for January 1984 or earlier should consult the Programme Guide available in the Associate Dean's Office.

*Offered in both Day and Evening.

To be submitted at the beginning of the academic year in which the student expects to graduate.

Students in Building Engineering must successfully complete BLDG C481 as part of the 6 credit requirement. (For all students, 3 of these 6 credits may be replaced by a specified course or courses in French, or by other non-technical courses subject to the approval of the Assistant Dean, Student Affairs. A list of such courses is available from the Assistant Dean's Office.)

71.20.5 GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Students must complete their programme in acceptable standing.

71.20.6 SCHEDULING OF COURSES

A programme guide indicating course schedules for both the 6 and 8 term Engineering and Computer Science sequences is available from the Faculty Office on either campus.

CENTRE FOR BUILDING STUDIES

Building Engineering, as a discipline, encompasses the body of knowledge which pertains to all phases in the life-cycle of a constructed facility, namely conception, planning, design, construction, operation and disposal.

Concordia has developed a unique undergraduate programme leading to a BEng in Building Engineering designed to meet the needs of the construction industry for engineers familiar with the overall design of built facilities.

In addition to the basic engineering sciences, the programme emphasizes the fundamentals of building materials, structural analysis and design, building services: acoustical, heating, lighting, air conditioning, economics and project management. The student also has available certain electives which will be of use in the design of various phases of a building.

Students who complete all but one of their 200 and 300 level courses with a sufficiently high standing may apply through the Associate Dean, Academic Programmes to enter a combined programme leading to the joint award of both a BEng and an MEng degree in Building Engineering. It is expected that those who aspire to leadership roles within the building industry will enter such a combined programme. The combined programme requires a further 12 months of full-time study, after which graduates will not only have obtained further grounding in the basics, but will also have specialized in one of four branches: Building Science, Building Environment, Building Structures, Construction Management. For details of the Graduate Component, refer to the graduate calendar.

71.30.1 COURSE REQUIREMENTS

The programme in building engineering consists of the Engineering Core, the Building Engineering Programme Core, and a further 9 elective credits chosen from a specified group of courses. The nominal length of the programme is 119.50 credits. Adjustments may be made on an individual basis as per §71.10.1.

Note: No new students have been admitted to the combined degree programme BEng (Civil) and MEng (Bldg) after summer 1980. Requirements for students currently in the programme are set out in the 1980-81 calendar with the following modifications: BLDG C475 and CIVI C435 have been replaced by CIVI C372 and C381. Students may also refer to the Faculty programme guide available from the Dean's Office.

Engineering Core (31.75 credits)

See §71.20.4. Note that students in the BEng (Bldg) programme must replace one of the required Social Aspects courses with BLDG C481.

DEPARTMENT OF CIVIL ENGINEERING

Civil Engineering is primarily concerned with the creation of the complex systems of construction facilities for sound economic growth of the community. In a broad sense, civil engineers learn to control and modify the environment effectively so as to satisfy the needs and desires of society. Their responsibility for design ranges from foundations and superstructures of our common structures such as buildings, bridges, dams, tunnels, wharves, etc., to many unusual structures such as rocket installations, containment vessels for nuclear reactors, supports for radio telescopes, frame works for aircraft. In addition, civil engineers are concerned with the engineering aspects of water resources, rivers, harbours, irrigation and drainage; with the disposal of wastes and the control of the quality of air and water; with highways, railroads, airports and other transportation facilities; with measuring, mapping and interpreting the physical conditions of the surface of the earth; and with planning metropolitan areas and conducting and managing their public facilities.

The programme is designed so that students, after having obtained grounding in the fundamentals of Civil Engineering, may specialize in one of four options.

71.40.1 COURSE REQUIREMENTS

The programme in Civil Engineering consists of the Engineering Core, the Civil Programme Core, and one of the options described below. The nominal length of the programme is 118.50 credits. Adjustments may be made on an individual basis as per §71.10.1. Students admitted prior to September 1984 should consult the programme guide available from the Assistant Dean's Office to determine their individual course requirements.

DEPARTMENT OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

Electrical Engineering is concerned primarily with energy and information: their conversion, transformation and transmission in the most efficient, convenient and reliable manner. Computer Engineering, on the other hand, focuses more directly on the design and use of computer technology for information processing.

Computer and electrical engineers are involved in the processing and transmission of information. The revolution in electronics which began some thirty years ago with the invention of the transistor, and which continues today through the advent of the microprocessor, has had a profound impact not only on our capability to communicate with each other or to store masses of easily retrievable information about ourselves, but also on our ability to construct 'intelligent' machines. This production both of new devices, and of sophisticated applications for these devices (for example in bio-medical engineering) continues apace. While contributing to what has been, and will continue to be, a major transformation in the structure of our society, electrical and computer engineers may, in the course of their careers, be engaged in a variety of activities: research, development, design, manufacture, operation, maintenance, control, and marketing of devices and systems. In so doing, they will be called upon to assist or direct the efforts of other engineers, individuals or groups of people of widely varying backgrounds and abilities.

Electrical engineers are also involved in the conversion of energy from its original mechanical, thermal, nuclear, wind or solar form to electricity. They have primary responsibility for the design and control of continent spanning power grids which are used to transport this energy from generating stations to the consumer, as well as for designing efficient converters which will transform this energy back into forms which meet the needs of the user for heat, refrigeration, light, electromechanical devices of all types, and for the running of a host of electronic communications and data processing systems.

Therefore, electrical and computer engineers must receive a professional education of great breadth and depth. Great emphasis is placed at Concordia on giving the student a solid foundation in mathematics, electrical and computer engineering fundamentals and design techniques so that they will be equipped both to contribute and to respond to a rapidly evolving technology. Of equal importance, though much less time is devoted to it in the curriculum, is the fostering of an awareness of the interaction of the profession and the society it serves, and of the ability to communicate effectively both with colleagues and with fellow citizens.

71.50.1 PROGRAMMES OFFERED

The Department of Electrical Engineering offers two disctinct programmes, one of which leads to the Bachelor of Engineering in Electrical Engineering, the other to the Bachelor of Engineering in Computer Engineering.

71.50.2 COURSE REQUIREMENTS (BENG IN ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING)

The programme in Electrical Engineering consists of the Engineering Core, §71.20.4, the Electrical Programme Core shown below, and one of four elective options. The nominal length of the programme is 112.50 credits. Adjustments may be made on an individual basis as per §71.10.1.

Students admitted prior to September 1984 should consult the Programme Guide available in the Associate Dean's Office.

DEPARTMENT OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

As in all branches of professional engineering, mechanical engineers are concerned with the creation of devices, systems, structures, and processes for human use. Their task is to apply scientific, mathematical, economic and social knowledge to satisfy specific needs. The services required of mechanical engineers encompass a very wide range of professional activity, such as design, research, development and management carried out in environments of equally diverse nature, such as industry, medicine, private practice, university and government.

Representative fields of endeavour for mechanical engineers include all forms of power generating equipment (steam, internal combustion, nuclear, jet rocket, fuel cells), the design of mechanisms and machines, controls and automation, vibration analysis, environmental control (heating, ventilation and refrigeration), materials handling and precision measurement.

Any of the specific fields may involve the design, construction and control of machines and equipment as well as the research and development of new processes, materials and techniques.

In view of the very wide range of activities in the field, the mechanical engineering curriculum consists of a combination of core courses with a series of technical electives. Strong emphasis is given to building on the principles presented in the basic engineering science and physical systems courses of the Engineering Core. Further core courses are taken by all mechanical engineering undergraduates and deal with topics basic to the field, including thermodynamics, fluid mechanics, machine design and metallurgy. Technical electives allow students to obtain some specialization in a particular area of the field, depending on their interests and expected future professional activity. Three options of about 19 credits each are available in thermo fluid and propulsion engineering (Option A), design and production engineering (Option B), and in automation and control systems (Option C). A fourth option, of about 43 credits, is offered in industrial engineering. This option is designed to give students the background needed to define and solve problems related to the conception or improvement and implementation of integrated industrial systems involving people, materials and money.

Students wishing to enter the industrial engineering option should apply to the Assistant Dean, Student Affairs, preferably prior to the completion of 30 credits in their programme.

71.60.1 COURSE REQUIREMENTS

The programme in Mechanical Engineering consists of the Engineering Core, §71.20.4, the Mechanical Programme Core and option requirements as shown below. The nominal length of the programme is 118.25 credits. Adjustments may be made on an individual basis as per §71.10.1.

Students admitted prior to September 1984 should consult the Programme Guide available in the Associate Dean's Office.

Mechanical Engineering Core

		Credits
EMAT C311	Transform Calculus and Partial Differential Equations	3.00
ENGR C213	Descriptive Geometry	2.00
ENGR C221	Materials Science	3.00
ENGR C242	Statics	3.00
ENGR C243	Dynamics	3.00
ENGR C244	Mechanics of Materials I	3.75
ENGR C251	Thermodynamics I	3.00
ENGR C274	Physical Systems and Measurements	3.75
ENGR C361	Fluid Mechanics I	3.00
ENGR C372	Fundamentals of Control Systems	3.75
MECH C311	Mechanical Engineering Laboratory I	3.00
MECH C321	Strength and Failure in Metals	3.00
MECH C373	Instrumentation and Measurements	3.75
MECH C411	Mechanical Engineering Laboratory II	3.00
		44.00

Option Requirements

Options A, B and C

Students in options A, B, and C must complete the following courses (List I) plus two courses from one option core and a minimum of nine further elective credits. Prior to registering for courses in one of these option cores, students must indicate to the Department Chairman their choice of option. This choice is to be noted on a form available from the Department and submitted to the Chairman's office for approval prior to March 15th.

List I

ENGR C362	Fluid Mechanics II	3.75
ELEC C334	Electric Machinery	3.75
ENGR C403	Engineering Economy	1.50
MECH C313	Machine Drawing and Design	3.00
MECH C341	Kinematics of Mechanisms	2.50
MECH C342	Dynamics of Machines	2.50
MECH C351	Thermodynamics II	3.75
MECH C352	Heat Transfer I	3.75
MECH C441	Mechanical Engineering Design	3.00
		27.50

1. Option Core A—Thermo Fluid and Propulsion

Two of:

		Credits
MECH C452	Heat Transfer II	3.75
MECH C462	Turbomachinery and Propulsion	3.00
MECH C461	Gas Dynamics	3.75

2. Option Core B—Design and Production

Two of:

		Credits
MECH C421	Deformation and Mechanical Shaping of Metals	3.75
MECH C412	Computer Aided Mechanical Design	3.75
MECH C445	Machine Design	3.50

3. Option Core C—Automation and Control Systems

Two of:

		Credits
ENGR C473	Control System Design	3.75
MECH C463	Fluid Power Control	3.75
ELEC C318	Industrial Electronics	3.75

Choose a minimum of 9 credits from:

	Preferred for Option	Credits
COEN C411 Computer Organization and Software	B,C	3.75
COEN C474 Digital Computers in Systems	B,C	3.75
ENGR C412 Operations Research	B	3.00
ENGR C473 Control System Design	A,B	3.75
ENGR C475 Process Dynamics and Control	A,C	3.75
ELEC C318 Industrial Electronics	A,B,C	3.75
MANA C345 Production Management	B	3.00
MECH C423 Thermal Treatment and Processing of Metals	A,B,C	4.00
MECH C443 Mechanical Vibrations	A,B,C	3.75
MECH C452 Heat Transfer II	A	3.75
MECH C453 Environmental Control	A,B,C	3.00
MECH C455 Introduction to Nuclear Engineering	A,C	3.00

MECH C462 Turbomachinery and Propulsion	A	3.00
MECH C463 Fluid Power Control	B	3.75
MECH C464 Aerodynamics	A	3.00
MECH C465 Gas Turbine Design	A	3.75
MECH C471 Microprocessors and Applications	B,C	3.75
MECH C481 Design or Experimental Project	A,C	3.00

Students may also choose from the following courses, providing these can be accommodated within their timetable:

		Credits
ENGR C471 Time Domain Analysis and Design	B,C	4.00
ENGR C472 System Optimization	C	4.50

Option D—Industrial Engineering

Students wishing to enter this option must obtain the approval of the Department Chairman. Application forms, available from the Department must be submitted to the Chairman's office before March 15th of the year preceding first registration in option courses. Students in Option D must complete the following courses (List II) and six further elective credits.

List II

		Credits
ACCO C213	Financial I	3.00
COEN C411	Computer Organization and Software	3.75
ELEC C318	Industrial Electronics	3.75
EMAT C272	Advanced Probability and Statistics	3.00
INDU C310	Human Factor Engineering	3.00
INDU C313	Industrial Economics	3.00
INDU C320	Production Engineering I	3.00
INDU C321	Production Engineering II	3.00
INDU C323	Industrial Operations Research	3.00
INDU C330	Organizational Management	3.00
INDU C480	Industrial Engineering Project	4.00
INDU C481	Industrial Engineering Seminar	1.00
		36.50

Choose 6 credits from:

FINA C314	Introduction to Finance I	3.00
INDU C410	Safety Engineering	3.00
INDU C411	Industrial Applications of Computers	3.00
INDU C420	Mathematics of Optimization	3.00
INDU C423	Inventory Control	3.00
ELEC C334	Electric Machinery	3.75
MECH C471	Microprocessors and Applications	3.75

71.70 Course Descriptions

For equivalent course numbers under the old system, please consult the 1981-82 Undergraduate Calendar. Students who have taken a given course under an old number may not repeat it for credit under an equivalent number.

Engineering Mathematics

EMAT C212
Calculus and Differential Equations (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C204 (CEGEP Mathematics 105) previously or concurrently; MATH C205 (CEGEP Mathematics 203). Introduction to ordinary differential equations, with applications to engineering problems. Functions of several variables: differentiation and multiple integrals. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorials: 2 hours per week.

EMAT C232
Matrices and Advanced Calculus (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EMAT C212 previously or concurrently. Review of matrix algebra; solution of systems of linear differential equations with examples drawn from physical systems; vector spaces, characteristic value problems, Cayley-Hamilton theorem with applications. Vector calculus: Gradient, Divergence, Curl, Green's Theorem. Divergence Theorem, Stokes Theorem. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorials: 2 hours per week.

EMAT C252
Complex Variables(3 credits)

Prerequisite: EMAT C212; EMAT C232 previously or concurrently. Algebra of complex numbers in Cartesian and polar forms; functions and inverse functions of complex variables. Derivatives and Cauchy-Riemann, analytic and harmonic functions. Exponential, trigonometric, hyperbolic and logarithmic functions. Complex line integrals, Cauchy-Goursat theorem, Cauchy integral formula. Taylor's and Laurent's series. Residue theorem and applications. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

EMAT C271
Applied Probability and Statistics(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C205 (CEGEP Mathematics 203). Elementary probability theory. Binomial, normal and Poisson distribution. Sampling and decision theory. Curve fitting. Correlation theory. Applications to the analysis of experimental results. Factorial plans. Lectures: 3 hours per week. NOTE See §200.7

EMAT C272
Advanced Probability and Statistics(3 credits)

Prerequisite: EMAT C271. Time series analysis, regression and correlation analysis, forecasting and smoothing techniques. Extreme value statistics, Monte Carlo simulation, reliability analysis. Applications to general engineering and industrial engineering problems. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

EMAT C311
Transform Calculus and Partial Differential Equations (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EMAT C232. Elements of complex variables. The Laplace transform: Laplace transforms and their properties, solution of linear differential equations with constant coefficients. Further theorems and their applications. The Fourier transform: orthogonal functions, expansion of a function in orthogonal functions, the Fourier series, the Fourier integral, the Fourier transform, the convolution theorem. Partial differential equations: physical foundations of partial differential equations, introduction to boundary value problems. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

EMAT C312
Laplace Transforms and Advanced Differential Equations (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EMAT C232; EMAT C252. The Laplace Transform, its inverse and properties. Laplace Transform of periodic functions. Applications to solution of linear differential equations with constant coefficients. Orthogonal functions, Fourier series, Fourier Transform. The convolution theorem. Properties of special functions (e.g. Bessel, Legendre). Partial differential equations and introduction to boundary value problems. The Sturm Liouville problem. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

EMAT C391
Numerical Methods in Engineering (3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMP C211; EMAT C232. Roots of algebraic and transcendental equations; function approximation; numerical differentation; numerical integration; solution of simultaneous algebraic equations; numerical integration of ordinary differential equations. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorials: 1 hour per week.

Engineering

ENGR C212
Technical Drawing (2 credits)

Lettering, instruments, drawing practices; orthographic projections; pictorial views; isometric views, perspectives, sectional views, auxiliary views; dimensioning practices; working drawings: standard components, drawings of steel and concrete structures, mechanical and piping drawings, electrical and architectural drawings. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Tutorials: 2 hours per week.

ENGR C213
Descriptive Geometry (2 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C212. Spatial relationships of points, lines, planes, and solids. Application to pictorial representation of three-dimensional objects, intersections of planes and solids, developments, mapping and topographical problems. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Tutorial: 2 hours per week.

ENGR C221
Materials Science (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CHEM C205 (CEGEP Chemistry 101). Relationships between properties and internal structure; classification of materials; atomic bonding;. molecular, crystalline and amorphous structures; crystal imperfections and mechanisms of structural change; microstructures; structures and mechanical properties of polymers. Phase diagrams. Introduction to heat treatment. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week.

ENGR C242
Statics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EMAT C212 previously or concurrently; PHYS C204 & C224 (CEGEP Physics 101); MATH C204 (CEGEP Mathematics 105). Resultant of force systems; equilibrium of particles and rigid bodies; distributed forces; statically determinate systems; cables and trusses; friction; moments of inertia; virtual work. Introduction to stress, strain and bending moment diagrams. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week.

ENGR C243
Dynamics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EMAT C212; ENGR C242. Kinematics of a particle and rigid body; forces and accelerations; work and energy; impulse and momentum; dynamics of a system of particles and rigid bodies, introduction to vibrations. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week.

ENGR C244
Mechanics of Materials I (3.75 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C242; EMAT C212; EMAT C232 previously or concurrently. Stress, strain and elasticity; analysis and design of structural and machine elements subject to axial, torsional and bending loads; shear and bending moment diagrams; deflections; combined stresses; dynamic loading; repeated loads, stress concentration and fatigue. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ENGR C245
Applied Mechanics (3 credits)

Prerequisite: PHYS C204 & C224 (CEGEP Physics 101); EMAT C212 previously or concurrently. Resultant of force systems, equilibrium of particles and rigid bodies; centroids and centre of gravity, friction; moments of inertia; kinematics of particles and rigid bodies; force and acceleration; work and energy; impulse and momentum for particles. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week.

ENGR C251
Thermodynamics I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C203 (CEGEP Mathematics 103). Basic principles of thermodynamics and their application to various systems composed of pure substances and their homogeneous non-reactive mixtures. Simple power production and utilization cycles. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week.

ENGR C273
Basic Circuit Analysis (3.75 credits)

Prerequisite: EMAT C212, previously or concurrently; PHYS C205 & C225 (CEGEP Physics 201). Current, voltage, power and energy; resistance, inductance and capacitance; sources. Series and parallel circuits. Formulation of equilibrium equations using node-to-datum voltages and using mesh currents. Networks theorems: Superposition, reciprocity, Thevenin, Norton, maximum power transfer. Step response of simple RC, RL and RLC circuits. Sinusoidal steady-state response of RLC circuits, power in a.c. circuits, frequency response, resonance. Coupled coils and transformers. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ENGR C274
Physical Systems and Measurements (3.75 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C273. Time differentiation, time integration, and singularity functions. Network representation of mechanical, fluid and thermal systems in terms of lumped elements and through and across variables. Generalization of the methods of the basic electrical circuit analysis to the formulation of equilibrium equations and their solution. Application to problems of modelling and measurements in physical systems. Generalized impedance and system functions. Operational block diagrams and analog computer solutions. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ENGR C281
Technical Writing (2 credits)

Technical writing form and style. Technical and scientific papers, abstracts, reports. Library research and referencing methods. Business communication. Lectures: 2 hours per week.

ENGR C341
Mechanics of Materials II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: EMAT C232; ENGR C244. Analysis of statically indeterminate systems; composite beams; introduction to inelastic action; energy methods; theories of failure; shear centre; unsymmetrical bending; bending of curved bars; introduction to linearized mathematical theory of elasticity; introduction to elastic stability. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week.

ENGR C361
Fluid Mechanics I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C212; EMAT C232; ENGR C251. Fluid properties and flow characteristics; fluid statics, basic laws for systems and control volumes, conservation of mass, linear-momentum equations, first law of thermodynamics, Bernouli equation, kinematics of flow, dynamics of flow, dimensional analysis and similitude, characteristics of real fluid flow, resistance to flow, flow measurement. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week.

ENGR C362
Fluid Mechanics II (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C361. Incompressible viscous flow, steady closed conduit flow, fluid resistance and boundary layer effects, differential equations for open channel flow, specific energy, gravity waves, hydraulic jump. Fluid machinery. Selected experiments in incompressible flow and in open channel flow. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ENGR C372
Fundamentals of Control Systems
(3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C311 or C312; ENGR C274. General feedback theory; time and frequency domain analysis of feedback control systems; stability criteria; root-locus methods; modelling of d.c. servo; design of simple feedback systems; introduction to statespace methods. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ENGR C402
Engineering Law (1.5 credits)
Different branches of law; engineering registration; negligence; law vs. ethics; contracts; labour organizations and legislation; workmen's compensation act. Lectures: 1½ hours per week.

ENGR C403
Engineering Economy (1.5 credits)
Economy studies for decision making, annual cost, present worth, capitalized cost, rate of return. Depreciation and the capital recovery period. Sources of funds and cost of capital. Incremental and sunk costs. Economy studies for retirement or replacement. Influence of income taxes on economy studies. Lectures: 1½ hours per week.

ENGR C410
Technical Report (1.5 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C281. Students in the B.Eng. programme must submit a technical report on entering their final year. The report must be from 2,000 to 5,000 words long, on a topic closely related to the student's option. The report must present a review of a current engineering problem or current engineering practice; a student's summer work may provide a suitable basis. Students are responsible for acquiring a set of complete instructions and the document Form and Style in the spring before entering the final year of the B.Eng. programme. These documents are available from the Office of the Assistant Dean, Student Affairs.
N.B. The topic must be approved by the student's department no later than the last Monday in June. The report must be submitted no later than 5:00 p.m. on the third Monday after Fall classes begin.

ENGR C412
Operations Research (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C211 (CEGEP Data Processing 911) or equivalent. An introduction to the application of mathematical models to various industrial problems; queuing theory, game theory, linear programming, inventory theory and Monte Carlo Processes. Lectures: 3 hours per week.
NOTE: Students with credit for INDU C323 may not take this course for credit.

ENGR C471
Time Domain Analysis and Design
(4 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C372. State space analysis and design of continuous and discrete systems. Controllability and observability, modal control, pole placement techniques, Luenberger observers, Liapunov stability. Lectures: 4 hours per week.

ENGR C472
System Optimization (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C391. Linear least squares. Properties of quadratic functions with applications to steepest descent method, Newton's method and Quasi-Newton methods for nonlinear optimization. One dimensional optimization. Introduction to constrained optimization, including the elements of Kuhn-Tucker conditions for optimality. Least pth/ and mini-max optimization. Application of optimization techniques to engineering problems. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours alternate weeks.

ENGR C473
Control System Design (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C372. A course in industrial control design procedures by case study, including practical sensing, control, and actuating elements; optimization of system performance by choice of components and compensation; nonlinearitites, introduction to multi-loop systems. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ENGR C475
Process Dynamics and Control
(3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C372. Dynamics of mechanical and chemical processes; system capacity; resistance; piping complexes; characteristics and dynamics of control valves; process time constants; proportional, reset and derivative control actions; feedforward and cascade control; direct digital control. Case studies on liquid-level control, temperature and heat exchanger control. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

Social Aspects of Engineering

ENGR C491
Engineers and Society (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C281; 20 courses in BEng programme. Sociological analysis of the interaction between the engineering profession and society, the development of the profession, growth of technical societies, trends in engineering and engineering technology education, relationship to other professions. Role of engineers in Canadian industry, government and industrial research. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

ENGR C492
Historical Impact of Technology on Society (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C281; 20 courses in BEng programme. Social history of technology and of science including ancient and medieval periods, industrial revolution and modern times. Engineering and scientific creativity, social and environmental problems created by uncontrolled technology, appropriate technology. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

ENGR C493
Engineering, Resources and Environment (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C281; 20 courses in BEng programme. Sources, consequences and control of air, water, noise, solid and radiation pollution. Management of mineral and energy resources. Conservation of resources through engineering efficiency, recycling and communal practices. Renewable resources. Case studies of engineering projects. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

ENGR C494
Effect of Technology on the Person (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C281; 20 courses in BEng programme. Psychological effects of various technologies. Changes in personal, family and community values arising from various patterns of industrial development. Enhancement of personal development by technology, adaptation of the machine to man; the organization man. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

ENGR C495
Technology Assessment and Control (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C281; 20 courses in BEng programme. The organization of mechanisms and institutions to control and mediate the unwanted and unanticipated side-effects of contemporary technology. Environmental impact assessment, analysis of industrial health and safety, risk analysis. Technological forecasting, future studies, appropriate technology, the conserver society. Relationships of technology assessment to science policy, resource planning and energy strategy. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

ENGR C496
Science Policy and Engineering Innovation (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C281; 20 courses in BEng programme. An analysis of the basic concepts in science policy. The allocation of scientific manpower, priorities in research, development and demonstration (R, D and D) in the public and private sector, the process of invention and innovation and their social impact, the various institutions dealing with scientific and technological development. National and regional technological strategies, to technology assessment, resource conservation and energy strategy. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

Building Engineering

BLDG C341
Building Engineering Systems (3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMP C211; EMAT C232, previously or concurrently. Introduction to systematic solution of building engineering problems. Techniques treated include linear programming, network analysis, nonlinear programming, geometric programming and an introduction to decision analysis and simulation. Techniques illustrated by application to problems in building science, building environment, building structures and construction management. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C363
Building Science I (4 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR 243. General introduction to the aural and visual environment. Subjective and objective scales of measurement. Laws of psychophysics. Introduction to vibration. The hearing mechanism. Transfer of sound. Passive control of noise in buildings, transmission loss. Absorption and reverberation time. Active control of the aural environment. Visual perception. Photometry, brightness, luminance and illumination. Natural lighting of buildings. Artificial lighting. Colorimetry. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

NOTE: Students having credit for BLDG C362 may not take this course for credit.

BLDG C364
Building Science II (4 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C251; ENGR C362 previously or concurrently. General introduction to the thermal environment. Topics include: heat, temperature, thermal storage, conduction: steady state and transient processes. Convection: Natural and forced. Radiation. Combined radiative and convective surface transfer. Psychrometrics. Thermal comfort. Condensation: Surface and interstitial. Wind and snow effects. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

NOTE: Students having credit for BLDG C361 may not take this course for credit.

BLDG C371
Building Service Systems (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BLDG C364. Principles of building service systems, including electrical, gas, communications, service water supply and distribution; introduction to codes and standards for utility distribution systems. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

BLDG C401
Building Economics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BLDG C341. Development of economic performance measures of interest to developers, owners, contractors and users. Sources of finance and the determinants of the cost of money. Treatment of life cycle costing, economic risk; tax regulation, inflation, forecasting techniques; model building, cost indices, elemental estimating, computerized information systems. Consideration of economic analyses of projects, single buildings and building components. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C459
Computer Aided Building Design
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: BLDG C341; BLDG C401 previously or concurrently. Identification of objectives, decision variables, processes and information flow in building design. Applications and evaluation of computer systems to components of building design process. Determination of decision variables in problem modelling and sensitivity of results. Current applications in structural analysis and design, space layout, electrical distribution systems, HVAC design, lighting design, estimating, specification editing and scheduling. Evaluation of issues of interdisciplinary information control and interchange. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C461
Building Enclosure Design (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BLDG C363; BLDG C364; CIVI C321. Influences on the exterior design of buildings. The interrelationship of visual, technical and contextual needs are examined for larger urban projects. Special emphasis is given to energy conserving designs. Analytical techniques are discussed for preliminary and detail design. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C462
Modern Building Materials (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C321. Engineering properties of building materials such as: plastics, synthetic fibres, adhesives, sealants, caulking compounds, foams, sandwich panels, composites, polymer-concrete systems, fiber-reinforced concretes, plastic mortars, polymers for flooring, roofing, synthetic wall papers. Their structural, thermal and acoustical properties. Consideration of corrosion, bio- and thermal-degradation, stability to ultraviolet and solar radiation. Laboratory sessions to illustrate synthesis, application, testing, deterioration and protection. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C465
Fire and Smoke Control in Buildings
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: BLDG C363; BLDG C364. Topics treated include: fire and smoke control; failure mechanisms of building enclosure, illustrated by case studies; performance codes for enclosure systems; enclosure design for extreme operation environments. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C471
HVAC System Design (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BLDG C371, BLDG C476 previously or concurrently. Principles of HVAC system design and analysis, including component and system selection criteria, control techniques and operational economics. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

BLDG C472
Building Energy Conservation Technologies
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: BLDG C471 previously or concurrently. Identification of the optimal energy performance achievable with various types of buildings and service systems.
Reduction of infiltration. Control systems and strategies to achieve optimal energy performance. Low energy heat rejection and recuperation systems. Effective utilization of daylight, heat pumps, passive and active solar heaters, heat storage, heat pipes and thermosyphons in new and old buildings. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C473
Control of Noise in Buildings (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BLDG C363. Noise control criteria and regulations, instrumentation, noise sources, room acoustics, walls, barriers and enclosures, acoustical materials and structures, vibration and noise control systems for buildings. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C474
Building Illumination (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BLDG C363. Production, measurement and control of light, design of lighting systems. Design in respect to daylighting. Integration of lighting systems with mechanical systems. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C476
Heat Transfer in Buildings (3 credits)
Prerequisite: BLDG C364. Two and three dimensional steady state and transient conductive heat transfer together with convection and radiation as applied to building materials and geometrics. The course will also include electrical analogies, iterative techniques, effects of moisture, and introduction to heat exchangers. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C481
Architectural Appreciation and Design
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: 20 courses in the BEng programme. Historical and modern architectural theories. Meaning, intentions and formal issues in contemporary design. The influence of technology, energy conservation and environmental constraints on built form. Architecture vs. industrial design. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C491
Labour and Industrial Relations in Construction (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CIVI C491. The study of labour legislation with special emphasis on the construction industry, union organization, the theory and practice of negotiations, mediation, contract administration and arbitration. Review of actual contracts, discussion of future trends. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C492
Construction Methods (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CIVI C491. Construction methods, sequences and material handling techniques; impact of safety considerations; work method studies; equipment policy, selection and replacement analysis. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

BLDG C493
Legal Issues in Construction (3 credits)

Prerequisite: CIVI C491. Legal concepts and processes applicable to the development of constructed facilities and to the operation of the construction firm. Emphasis on Quebec law and institutions. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

Civil Engineering

CIVI C231
Geology (2.75 credits)

Basic principles of physical and structural geology, with emphasis on topics related to Civil Engineering, study of minerals, rocks and soil types, load formation, techniques of air photo interpretations and geological maps. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

CIVI C271
Surveying (3 credits)

Elementary operations employed in engineering surveying; use, care and adjustment of instruments; linear and angular measurements; traversing; earthwork calculations; theory of errors; horizontal and vertical curves and curve layout; slope stakes and grades, application of surveying methods to city, and topographic surveying and introduction to advanced surveying techniques; use of digital computers in surveying calculations.

Summer school taken before entering second year of study in the B.Eng. programme. Lectures and Field Work: 8 hours per day; 6 days per week for 3 weeks.

CIVI C321
Engineering Materials (3.75 credits)

Microscopic properties of materials; engineering properties of structural metals; behaviour of wood; production and properties of concrete; bituminous materials, ceramics, plastics; introduction to composite materials. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

CIVI C341
Civil Engineering Systems (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Registration in second year in Civil Engineering programme; EMAT C271; COMP C211 (CEGEP Data Processing 911). Development of concepts and techniques commonly associated with systems engineering which are applicable to design and operation of systems that concern Civil Engineers. Problem formulation, optimization, linear programming, sequencing, routing and scheduling, mathematical expectation, random models and queues. The techniques developed are used to solve problems in transportation, water resources, structures and construction management. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C353
Structural Design (4 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C341 previously or concurrently. Behaviour and design of steel members: beams, columns, and beam-columns. Riveted, bolted, and welded connections. Behaviour and design of reinforced concrete members. Design of timber members. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

CIVI C354
Structural Analysis (4 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C341 previously or concurrently. Analysis of statically determinate structures: influence lines, deflections. Analysis of statically indeterminate structures: the method of consistent deformations, the three moment equation, the slope deflection, and the moment distribution methods. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

CIVI C372
Transportation Engineering (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Registration in second year of the Civil Engineering programme; CIVI C341. A survey of all transportation modes and introduction to some recent concepts of transportation system planning. Social and economic importance of transportation; essential elements of a transportation system, characteristics of different transportation modes. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C381
Water Resources Engineering (3.5 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C362, previously or concurrently; EMAT C271. Open channel hydraulics; critical flow, uniform and non-uniform flows; design of erodible and non-erodible channels; flow profile, classification and computation. Practical problems. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C431
Soil Mechanics (4.5 credits)

Prerequisite: CIVI C321 and completion of 20 courses. Index properties and classification of soils. Weight-volume relationships. Soil structures. Moisture-density relationships. Permeability, deformation and strength of soils. Principle of total and effective stresses. Steady stage seepage through isotropic soil media. Stress distribution due to external loads and analysis of total settlements. Outline of theory of consolidation. Fundamentals of stability of earth retaining walls, slopes and footings. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C434
Geotechnical Analysis (3 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C391. Seepage through anisotropic soils. Linear and nonlinear consolidation theories. Sand drains. Introduction to soil dynamics and rock mechanics; wave propagation in soils and rock; machine foundations. Stress concentration around tunnels opened in rock. Pressure distribution on buried structures. Introduction to numerical techniques as applied to solution of geotechnical problems. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C435
Foundation Design (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C354; CIVI C431. Loads, bearing capacity and settlement. Lateral pressures. Foundation drainage and waterproofing. Spread footings. Strip footings. Pile foundations. Caissons. Retaining walls. Sheet piling walls. Braced cofferdams. Cellular cofferdams. Anchors. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

CIVI C436
Mechanics of Geotechnical Materials (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C431. Mechanics of ideal geotechnical materials: elastic, viscoelastic, and plastic; behaviour of soils, permafrost, rocks and ice. Mechanical properties of sensitive clays, muskeg, expansive and collapsible soils. Processed geotechnical materials used in earth embankments, pavements and base courses, hydraulic fills and tailings. Improvement techniques: chemical and mechanical. Quality control of processed materials. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C451
Advanced Structural Analysis (4 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C354. Analysis of frames, arches and cable structures; influence lines for statically indeterminate structures; plastic analysis; computer applications. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

CIVI C452
Matrix Analysis of Structures (3 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C311; CIVI C354. Classical and matrix methods of structural analysis; influence coefficients, transformation matrices. Matrix formulation of the force and of the displacement methods of analysis. Computer applications. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C453
Advanced Reinforced Concrete Design (3.5 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C353. Design of reinforced concrete slabs, frames, prefabricated structures, girders, and shells; prestressed concrete structures. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C454
Advanced Steel Structures (3.5 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C451. Contemporary methods for analyzing and designing steel structures. Codes. Comprehensive design problems from the fields of steel buildings, bridges of various types, and cable structures. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C455
Introduction to Structural Dynamics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C391, CIVI C354, ENGR C243. Theory of vibration. Dynamic response of simple structural systems. Effects of blast, wind, traffic and machinery vibrations. Basic concepts in earthquake resistant design. Computer applications. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C471
Highway Design (4.5 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C372. Design controls and criteria including traffic and highway characteristics and capacity. Location and right-of-way. Earthworks. Geometric design of highways and terminals. Pavement design. Highway design project. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C472
Traffic Engineering (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C341; CIVI C372. The vehicle, driver, and roadway system, traffic surveys, highway capacity and level of service, statistical distributions of traffic stream measurements, queuing processes, network analysis, surveillance and control concepts. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C474
Urban Transportation Planning (3 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C341; CIVI C372. The systems approach to transportation planning process, supply and demand functions, travel forecasting models, land-use models, urban data collection and analysis, impact on the environment, evaluation of alternative transportation systems, future transportation technology. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C481
Water Supply Systems (3.5 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C381. Water use cycle; capacity of water supply systems; sources of raw water; development of surface water and ground water; water quantities and requirements; design of distribution systems; storage; pumping; water quality; introduction to water purification practices. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C482
Urban Sanitation (3.5 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C481. Sources, characteristics and quantities of waste waters; public health considerations; urban hydrology and drainage; design of sewers; introduction to wastewater treatment practices; disposal of wastes, stream pollution and control. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C483
Hydrology (3.5 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C381. Hydrologic principles, precipitation, data collection and interpretation, floods, ground water hydrology. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C484
Hydraulic Engineering (3.5 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C381; CIVI C483 previously or concurrently. Outlet works for Reservoirs, Channel Transitions; Elements of River Engineering; Water Resources Project Economics; Design of Water Resources Systems, Application of Probabilistic and Graphic Optimization Techniques to System Design. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C485
Hydraulic Structures (3.5 credits)
Prerequisite: CIVI C431; CIVI C483 previously or concurrently. Analysis of slopes, earth dams, gravity dams, arch dams, spillways, outlet works and marine structures. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

CIVI C491
Construction Engineering (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Completion of 20 courses in the Civil Engineering programme. The nature of construction and the environment in which the industry works; contractor objective; organizational structures for project delivery; rudimentary decision analysis; planning, scheduling and control of men, money, machines, materials and methods to control time, cost and content. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

Computer Engineering

COEN C411
Computer Organization & Software (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C211 (CEGEP Data Processing 911). Number systems and codes. Logical basis of computer structure; machine organization and functional units; machine programming including subroutines, linkages, macros and assembly systems; compilers and operating systems. Difference between mainframe, mini and microcomputer systems. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 1½ hours per week.

COEN C413
Logic Design I (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C311. Digital design vs. analog design. Boolean algebra and its applications to electrical switching circuits. Analysis, design and optimization of combinational circuits. Transistor gates and their practical limitations. Modern integrated-circuit logic families such as RTL, DTL, TTL, ECL, MOSL and CMOSL; applications of combinational circuits to electronic systems and instrumentation. Flip-flops and their application. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

COEN C414
Logic Design II (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: COEN C413. Characterization, analysis, design, and optimization of clock-mode, pulse-mode, and level-mode sequential circuits. Hazards. Read-only and random access memories. Design of counters and registers. Introduction to MSI and LSI components. Application of sequential circuits to electronic systems and instrumentation. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

COEN C416
Design of Digital Computers (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COEN C411; COEN C414. Computer memories, registers and data-path. Register-transfer-level description of digital systems. Design of control and arithmetic units. Inter-system communication, input/output, design of interfaces. Parallelism in computer systems for increased speed of operation. Special computers such as microprocessors. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

COEN C417
Microprocessor Systems (4.5 credits)
Prerequisite: COEN C411; COEN C414 previously or concurrently. Introduction to microprocessor architecture. Instruction set, addressing mode, and programming techniques. I/O systems, memories and interfacing. Developmental systems. Engineering applications. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

COEN C418
Advanced Concepts in Microcomputer Systems Design (4.5 credits)
Prerequisite: COEN C417 and COMP C443. 16-bit and 32-bit microprocessor families, their architecture and instruction sets. Numerical processors, I/O processors, memory management silicon operating systems. Floppy and Winchester disks and file systems. Buses and systems integration. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

COEN C474
Digital Computers in Systems (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: COEN C411 or COMP C322; ENGR C372. Application of digital computers to data acquisition and control systems; coding and data transmission; types of I/O and instrumentation for real-time applications. Design of real-time systems; the role of a real-time executive. Simulation of discrete-time systems. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

COEN C481
Computer Engineering Project (4 credits)
Prerequisite: Registration in final year. The Computer Engineering project provides an opportunity for each student to carry out a design project associated with one or more of the specialist elective courses, under the supervision of a faculty member. The nature of the project selected should be such as to require independent study of current technical literature. When feasible the designs will be assessed in the laboratory. Each student is to present a complete report at the end of the project. Equivalent laboratory time: 6 hours per week.

Electrical Engineering

ELEC C251
Fundamentals of Electrical Engineering (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C273; EMAT C232 previously or concurrently. Electric charge, Coulomb's Law, electrostatic forces, electric field, Gauss' Law, electric potential, stored energy. Dielectrics, properties of materials in electric fields. Electric current, conduction in a vacuum and in material media, displacement current, magnetic field of a current, force on a current-carrying wire, magnetic induction, electromotive force, energy stored in a magnetic field. Magnetism in material media, magnetic circuits. Time varying fields. Capacitance, resistance, inductance, elements of electric circuits. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week.

ELEC C311
Electronics I (4.5 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C274. Semiconductor diodes, rectifiers, and wave form-shaping circuits. Zener, varactor and tunnel diodes. Voltage and current amplifiers. Characteristics and operation of field-effect and bipolar transistors. Biasing techniques and thermal runaway. Field-effect and bipolar transistor amplifiers. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

ELEC C312
Electronics II (4.5 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C311; ELEC C341. Multistage transistor amplifiers. Small-signal analysis. Differential and power amplifiers. Operational amplifiers and their applications. High-frequency modeling of transistors. Frequency response of amplifiers. Oscillator circuits. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

ELEC C321
Electrical Properties of Materials (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C251. Structure of crystals. Electrical, magnetic, dielectric and optical characteristics and their measurements. Energy levels, localized states, and transport properties of solids. Recent device applications of metals, semi-metals, semiconductors, semi-insulators and insulators. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ELEC C331
Electromechanics (4.5 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C251; ENGR C274 previously or concurrently. Three-phase circuits. Power transformers. Energy in singly and doubly excited systems; principles of electromechanical energy conversion. Basic features and models of d.c. machines, 3-phase induction machines, 3-phase synchronous machines. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

ELEC C333
Electric Machines (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C331. Air gap field distribution, windings, harmonic content of induced voltages in rotating machines. Magnetic core calculations. Direct current machines, single-phase and three-phase induction motors, three-phase synchronous motors, selsyns, linear motors. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ELEC C334
Electric Machinery (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C274. Three-phase circuits. Magnetic fields, circuits and forces; transformers; basic features of rotating machines; models, characteristics and applications of d.c. machines, polyphase synchronous and induction machines. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.
NOTE: Students in Electrical Engineering may not take this course for credit.

ELEC C341
Linear Network Analysis (3 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C312 previously or concurrently; ENGR C274. The s-plane and system functions. Network topology and equilibrium equations. One and two port networks. Indefinite admittance matrix and applications. Introduction to transmission lines. Response to singularity functions. Transient response of networks and lines. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

ELEC C351
Electromagnetic Field Theory (3 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C232; EMAT C252, ELEC C251. The field concept. Maxwell's equations. Boundary conditions. Power and energy. The electrostatic field. Electrostatic potential. The concept of capacitance. Conformal mapping in electrostatics. Polarization. The concept of local field in matter. The magnetostatic field. The Biot-Savart law. The scalar magnetic potential. Plane waves. Total internal reflection. The Brewster angle. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ELEC C401
Electrical Engineering Seminar (1 credit)
Prerequisite: Completion of 17 courses. Near the end of their programme, students in Electrical Engineering hold meetings with faculty members. These meetings are organized to provide the student with an opportunity to exercise his ability to present and to defend his thoughts on topics of his own choice. Students will be encouraged to devote some of their discussions to such topics as continuing professional education, professional societies, organization of engineering employment, and professional ethics. Seminars: 2 hours per week.

ELEC C411
Pulse Circuits (4.5 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C312; ELEC C312. Large signal analysis of diodes and transistors. Wave-shaping circuits. Function generation. Design of gates and their practical limitations. Negative resistance devices in pulse generation. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

ELEC C415
Electronics III (4.5 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C312. Linear and nonlinear operational amplifier circuits such as stable-gain differential amplifiers, negative-impedance converters, gyrators, logarithmic amplifiers, precision rectifiers, voltage regulators, etc. Analog-to-digital and digital-to-analog converters. Computer-aided analysis of electronic circuits. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

ELEC C418
Industrial Electronics (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C274. A survey of electronic components and systems used in industry. Analog devices; the transistor, the operational amplifier and their models. Amplifiers. Digital devices: gates, logic devices. Large scale integrated circuits, microcomputers. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week; alternate weeks.
NOTE: Electrical Engineers may not take this course for credits.

ELEC C421
Solid State Devices (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C321. Physics of solid state devices. Basic semiconductor and physical mechanisms. The electronics of p-n junctions, of bipolar, junction and MOS Field Effect transistors. Planar silicon diodes will be designed, fabricated and evaluated in the laboratory. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ELEC C422
Integrated Circuit Design (4.5 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C421. The structure, characteristics and design of I.C. device components. Fabrication of I.C.'s: mask layout, interconnections, performances, reliability and yield of production. Competitive I.C. technologies. A planar bipolar transistor will be designed, fabricated and evaluated in the laboratory. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

ELEC C431
Electrical Power Systems (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C331. Inductance, capacitance, resistance of polyphase transmission lines; current and voltage relations of transmission lines; load flow studies; symmetrical and unsymmetrical faults; power system stability. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ELEC C433
Static Power Converters (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C372; ELEC C311; ELEC C331. Circuits and operating principles of phase-controlled converters; external performance characteristics; harmonic content of d.c. output voltage and a.c. input current; dual converters; converters as power amplifiers. Application to variable speed drives; d.c. machine dynamics, feedback control. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ELEC C441
Modern Filter Design (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C341. Image parameters, constant-k and m-derived filters. The approximation problem. Design of Butterworth, Tchebyscheff, and Bessel filters as terminated lossless networks. Design of constant-resistance all-pass networks. Design of active-RC, filters using operational amplifiers. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ELEC C442
Digital Filters (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C341. Introduction to recursive and non-recursive digital filters; the z-transform; realization methods; amplitude and phase characteristics and relevant approximations and transformations; comparison of digital with conventional filters; application of digital filters. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

ELEC C453
Microwaves and Optics: Transmission (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C312; ELEC C341; ELEC C351. Plane waves, surface waves, wave impedance, surface impedance. Two-wire, coaxial and parallel-plate transmission lines. Waveguide modes, cutoff frequency, dispersion, losses. Dielectric optical waveguides, surface waveguides, microstrip. Principles of light transmission optics. Basic antenna theory, linear dipole, aperture antennas, diffraction, linear arrays. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ELEC C454
Microwaves and Optics: Circuits (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C453. Circuit theory for waveguiding systems, waveguide discontinuities. Binomial and Chebyshev impedance transformer design. Electromagnetic resonators, the Fabry-Perot resonator. Periodic structures, microwave filters. Faraday rotation and ferrite devices. E.M. wave propagation in optically active media, electro-optic devices. Principles of microwave tubes. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ELEC C455
Acoustics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C351. Sound generation and propagation in elastic media; conversion between acoustical, electrical, and mechanical energy. Lumped-parameter approximations, sound in rooms, underwater acoustics, microphones; loudspeakers and audio communications problems; noise and vibration control problems. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

ELEC C461
Communication Circuits and Systems (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C312; ELEC C312. Principles of amplitude, frequency and phase modulation. Modulators, mixers, and demodulators. Representative examples of complete transmission systems. Qualitative treatment of modulation systems in the presence of noise. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ELEC C462
Statistical and Digital Communications (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C271; ELEC C461. Transmission and filtering of random signals, analysis of modulation systems, in particular Pulse Code Modulation, Phase Shift Keying, Frequency Shift Keying, etc., and introduction to noise analysis, information theory and coding. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

ELEC C481
Electrical Engineering Project (4 credits)
Prerequisite: Registration in final year. The Electrical Engineering project provides an opportunity for each student to carry out a design project associated with one or more of the specialist elective courses, under the supervision of a faculty member. The nature of the project selected should be such as to require independent study of current technical literature. When feasible the designs will be assessed in the laboratory. Each student is to present a complete report at the end of the project. Equivalent laboratory time: 6 hours per week.

ELEC C482
Topics in Electrical Engineering (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. This course may be offered in a given year upon the authorization of the Electrical Engineering Department. The course content may vary from offering to offering and will be chosen to complement the elective courses available in a given option or options. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

Industrial Engineering

INDU C310
Human Factor Engineering (3 credits)
This course treats the anatomical and physiological factors underlying design of man-machine interfaces; the psychological factors involved in the allocation of function between man and machines in an over-all system, for example, information processing capacity, acquisition and retention of skill, adaptability and the effects of stress. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

INDU C313
Industrial Economics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ACCO C213. Development of economic performance measures. Sources of finance and the cost of money. Consideration of: life cycle costing, economic risk, tax regulations, inflation, short and long term forecasting techniques, model building, cost indices, elemental estimating, computerized information systems. Lectures: 3 hours per week.
NOTE: Students having completed BLDG C401 may not take this course for credit.

INDU C320
Production Engineering I (3 credits)
The systems approach to production; interrelationships among the component blocks of the system, including capacity planning, plant location, layout of physical facilities, maintenance. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

INDU C321
Production Engineering II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: INDU C320. A continuation of Production Engineering I, with emphasis on the design of the control systems for the production facility. Topics include allocation of resources, scheduling work methods and measurement, materials handling, process control and quality control. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

INDU C323
Industrial Operations Research (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C211 (CEGEP Data Processing 911). An introduction to the application of mathematical models to various industrial problems; queuing theory, game theory linear programming, inventory theory and Monte Carlo processes. Lectures: 3 hours per week.
NOTE: Students with credit for ENGR C412 may not take this course for credit.

INDU C330
Organizational Management (3 credits)
Organizational structures, their growth and change. Motivation, leadership and group behaviour. Design of alternatives for improving organizational performance and effectiveness. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

INDU C410
Safety Engineering (3 credits)
Prerequisite: INDU C310. The design of plant layout and work stations in order to provide a safe work environment. Safety features for machines. Industrial training methods. Accident prevention programmes. Cost of industrial accidents. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 2 hours per week.

INDU C411
Industrial Applications of Computers (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ELEC C418. Characteristics of computing systems from large scale machines to microcomputers. Applications of large machines including management information systems, inventory and production control. Determination of computing needs vis a vis the size of the machine used. Use of microcomputers as control elements in production systems. Automation. Future trends. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

INDU C420
Mathematics of Optimization (3 credits)

Prerequisite: INDU C323; INDU C321. Optimization techniques for industrial engineering applications. Advanced topics in linear programming. Network Analysis: transportation problems, maximal flow and minimal cost problems, assignment problems, shortest routes and project management. Dynamic programming: optimal decision policy, continuous state dynamic programming with single and multiple state variables; examples from production planning and inventory control. Non-linear programming: unconstrained optimization, constrained optimization with equality and inequality constraints, complementary pivot algorithms, separable programming. Case studies and applications. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week.

INDU C423
Inventory Control (3 credits)

Prerequisite: INDU C321; INDU C323. The basic features of production systems and methods of modelling their operation; materials requirement planning; inventory control; the role of inventories in physical distribution; inventories in manufacturing, aggregate planning and scheduling. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

INDU C480
Industrial Engineering Project (4 credits)

Prerequisite: Completion of 20 courses. INDU C481 concurrently. Students will be assigned, as individuals or as small groups, specific industrial engineering projects. It is expected that these projects will be drawn from local industry and will thus reflect actual problems faced by industry. The project report will be prepared under the supervision of a staff member. Lectures: 1 hour per week, 1 term. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, 2 terms.

INDU C481
Industrial Engineering Seminar (1 credit)

INDU C480 concurrently. Students are given the opportunity to make oral presentations of the work carried out for their project. These presentations will be video-taped and used as a teaching tool to improve verbal communication abilities. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

Mechanical Engineering

MECH C311
Mechanical Engineering Laboratory I
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: MECH C313 previously or concurrently. Fundamentals of manufacturing processes and their limitations, metrology, machine shop practice, forming, machining and casting processes, welding and joining, plastic production and non-conventional machining techniques. Laboratory includes use of basic machines, preparation of shop drawings with emphasis on production and field trips to local industries. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

MECH C313
Machine Drawing and Design (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C213. The use of drawings and other graphical methods in the process of engineering design. Industrial standards and specifications, standard components and their use in product design. Detailed study of machine elements and assemblies, their representation and function in design and working drawings. Dimensioning and tolerance systems related to manufacturing processes, interchangeability, quality control. Pencil thinking and computer graphics in the design process. Computer aided machine drawing. A student design project will be an integral part of this course. An eight hour introduction to machine shop techniques forms part of the tutorial. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 2 hours per week.

NOTE: Students with credit for ENGR C214 and MECH C312 may not take this course for credit.

MECH C321
Strength and Failure in Metals (3 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C221. The service capabilities of alloys and their relationship to microstructure as produced by thermal and mechanical treatments; material codes; material selection for design; strengthening mechanisms, composite materials. Modes of failure of materials; fracture, fatigue, wear, creep, corrosion, radiation damage. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week.

MECH C341
Kinematics of Mechanisms (2.5 credits)

Prerequisite: EMAT C232; ENGR C243. Geometry of motion and mobility criteria; kinematic analysis and synthesis of linkages; theory of spur gears, helical, worm and bevel gearing; gear trains and differentials; cam kinematics. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Tutorial: 2 hours per week, alternate weeks. Laboratory: 2 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C342
Dynamics of Machines (2.5 credits)

Prerequisite: MECH C341. Kinematic analysis of space mechanisms; static and dynamic analysis of planar mechanisms and gear trains; dynamic analysis of space mechanisms; gyroscopic forces; balancing of rating and reciprocating machinery. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Tutorial: 2 hours per week, alternate weeks. Laboratory: 2 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C351
Thermodynamics II (3.75 credits)

Prerequisite: ENGR C251. Thermodynamic functions and equation, relationships between properties; behaviour of gases and their non-reactive mixtures; combustion. Applications of thermodynamics to power production and utilization systems. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C352
Heat Transfer I (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C311. Steady state and transient heat conduction, numerical methods for two-dimensional steady state heat conduction. Radiation heat exchange between black bodies, between grey bodies and from gases, vapours and flames. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C373
Instrumentation and Measurements (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C274. Unified treatment of measurement of physical quantities. Principle, characteristics, design and calibration of components and systems for measuring position, velocity, acceleration, force pressure, flowrate, temperature, proximity detection, etc. Background knowledge of electronics covering signal generation and processing. Concepts of accuracy and repeatability, linearity, response criteria, bandwidth, input and output impedance, matching of measuring systems, drift and bias. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C411
Mechanical Engineering Laboratory II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MECH C311. Analytical review of current design practices and specification of standard components encountered in mechanical engineering. Introduction to overall system reliability estimates, interchangeability of mechanical devices and influence of stress-strength in determining the actual configuration of mechanical elements. Standard components covered include: various types of mechanical drives, cams, clutches, couplings, brakes, seals, fasteners, springs and bearings. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

MECH C412
Computer Aided Mechanical Design (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: MECH C313; MECH C411. Introduction to computer hardware, graphical input and output devices; computer-aided drawing; generation of points, vectors, 2D modeling, windowing, rotation, plane curves, 3D modeling and transformations; projections, space curves and surfaces, elimination of hidden lines and surfaces; orthographic and axonometric drawings; computer-aided linkage design; computer-aided design and analysis of machine elements; introduction to interactive graphics in CAD. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C421
Deformation and Mechanical Shaping of Metals (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C221. The mechanisms of deformation and softening and the effects of processing variables on the mechanical properties of metals; cold working, annealing and hot working of metals. The effects of mechanical parameters and materials properties on the processing and on the product. Mechanical forming; shear line theory, extruding, forging, rolling, drawing. Metal cutting; machineability, metrology. Powder technology. Shaping of plastics; extrusion, molding, vacuum, forming, lamination. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C423
Thermal Treatment and Processing of Metals (4 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C221. Science and technology of thermal treatments for controlling the internal structure and the external shape of metals. Equilibrium phase diagrams. Kinetics of phase transformations, diffusion. Thermomechanical treatments of steel. Precipitation hardening. Solidification. Casting. Welding. Non-destructive testing. Finishing processes. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

MECH C441
Mechanical Engineering Design (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C244; MECH C313; MECH C342. Concepts in design; failure of mechanical elements under dynamic loading; shafting; bolted and welded joints; anti-friction and journal bearings; design of gears. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

MECH C443
Mechanical Vibrations (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: EMAT C311; ENGR C274; MECH C342. Transient vibrations under impulsive shock, and arbitrary excitation: normal modes, free and forced vibration. Multi-degree of freedom systems, influence coefficients, orthogonality principle, numerical methods. Continuous systems; longitudinal torsional and flexural free and forced vibrations of prismatic bars. Lagrange's equations. Vibration measurements. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1 hour per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C445
Machine Design (3.5 credits)
Prerequisite: MECH C441. Design of springs; design of gear and hydraulic drives, design for hydrodynamics and hydrostatic lubrication; optimum design of mechanical systems, design strategy, value and merit function, maximizing and minimizing procedures. Laboratory work includes an advanced design project representative of those encountered in industry. Lectures: 2 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

MECH C452
Heat Transfer II (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C362; MECH C352. Review of momentum transfer, free and forced convection heat transfer, dimensional analysis as applied to convection heat transfer configurations, heat exchangers, introduction to mass transfer. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C453
Environmental Control (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MECH C352. The effect of air temperature and humidity on physiological comfort, overall heat-transmission coefficients across building sections, heating load calculations, the effect of solar radiation on air-conditioning load, cooling load calculations, heating, air-conditioning and ventilating systems, design of piping and duct arrangement. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

MECH C455
Introduction to Nuclear Engineering (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MECH C351; MECH C352. Nuclear engineering principles. Nuclear reactions and reactors; control, heat removal and safety. Processing and properties of reactor fuels, moderators and coolants. Types of power reactors; radiation safety and protection. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

MECH C461
Gas Dynamics (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C362; MECH C351. Review of one-dimensional compressible flow. Normal and oblique shock waves; Prandtl-Meyer flow; combined effects in one-dimensional flow; non-ideal gas effects; multi-dimensional flow; linearized flow; method of characteristics. Selected experiments in supersonic flow, convergent-divergent nozzles, hydraulic analogue and Fanno tube. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C462
Turbomachinery and Propulsion (3 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C362; MECH C351. Overview of the gas turbine and its applications. Review of Brayton cycle and cycle modifications. Components arrangement, gas turbine cycles for propulsion. The Euler turbine equation, velocity triangles, dimensional analysis of turbomachines. Two-dimensional cascades. Centrifugal compressors and radial turbines. Axial flow compressors and turbines. Three-dimensional flow effects and radial equilibrium. Prediction of performance and off-design operation. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

MECH C463
Fluid Power Control (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: ENGR C361; ENGR C372. Introduction to Fluid Power; pneumatic devices; fluidic devices; hydraulic system components; hydraulic and electro-hydraulic systems; dynamic performance of fluid power systems; fluid logic. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C464
Aerodynamics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MECH C461. Theory of potential flow fields. Flows over immersed bodies, superposition of basic flows, method of source panels. Aerodynamic characteristics of isolated airfoils and of cascades of airfoils. The finite wing. Analytical and computational methods of subsonic and transonic flows over air foils. Boundary layer effects and control. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

MECH C465
Gas Turbine Design (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: MECH C462; MECH C464 concurrently. Study of practical criteria which influence the design of a gas turbine engine including relevant mechanical and aerodynamic constraints. The aerodynamics of each of the three major components of a modern turbo-fan engine, namely the compressor, the combustor and the turbine is considered. Air system acoustics, engine aerodynamic matching of components, and modern performance testing methods. A design project is assigned for each of these components. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C471
Microprocessors and Applications (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: COEN C411; ELEC C318. Introduction to the concepts and practices of using microprocessors and micro-computers in such applications as instrumentation, manufacturing, control and automation; architecture and programming techniques; design of interface logic circuits: I/O systems; case studies of engineering applications. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week, alternate weeks.

MECH C481
Design of Experimental Project (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Registration in final year. A mechanical engineering design, simulation or experimental project appropriate to the senior level carried out under the supervision of a faculty member. A complete report is required at the end of the project. Equivalent laboratory time: 6 hours per week.

71.80.1 CURRICULUM FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF COMPUTER SCIENCE

The University offers a programme leading to the degree of Bachelor of Computer Science with four Options, namely General Science, Digital Systems, General Business and Mathematics. To be recommended for the degree of Bachelor of Computer Science, students must satisfactorily complete an approved programme of at least 90 credits, comprising 42 credits of the core requirements and at least 48 credits as specified for one of the four options.

71.80.2 COMPUTER SCIENCE CORE

24 COMP C221[3], C231[3], C241[3], C251[3], C322[3], C352[3], C443[3], C453[3]
3 COMP C361[3] or EMAT C391[3] or MATH C311[3]
15 From Computer Science courses at or above the 300 level, of which not more than 3 credits may be chosen from COMP C311, C321, C341, C351, and C421.

1. General Science Option
NOTE: Admission profile is 10.10. Please refer to §71.10.1.
42 Computer Science Core
18 MATH C241[6], C261[6], and C281[6]
3 Elective credits in Computer Science at the 300 level or above.
21 Elective credits* chosen from
a) those offerings of the Faculty of Arts and Science which are creditable as science credits towards a 90 credit BSc programme.
b) those offerings of the Faculty of Commerce and Administration which are creditable towards a 90 credit BComm or BAdmin degree.
c) those offerings of the Faculty of Engineering and Computer Science other than COMP C211.
d) other courses as authorized by the Assistant Dean, Student Affairs, in consultation with the Department.
6 Elective credits.*

*Certain courses are not creditable towards some 90-credit programmes, or cover certain material already found in the Computer Science or Option Cores. As such they are not recognized as electives. A listing of these exclusions and other information on choice of electives is found in the Faculty programme guide. Exceptions require the approval of the Dean's Office.

NOTE: For students enrolled in the Science College, requirements are:

42 Computer Science Core
18 MATH C241, C261, C281
30 Science College Core

2. Digital Systems Option
NOTE: Admission profile is 10.10. Please refer to §71.10.1.
42 Computer Science Core
35.5 EMAT C212[3], C232[3], C252[3], C271[3], C312[3], material already found in the Computer Science or Option Cores. As such they are not recognized as electives. A listing of these exclusions and other information on the choice of electives is found in the Faculty programme guide. Exceptions require the approval of the Dean's Office.

3. General Business Option

NOTE: Admission profile is 10.12. Please refer to §71.10.1.

42 Computer Science Core
6 ACCO C213; C218
6 ECON C201; C203
3 FINA C314
3 MANA C266
3 MARK C213
9 QUAN C243; C244; C313
9 Elective credits from Commerce and Administration*
9 Elective credits from any department

*Students would normally register for FINA C315, MANA C213 or C340, and MARK C350. Students exempt from MANA C213 would normally substitute MANA C340. Other choices must be approved by the Computer Science department.

Certain courses are not creditable towards some 90-credit programmes or cover certain material already found in the Computer Science or Option Cores. As such they are not recognized as electives. A listing of these exclusions and other information on the choice of electives is found in the Faculty programme guide. Exceptions require the approval of the Dean's Office.

4. Mathematics Option

NOTE: Admission profile is 10.10. Please refer to §71.10.1.

42 Computer Science Core
18 MATH C241[6], C261[6], C281[6]
3 Elective credits in Computer Science at the 300 level or above
9 credits in Mathematics chosen from one of the lists below
6 credits in Mathematics chosen from courses at the 300 level or above
6 elective credits* chosen from
a) those offerings of the Faculty of Arts and Science which are creditable as science credits towards a 90-credit BSc programme.
b) those offerings of the Faculty of Commerce and Administration which are creditable towards a 90-credit BComm or BAdmin degree.
c) those offerings of the Faculty of Engineering and Computer Science other than COMP C211.
d) other courses as authorized by the Assistant Dean, Student Affairs, in consultation with the Department.

A listing of these exclusions and other information on the choice of electives is found in the Faculty programme guide. Exceptions require the approval of the Dean's Office.

List 1 Discrete Mathematics: MATH C322, C381, C392, C393, C394, C432, C491, C492.
List 2 Numerical Methods and Operations Research: MATH C312, C331, C381, C431, C432, C435.
List 3 Probability and Statistics: MATH C342, C343, C344[6], C345[6], C351, C353, C451.

71.80.3 HONOURS PROGRAMME

Students should refer to Sections 16.2.4 and 16.2.5 of the calendar for academic regulations for the Honours Programme. In addition the following regulations apply to the BCompSc programme.

1. Students who are required to withdraw from the honours programme must enter the General Science Option.

2. Students entering the honours programme from the General Science option of the BCompSc must complete a minimum of 30 credits towards the degree after having been accepted as honours students. Other students entering the programme with advanced standing must complete a minimum of 30 credits of the basic honours requirements after having been accepted as honours students.

3. Students in the honours programme are required to confirm their standing with the Computer Science Department by November 15 of each year.

Requirements for Honours

Basic Requirements
Year I
12 COMP C221[3], C231[3], C241[3], C251[3]
18 MATH C241[6], C261[6], C281[6]
Years II and III
18 COMP C322[3], C352[3], C443[3], C453[3], C491[6]
3 chosen from COMP C361[3], MATH C311[3]
6 MATH C271[3], C351[3]
3 chosen from COMP C325[4], C423[4.50]
3 chosen from COMP C436[3], C465[3]
3 chosen from COMP C442[3], C441[3], C445[3]
3 chosen from COMP C455[3.75], C456[3]
3 chosen from COMP C426[4.50], C471[3.75], C463[3]
6 chosen from MATH C331[6], C342[3], C343[3], C344[6], C345[6], C432[3]

Courses outside the basic requirements:

6 Elective credits* chosen from
a) those offerings of the Faculty of Arts and Science which are creditable as science credits towards a 90-credit BSc programme.
b) those offerings of the Faculty of Commerce and Administration which are creditable towards a 90-credit BComm or BAdmin degree.
c) those offerings of the Faculty of Engineering and Computer Science other than COMP C211.
d) other courses as authorized by the Assistant Dean, Student Affairs, in consultation with the Department.
6 elective credits*

*Certain courses are not creditable towards some 90-credit programmes, or cover certain material already found in the Computer Science or Option Cores. As such they are not recognized as electives. A listing of these exclusions and other information on the choice of electives is found in the Faculty programme guide. Exceptions require the approval of the Dean's Office.

71.80.4 MINOR IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

This programme is offered on both campuses.

	Minor in Computer Science
12	COMP C211, C221 or C321, C231, C241
12	Computer Science electives.

71.80.5 PROGRAMMES IN DATA PROCESSING

Both major and minor programmes in Data Processing can be found in the Commerce and Administration Section of the Undergraduate Calendar, §61.

71.80.6 COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

COMP C211
Introduction to Computers and Computing
(3 credits)

An introduction to the essential features of computers and computing systems. Problem analysis, algorithms and flowcharts. Detailed specifications of the FORTRAN language. This course will include programming assignments, to be prepared, tested, and documented individually. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1½ hours per week.

COMP C217
Computers in Society (3 .credits)

An introductory course for Arts students with no previous experience of computers. It covers the history of computers, the component parts of a computer, how human beings and computers pass information to each other, and what computers can (and cannot) be used for in the fields of education, research, business, medicine, art, government and the humanities. The effect of computers on society and the individual. Available as an elective for all students, but may not be taken for additional credit by students who already have credit for COMP C211, QUAN C211 or C217. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1½ hours per week.

NOTE: Not currently offered.

COMP C218
Introduction to Computing for the Physicaly Handicapped (3 credits)

An introductory course intended for the physically handicapped. Topics covered in this course will include programming in BASIC with the help of microcomputers, study of computer assistance to the handicapped, and applications of personal computers and microcomputers based systems to different types of physical handicaps. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1½ hour per week.

NOTE: Registration is limited to those physically handicapped persons who are judged able to benefit from the course and those working in the area of education for the physicaly handicapped. For further information contact the Dean of Students Office.

COMP C221
Introduction to Assembly Language Programming (3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMP C211 (CEGEP 420-911). Computer structure, machine language, instruction execution, addressing techniques and digital representation of data, symbolic coding and assembly systems; macro definition and generation. Linking and Loading. Systems and utility programmes; programming techniques. Introduction to the facilities provided by operating systems. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial 1½ hours per week.

COMP C231
Introduction to Discrete Structures
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMP C211 (CEGEP 420-911); MATH C202 (CEGEP 201-101); MATH C203 (CEGEP 201-103). Introduction to a high level programming language and fundamental algebraic, logical and combinatoric concepts such as: Set algebra; mappings and relations. Algebraic structures; semi-groups and groups. Elements of the theory of directed and undirected graphs. Boolean algebra and propositional logic. Applications of these structures to various areas of computer science. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1½ hours per week.

NOTE: Students with credit for ELEC C316 may not take this course for credit.

COMP C241
Computer Languages and Programming
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMP C211 (CEGEP 420-911); MATH C205 (CEGEP Mathematics 203); COMP C231 or ELEC C316. Precision programming by use of structured programming techniques. Definitions and specifications of syntax and semantics of programming languages. Use of high-level languages with examples chosen from discrete structures. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1½ hours per week.

COMP C251
Introduction to Business Programming
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMP C211 (CEGEP 420-911) or QUAN C221. Introduction to business data processing. Basic file organization and handling, record layouts, elementary information storage and retrieval. Detailed specifications of the Common Business Oriented Language (COBOL). Structured programming concepts will be emphasized. This course will include programming assignments involving basic business applications, to be prepared, tested and documented individually. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1½ hours per week.

COMP C311
Advanced FORTRAN Programming
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMP C211 (CEGEP 420-911). Discussion of concepts in advanced FORTRAN programming, using examples from numerical analysis. Topics to be covered will include: double precision, complex, and Boolean arithmetic, character-string manipulation; object time FORMAT; use of mass storage devices; file handling; use of software packages such as IMSLIB, SSP; introduction to structured programming and structured FORTRAN. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

COMP C321
Assembler Language Programming
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: COMP C221; COMP C251; COMP C311. Review of the basic concept of IBM 360/370 architecture and instruction repertoire. Memory access and storage. Detailed flowcharting of problems. Rules for coding assembler language programmes, including use of base registers, programme linking and sectioning and the use of macro instruction. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1½ hours per week.

COMP C322
Computer Organization (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C221 or COMP C321; COMP C311 or COMP C241. Organization logic design and components of a digital computer. Data representation and transfer. Digital Arithmetic. Digital storage and accessing. The arithmetic logic unit, control section and timing. Input-output devices and channels. System organization. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1½ hours per week.

COMP C325
Fundamentals of Digital Design (4 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C211 (CEGEP Data Processing 911); COMP C231. Review of binary arithmetic and Boolean algebra as applied to logic design. Combinational logic design techniques, sequential circuit design and analysis. Circuit design using SSI and MSI elements. Introduction to digital systems. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 2 hours per week.

COMP C335
Formal Language and Syntactic Analysis (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C241. Definitions of formal grammars. Context-free and regular grammars, relation with automata. Property grammars. Transduction grammars. Lexical scanners, algorithms for syntactic analysis. Lectures: 3 hours per week.
NOTE: Students with credit for COMP C435 may not take this course for credit.

COMP C341
PL/1 Programming (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C241 or COMP C251 or COMP C311. Study of the basic rules and important features of the PL/1 language. This will be integrated with the solution of a variety of practical computer programming problems, both scientific and commercial. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1½ hours per week.

COMP C351
Advanced Cobol Programming (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C251. Review of basic COBOL programming principles and techniques. Interfacing with the operating system; job control language. Advanced topics to be covered include: sorting, table handling, indexing and searching; report writing; direct access file handling and updating; subprogrammes; declaratives; source libraries; segmentation; design and structured programming will be emphasized. This course will include programming assignments. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

COMP C352
Data Structures (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C241; COMP C251. A detailed study of the basic data structures commonly used in data processing; techniques for data manipulation in structures such as stacks, queues, linked lists and trees; the management of memory space and overflow; internal sorting, external sorting and hash table methods. Emphasis will be on the design, implementation and evaluation of the various methods and the best choices of data structures for different applications. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1½ hours per week.

COMP C361
Elementary Numerical Methods (3 credits)
Prerequisite: MATH C204 (CEGEP 201-105); COMP C241. Error analysis and Computer arithmetic. Numerical methods for solving linear systems, Gaussian elimination, LU decomposition. Numerical solution of nonlinear equations, fixed point iterations, rate of convergence. Interpolations and approximations, Lagrange polynomials, divided differences, discrete least-square approximation, Legendre polynomials. Numerical integration, Newton-Cotes formulas, Romberg integration. Emphasis will be on the development of efficient algorithms. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

COMP C362
Computer Applications of Statistics (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C211; EMAT C271 or QUAN C244 or MATH C241. This course is designed to familiarize the student with the application of computers to statistical problems. Computer terminals and batch processing of Fortran programmes are used to develop a working knowledge of standard programmes for control charts, analysis of experimental design, sampling plans, forecasting, and statistical analysis common to many other fields. Students are expected to be familiar with elementary statistics and to be able to programme in Fortran. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

COMP C423
Mini-Computer Systems (4.5 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C322. Hardware and software structures relating to mini-computers. Processor architecture, input-output architecture, and operating system components. The laboratory provides hands-on access to mini-computer systems using machine and assembly language programming. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.
NOTE: Students who have credit for COMP C323 may not take this course for credit.

COMP C426
Microprocessor Systems and Applications (4.5 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C322; COMP C325. Microprocessor architectures and assembly languages. Standard LSI system components. Interface design using MSI and LSI. Microcomputer system architecture. Microcomputer peripheral devices and functions. Interface control programming. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 3 hours per week.

COMP C427
Advanced Topics in Microprocessor Systems (4 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C426. State of the art microcomputer architectures. Bit slice microprocessors, advanced LSI interface and controller circuits, multiprocessor systems, systems software. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory 2 hours per week.

COMP C436
Introduction to the Theory of Automata (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C335. Description of finite state automata and machines. Regular expressions, Kleene's theorem, minimization. Computibility, Church's thesis, unsolvability. The syntactic monoid. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

COMP C441
Advanced Programming Languages (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C352. Concepts of, comparison of, and practice in several of the following programming languages: ALGOL, LISP, PL/1, SIMULA67, and SNOBOL. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

COMP C442
Compiler Design (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C221; COMP C335; COMP C352. Compiler organization and implementation. Programming language constructs, their syntax and semantics. Syntax directed translation, code optimization. Run-time organization of programming languages. Lectures: 3 hours per week.
NOTE: Students with credit for COMP C342 may not take this course for credit.

COMP C443
Computer Operating Systems (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C241; COMP C322 or COEN C411. Software organization. Translating, linking, loading and executing. Control programmes for batch processing, time-sharing and real-time applications. Accounting. Communication between programme units. Multiprogramming and multiprocessing systems. Addressing techniques, paging and memory management. Control of parallel input-output processing, buffers and interrupt facilities. File systems. Protection. Detailed analysis of a small operating system. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1½ hours per week.

COMP C445
Data Communication and Computer Networks (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C322. The study of remote access to and communications between computers. Network architectures and topology; communication protocols and interfaces, functional layers; transmission facilities including communications equipment, line utilization, switching, and error handling; standard protocols; network interfaces including routing and flow control; point-to-point, broadcasting, and local networks theory and current practice; high-level protocols; reliability and security, encryption. Lectures: 3 hours per week.
NOTE: Students with credit for COMP C372 or C373 may not take this course for credit.

COMP C453
File and Data Bases (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C352. This course is a continuation of COMP C352 covering file structures and data bases. Random, index sequential, inverted, and mutilist file structures; concept of data models, data language, data security and data integrity. The organization, storage, search and retrieval methods of Hierarchical, Network and Relational data models will be discussed. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Tutorial: 1½ hours per week.

COMP C455
Principles of Data Processing (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C351; COMP C352. Study of techniques used in data processing applications. Preparation and handling of data, file organization and design, storage device, characteristics, programming techniques, documentation, interpretation and validity of results. Examples of business systems. Introduction to systems analysis. This course will include the analysis, design and implementation of a computer-oriented business system. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 1½ hours per week.

COMP C456
Information Retrieval (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C352. The basic problems of information retrieval. Document and library data bases. Question logic and processing considerations. Structure of search programmes for batched questions with sequential and inverted files. Practical considerations in system design. Measures of retrieval effectiveness. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

COMP C463
Discrete System Simulation (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C241; MATH C241 or QUAN C244 or EMAT C271. Discrete random variables and their distributions. A comparison of simulation techniques: discrete, continuous and hybrid. Queueing models, analysis of data. Model building. Review of simulation languages: Application to business problems and operations research. Lectures: 3 hours per week.
NOTE: Students with credit for COMP C475 may not take this course for credit.

COMP C465
Analysis of Algorithms (3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C352; COMP C361. Empirical and theoretical measures of the efficiency of algorithms. A study of good algorithms related to sorting, matrix multiplication, fast Fourier transform, integer and polynomial arithmetic, and graph theory. A survey of hard problem, NP-completeness, and interactable problems. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

COMP C471
Computer Graphics (3.75 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C322; COMP C352. Display memory; generation of points, vectors, etc. Interactive versus passive graphics; CRT devices and plotters, analog storage of images. Digitizing and digital storage. Pattern recognition. Data structures and graphics software. The mathematics of three-dimensional transformations; projections. Applications in computer-aided design and instruction. Lectures: 3 hours per week. Laboratory: 1½ hours per week.

COMP C472
Introduction to Artificial Intelligence(3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C352. Scope of AI. List processing. Heuristic programming: state-space search and problem-reduction strategies. Other topics include: game heuristics; symbolic pattern matching; AI production systems; knowledge representation; natural language processing; study of a large AI system. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

COMP C473
Pattern Recognition(3 credits)
Prerequisite: COMP C352. Optical character recognition; sequential and parallel recognition methods; Bayesian decision procedures; perceptrons; statistical and syntactic approaches; recognition grammars; feature extraction and selection, scene analysis. Lectures: 3 hours per week.

COMP C490
Computer Science Seminar and Project
(3 credits)
Individual work on a computer science project under the supervision of a faculty member, and a series of seminars dealing with topics of current interest by faculty members, students and industry representatives. At least 60 hours of work must be done on a project approved in advance, including the submission of a technical report. Special arrangements can be made with the Department to accept a project carried out by a student employed in a commercial firm.
NOTE: Students who have credit for COMP C491 may not take this course for credit.
NOTE: This course is offered on the Loyola Campus only.

COMP C491
Computer Science Project (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Permission of the Department. The students will work on a major project under the direction of a faculty member, and submit a suitable written report on the work carried out. Students planning to register for this course should consult with the department in the fall term preceding entry into the final term of study.

71.90 Certificate Programme in Quality Control

The programme leading to the Certificate in Quality Control is offered at the Loyola Campus, in the evening only.

71.90.1 ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applications for admission to the certificate programme in Quality Control are submitted to the Admissions Office at the Loyola Campus.

General Admission requirements are listed in §13.

Special requirements are a Diploma of Collegial Studies, or its equivalent, including the CEGEP courses Mathematics 103, 105 and 203, or their equivalents.

71.90.2 CURRICULUM FOR THE CERTIFICATE IN QUALITY CONTROL

To be recommended for the award of the Certificate in Quality Control, students must satisfactorily complete the programme of 48 credits specified below. Of the total credits required, 36 pertain directly to quality control, while the remainder are from computer science, mathematics and other allied areas. The courses offered in the programme will provide the student with an in-depth understanding and working knowledge of the principles and practices used in the rapidly expanding field of quality control.

The programme is fully endorsed by the Montreal Section of the American Society for Quality Control (ASQC). It has been designed in keeping with the requirements stipulated by the Education Institute of the ASQC headquarters and, as such, does much to prepare candidates for the ASQC Quality Engineer Certificate examinations. It should be noted, however, that the certificate programme does not lead to admission to the Order of Engineers of Quebec, or to the legal use of the title Engineer.

71.90.3 ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

Students are subject to the academic regulations of the University.

71.90.4 COURSE REQUIREMENTS

To be recommended for the award of the Certificate, students must satisfactorily complete the following courses:

QUAL C200	Elementary Metrology
QUAL C201	Advanced Metrology
QUAL C202	Statistical Quality Control
QUAL C203	Statistical Sampling
QUAL C204	Basic Concepts of Reliability
QUAL C205	Reliability Engineering
QUAL C206	Quality Management
QUAL C207	Design of Experiments
QUAL C208	Quality Assurance Technology
QUAL C209*	Accounting for Quality Control
QUAL C210	Computer Applications of Statistics
COMP C211	Introduction to Computers and Computing

3 elective credits from Computer Science or Quantitative Methods

*Students admitted before 01 June 1980 may replace this course with QUAN C221.

Course descriptions are given below, except for those with the prefixes QUAN or COMP, which may be found in the Commerce and Administration and Computer Science sections of the calendar.

71.90.5 COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

Please note that new course numbers have been implemented. For equivalent course numbers under the old system, please consult §200.6.

QUAL C200
Elementary Metrology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C204; MATH C205 (CEGEP Mathematics 105 and 203). An introductory course dealing with general measurement concepts, methods for estimating accuracy, systematic and constant errors.

Included are: mathematical bases of metrology, statistical analysis of measurement, master standards, principles involved in the use of projectors, pneumatic comparators, and direct reading measuring machines.

QUAL C201
Advanced Metrology (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAL C200; QUAL C202. This course applies the principles presented in Elementary Metrology, and explores the value of these principles through everyday applications to modern technology.

Special consideration is given to the 'Système Internationale' (Modernized Metric System) and its influence on industry (including the use of conversion tables and formulae).

The course treats non-destructive testing techniques and their applications, including (in some depth) radiographic, ultrasonic and nucleonic gauging and measurement.

QUAL C202
Statistical Quality Control (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C204; MATH C205 (CEGEP Mathematics 105 and 203). Techniques for establishing, monitoring and maintaining process control of manufactured products. A workshop course with full student participation in solving a variety of practical statistical quality control problems. Discussed are the concept of variation, frequency distributions, functions of a frequency distribution, the various types of control charts including those for attributes and variables data, analysis of patterns, process capability studies and other related topics.

QUAL C203
Statistical Sampling (6 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAL C202. Statistical sampling theory and its application to quality control. Also discussed in lecture workshop/sessions are risks for producer and consumer.

Topics include elements of probability theory; the binomial; Poisson, and hyper-geometric distribution; sampling theory; sampling plans, classification of sampling plans—AQL, AOQL and LTPD, types of sampling plans within each classification, such as single, double, multiple, unit sequential, and continuous plans and their associated operating characteristic curves. MIL-STD-105D and MIL-STD-414 are discussed in detail and the Dodge and Romig tables are highlighted.

QUAL C204
Basic Concepts of Reliability (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAL C202. A mixed format of lectures, workshops, problems and discussions designed to familiarize the student with the basic principles of reliability. Building gradually from historical review, definitions and concepts, the course discusses probability theory, Poisson and exponential distributions, reliability equation, MTBF and failure rate concepts, Weibull analysis, mean and median ranks, confidence statements, life characteristic curves, system reliabilities, standby systems, associated problems and other related topics.

QUAL C205
Advanced Reliability (3 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAL C202; QUAL C204. Statistical methods in life testing. Introduction, reliability concepts and definitions, historical review and development. Life characteristic curve, Poisson and exponential distributions, exponential reliability equation, MTBF and failure rate concepts.

Chi square confidence statements and intervals, Weibull analysis, mean and median ranks, associated problems. Probability theory, system reliabilities, standby systems, and other related topics.

QUAL C206
Quality Management (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C204; MATH C205 (CEGEP Mathematics 105 and 203). Emphasis is on general principles of planning and management rather than quality control methodology. The concept of total quality control, from design, development and manufacture to customer use, is developed.

The economics of quality, the planning and implementation of a quality cost programme, organization for quality, procurement quality control, in-process control, motivation for quality, value engineering, system quality audit, customer feedback and product liability are topics treated in detail.

QUAL C207
Design of Experiments (6 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAL C202. An introductory course, providing a more systematic approach to experimentation with emphasis on the use of statistical designs for data interpretation and known confidence in the result and overall costs.

The course covers: tests of hypotheses, F, t, and X^2 tests, analysis of variance, goodness of fit tests, use of probability paper, and control chart analysis of experimental results. Also included are experimental design methods such as: full and fractional factorial designs, regression analysis, multiple and random balance designs, latin square, cube and nested designs, etc.

QUAL C208
Quality Assurance Technology (6 credits)

Prerequisite: QUAL C202. The basic principles of quality assurance, and its definition as a planned and systematic pattern of actions necessary to provide adequate confidence that a product or service conforms to established requirements. The development of the individual quality system in a modular format to cover the various phases of the industrial and commercial enterprise. Topics include: development of Quality Organizations, systems engineering, closed loop feedback systems, principle of modular systems, what the customer expects versus what he gets, development of quality product, computer software QA, product safety and reliability, vendor-vendee relations, manufacturing, processing and post-production servicing.

QUAL C209
Product Cost Control (3 credits)

Prerequisite: MATH C204; MATH C205 (CEGEP Mathematics 105 and 203). This course introduces the student to product cost control and related areas. Topics include introductions to: accounting, procedures, cash flow, budgeting, capital equipment costing and amortization, product costing, cost of quality control systems ('quality costs'). Lectures: 3 hours per week.

QUAL C210
Computer Application of Statistics
(3 credits)

This course is designed to familiarize the student with the application of computers to statistical problems. Computer terminals and batch processing of Fortran programmes are used to develop a working knowledge of standard programmes for control charts, analysis of experimental design, sampling plans, forecasting and statistical analysis common to many other fields. Students are expected to be familiar with elementary statistics and to be able to programme in Fortran. NOTE A/See §200.6

*Please note the following explanation of letters appearing after profile number.
A: Interview/Audition
K: Submission of a Portfolio of representative work

81.10.2 MATURE ENTRY

General admission requirements to the 108 credit programme (Mature Entry) are listed in §14.

Students admitted into the Faculty of Fine Arts by the Mature Entry plan are required to complete 18 credits in addition to the 90 credits normally required for the degree. In Fine Arts, students are required to complete the following:

18 credits appropriate for entry into the student's ultimate area of concentration and chosen with the approval of the Faculty adviser

81.10.3 EXTENDED CREDIT PROGRAMME

Students admitted to the 120 credit Extended Credit Programme in Fine Arts are required to complete 30 credits in addition to the 90 credits normally required for the degree. In Fine Arts students are required to complete the following courses:

6 credits in English or French
24 credits elective appropriate for entry into the student's ultimate area of concentration chosen from the course listings in §14.4, in consultation with an adviser. Students wishing to apply for programmes in all the Studio Art departments should complete Art C200 as 6 of these elective credits.

81.10.4 TRANSFER STUDENTS

Students who have completed courses in other colleges or universities and wish to apply for advanced standing, are granted credits on the basis of the programme at Concordia University.

Studio Art students must submit a portfolio and/or slides of their work to the Portfolio Committee of Visual Arts, for placement recommendation. Any student who does not submit this portfolio is required to complete Art C200 as part of the degree requirements. To request exemption for Art C200, the portfolio should contain examples of drawing, painting, two- and three-dimensional design, sculpture and related media (see below). For advanced standing in any of the studio areas, students should submit examples of work in the specific area in which the exemption is being sought. This must be done prior to registration.

Music students wishing exemption must arrange to write the Music Theory Placement Test and/or audition with the Division of Performing Arts. This must be done prior to registration.

Students seeking a second degree must complete a minimum of 60 credits at Concordia University (see §16.1.5). Students transferring credits towards a first degree must complete a minimum of 45 credits at Concordia (see §16.1.5). These students must complete all programme and degree requirements, as well as the Faculty of Fine Arts residency requirements (see §81.20.2).

81.10.5 PORTFOLIO COMMITTEE

The foundation course for all studio art programmes in Visual Arts is Art C200. Students wishing to apply for an exemption from Art C200 on the basis of previous studio art work must submit a portfolio containing examples of their art work. This portfolio should include examples of drawing, painting, two- and three-dimensional design, sculpture and related media, normally a minimum of 20 and a maximum of 30 works.

Normally, the University does not request submission of a portfolio as a basis of admission. However, to request advanced placement in any of the studio art areas, students must submit, in addition to the work submitted for the Art C200 exemption, examples of art work in the specific area in which the exemption is sought. Exemption and/or credit for specific studio art courses is granted only on the basis of the student's portfolio. Specific information concerning the number of submissions required in any studio art area is available through the departmental offices.

Portfolios must be submitted at least one week prior to preregistration or registration, to the Portfolio Committee of the Faculty of Fine Arts. These portfolios should be submitted to the secretary of the relevant department.

81.10.6 MUSIC THEORY PLACEMENT TEST

All students with prior music study, except those who have received written notification of exemption for Music C210, must contact the Department of Music in order to arrange for a Theory Placement Test. This must be done at least two weeks prior to registration.

81.10.7 MUSIC AUDITIONS

All students wishing to register for Music ensembles, the orchestra, the choir, etc. must contact the Department of Music at least two weeks prior to registration to arrange an audition.

81.20 Degree Requirements

Students preparing for the degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts will take a minimum of 90 credits. Each credit represents, for the average student, a mimimum of 45 hours of work spread across lectures, conferences, laboratories, studio or practice-periods, tests, examinations, and personal work.

81.20.1 BFA DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Graduation with the degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts requires:

(a) Concentration Requirements

Successful completion of a Specialization, Honours, Major or Double Minor programme in Fine Arts.

The selection is made upon entry, prior to registration. The requirement of selecting a programme upon entry should not be thought of as being necessarily a final commitment. The Fine Arts programmes are designed to be flexible enough to allow for changes, subject to limitations where certain programmes are in great demand.

A "Minor" is made up of an approved sequence of 24-30 credits. The term "Double Minor" states that the student has followed, within the requirements for the BFA degree, a planned programme of study in two specialized fields in Fine Arts, with a lower degree of concentration in either than is afforded by a Major Programme.

(b) Distribution Requirements

1. All students must successfully complete a minimum of 18 credits chosen from course offerings outside the Faculty of Fine Arts*. Students are advised to select these courses in consultation with their programme adviser.

2. Students in programmes of concentration of 66 credits or less, require 6 credits selected from outside their area of concentration. This means that these credits must be selected from courses in other Departments. For students in programmes of Art Education, Graphic Design and Studio Art these credits must be selected from course offerings outside the studio art courses offered by the Departments of Art Education, Design, Painting and Drawing, Printmaking, Sculpture and Crafts, and the studio courses in Photography offered by the Department of Cinema and Photography. Students may, however, select Art C460, C461 and Photography C250 to fulfill this requirement.

3. Students in programmes of concentration of 60 credits or less require additional credits to make up the 90 credits required for the degree. These "free" electives may be selected from courses either inside the Faculty or from other faculties. However, students must have the prerequisites required for the courses selected. Also, students are subject to the availability of space in these courses.

Communication Studies courses do not fulfill the BFA degree requirement, which states that 18 credits shall be outside the Faculty of Fine Arts.*

81.20.2 RESIDENCY REQUIREMENTS

To fulfill the residency requirements for a BFA degree with a concentration in:

1. Art Education, Graphic Design, Printmaking, or Studio Art: at least 30 credits in Studio Art and 6 credits in Art History must be taken at Concordia.

2. Cinema, Film Production, or Film Studies: at least half of the required credits in Cinema must be taken at Concordia.

3. Drama in Education, Theatre, Theatre Performance, or Theatre Scenography: at least 30 credits in Theatre Arts must be taken at Concordia.

4. Music, Music Performance Studies, Music Theory/Composition, Selected Music Studies, or Studio Music: at least 30 credits in Music must be taken at Concordia.

5. Art History, Art History and Studio Art: at least half of the required credits in Art History and Studio Art must be taken at Concordia.

6. Minor programmes: at least 15 credits required in the minor must be taken at Concordia.

Ordinarily, these, combined with the other Degree requirements (see §81.20) imply that the full-time student must enroll for a minimum of two years of study at Concordia University.

Students are also subject to the University residency requirements (see §16.1.5).

81.20.3 COURSE LOAD

The normal course load for students enrolled in the Faculty of Fine Arts is 30 credits per year for all full-time students.

i) Full-time students may not register for more than 18 credits of their 30 credits in any studio area in any given academic year. Part-time students may not register for more than 12 credits.

ii) Students may register for a maximum of one course (6 credits) in which films are produced as a course requirement during any given academic year. See §81.80.3 for list of courses. Also, students are limited, during their degree programme, to 18 credits in Film Production or Film Animation courses in which films are produced as a course requirement. See §81.80.3. With special permission, Cinema majors in Option B, Film Animation are permitted to complete a total of 24 credits in these courses, of which 12 credits may be taken in any one year.

iii) Students may register for only 6 credits in Theatre Production (Theatre Arts Section) in any given academic year.

iv) Students may register for only 6 credits in Music Private Study in any given year.

v) Special students in the Faculty of Fine Arts may register for a maximum of 18 credits during any given academic year.

To carry additional credits, a student must submit a student request for permission to do so to the Assistant Dean of the Faculty.

81.20.4 BFA HONOURS PROGRAMME REQUIREMENTS

See Academic Regulations §16.2.4.

Prospective Honours Students must apply for entry to the programme after the completion of 30 credits and prior to the commencing of their last 30 credits of the BFA degree.

Applications are made through the honours adviser upon completion of 30 credits.

81.20.5 DIPLOMA IN ART EDUCATION

The Faculty of Fine Arts offers a one-year post-graduate programme leading to the Diploma in Art Education. This programme is integrated with the Bachelor of Fine Arts (Specialization in Art Education) to provide a continuous pattern of studies preparing art specialists for teaching in elementary and secondary schools. In order to qualify for admission, students must have completed the Concordia University Bachelor of Fine Arts (Specialization in Art Education) or the equivalent. Graduates of other institutions will be considered if they have had the equivalent of an undergraduate major in studio work and can present an acceptable portfolio. They will be expected to make up the Education and Art Education courses included in the Bachelor of Fine Arts, Specialization in Art Education. The Diploma Programme is offered in the day only. Graduates who have been awarded the Diploma in Art Education meet the requirements for a Specialists Certificate in Art, awarded by the Quebec Board of Education. A detailed description of the Programme may be found in the Graduate Studies calendar.

81.20.6 DIPLOMA IN ART THERAPY

The Faculty of Fine Arts offers a one year post-graduate programme leading to the Diploma in Art Therapy.

This programme is designed to offer intermediate training for students intending to become qualified art therapists through further graduate study and to provide basic skills in art therapy for members of the helping professions who wish to develop the use of the visual arts in their work.

Normally the programme takes one year of full-time study; however, classes are arranged, as far as possible, to accommodate part-time students, who are expected to complete a minimum of two courses (12 credits) in their first year. The programme includes a practicum requirement.

Admission to the programme depends upon a suitable background of study in art and psychology. Students must have completed the Bachelor of Fine Arts, Major in Art Education at Concordia University or its equivalent.

A detailed description of the programme may be found in the Graduate calendar.

81.20.7 PROGRAMME ADVISERS

The Faculty of Fine Arts has a Student Programme Office where students may obtain information on Faculty regulations and assistance in planning their programmes in Fine Arts. The advisers have a complete list of faculty members to whom students are referred for detailed information on classes and programmes.

The Faculty of Fine Arts consists of two divisions, comprising departments, a section and numerous programmes.

81.30 Division of Performing Arts

The Performing Arts Division consists of a Department of Music and a Department of Theatre and a section of Modern Dance.

Programmes:

For information concerning any of the following programmes in the Division of Performing Arts please consult the calendar section listed opposite the programme.

81.50 Inter-Related Arts

Co-ordinator
K. AUSTIN

The Faculty of Fine Arts offers a programme in Inter-Related Arts for students wishing to focus their studies on more than two disciplines. Such students are advised to select courses from the list below in consultation with the Faculty co-ordinator.

60 BFA Major in Inter-Related Arts

0-6 Inter-Related Arts

0-24 Art History Department: Art History elective credits

0-24 Cinema and Photography Department: Cinema elective credits chosen from Film Studies C200[6], C211[6], C212[6], C311[3], C312[3], C313[3], C314[3], C315[3], C318[3], C321[6], C322[6], C323[3], C324[3], C326[3], C327[3], C328[3], C329[3], C411[3], C413[3], C414[3], C415[3], C416[3], C417[3], C418[3], C419[3], C422[3], C423[3], C424[3], C425[3], C427[3], Film Animation C312[6], Film Production C231[6]

0-24 Modern Dance elective credits chosen in consultation with the Dance Co-ordinator

0-24 Music Department: Music elective credits chosen in consultation with a programme adviser, Music

0-24 Studio Art Department: Studio Art elective credits

0-24 Theatre Arts (Drama) Department: Theatre Arts elective credits chosen in consultation with a programme adviser, Theatre Arts

Credits must be taken in a minimum of 3 fields of concentration with a maximum of 24 credits in any field.*

Art C460 may be substituted for 6 credits in Studio Art or Art History.*

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

INTER-RELATED ARTS C391

Independent Study I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Third-year standing* and written permission of the Coordinator of Inter-Related Arts. A course of independent study in which the student explores the relationship between two or more fields of concentration.

fewer than 33 credits remaining in degree programme*

INTER-RELATED ARTS C392

Independent Study II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Inter-Related Arts C391 and written permission of the Coordinator of Inter-Related Arts. A student repeating Inter-Related Arts C391 registers under Inter-Related Arts C392.

81.60.1 PROGRAMMES

Students are responsible for fulfilling their particular degree requirements; hence, the following sequence must be read in conjunction with §81.20.

The superscript indicates credit value.

78* BFA Specialization in Art Education

18 Art Education C300[6], C400[6], C430[6]
6 Fibres C240[6], C260[6], Ceramics C230[6]
12 Painting C200[6], Drawing C200[6]
6 Art History C244[6]
6 Art History elective
18 Studio Art electives chosen in consultation with a programme adviser in Art Education
12 Drama in Education or Music

With written permission from the Chairman of the Department, students may take an extra 6 credits from offerings of the Faculty of Fine Arts.*

Art C460 may be substituted for the Art History elective.*

NOTE: Students applying to the Diploma in Art Education and for Québec Certification must, in addition, take Education C210.

60 BFA Major in Art Education

12 Art Education C300[6], C400[6]
6 Fibres C240[6], C260[6], Ceramics C230[6]
12 Art History electives*
30 Studio Art elective credits (Film Animation C312 may be substituted for 6 credits in Studio Art)

Art C460 may be substituted for an Art History elective.*

NOTE: This programme is an alternative to the BFA Specialization in Art Education and does not lead directly to the Diploma in Art Education. Electives permit a wider choice in appropriate complementary areas in preparation for graduate study in areas such as art therapy, museum work, recreation, geriatrics and fine arts administration. Students wishing to qualify for the Diploma in Art Therapy should refer to entrance requirements in the Graduate Calendar which include 6 credits in Art Therapy and 18-24 credits in Psychology.

81.60.2 THE CERTIFICATE IN ELEMENTARY ART EDUCATION

The Department of Art Education offers a Certificate in elementary art education for the professional development of teachers. The programme is designed in accordance with the guidelines of the Quebec Ministry of Education and consists of studios, seminars, lectures, and a practicum. The programme offers classroom teachers opportunities to acquire the knowledge and skills needed to implement the elementary art programme and to enrich the curriculum by relating art to other subject areas. Courses are scheduled in the late afternoon or evenings, both on and off campus for the convenience of teachers.

Admission Requirements

Entry to the programme requires that the candidate be legally qualified to teach either at the elementary or high-school level. The Faculty of Fine Arts may allow up to 12 pro tanto credits to students who have completed appropriate courses that have been applied to a previous degree or certificate.

30 Certificate in Elementary Art Education

6 Art Education C200[6]
6 Art C200[6]
6 Art Education C330[6]
12 Electives from other offerings within the Faculty of Fine Arts

81.60.3 COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

Art Education:

ART EDUCATION C200
Orientation to Art Education (6 credits)

A studio workshop course of interest to teachers, recreation workers and others interested in applications of the visual arts. No previous art experience is required. Students are introduced to various art media including painting, collage construction, printing, and modelling, and helped to see the educational possibilities of these media. NOTE A/See §200.3

NOTE: Students who receive credits for this course may not take Art Education C201 for credit.

ART EDUCATION C201
Art in Early Childhood I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Specialization in Early Childhood, Major in Child Studies, or written permission of the Department of Art Education. An introductory study of the art-making process in early childhood. This course is a studio workshop which investigates potential media and teaching approaches appropriate for the young child.

NOTE: Students who receive credit for this course may not take Art Education C200 for credit.

ART EDUCATION C202
Art in Early Childhood II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Art Education C201. A continuation of Art Education C201.

ART EDUCATION C300*
An Introduction to Art Education
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: 18 credits in Studio Art and second-year standing or permission of the Art Education Department. A workshop-seminar course in which materials and art concepts are investigated and related to the teaching of art. Readings in the literature of Art Education are included.

DESIGN C203
Design in the Arts II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Design C202. A continuation of Design C202.

DESIGN C210
Materials and Techniques I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major in Design; Design C200 and Design C220, previously or concurrently, or written permission of the Department. A general study of the properties and characteristics of materials as processes commonly used in the manufacturing and industrial sector as applied to specific design projects.

DESIGN C220
Design Drawing I (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major in Design; Design C200 and either Design C210 or Graphic Design C260 concurrently. A drawing course specifically for design students to develop drawing skills and promote an awareness of options in drawing methods and materials available to designers. The course emphasizes analytical drawing, perspective design drawing and projection drawing.

NOTE: Students who have taken Drawing C200 may not take this course for credit.

DESIGN C300
Design II: Interior, Exhibition and Experimental Design (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Design C200, C210, and C220 or Design C200 and written permission of the Department. A continuation of Design C200. The course has both practical and theoretical elements which reflect the comprehensive nature of the concerns of the designer in the fields of interior design, exhibition design, experimental media-design. Emphasis is placed on the identification and resolution of design problems, using the resources and methods of inquiry of the designer.

DESIGN C310
Materials and Techniques II (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major in Design and Design C300, previously or concurrently, or written permission of the Department. A continuation of Design C210, using more advanced techniques to deal with complex problems in design. Emphasis is placed on the physical, aesthetic and tactile properties of materials as used in three dimensional design.

DESIGN C320
Methods of Visual Presentation I (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major in Design and Design C300, previously or concurrently, or written permission of the Department. A continuation of Drawing C210, with an increased emphasis on the development of the working drawing, the use of "mock-up" in resolving design problems and construction of scaled models as the final means of presenting and communicating a design solution within one of the three prescribed fields of study: interior, exhibition or experimental media-design.

DESIGN C330
Theory and Application (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major in Design and Design C300, previously or concurrently, or written permission of the Department. An investigation of the design process as a purposeful activity directed towards initiating change in man-made objects. The course covers traditional and contemporary methods of problem solving through all phases systematically from research to implementatin. Assignments will permit the student to plan and realize a design project and to focus their work in one field: interior, exhibition or experimental media-design.

DESIGN C340
Theories of Design (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major in Design or Honours in Graphic Design, or Art History C250, or written permission of the Department. An examination of outstanding and significant emphasis is placed on the development of design as an independent art form in the twentieth century. NOTE A/See §200.3

DESIGN C400
Major Studio Project (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department and Design C410 concurrently. A student-initiated project, based on the previous two years of learning within the 3D Design Programme. The course will be organized in the form of a contractual arrangement between individual students and their faculty adviser. The project is to be related to the field in which the student has concentrated.

DESIGN C410
Major Project: Supervised Essay (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department and Design C400 concurrently. An extensive essay to provide a theoretical context for the major project. The project is conceived by the student and approved by the departmental adviser who supervises the research and composition of the paper.

DESIGN C420
Methods of Visual Presentation II
(6 credits)
Prerequisite: Graphic Design C320 or Design C320 and/or written permission of the Department. A workshop for advanced students in which they may focus on a medium central to their interest in fields within the Graphic Design or Three Dimensional Design programmes. Symbology and typography is an integral part of the content.

NOTE: Students who have credit for Graphic Design C420 may not take this course for credit.

DESIGN C440
Independent Study (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department of Design. A course of independent study in which the student explores a special area of design.

DESIGN C441
Independent Study (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department of Design. A course of independent study in which the student explores a specific area of design.

DESIGN C442
Independent Study (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Design C441 and written permission of the Department of Design. A course of independent study in which the student explores a specific area of design.

DESIGN C450
Professional Internship (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department and second-year standing*. A design student who has been employed in the design profession for not less than 500 hours within the same calendar year, or similarly a student employed for the same amount of time in design research, or in writing design criticism, may apply for 6 credits on the understanding that the Department must be satisfied that the work was done under the joint supervision of a qualified professional and a full-time faculty member of the Department.

fewer than 66 credits remaining in degree programme*

DESIGN C455
Independent Study (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department of Design. A course of independent study in which the student explores a specific area of design.

Graphic Design:

GRAPHIC DESIGN C260
Graphic Design I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major in Design and Design C200 and Design C220 previously or concurrently. The tools and techniques of graphic communication with special emphasis on typography. A context for these studies is provided by an inquiry into the cultural and communicative roles of the graphic designer. NOTE A/See §200.3

GRAPHIC DESIGN C300
Graphic Design II (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major in Design or Honours in Graphic Design and Design C200, C220, and Graphic Design C260. A continuation of Graphic Design C260. The graphic combination of typography, imagery and its reproduction is emphasized in various formats. Portfolio development is required. NOTE A/See §200.3

GRAPHIC DESIGN C310
Illustration I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major in Design or Honours in Graphic Design and Graphic Design C300, previously or concurrently, or permission of the Department. Exploration of the ideas, techniques, and materials of the illustrator. The course focuses upon both personal development in drawing and technical facility. The study and practice of typography is an integral part of the course. Students are required to develop their portfolios in illustration.

GRAPHIC DESIGN C320
Display Graphics I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major in Design or Honours in Graphic Design and Graphic Design C300, previously or concurrently, or written permission of the Department. The dynamics of spatial organization as applied to graphic communication. A study of the function of contemporary three-dimensional graphics provides a background for studio experience with structural materials. The study and practice of typography is an integral part of the course. Students are required to develop their portfolios in display graphics.

GRAPHIC DESIGN C330
Sequential Graphics I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major in Design or Honours in Graphic Design and Graphic Design C300, previously or concurrently, or written permission of the Department. The design of brochures, folders, books, magazines, and other visual formats, including slide presentations. Important considerations include clarity of communication and visual integration of sequential units. The study and practice of typography is an integral part of the course. Students are required to develop their portfolios in sequential graphics.

GRAPHIC DESIGN C410
Illustration II (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Graphic Design C310 and written permission of the Section. A continuation of Graphic Design C310. While the course deals with a variety of techniques useful in editorial and advertising illustration, it emphasizes personal development in drawing and encourages experimentation with original ideas. Students are required to develop their portfolios in illustration. NOTE A/See §200.3

GRAPHIC DESIGN C430
Sequential Graphics II (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Graphic Design C330 and written permission of the Section. A continuation of Graphic Design C330. Students are required to develop their portfolios in sequential graphics. NOTE A/See §200.3

GRAPHIC DESIGN C462
Special Topics in Graphic Design
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: Graphic Design C461 and written permission of the Section. A student repeating Graphic Design C461 registers under Graphic Design C462 for credit.

GRAPHIC DESIGN 498
Special Topics in Graphic Design
(3 credits)

Prerequisite: 18 credits in Graphic Design and written permission of the Section. A course for advanced students which provides an opportunity for the study of more specialized areas in Graphic Design.

GRAPHIC DESIGN 499
Special Topics in Graphic Design
(6 credits)

Prerequisite: 18 credits in Graphic Design and written permission of the Section. A course for advanced students which provides an opportunity for the study of more specialized areas in Graphic Design.

DANCE C200
Workshop in Dance I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Dance C210 previously or concurrently. Enrolment in the Major in Modern Dance or written permission of the Co-ordinator of Dance. Studies in dance, emphasizing the expressive possibilities of movement. Styles of dance are introduced and projects for performance are explored, with consideration being given to the role of visual, acoustic, and verbal elements in dance.

DANCE C210
Body Movement I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Enrolment in the Major in Modern Dance or written permission of the Co-ordinator of Dance. The technical development of suppleness, strength, coordination, and kinetic awareness is emphasized. Body movement is discussed and developed as preparation for dance.

DANCE C211
Dance Traditions I (3 credits)

A survey of the history of dance, including relations between older dance traditions and styles of modern dance.

DANCE C212
Dance Traditions II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Dance C211. A continuation of Dance C211.

DANCE C240*
Principles of Modern Dance (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Written permission of the Co-ordinator of Dance. A survey of technical skills, improvisation and dance composition.

Students enrolled in the Major in Modern Dance may not take this course for credit.*

DANCE C261
Summer Workshop in Dance I (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Written permission of the Co-ordinator of Dance. Sequences of studio sessions which may include body movement, improvisation, performance technique and choreography.

NOTE: Credits received for this course may not apply towards the Major in Modern Dance.

DANCE C262
Summer Workshop in Dance II (3 credits)

Prerequisite: Written permission of the Coordinator of Dance. A continuation of Dance C261.

NOTE: Credits received for this course may not apply towards the Major in Modern Dance.

DANCE C300
Workshop in Dance II (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Dance C200, and enrolment in Major in Modern Dance, or written permission of the Co-ordinator of Dance. A continuation of Dance C200.

DANCE C310
Body Movement II (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Dance C300, previously or concurrently, and enrolment in Major in Modern Dance, or written permission of the Co-ordinator of Dance. A continuation of Dance C210.

DANCE C320
Choreography I (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Dance C300, previously or concurrently, and written permission of the Co-ordinator of Dance. The organization of movement, space, and time into dance performances. The process of choreographic creation is followed through stages of originating the idea, developing the theme, rehearsing, and performing. Student works are performed.

DANCE C400
Workshop in Dance III (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Dance C300, and enrolment in Major in Modern Dance, or written permission of the Co-ordinator of Dance. A continuation of Dance C300.

DANCE C410
Body Movement III (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Dance C400, previously or concurrently, and enrolment in Major in Modern Dance, or written permission of the Co-ordinator of Dance. A continuation of Dance C310.

DANCE C420
Choreography II (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Dance C320, enrolment in Major in Modern Dance and written permission of the Co-ordinator of Dance. A continuation of Dance C320.

DANCE 499
Topics in Dance (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Dance C420 previously or concurrently, enrolment in the Major in Modern Dance or written permission of the Co-ordinator of Dance. Advanced choreography where movement shares equal emphasis with all other arts developed into multi-media theatre.

81.110.1 PROGRAMMES

Students are responsible for fulfilling their particular degree requirements; hence, the following sequences must be read in conjunction with §81.20.

The superscript indicates credit value.

SPECIALIZATION IN MUSIC

The Faculty of Fine Arts offers four Specialization programmes in Music, which consist of 66 credits each.

Students applying for entrance to the specializations are accepted into the Major in Integrative Music Studies. Upon completion of the core requirements, students may apply for transfer into one of the specializations. Acceptance is based on the student's general academic performance in all University courses, but especially in the core courses.

CORE REQUIREMENTS

The required 27-30 credit core is identical for all four Specializations in Music, and comprises the following courses:

3-6	Music C230^{6}, C231^{3}
6*	Integrative Music Studies C200^{6}
6	Integrative Music Studies C310^{6}
6	Music History C200^{6} (or, if exempt, 6 credits in World Music or Music History selected in consultation with the Music Adviser)
6	Music History elective credits

With permission of the Music Adviser, students may substitute Integrative Music Studies C300^{6}.*

NOTE: The student is responsible for following the courses required for the completion of his/her particular specialization.

66 Specialization in Music Performance Studies*

30	Core
12	Music C330^{6} or Music Performance Studies C390^{6}; and Music Performance Studies C490^{6}
12	Music Performance Studies C311^{3}, C312^{3}, C321^{3}, C322^{3}, C411^{3}, C412^{3}, C421^{3}, C422^{3}
6	Music Performance Studies C370^{6}, C431^{3}, C432^{3} or Music electives except Music C200^{6}
6	Integrative Music Studies C410^{6}

Students interested in pursuing a programme in Early Music should register for the Specialization in Music Performance. Upon completion of the core requirements, these students should select the following options in their Specialization programme:*

Music Performance C311, C312, C411, C412, C441, C442
Music History C311, C312

66 Specialization in Music Theory/Composition

27-30	Core
6	Integrative Music Studies C300^{6}
6-12	Integrative Music Studies C400^{6}, Contemporary Music Studies C310^{6}, C321^{3}, C322^{3}, C330^{6}, C411^{3}, C412^{3}
6	Integrative Music Studies C320^{6}, C331^{3}, C332^{3}
12-21	Music electives, other than Music C200^{6}, selected in consultation with the Music adviser

66 BFA Specialization In Selected Music Studies

27-30	Core
30-33	Music electives in Specialization selected in consultation with programme adviser
3-6	Music C491^{3}, C492^{3}

Courses in the Specialization may include the investigation of areas not normally combined in the music curriculum, including musical perception, theory, composition, pedagogy, literature, and performance.

Eligibility:
Completion of core, with B average or better.

Entrance:
Submission and approval of plan of course work and Special Project (Music C491).

Review:

Upon completion of the courses in this Specialization, the Special Project is graded by the appropriate Review Committee. The type of evaluation used depends upon the nature of the project: exhibition, concert, recording, essay or musical production, etc.

66 Specialization in Jazz Studies

27-30 Core
6 Contemporary Music Studies C300[6]
12-18 Contemporary Music Studies C310[6], C401[3], C402[3], C410[6], C411[3], C412[3], Integrative Music Studies C331[3], C332[3]
12-21 Music electives, other than Music C200[6], selected in consultation with the Music adviser

54 BFA Major in Integrative Music Studies

6 Music C210[6] (or, if exempt, music electives chosen in consultation with the programme adviser, Music)
3-6 Music C230[6], C231[3]
12 Integrative Music Studies C200[6]*, C310[6]
6 Music History C200[6] (or, if exempt, World Music or Music History elective chosen in consultation with the programme adviser, Music)
6 Music History electives
18-21 Music electives, other than Music C200[6], selected in consultation with the Music adviser

With permission of the Music Section, students may substitute Integrative Music Studies C300[6].*

30 Minor in Music

6 Music C210[6] (or, if exempt, music electives chosen in consultation with the programme adviser, Music)
6 Integrative Music Studies C200[6]
18 Music electives chosen in consultation with the programme adviser, Music

A student without the necessary music background must take Music C210[6] as a prerequisite to other music courses.

All students must contact the Department of Music in order to arrange for a Theory Placement Test. This must be done at least two weeks prior to registration.

81.110.2 COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

For specific information regarding entrance to Music courses please see §81.10.6 and §81.10.7.

Music:

MUSIC C200
Musical Literacy (6 credits)

An intensive seminar-workshop in theory and aural training designed to extend musical literacy for the student with limited background.

NOTE: Students may not apply credits for this course towards their Specialization or Major programme.

MUSIC C210
Theory/Aural Training (6 credits)

Prerequisite: Music C200 or exemption. A review of the fundamentals of music theory and aural training. Workshop and laboratory. NOTE A/See §200.3

MUSIC C223
Understanding Music (3 credits)

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC STUDIES C401
Studio Music II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Contemporary Music Studies C300, or written permission of the Department of Music. An intensive study of selected problems in the development of studio musicianship. The areas covered are determined by specific class needs. Practice period/conference. This is a full-year course. NOTE A/See §200.3

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC STUDIES C402
Studio Music III (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Contemporary Music Studies C401, or written permission of the Department of Music. Continuation of Contemporary Music Studies C401. This is a full-year course. NOTE A/See §200.3

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC STUDIES C410
Electronic Music II (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Contemporary Music Studies C310. Continuation of Contemporary Music Studies C310. Classroom and laboratory. NOTE A/See §200.3

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC STUDIES C411
Seminar-Workshop in Composition I
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department of Music. A seminar-workshop in composition. Emphasis in any given year may be in one or more of the following: free composition music for the media, technological or experimental musics. NOTE A/See §200.3

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC STUDIES C412
Seminar-Workshop in Composition II
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: Contemporary Music Studies C411. Continuation of Contemporary Music Studies C411. NOTE A/See §200.3

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC STUDIES C413
Seminar-Workshop in Composition III
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: Contemporary Music Studies C412. Continuation of Contemporary Music Studies C412. NOTE A/See §200.3

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC STUDIES C414
Seminar-Workshop in Composition IV
(3 credits)
Prerequisite: Contemporary Music Studies C413. Continuation of Contemporary Music Studies C413. NOTE A/See §200.3

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC STUDIES C421
Music Composition III (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Contemporary Music Studies C322 and written permission of the Department of Music. Continuation of Contemporary Music Studies C322. NOTE A/See §200.3

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC STUDIES C422
Music Composition IV (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Contemporary Music Studies C421 and written permission of the Department of Music. Continuation of Contemporary Music Studies C421. NOTE A/See §200.3

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC STUDIES C430
Jazz Composition II (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Contemporary Music Studies C330. Continuation of Contemporary Music Studies C330. NOTE A/See §200.3

Integrative Music Studies:

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C200
Theory/Composition/Analysis I (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Music C210 or Music C210 exemption. A workshop in theory, composition, analysis, and related areas. The course explores one or more traditional, contemporary, or experimental approaches to the organization and uses of sound materials. Classroom and laboratory. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C300
Theory/Composition II (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Integrative Music Studies C200 or equivalent. A study that co-ordinates exercises in part-writing and harmony with composition. Students work in a variety of traditional and contemporary forms, styles, and media. Classroom and laboratory. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C310
Aural Perception: Analytical Hearing I
(6 credits)
Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department of Music. Hearing skills are developed through exercises in aural concentration, recall, reproduction, imagination, analysis, and transcription. The sound materials used range from traditional to electronic, natural, and mechanical. Classroom and laboratory. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C320
Comparative Analysis (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Integrative Music Studies C200 or exemption. Development of analytical methodology. Study of selected works representing various forms and styles from different historical periods. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C331
Instrumentation/Arranging I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Written permission of the Department of Music. A study of the capabilities and uses of instruments in a variety of musical situations ranging from small ensembles to full orchestra. The areas covered are determined by class needs. Workshop and laboratory. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C332
Instrumentation/Arranging II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Integrative Music Studies C331. Continuation of Integrative Music Studies C331. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C400
Theory/Composition/Analysis III (6 credits)
Prerequisite: Integrative Music Studies C300, or exemption. A continuation of Integrative Music Studies C300 at a more advanced level. Study of writing techniques of the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries, and work in counterpoint. Classroom and laboratory. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C410
Aural Perception: Analytical Hearing II
(6 credits)
Prerequisite: Integrative Music Studies C310, or written permission of the Department of Music. An intensive study of selected problems in hearing, analyzing, and transcribing music. The course combines individual and group exercises, with structural analysis. Areas to be covered are determined by specific class needs. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C421
Comparative Analysis III (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Integrative Music Studies C320. Continuation of Integrative Music Studies C320. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C422
Comparative Analysis IV (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Integrative Music Studies C421. Continuation of Integrative Music Studies C421. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C431
Instrumentation/Arranging III (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Integrative Music Studies C332. Continuation of Integrative Music Studies C332. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C432
Instrumentation/Arranging IV (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Integrative Music Studies C431. Continuation of Integrative Music Studies C431. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C440
Aural Perception: Analytical Hearing III
(6 credits)
Prerequisite: Integrative Music Studies C410, or written permission of the Department of Music. Continuation of Integrative Music Studies C410. NOTE A/See §200.3

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C471*
Independent Study I (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Third-year standing and written permission of the Department of Music. An independent study for advanced students in a theory/composition area of their own choice. The project must be submitted in writing to, and approved by, the Department of Music.

Students may count a maximum of 9 credits in independent studies toward their degree programmes.*

fewer than 36 credits remaining in this degree programme.*

INTEGRATIVE MUSIC STUDIES C472*
Independent Study II (3 credits)
Prerequisite: Third-year standing and written permission of the Department of Music. A student repeating Integrative Music Studies C471 registers for Integrative Music Studies C472.

81.150.2 CERTIFICATE IN CREATIVE DRAMA AND CREATIVE ARTS

The Department of Theatre offers a Certificate in Creative Drama and Theatre Arts (with Elementary and Secondary options) for the professional development of teachers. The programmes are designed in accordance with the guidelines of the Québec Ministry of Education. The courses concern both practice and theory and are conducted as workshops and seminars. By recognizing the general educational utility of creative drama and, where appropriate, its many applications to the study of theatre arts, the overall programme integrates the study of these two fields. Pattern B (Elementary) concentrates more on creative drama than does Pattern A (Secondary) in which the focus is shifted somewhat towards Theatre Arts.

Admission Requirements

Entry into the programme requires the candidate to be legally qualified to teach or be engaged in teaching.

In some cases, where teachers have completed studies similar to those of this programme, the Faculty of Fine Arts may also allow pro tanto credits up to a maximum of 12. These courses must not have been applied to a previous degree or certificate.

200.7 Credit for Courses with Similar Content

The following courses offered by departments in the Faculties of Arts and Science, Commerce and Administration, and Engineering and Computer Science have elements in common. Students intending to register for courses with statistics content should carefully consult the regulations given below governing credits for these courses.

1. No more than 3 credits will be awarded for courses listed in Group A Group A

BIOL C222[3], HEAL C211[3], ECON C221[3], GEOG C362[3], QUAN C243[3], MATH C207[3], EMAT C271[3]
Students in B.Eng. programmes or the Digital Systems Option of the B.Comp.Sc. must take EMAT C271[3]

2. No more than 3 credits will be awarded for courses listed in Group B

Group B
BIOL C223[3], HEAL C215[3], ECON C222[3], GEOG C363[3]*, QUAN C244[3]

3. Students who have received credit for MATH C241[6] will not receive credit for courses in Group A or Group B, nor may they concurrently register for MATH C241[6] and for courses in either Group A or B.

4. A maximum of 6 credits may be obtained from among SOCI C210[6], PSYC C317[6] and the courses listed in Groups A and B.

5. Students in the 'regular' 90-credit degree programme will not receive credits for both MATH C207[3] and PSYC C315[3]. Extended Credit Programme students and Mature Entrants may take for credit both MATH C207[3] and PSYC C315[3], provided they take the courses in that order. Students who have received credit for PSYC C315[3] and C316[3] and who intend to register for MATH C241[6] must first consult with the Psychology Department Undergraduate Programme Adviser.

This course is no longer offered. Its description will be found in the 1981-82 Undergraduate Calendar.*

Graduate Programmes:

The following graduate programmes are offered at Concordia University. Major options within a programme are also listed. In most cases, courses are given in the late afternoon and evening, or in the evening only, making it possible for both full-time and part-time students to attend. Please contact the graduate programme director at the number indicated for further information.
